Building for the Future . . .

Prepare the ground of knowledge.
Dig sure and deep—
Curious minds await;
Build something they can keep.
Prepare the ground of knowledge.

Lay the foundation of education;
Place rock upon rock.
Read, study, and work
With trowl, tackle, and block.
Lay the foundation of education.

Raise the walls of learning
Brick upon brick—
A framework of reasoning,
Mortar fast and thick.
Raise the walls of learning.

Erect the towers of interest,
Groping into space,
Searching for an answer,
Hunting for a trace.
Erect the towers of interest.

Set the windows of wisdom—
Sheets of glass.
Perceive through them the world;
Watch men pass.
Set the windows of wisdom.

Build a world of understanding
Cities of cement and steel,
People in peace and harmony,
Men perceptive and real.
Build a world of knowledge.

to build the future*

DEDICATION

Dedication is the quality that epitomizes Miss Petronaci. She is dedicated to the education of her students. Almost every day she could be seen long after school aiding students who had come to her for help. Unselfishly she gave of her time. She sacrificed her summers by attending school to keep up with the latest teaching developments. Her main concern is an interested and informed student.

It is for this quality that we dedicate Shadows to Miss Petronaci. As she embarks on a new road of life, we wish her happiness and good fortune, and we are confident that her dedication will bring nothing but success.

Senior Class Officers

Fran Cestone, Secretary; Ed DelVecchio, President;
Sue Johnson, Vice-President.

SENIOR YEAR

Senior activities range from singing songs at the Senior Assembly to taking that final fling the day after graduation; from the pondering over the class gift to the music and tears of graduation night. This Senior year with its moments of hilarity and moments of seriousness will be long remembered by all.

Under the leadership of Ed Del Vecchio, President; Sue Johnson, Vice-President; and Fran Cestone, Secretary; the class undertook the primary fund raising project, the magazine drive. Although sluggish at first, it proved to be the most financially successful project ever begun at VHS.

Immediately following the drive, the class began work on the Senior Prom. The abstract Christmas of a "Fantasy in Silhouettes," enhanced by the snow-flaked evening of December 15, was a dream world for all.

Although many look eagerly toward college, a part of each Senior will remain at VHS. The Seniors could never forget the Junior Prom on June 7 or the rehearsals for Commencement. During the Senior Assembly, sentiment filled the auditorium when the Alma Mater was sung for the last time. On Graduation night, the final chapter was written and the book placed aside with all its memories locked within.

BOB ABSHIRE

As a future space biologist, Alan won't give up until he has finally worked out the value of  $\pi$  to  $9.9 \times 10^6$  decimal places. Elaine has a weakness for red Comet convertibles, and would someday like to drive to Florida in one. She leaves this advice to Seniors-to-be: "Don't complain too much, and try to keep up-to-date with your work; this will pull you through easier than you think."

Activities: Dramatics Club 2; Bowling Club 3; G.A.A. 3, 4.

GREG SMITH

"To err is human."

Greg is probably the only person with a "55" Ford which possesses only one grey door. His famous car has been involved in many of those "accidents." "Smitty" intends to become a success and after earning his first million buy a 1957 Thunderbird. "Take it slow" is his motto.

JACK SIMMONDS

"To need, to want, to get."

Jack is that popular Senior boy in the striped shirts. He is usually on the ice or in the wagon and would like to play collegiate hockey for F. and M. Jack's secret ambition is to be a millionaire playboy with all its side attractions. Jack feels that there should be a party every weekend, then there is something to look forward to during the week.

BARBARA SPOTT

"Happiness is a by-product of an effort to make someone else happy."

If you happen to be looking for "Speckle," she's the one trying to wash spaghetti sauce off her white blouses! When she is not doing that, she is usually in the Home Economics room, singing and sewing. Barb's future plans include higher education and then nursing. One day she would like to own a ranch in California. Barb says that underclassmen should "enjoy their high school years."

Activities: Meridians 2, 3, 4; G.A.A.

GENE STREITER

"Why take life seriously? You'll never get out alive."

That terrific bass drum music is coming from Gene's drum. Gene enjoys playing the drums and hopes someday to be a musician. Right now though, he'd like to master the Spanish language. Look for Gene in the band or driving around in his '53 Chevy. He thinks underclassmen should "study all week and reserve weekends for having fun."

Activities: Marching Band 2, 3, 4; Concert Band 2, 3, 4.

MALCOLM STEEL

"I think, therefore, I am."

Mac, although frequently seen at the Verona Lanes with Tempesta and Dougherty, has left a remarkable reputation at V.H.S. He was the first person to jump out the window in Physics class and become locked out. He is also famed for his zany impersonations and his great bowling ability. Someday Mac hopes to be successful and retire as a wealthy man, after he has out-bowled Ed Dougherty in a league for one season. His advice: "If you play hookey, don't get caught. Never wash whitewall tires with Drano."

Activities: Bowling 3.

DAVID STRAUSS

"I am the master of my soul, and the captain of my fate."

In the halls waiting hopefully for a ride home is most apt to be Dave. Dave constantly annoys Norm Lowenthal, but is friendly and helpful to everyone else. College is his future ambition and then??? "Don't look forward to your Senior year, when you can start your 'Senior Slide'. It doesn't exist!" These are Dave's last words.

Diane's sparkling personality and congenial manner make her well-liked by all. Diane can frequently be seen stalled in the middle of Bloomfield Avenue during the rush hour in "Jesse." Diane's ability in math leaves much to be desired: she has yet to pass a math course on the first try. Diane's future plans are to become a medical secretary. She advises, "Eat, drink, and be merry, but remember that it won't help when it comes time for final exams."

Mel is that silent Senior guy that keeps his business private. We know very little about Mel, and perhaps he prefers it that way.

GEORGE THEOBALD

"Work out your own salvation."

George, one of the quieter Seniors, is seldom seen or heard. Many of us wonder where he disappears. George will be remembered as being the most loyal supporter of the Magazine Drive.

GEORGE SWITZER

"Oh, really."

George is usually driving around town in a '57 Chevy and hopes to own a Corvette at some time in his life. He plans to go on to a higher education and to be a success in life. George will be remembered for running around the track during track season. He advises underclassmen to "Study hard, but don't let it interfere with your activities."

Activities: Track 3, 4; Mechanical Drawing Club.

FRED TEMPESTA

"Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth!"

Fred is a companion of Ed Dougherty at the Verona Lanes and we believe he is envious of Ed's bowling ability. This Senior guy does not wish to divulge to us any of his secrets; thus, he remains a mysterious man.

LINDA TAYLOR

"Thank You."

Linda is that Senior who is usually late for class and skips lunch. She can be found riding around in a red and black Plymouth. Since she hates men drivers, Linda would like to do away with them. Her plans after graduation include being a medical secretary and getting married. Her advice to future Seniors: "If you can't live it down; live it up!"

Activities: Prom Decorations 3, 4; Hall Patrol 3; Red Cross 3.

VINCENT TOSTO

"In the time of your life, if you must kill, kill and have no regrets."

We will remember Vince for his hardwork on the Senior Prom and for his happy-go-lucky attitude. Vin would like to be a stage designer in the future. He secretly desires to own a pet panther and to walk a lobster on a leash. He tells the undergrads: "It's useless!"

Activities: Co-Chairman of Prom Decorations 4; Shadows Circulation Chairman 3; Perspective Art Editor 4; Fairviewer 3, 4; Vice-President of Dramatics Club 4.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

Under the officers, President Frank Foss; Vice-President Jon Foss; and Secretary Barbara Kesselman, three highlights shone on the Sophomore class during the 1962-63 school year. The first was the Sophomore Dance in November. Although not a booming financial success, those who attended enjoyed dancing all night to the music of the Crescendos. Later in the year the Sophomores directed a fund-raising drive which enabled them to make enough money to cover remaining yearly expenses. The year was climaxed in May by the Sophomore picnic. All spent an enjoyable afternoon which terminated a successful year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year the Student Council under the direction of Miss Anna V. Howell, has been the scene of several innovations. The Council started a Student Loan Service, carried out a "Get Out the Vote" campaign which advocated town voters to "exercise their franchise" in the November elections, and revised its constitution by debating and rephrasing obsolete measures and by entering the newly accepted Election Procedure revisions. Also the Council published a VHS handbook—the first of its kind in the school. This government contributed to a state-wide fund to help build a school in Upper Volta, and worked in accordance with the P.T.A. in sponsoring both a VHS Theatre trip group and a summer employment program. In addition, student participation in the Council this year came to light significantly when three amendments to the Constitution were proposed, but later defeated by a referendum vote.

In addition to these new activities, the Council maintained traditional projects and policies by sponsoring a "Kick-Off Canteen," participating in the Suburban Conference and New Jersey Association of High School Councils, and by sustaining change and apple machines. This year's officers were: Norm Lowenthal, President; Ruth Seagull, Vice-President; and Carol Ustin, Secretary.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

This year, under the direction of Miss Shockney, the Verona Chapter of the National Honor Society successfully carried out its various duties and services to the school. Among its activities this year included the delivery of the New York Times and The Herald Tribune, a tutoring service, a light bulb sale, an alumni college card file, ushering at Baccalaureate, at Commencement and at the Senior Honor Assembly, serving as guides for Go-To-School-Night, and holding receptions for the new members and alumni at the Wassail Party. In addition to these activities the Honor Society prepared a news bulletin board and a scrapbook for Rainer Frohn, the Herald Tribune delegate, and added five amendments to the Chapter's Constitution. Funds from the paper delivery and light bulb sales helped finance two scholarships at the end of the year. Officers this year were: Mike Evenson, President; Chuck Nigro, Vice-President; Les Dixon, Secretary; and Phyllis Hoar, Treasurer.

The Fairviewer serves this purpose and at the same time provides an opportunity for students to gain experience in journalism and written communication. Miss Harding is the faculty advisor for this publication which is headed by Sue Albert and Jim Hoffman. Published ten times a year, the Fairviewer is an example of free high school press handled in a responsible manner to produce a successful high school publication.

Shadows, the annual school literary publication published by the students, was compiled this year by an editorial board, with Alice Wands as Editor-in-Chief and Mr. Paul Dimmers as faculty adviser. Each member of the editorial board was responsible for managing a special field: Henry Fields, Photography; Carol Ustin, Advertising; Ellen Stemmer, Circulation and Business Manager; Ken Schept, Lay-out; and Rich Kesner, Sports and Literary. The typing for Shadows was done quickly and efficiently by Mr. Dimmers' typing class under the management of Gail Handel. The members of Shadows endeavored to make this publication an attractive and interesting book for all students. Shadows is the book in which each graduating class will cherish many fond memories of its days at Verona High School for years to come.

PERSPECTIVE

Perspective, literary magazine of V.H.S. is published biannually by an executive board under the auspices of Miss Jacqueline Bloom.

In an effort to encourage creative writing among the students, Perspective screens and publishes the literary works of interested young writers. After a brief discontinuation, Perspective has successfully rejuvenated itself with the aid of many students participating in all phases of production of the magazine.

The Front Page Club publishes a weekly column in the Verona-Cedar Grove Times. Articles for the column, written by the students and edited by Ruth Seagull and Carol Crater, are concerned with school events, local happenings, and other matters of interest to the citizens of Verona. This year, features included Diane's and Ingrid's letters from Berlin and a series of articles by Mike Evenson concerning his trip to Europe last summer. By means of the Front Page column, Verona's citizens were informed of the activities of the high school.

DRAMATICS CLUB

The Dramatics Club pertains to every student in the school in that any student is eligible to participate in the major production. The club gives its members an appreciation for the preparation necessary in the development of a dramatic production. The club also gives the student body an appreciation for good drama. Under the supervision of Mr. Jacobs, adviser; Sue Halpern, Executive President; Vic Di Napoli, President; Vince Tosto, Vice-President; Diane Eisenberg, Secretary; and Ginnie Scuzorzo, Junior Class Representative; "The Diary of Anne Frank" fulfilled the club's ambitions.

Under the supervision of Miss Cannon, the club held informal meetings in the afternoons.

BANDS

Both the Verona High School Marching Band and Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. James Ringle, have contributed significantly to an enjoyable musical atmosphere in VHS. During the year these organizations can be found practicing to reach perfection on the football field, at pep rallies, at assemblies and at the Annual Spring Concert in April. These musical groups play several types of music running the gamut from classical overtures to Broadway melodies.

This year the combined chorus and choir performed at the annual Thanksgiving and the Christmas assemblies. These presentations showed a great deal of work by all of the members. Their excellence made the assemblies quite enjoyable to all the students.

MERIDIANS

The Meridians, sponsored by Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Schreiber, endeavors to promote better world understanding on the personal level by carrying on an active student exchange program with the Sophie-Scholl-Schule in West Berlin. This year Diane Gunning spent her junior year as the representative to our partner school, and in exchange, we were fortunate to have Irma Gleiss attend VHS for the year.

The club members work with their officers Barb Whittle, president; Jane Shlionsky, vice-president;

Merle Chernofsky, secretary; Marion Gross, corresponding secretary; and Kay Lane, treasurer, to raise the funds to support our German student, and to finance part of the expenses of our Verona delegate. Such projects include selling of candy, stationery, and paperback books, and the conducting of the annual "Have a Heart Day." In addition, the club sponsored a tea in honor of Rainer Frohn, the Herald Tribune delegate, and organized a "German Evening."

HERALD TRIBUNE DELEGATES

Once again Verona High School was fortunate enough to have a Herald Tribune Forum Delegate. Rainer Frohn from West Berlin stayed with Mike Evenson from January 20 to February 10.

During his three weeks in Verona, Rainer attended many luncheons and parties in his honor. On his last day in Verona an assembly was held in which Rainer was able to express his general feelings of America.

We regret that Rainer could not have remained for a longer period of time.

RED CROSS

The Junior Red Cross is an organization sponsored to give service to people in need of aid. The Red Cross gives aid through funds raised during the enrollment drive, and also through gift boxes filled by donations from the students. In addition to these two projects, the Red Cross publishes a Student Directory, which, in its third year, has proved to be successful. The Red Cross, under Liz Bruno and Henry Fields, co-Chairmen; Sara Anderson and Mike Kanas, Vice-Presidents; Barbara Kesselman, Secretary and Carol Stieber, Treasurer, proved to be a worthwhile organization.

FUTURE PHYSICIANS AND FUTURE NURSES

The Future Physicians Club and the Future Nurses Club are composed of those students who are contemplating medical careers. The club endeavors to show the members the many opportunities in the field of medicine. This year the clubs have seen movies, visited hospitals, and had speakers. Mr. Johnson sponsors the Future Physicians and Mrs. Theesfeld guides the Future Nurses, some of whom work voluntarily at Mountain-side Hospital as Cheery-aides.

F.T.A.

The Future Teachers of America in VHS have been working this year to widen and improve their aims and projects. Advised by Mr. Burguillos and Marilyn Eager, president; Carol Ustin, vice-president; and Mindy Levine, secretary; this group tries to inform students in specific areas of the teaching profession. Among this year's FTA activities were: Taking a trip to a state college; acting as hosts to FTA members of a New York school; and sponsoring two days of student observation in several Verona schools. The initiation of a "teacher's aid" program in which student members help teachers with various tasks, highlighted the year for the FTA.

The Verona High School Chapter of the Model United Nations represented the Union of South Africa this year at the East Coast Model U.N. Convention which was held at the Pierre DuPont High School in Wilmington, Delaware in April. Although the club was composed of the 14 members, who regularly attended the meetings held every Wednesday morning before school, there was a quota providing for only seven delegates to attend the convention. These seven delegates were selected on the results of the Official U.N. test that they took in March and a separate test on the Union of South Africa, given by the club's advisor, Miss Carol Cannon.

The club took a trip to the United Nations in New York City during the Winter vacation. At the U.N. they met with the South African Mission to the U.N. and were able to get much interesting information on the Union of South Africa and its policies.

The goal of the Model U.N. is to give high school students a better understanding of the complexities and the responsibilities of the United Nations, and to acquaint them with the world situation as it exists in reality today.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club, in its second year is under the direction of Mr. Pirrello with the aid of President Bob May and Vice-President Aaron Kreigel. The club, this year, consisted of a group of boys who competed amongst themselves and amongst other Essex County Schools. ## TRAFFIC PATROL

The Traffic Patrol, under the supervision of Mr. Johnson, is an important organization in VHS. This group of students is responsible for conducting fire drills and leading students to assemblies. ## GREENHOUSE CLUB

The Greenhouse Club was organized to care for the plants in the biology department. The members water the plants daily, propagate periodically, pot plants, raise new stock for seeds, and care for the plants of the courtyard. To further their activities, the members attended a lecture by a professional gardener and took a field trip to an African Violet Farm. Sponsored annually by the Student Council, Concessions had a successful year of selling. Under the direction of Mrs. Swett and the chairmanship of Nancy Jorgensen and Nancy Kiefer, hungry football fans were satiated by hot dogs, potato chips, and candy apples, and were warmed by coffee and hot chocolate. Those spectators, who were so enthralled with the game that they did not leave their seats, were offered the added Concessions convenience of being served by industrious Concessions basket carriers.

CANTEEN COMMITTEE

The Verona Recreation Department supports this committee with Gerrie McGarey and Jack Stovell as the adult advisors. The student chairman is Jim Weisgerber. This committee sponsored six canteens during the year. The highlights were Kreskin, a famous magician and the annual roller skating canteen.

"They Can't Stop Me!"

For the third successive year the Verona High School football team remained at the top of New Jersey's Group II teams by becoming state champions. Our team also tied for the lead of the Suburban Conference with a four and one record. The team having an

TENNIS TEAM

ROW 1, left to right: H. Fields, S. Kaplan, D. Persak, E. Bershad, F. Schleicher, S. Oremland.

TENNIS

Although this year's tennis team is playing without the two top performers from last year, the season should be a success. With Bob Krasner, Jan Krupp, and David Straus on singles, and with Alan Weinstein and Ray Fischer on first doubles, and with Eric Bershad, Stu Oremland, Henry Fields, and Sam Kaplan sharing the second doubles duties, the team should finish the season with a winning conference record, improving on last year's 5-5 mark. A trip to the state tournament in Princeton will close the season for the netters.

BOWLING TEAM

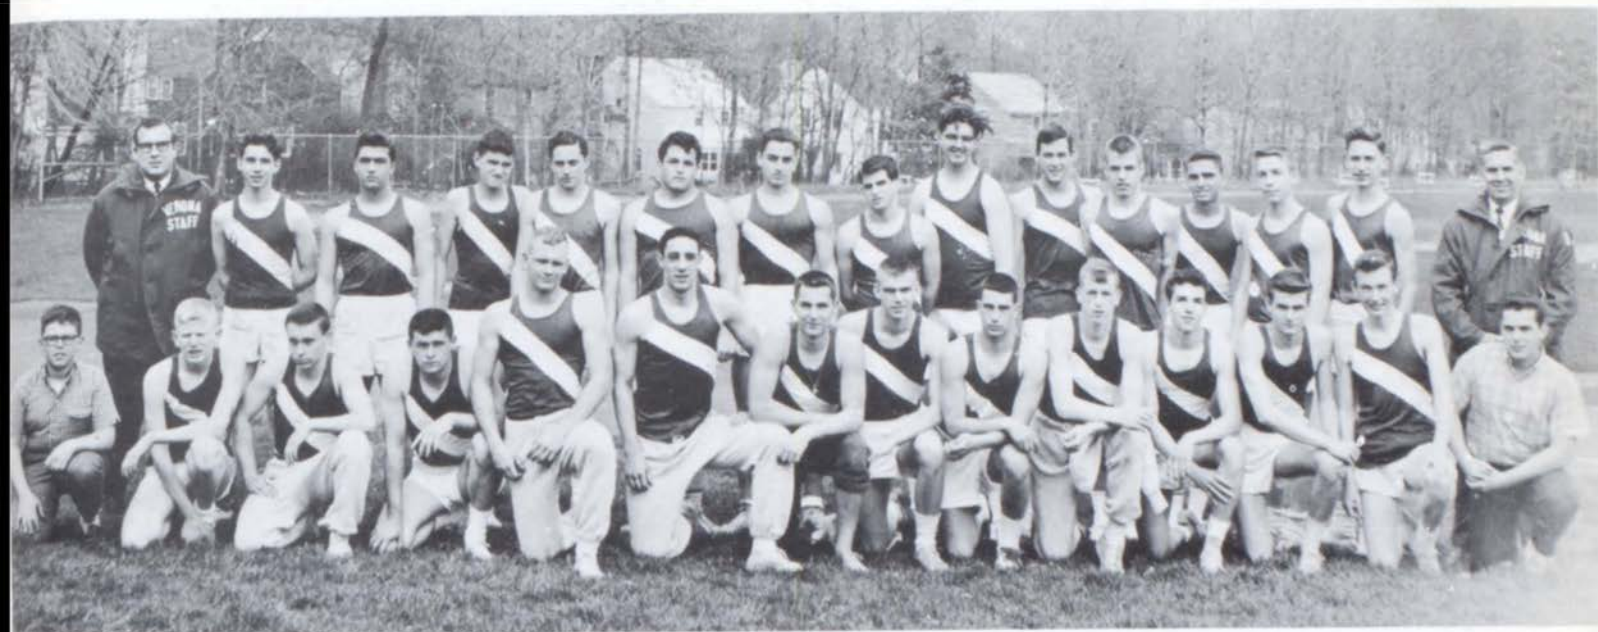

ROW 1, left to right: D. Keimel, D. Rommel, B. Aitken.
ROW 2: T. Hansen, G. Martini.

BOWLING

With one returning letterman, Mr. Burguillos, the team coach, started with four seniors and four sophomores. Due to the inexperience of seven of the eight men, Verona ended the season with a poor record. The four seniors included Tim Leuzarder, Dave Keimel, Bob Miller, and Dennis Rommel. The four sophomores were Nick Cerefice, Bill Aitken, Tom Hanson and Gary Martini. Next year, with some experience behind them, the team hopes to improve its record.

TRACK ### TEAM

Our high school golf team got off to a slow start in its first 4 matches of the spring season. Losing the first 2 matches to Millburn and Chatham, Verona came alive and beat Caldwell and then the team. The rest of the season should prove to be a good one. The team is composed of experienced lettermen. The rest of the team is composed of Disbrow, and promising sophomores. However, with some improvements, the team still has a chance for the Crown.
