Shadows of 1949

FOREWORD

In 1849 the news that gold had been discovered on the west coast burned across the nation. A long trail of prairie schooners and mounted prospectors wove their way desperately on to California. Harder and farther the Forty-niners pushed. No obstacle could turn them from their goal. Their heroic struggles have come to supply some of the most exciting pages of U. S. history.

Now, one hundred years later, the Forty-niners of V. H. S. also have an important story to tell. These prospectors have cracked their frontiers with the same boldness and determination as their counterparts of the nineteenth century. They are now ready to explore the larger unknown. May they take with them these recollections as they push forward to horizons yet unseen.

DEDICATION

"With thoughts as high as eagles, and as keen."

To Mrs. Edith M. Burton, who has done so much for us all in developing our knowledge of the English language and our appreciation of the richness and beauty of its literature; who has patiently led us through the trials and tribulations of English grammar; and who has so generously given her time and effort to help us with our extra-curricular activities in the literary field, this 1949 SHADOWS is most gratefully dedicated.

*"I am indebted to my father for living, but to my teacher for living well."
—(Alexander the Great.)*

We are deeply grateful for the competent administration, and for the instructors who have imparted knowledge to us and kindled our enthusiasm to seek new ideas.

* The first Vigilance Committees were organized in California during the "gold rush" era by some of the honest newcomers, to try men accused of crime and punish them if guilty.

THE TRAIL OF THE FORTY-NINERS

1945-46

Hello, we're here—just what you've been waiting for, you lucky faculty!

One hundred and ten puny Freshmen walk under the shade of the upperclassmen—those shady shams.

Miss Miller cries in anguish and Mrs. Lissner gives a discourse on the poor dinosaur who goes to sleep and gets his toe caught in a glacier and—"Jim, are you sleeping?"

Chew gum at the wrong time and stay after school doing math with Roman Numerals.

Everyone gets grandstand-"itis" yelling for Bucky Hatchett. What will we do when he goes? Nothing to worry about. Look at our boys.

The secret ballot elects Mills, President; Clapp, Vice President; Jennings, Secretary.

"If Mr. Sampson doesn't take back what he said to me this morning, I'm going to leave school."

"What did he say?"

"He told me to leave school."

A day of horror for the upperclassmen—they learn that the "Silver Dollar Cafe" is closed. FROSH ONLY—a gentle cozy party, stage show and all. Swinging doors are censored, however.

Tears in milk and coke over trials of studying for exams. "It's just impossible to learn the whole book in one night."

Whoopee! Passed—passed out, too!

1946-47

We Sophs are really sharp. We file in to get filed down!

"Don't you think the frosh are lousy this year?"

Mrs. Burton tears her hair and in one class passes a picture of "hippo" around when a tired class member yawns.

The class government overhauls to put in Pres. Pringle, Vice Pres. Jennings, Secretary Schiabor.

Latin oozes out of unfortunate ears while some seek solace in cutting up worms. "If only they didn't smell so!"

Rah, rah! Bruso, Aldiero, Longo and Clapp put on the maroon and white helmets.—Our new athletic field leaves things still to be desired.

The forests are cleared of undergrowth for the "Starlight Serenade." Everyone cuts a tree to camouflage the gym. A snazzy, gala affair despite "falling skys."

The Spanish Class has driven another teacher mad. "Wonder who the next one will be?"

Hooray! The summer vacation is here. Stretching out blankly and beautifully are three whole months and US!

1947-48

The same old grindstone again—but sometimes we get a chance to turn it now.

"Just stumbled over a freshman! 'Was so small I didn't see him!'"

Political milestone—Sempier, Pres.; Pringle, Vice Pres.; Bush, Secretary.

Juniors, juniors everywhere as far as the eye can see.

Majority is found in football and cheering squad. Marshall places on Suburban Conference team and Allen heads the pepsters.

Mrs. Johnson smiles coyly at an unprepared English class when she gives out a vocab test. Geometric Juniors air their lungs as featured artists in Mr. Wermuth's assembly.

The basketball games in the state tournament become exciting. We advance to the finals.

The V. H. S. radio program wows the community. The "select" glee club is mostly Juniors. Fine acting in "One World," and harp solo, make it a very unique program.

"The Revolt"—some Junior girls go berserk in gym.

Big campaigning, and Brooks is elected President of the School; Watson, Judge of the Student Court.

The Junior Prom—that wonderful "lost week end" arrives. A cement trough is transformed into an enchanting gardenia pool. Glass on a door is broken while putting up green French-doors, but "Southern Plantation" becomes a beautiful reality!

The last exams of high school. "I've learned that it doesn't pay to study; I fail anyway!"

1948-49

With the "schmoo" craze and the birth of the "Verona-Cedar Grove Times" we sweep into "seniority" as rugged Forty-niners.

"Ha! You can't say that; you haven't got a rule for it!" corrects Miss Miller.

As Mr. Johnson's dollar deposits are dwindling, "students" warn their classmates to run for their lives. "My test tube's going to explode!" "Stop pouring hydrochloric acid down my back!"

Marshall, Pres.; Hogan, Vice Pres.; and Morley, Secretary, lead our class politically.

The American History class votes all go for Dewey with the exception of one for the Honorable J. Fernald—not so the nation.

With Schiabor leading, the cheerleaders continually charm us with their clever "figures." Brooks heads the Soccer squad. The new flag twirlers strut their stuff with the band. Aldiero, Bruso, co-captains, and the rest of our boys, come through to give us glorious football. The Thanksgiving game leaves us breathless and voiceless.

The Whitehornet reaches a new peak in entertainment with B. A. Jennings as the harassed editor. She even finds copy in her refrigerator.

Miss Marone wants pictures of the Senior boys—for Shadows, that is. Editor V. Herried moans and weeps as complaints about Senior pictures keep her phone buzzing.

The "Christmas Rush" heralds into "Jingles Department Store" everything from a huge Christmas tree and wavering peppermint stick refreshment counter to the daintiest femininity in off-the-shoulder formals. Brooks and Bluck reign over the Seniors' successful social.

As the boys on our basketball team ring up the victories, the girls in the locker-room have powder fights.

The first crocus crokes and the track and baseball teams step out of their long underwear to bring on the victories.

President Bush and the Dramatic Club start to prepare a whopper of a school play.

The graduation whirl starts. The Junior Prom—The May Breakfast—Wonderful Shadows inducing writer's cramps—Senior Dinner—With light heads we smile at underclassmen studying for exams.

The Forty-niners don caps and gowns and stumble through potted palms to receive their diplomas.

High school days are over except for those graduation parties.

And so we enter the "brave young world."

LAST WILL

We, the members of the class of 1949 of the Henry B. Whitehorne High School, being of sound mind and body, and of our own free will and accord, do hereby sign, seal, and deliver our last will and testament.

To the class of 1950 we bequeath the following unusual, outstanding, and remarkable attributes: Virginia Herried's "music of the angels," George Mills' forward passes, Jane Vehslage's wonderful disposition, Don Marshall's high-scoring ability in basketball, Betty Anne's efficiency, Jimmy Wheaton's grey matter, the good looks of Dalmar vonderHeyde and Frank Aldiero, Dell's peppy cheerleading, Bob Butt's witty (?) remarks, Marilyn Katz' dependability, Sandy's place-kicking, Joan Burst's "men," Jimmy Kearns' terrific smile, Judy Hall's artistic talent, Henry's "bulk," and Joan Jacobus' laughter.

Jo Anne leaves her personality-plus to Barb Silverman (as if she needs it!) To Marilyn Brenner, Binkie MacDougall leaves her extensive wardrobe. To Phil Weiland we leave the hope for as good co-operation from his team as Fred Brooks received . . . Milt Levy leaves his persuasive arguments to any Junior boy who feels equipped to handle them . . . We leave to Roxy, Lynn, Joan, and Marge an endless string of admirers. To next year's flag wavers we have to admit we can only offer a few broken sticks and a tattered flag or two, along with a great deal of enthusiasm and interest.

To "Woody" Litwhiler we leave a magnifying glass with which to look for new baseball talent to fill up the gaps! . . . To Mrs. Lissner, a television set to help her forget Jim Fernald . . . To Miss Howell, a class whose college applications are in early . . . to Mr. Wilkin, a "Sit-and-Stare" Club equal to ours. (Is that possible?) . . . To Mr. Johnson, a Senior home-room that will get up when the alarm clock rings . . . To "Skip" Smith, we leave the elevator shoes that wearing during the basketball season, and to Mr. Wermuth we leave a team of football players that are " . . . great big bruisers, husky and tall, to carry the ball in no time at all."

AND TESTAMENT

To Miss Miller we leave a complete set of rules for controlling English classes, to Miss Ehrmann we leave a more industrious "Rise and Shine Club" that will serenade the rest of the students from 8:15 to 8:20, and to Mr. Sampson—we leave!

To the school itself we leave showers and ultraviolet lights for the girls' locker rooms (so they can be as germless as the boys). To the halls, loiter roomettes for steady couples, and to the class-rooms, desks supplied with gum, paper, pencils, answer sheets and built-in television sets.

To the future Juniors we leave our ladder-climbing enthusiasm when it comes time for the Prom, and to those remaining we leave all the wonderful times we've had in VHS.

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the class of 1949 in the presence of those who have hereunto subscribed their names as witnesses to this document.

FABLE OF THE CLASS OF '50

To whom it may, if any, concern
How the class of '50 has fared
We present in the lines which follow
The record completely bared.

The usual timid Freshmen we were
With that "hunted look" on our faces;
We got lost the usual number of times
And were late to the usual places.

The Seniors were something to gaze at in awe,
The Juniors were quite to be feared,
The Sophomores we hated without being told
When our errors and mishaps they cheered!

As Sophomores we lorded it over the Frosh,
Sophs are s'posed to be quite "in the know!"
Our Latin II Class was as dumb as they come
Our teachers in English were all "on the go."

And then we were Juniors—upperclassmen at last!
With the Prom as the peak of the season.
As our goals and future ambitions arose
Our attitudes changed, with good reason—
From Juniors so jolly on frivolity bent
We became grave old Seniors with serious intent.

SOPHOMORE MILESTONE

CLASS OFFICERS

Harold Kortright, President; Henry Palm, Vice President; Barbara Jean Brooks, Secretary.

Commencement—

On the first day of our Sophomore year
We entered the school with a lot less fear
Than when, as Freshmen the year before,
We had cautiously opened the high school door.
We became the class to head all fields,
The class to which no other yields.

Spirit—

At football games we sat to cheer,
Helping to bring our victory near.
Even the boys who sat on the bench
Were heroes to us behind the fence.
We danced for joy when victory came,
Especially at that Caldwell game.

Finis—

Oh, being a Sophomore wasn't so tough,
Though we admit homework was rough,
But while we worked we grinned and bore it
And when there was fun we laughed and adored it.
Yes, no one could ever try to surpass
Our '49 Sophomore Class.

Scholastics—

Came exams, tests, and little quizzes
With Harold's marks always leading us whizzes.
Yes, Algebra, English and Latin II,
Never left us with nothing to do.
With piles of homework every night
We knew that ahead was a long, hard fight.

Socials—

October 10th had come at last,
Across the gangplank students passed,
What melody came to their ears!
Sweet music of the "Souvenirs."
Success was "Showboat," the Sophomore dance
Which left the school in a nautical trance.

NINTH GRADE POETICS

VENI:

"Is this the right door? Oh me, O my!
Let's try the next one."
They turn with a sigh.
"We're lost and we know it!"
(It's our first day,
It's just us Freshmen, on Judgment Day.)

VIDI:

Now being Freshmen, we try subjects new.
They get harder with Latin and Algebra too.
We tried to be big shots but finally found
That the upperclassmen have all the ground;
Just entering High School we try to respect
These "wonderful" seniors; what will they do next!

VICI?—

As you're strolling homeward
While others quickly fly,
A pile of books go staggering past;
It's me—I mean, it's I!

STUDENT

STUDENT COUNCIL

Our very active Student Council, at the pound of the gavel, set to work every other Wednesday to solve problems facing the school. Whether the discussion was on selling emblems, about unsynchronized clocks, or on alumni booing at games, the council eagerly attempted to solve them in a just and democratic way.

GOVERNMENT

STUDENT COURT

During its third year the Student Court functioned smoothly, but was not very busy, thanks to our law-abiding students. However, all students played a direct part by serving as jurors, electing the judges and, if need be, acting as policemen to report misdemeanors and see that justice was done.

COURT OFFICERS
Seated: Mr. Walter Wermuth, Adviser; Burst, Secretary. Standing: Levy, Assistant Judge; Watson, Judge.

CABINET

SHADOWS

"Shadows," the school's traditional poor relation, in trend with the Forty-niner atmosphere, tightened her buckskin belt and went seeking that gold, humming "Shadows Forever." Some hardworking prospectors, besides the editorial staff, were Marilyn Katz, Roberta Hochheiser, and Joan Sherman, next year's editor. In March many couples sauntered down "Shamrock Lane" in time with the "Blond Sailors" for the Annual's benefit. We can't say "Shadows" struck it rich, but through a hard-working staff and cooperative school we didn't have to mortgage our picks and shovels, but were able to give to you this book of "golden memories."

PUBLICATIONS

WHITE HORNET

As usual "The White Hornet" kept things buzzing throughout these hallowed halls. As well as keeping the students informed as to the cultural and educational occurrences, ahem, the "Hornet" was an indispensable guide to the local love life. Of course on the back pages appeared the smashing victories and occasional defeats of our intrepid athletes. Outstanding special features this year were the many clever cartoons and the revealing poll of the V.H.S. "studes"!

As the last issue of the '48, '49 season went to press, the budding Westbrook Peglers and Dorothy Thompsons on our staff sadly folded their typewriters and silently stole away.

In their handsome maroon and white uniforms the band swished down the field led by the eye-catching flag-wavers, twirlers and head majorette, Joan Abrams. The rhythm of their martial music did much to create spirit and add color to the football games.

The orchestra "crescendoing" and "diminuendoing" under the gifted baton of Mr. Schill again entertained the school at graduation, with the brass section reaching a new high in perfection.

Now as the sweet strains of the violins die away, the hard work of Director Schill and Student Director Wheaton should get a whole tuba full of thanks.

SENSATIONAL NEW HIT!!

Dottie Butler's outstanding performance in the "Life of the Party" made it a play well worth seeing. Only one Freshman, cute Ann Allen, had a part, but she certainly represented her class well. Many thanks to Mr. Butterworth.

DRAMATIC CLUB

"THE VISITOR"
HAS ALL IN SUSPENSE!!
Dick La Rue, the mad relation, and Shirley Douglass, the frustrated mother, held the major part of the suspense-filled drama, "The Visitor," on their capable shoulders, but they were ably assisted by a terrific cast. Nancy Bush gave a splendid interpretation of the role of Ellen.

"DON'T TAKE MY PENNY"

Talented Virginia H. dizzy teen-ager, Mrs. Take My Penny" a to be forgotten. The porting cast was made entirely of upperclass. Marge Wheaton's position that not the wildest tion could have picture doing her splits at rehearsal.

Fifth row: Herried, Malloch, Potter, Lum, MacMillan, Gillen, Trackman, Pignatello, Koch, Wheaton, Bratch, M. Metz, Sager, Harr, Muller, Mr. Butterworth, Adviser.

The students were first aware of the underclass superb potentialities in Doctor, "Nobody Home, "By Special Request," given assembly.

CLUBS

The Spanish Club learned to enjoy the customs and manners of romantic old Spain, under the gay caballero, Mr. Burguillos. The Proxy Parents scurried around to relieve harassed parents (for an appropriate fee.) Regular club periods during school hours proved a success, too. The Bridge Club was certain to turn up a pair of aces at the game! The "Madame Defarges" worked busily in the Knitting Club. The Cheerleading Club learned the "tricks of the trade." Girls and guys overcame their inferiorities by joining the Public Speaking Club. Working over hot stoves, the Chef Club took over domestic science. Mr. Moore coached the French Club in Parisian pronunciation with his wire recorder. The Craft Club gouged out beautiful leather articles. The Listening to Music Club lent an ear to famous maestros, the Whitehornet Club composed journalistic masterpieces (?), the Photography Club experimented in varied types of shutter-bugging, and the Creative Writing Club endeavored to solve world problems in a literary manner.

Samie, listening to music!

FOOTBALL

History repeats itself! Just three years after the championship team of 1945, Verona High School has again come up with a winning combination, this time not only capturing the Suburban Conference championship, but the State Group I, Section 2 title as well. Captained by Frank Aldiero and Ed Bruso, the 1948 team consisted mostly of Seniors. The forward wall, which did such a great job, usually contained Don Marshall and Carl Sempier at ends, Jack Davies at center, tackles George Voss and Frank Aldiero, and guards Ed Powers and Eddie Bruso. The back-field crew was composed of such able ball carriers as George Mills, John Hogan, Phil White, Don Clapp, Tommy Hatchett, and Dick Fifoot.

The record made by the 1948 team was the best so far, the team winning eight games and losing only one, a heart-breaking defeat at the hands of Summit. Much of the team's success this year is the result of George Mills' passing ability. With such able receivers as Marshall and Sempier, Mills set up many touchdowns for Verona, some on the first few plays of the game. The touch-down pass to Sempier on the opening play of the Passaic Valley game will be hard to forget by Verona fans. Time and again, Carl neatly split the uprights with his place kicks, providing important conversion points for Verona.

Climaxing the 1948 football season, was the traditional battle between Verona and Caldwell. Much was at stake in that game, and the boys came through to win a thrilling contest. The situation looked bad at the beginning, with Caldwell romping for two touch-downs before Verona got moving, but Verona fought on with even more determination and pulled the game out of the fire, 21-12. ing that his place kicks might decide the game, Sempier gave his all and made three beautiful placements. It was a hard fought game and a fitting climax for one of the best teams Verona has yet produced.

Coach "Dutch" Wermuth has done a splendid job with the team this year, as always. Most of this year's team were regulars last year, which has been a big factor in the playing ability of the team. Since only Phil White, Tommy Hatchett, Dick Fifoot and George Voss will be left after the seniors depart via graduation, "Dutch" has taken every opportunity to give the underclassmen playing experience by putting them in after the varsity has rolled up a good score. We are certain that this experience will be a big help to the 1949 team, and we wish them the best of luck for a successful year.

The ball passed through the goal posts as Verona scored again. Led by Captain Fred Brooks, the Verona High soccer team had a fairly successful season this year, winning three, tying three and losing four. The high spot of the season was the defeat of Harrison, until then undefeated in over three years. Verona also tied Harrison, and tied and beat Montclair. "Doc" Goeltz' main soccer crew this year consisted of Brooks, Pringle, Wieland, Schoof, Williams, Bradley, Palm, Peterson, Evanson, Dietz, Kearns, Levy and Meyer. Good student support of the team and enthusiastic cheering gave the boys a big boost toward victory. Though a little disappointed at not being able to play West Point, the boys were content in knowing the Plebs would have suffered defeat. Many lettermen will be back next year, and the team forecasts a banner 1949 season.

Verona High's basketball team has turned in a fine record this season. Captained by Frank Aldiero, the team boasted of such performers as Marshall, Davies, Brooks, White, Hogan, Pringle and Kingston. With Aldiero, Marshall, Brooks and Davies all topping six feet, the team looked forward to a successful season. Every Tuesday and Friday the faithful of Verona High either crowded into the home gym or piled into various modes of transportation to see the boys assault a rival school. Whatever the outcome of the game (and it was usually a happy one), the spectators were assured of a spectacular battle. Much credit for the development of such a fine team must be given to "Skip" Smith, who had worked hard the last few years bringing out the potential abilities of those lanky Hillbillies.

BASKETBALL

BASEBALL

The 1949 Verona High baseball team, coached by "Woody" Litwhiler, steps up to bat again to vie with their competitors for top honors in the Suburban Conference and State ratings. Finishing second in the Conference last year, Verona's team is looking forward to a good season, sparked by such returning lettermen as Don Clapp, Fred Brooks, Jack Davies, George Mills, and Dick Fifoot. At this writing, things are still indefinite, but it looks as though Mills will be catching this year, with Brooks holding down first base. Clapp will probably divide his time between fielding and pitching, and Davies will do the same with pitching and playing short-stop. However, with so many up and coming underclassmen fighting it out for positions on the team, it is impossible to tell just what the line-up will be until the first game. No matter what the line-up, though, spectators are assured of many exciting and hard-fought games in 1949.

TRACK

Track and field events have always been a strong point in the Verona High athletic program, and it looks like the 1949 season will be no exception. Last year our track aggregation walked off with the Suburban Conference title, the State Group I title, and didn't lose a single dual meet! Most of that great group of performers is back again this year, and Coach Skipper Smith is looking forward to another successful year. To mention a few of the boys in their respective events, we have Guido and Egbert in the 100 yard dash; Frank Aldiero in the shotput and javelin contests; Kearns, Shaw, and Voss doing the pole vaulting; Pringle, Hatchett, and Levy going over the hurdles; Marshall, Sempier, Davis, and Watson in the quarter mile race; Foss in the half; Van Etten in the mile; Levy throwing the discus; Don Marshall in the broad and high jumps; and quite a few other fellows who should really come into their own this year. Good luck to all of you!

TENNIS

As soon as the last snow had disappeared from Verona's hills, Coach Carstensen and the tennis team came out of hibernation to swing their rackets. The team's four pillars of strength this year were Bob Burnett, Neil MacLaren, Dick Collins, and Phil Weiland. We must definitely mention that it was largely through the efforts of Mr. Carstensen and the team that we have new tennis courts now in Verona Park. Let's hope these better facilities will stimulate more and better tennis in Verona.

GOLF

Under the leadership of "Doc" Goeltz, the Verona High golf team chased the little white ball around the fairway (or was it in the rough?). With Taylor, Meyers, Fernald and Carlson swinging the drivers and irons, Verona won one match last year, so the team looked forward with renewed ambition to this year's endeavor. But whether they were digging holes in the sand traps, removing turf or making the ball sail, they had fun with the "old business man's" sport.

BOWLING

Bowling in Verona High School, as a result of Student Council ruling, has assumed the role of a minor sport, instead of a club. Coached by Mr. Falconer, the team consisted of Mills, Kays, Van Etten, Powers, Gahr, Robinson, Cresbaugh, Shaw, Huey, and Caputo. The boys knocked the pins around to roll home a championship for Verona. The bowlers gathered so much prestige with their "strikes" and "turkeys" that the 1948-49 bowling team laid down a precedent which will be hard to follow.

HI-Y

This year the Verona "Hi Y" celebrated its first anniversary under the supervision of Mr. Moore and Mr. Wilson. The club's twenty members met Wednesday nights at the library. Their officers were: President, Dick Edwards; vice-president, Cliff Bendel; secretary, Ted Booth; treasurer, Bob Butt; and chaplain, Jim Brennen.

Besides swimming, athletics and television at the "Y" the program included guest speakers, movies, projects, and sending delegates to the Atlantic Hi Y Conference, the Pre-Legislature at Princeton, and the Model Legislature at Trenton.

Standing: Marfield, Ericson, Silverman, Allen, Bluck, Schiabor, Captain: Nortz, Cox. Kneeling: Shaw, Melody, Mascot; Rush.

CHEERLEADERS

No, the Rockettes didn't quite invade the school this year, but the wonderful precision and form of the cheerleaders at the games caused many a gasp of awe. Their clever routines so out-classed any of those the school had witnessed before, that everyone agreed the "Pepsters" were the best they had ever seen. Let's have a cheer for Del Schiabor and her squad!

GIRLS' A. A.

STAND UP AND CHEER

Stand up and cheer
Stand up and cheer for old Verona
For today we raise
Maroon and white above the rest.
"Above the rest."

Our boys are fighting
And they are bound to win today.
We've got the steam, Rah, Rah,
We've got the team, Rah, Rah,
For this is our Verona Day.

ON TO VICTORY

On to victory, on to victory
Smash right through that line
Take the ball right down the field
A touchdown every time
Rah - Rah - Rah.

On to victory, on to victory
Fight on for our fair Verona
Fight fellows, fight fellows
We'll win this year

The Class Prophecy

Good evening, Mr. and Mrs. North and South America and all the ships at sea. Let's go to press.

A new chain of dance studios is invading the East, known as the Jo Ann Bluck Studios. They have such popular young socialites as Ann Allen, Deloris Schiabor and Nancy Nortz as teachers.

The new comedy team of Fernald and St. Clair is really a good show. Its Hooper rating is making comedian Bob Butt look to his laurels. Rumor has it, he's adding a new singer by the name of Don Clapp to his show.

"Copper Penny," that fine racing thoroughbred, has made her owner, Miss Marilyn Dobson, richer by several hundred thousand dollars.

Dr. Robert Schoof and his able nurse Sue Wilson are in the news today for saving the lives of Vincent Longo, Henry Valk, Sam Leone and David Kaczmarek, four men who came close to losing their lives in an industrial accident.

That young fashion executive, the former Joan Burst, is rumored to be Reno-bound.

Madman Thorp, the auto salesman, is reported to have sold a Cadillac made completely of chrome to George A. Van Etten, the oil magnate.

A new musical comedy starring Dianne Harr and featuring such musical names as Richard Edwards, Ruth Cadby, Bill Nimmo, Frank Nolfi and Geo. Egbert is to be stage-managed by Marilyn Katz.

The award for the nicest speaking voice in radio was given to Nancy Bush, who is featured on the Robert Taylor show sponsored by the Hogan Manufacturing Company. The award was presented by Mr. Dean Pringle, president of the Radio Corporation of America.

That engineering firm of Robert Carlson, Inc., has engaged the services of Jo and Chauncey Cestone as interpreters for their South American construction job.

A new art school in NYC, run by M. L. Bowing, is enjoying a huge success.

Honored in "Downbeat" this month were Jim Wheaton and Steve Peterson for their fine musical aggregation.

A special award was presented to Miss Virginia Herried of the Spike Jones orchestra for her ethereal "harpistry."

James Kearns, leading Pepsodent model, has been offered a contract by the MGM publicity director, B. A. Jennings.

The modernistic building which houses New York's newest hospital has become another landmark. The hospital is the largest in the country and boasts an unusually fine staff. Head of the physio-therapy division is Dr. Mickie Metz. Dr. Milton Levy, the internationally famous psychiatrist, heads the mental division; head surgical nurse is Beverly Sager; and Joan Muller heads the nursing department of the isolation ward.

Gone With the Wind, G. W. T. W., is being re-made into a six-hour epic with Louise Ruehl as historical adviser, and Robert Light as producer.

The ten best dressed men and women of America, as reported in Vogue, are Binkie MacDougal, Judy Hall, Joan Mahar, Kathryn Marone, Jane Vehslage, Richie Collins, Fred Brooks, Jean Fraser, Howard Adams and Robert Hemingway.

It is rumored that the Republican nominating committee is considering Hugh Watson for a political position.

The United States will be well represented in this year's Olympics by such stellar athletes as Frank Aldiero, George Mills, Bill Kingston and Jack Davies.

Fight manager Clary Rogers has requested an investigation of the gambling syndicates connected with the Garden bouts. Police Chiefs Mendell, Martin and Nighland are combining forces, aided by FBI men Shaw, Bruso, Kays and William Marshall.

Congressmen Richard H. Collins, Clifford Bendel and James Hales have combined their efforts to push through a new bill on education.

The season's leading models, Dalmar Von der Heyde, June Cox and Nancy Collins are vying for the title of Miss Rheingold.

The world is waiting breathlessly for word of Donald Marshall and Carl Sempier, famous explorers who left yesterday for parts unknown in their rocket ship "The Sury-mobile," named for its inventor.

Joan Jacobus, the fiend who writes those singing commercials, is planning to hire Barbara Hollander, former opera star, to sing them.

This is "The Shadow" signing off, with shades of "Shadows" to you. Good nite!

The publication of this volume is made possible by the generous aid of those business firms whose advertisements appear herein. We thank them, commend them, and request for them your liberal patronage.
