A large, embossed wave design in a light blue color, featuring a prominent crest on the left and smaller waves extending towards the right, creating a sense of movement and depth.

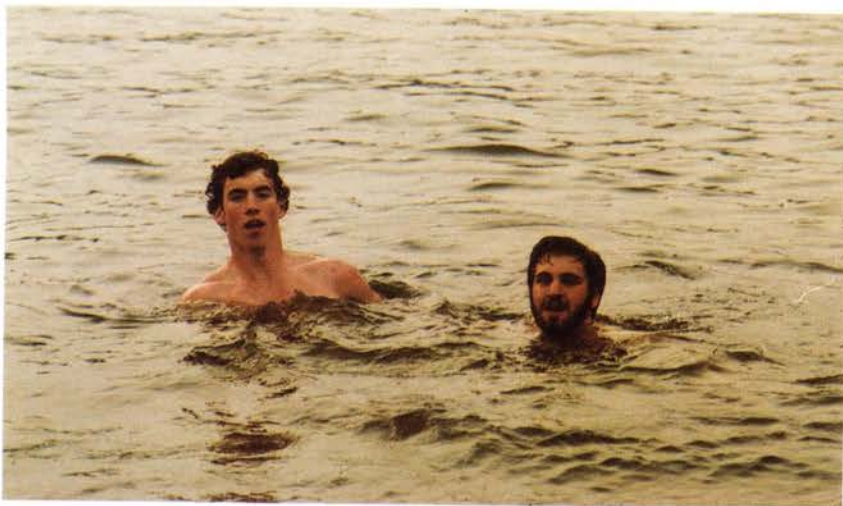

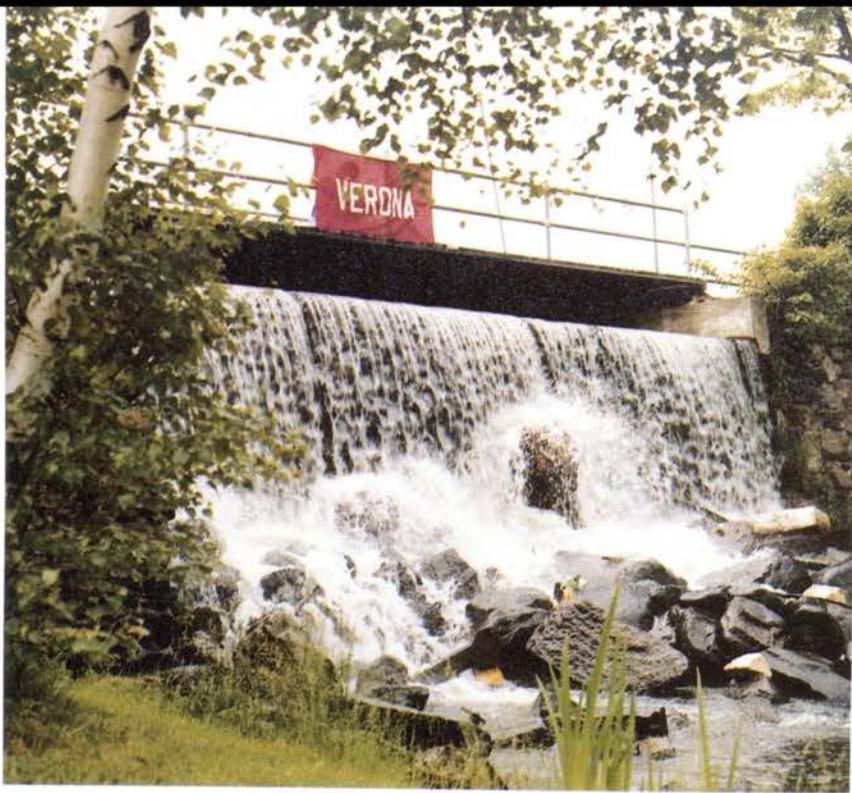

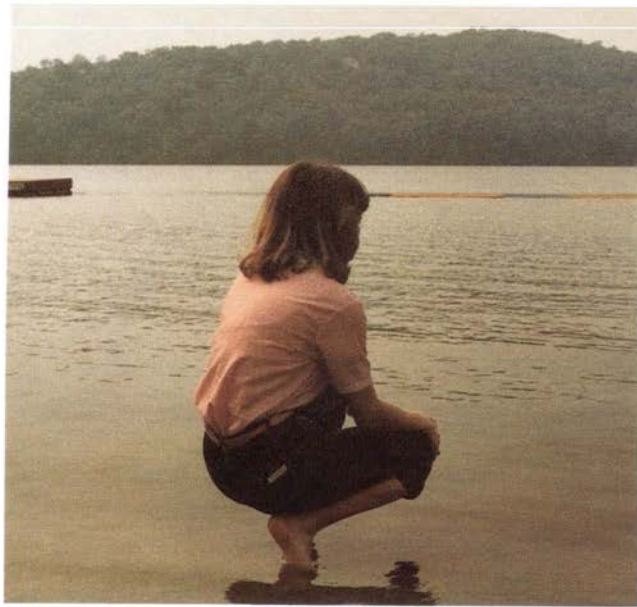

The background of the entire page is a photograph of a sunset or sunrise over a calm body of water. The sky is filled with soft, orange and yellow clouds, and the sun is visible as a bright, glowing orb near the horizon, creating a long, shimmering reflection on the water's surface. In the distance, a dark, silhouetted shoreline with some hills or islands is visible across the water.

A SENIOR'S REFLECTIONS

I remember when I was a freshman. Verona High School has finally become a reality. Feeling rather lost and nervous, especially in the presence of the upper classmen . . . our class sure had a rough time on "Squash the Frosh" day. This is the first year the smoking lounge has been approved. The nightmare of wearing a gym suit in co-ed gym . . . Forming my hopes and expectations of the four short years to come. Before I know it, the time has arrived to take my first exams and the year has come to an end.

Being more comfortable as a Sophomore . . . no longer the youngest in the school. Developing more academic and social confidence in myself which is reflected in the faces of my classmates. Getting used to carrying a pass through the halls and to the library. Our class pulled together to have a truly successful Ring Dance; yet another year comes quickly to an end.

Assuming the more dignified position of juniors, we are being treated with respect by the teachers and administrators. The discipline has been made stricter this year and the rules are being enforced. It is hard to believe that my class is now taking Drivers' Ed. . . . some of us are painfully enrolled in Behind-the-Wheel; suddenly driving is not an exciting, far away event, but a part of our lives. Our class is busy making arrangements for the prom. We are given our first taste of anxiety as the Guidance Department keeps asking us what we are planning to do in the future; standardized tests become a way of life.

Senior year arrives sooner than expected with a dream-like and bittersweet quality. Our class seems to be more united this year than ever before. Small cliquish arguments are forgotten in the excitement of making plans for after graduation. Our Senior Lounge is the nicest one ever, a place to share some laughs, hopes, and memories. We now enjoy the senior privileges of Out-to-Lunch, Halloween, and exemption from exams. It is now my classmates who are captains of teams, Student Council officers, editors, and, in many ways, responsible for setting the school year's tone. As the shortest and busiest year of my life draws to an end I find my mind drifting . . . I need to let the waves of remembrances wash gently into my heart before I drift out with the tides and into my new life.

Reflections, already vague and misty . . . My first love, so sure was I that you would be my last. Sharing with my friends, our laughter and our tears . . . The personal triumphs and defeats, picking up the pieces and carrying on. I know my efforts have not been in vain, for as I walk down the halls of V.H.S. for the last time, I realize how much I've grown.

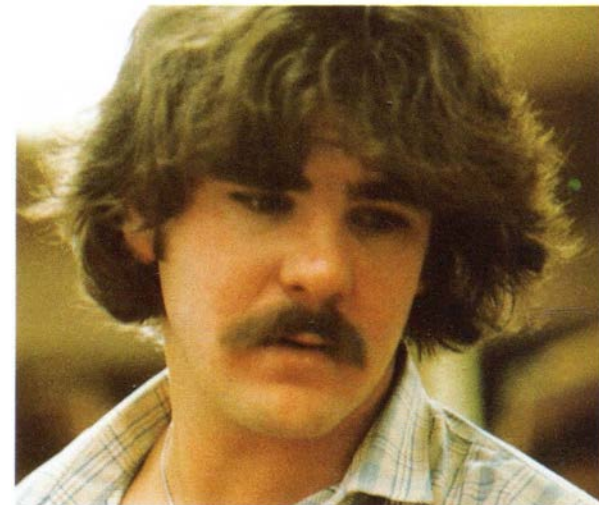

And I look to the future, in which my sea of memories will flourish and expand.

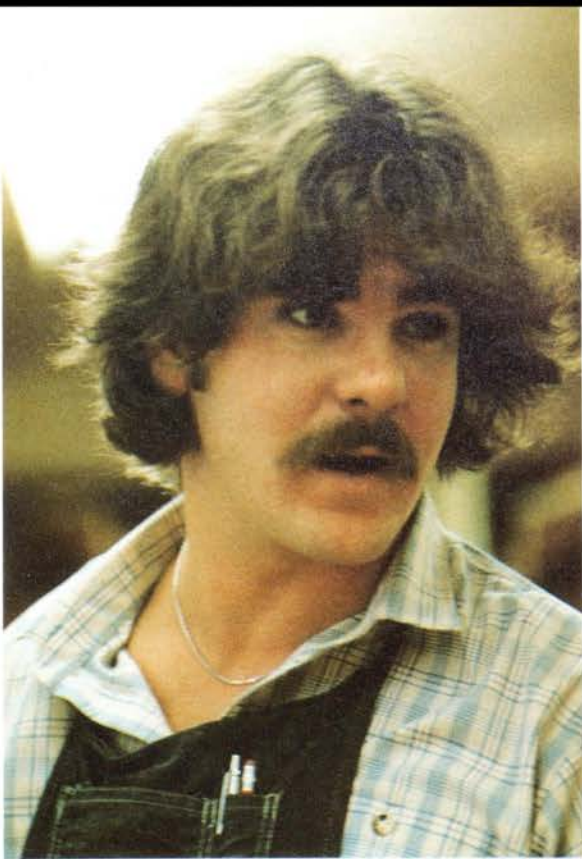

S.A.

DEDICATED TO . . .

John Beverly has been teaching at Verona High School since September of 1977. "Bev" quickly became one of V.H.A.'s favorite people. Advisor with Dr. Collura to the Class of 1980, Mr. Beverly helped our class raise funds to put on one of the most successful proms in recent years.

The shop, with "Bev" in attendance, has become one of the most popular spots in our school. Even if you're not a student in one of his classes, Mr. Beverly always has a smile and a friendly hello for you. Although he's no longer a carefree bachelor - Mr. Beverly's marriage last summer broke many a female's heart - Mr. Bev is still always available to listen, to talk, and to help students who call upon him.

In appreciation of your help and service to our class, the members of the Class of 1980 dedicate Shadows 1980 to our advisor and friend, Mr. John Beverly.

*To sail on a dream on a crystal clear ocean
To ride on the crest of the wild raging storm
To work in the service of life and the living
In search of the answers to questions unknown
To be part of the movement and part of the growing
Part of beginning to understand.*

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

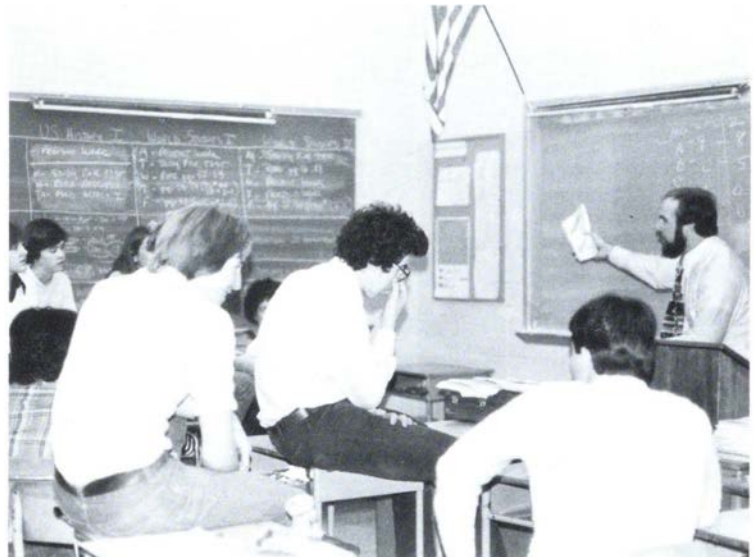

The Verona Chapter of the National Honor Society was very active again this year. Ten Seniors were inducted in December, who combined with those twelve students inducted as juniors last May formed this year's club. The activities run by the Honor Society included a Wassal Party at Christmas for former Verona alumnae, maintenance of the bulletin board in the cafeteria, tutoring for high school students, and the induction of the new group of juniors in May. Money for the Honor Society Scholarships was earned by the members through various projects, including taking inventory at Korvettes in Willowbrook. The officers for this year were Matt Shelter, President; Cathy DelGuercio, Vice-President; Richard Carson, Secretary; and Meg Watters, Treasurer.

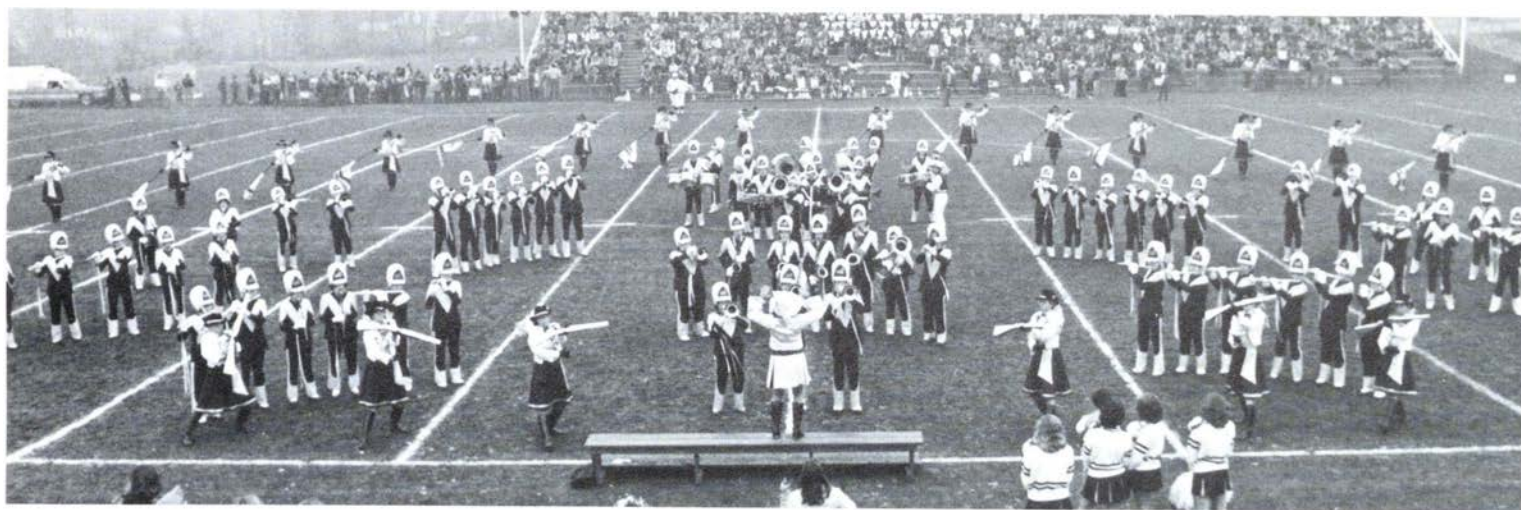

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

Mr. Ronald Wolfe was the advisor for this year's Model United Nations club, who participated in the Harvard Model U. N. conference in December. The Verona delegation represented the country of Zambia in the various committees held at Harvard. All of the delegates learned a great deal about Zambia and about the difficulty involved in the diplomatic processes of the United Nations. Cathy DelGuercio and Barry Kolodkin were commended for their work in the Security Council, and Joseph Cheu received "Honorable mention" in the Social, Humanitarian, and Cultural Committee.

MARCHING BAND

The Marching Band had another successful season this Fall. Under the field direction of Joanne Werner, and Paul Ferraiola the Band and Color Guard placed first in their class, at the Westfield competition. The Band owes much to Mr. Schmaus and Mr. Curcio for their time, effort, and support.

AVANT GARDE

FRENCH HONOR SOCIETY

The French Honor Society is very similar to the Honor Society, with the exception that it is only available to second year French students and beyond. This society was introduced last year to V.H.S. by Dr. Collura and serves as recognition for students who have an A average in French and at least a B plus in all their other courses.

CHESS CLUB

HIGH SCHOOL BOWL

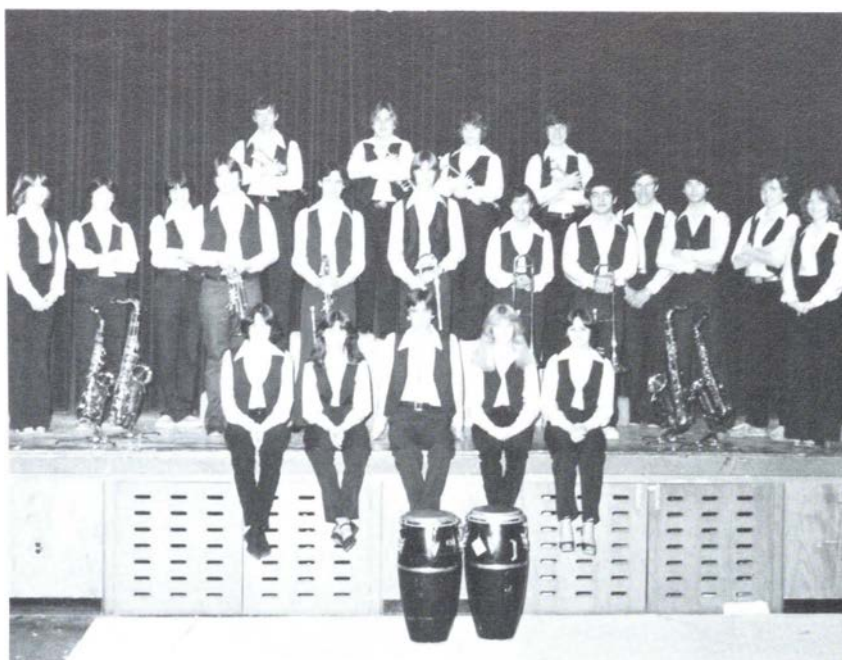

Verona was represented in the High School Bowl this year by Eric Rasmussen, Barry Kolodkin, Maryellen Anderson, and Gary Ammirata. The team was victorious in its matches against both Bloomfield and West Essex high schools. These triumphs won an encyclopedia/atlas and a law dictionary for the school library, and allowed the team to advance to the semi-final round of the competition. Verona challenged Union Catholic High School, but Verona was defeated in an extremely close game. Despite their unfortunate loss, the team was a very successful one, and it paved the way for future triumphant Verona teams.

VERONA ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

JAZZ BAND

Mr. Patrick Curcio directed the twenty-two members of this year's Jazz Band. The group practiced more than five hours each week, in order to prepare for their various competitions, including the District Jazz Band Competition on March 19. A "Jazz Night", on April 16, was sponsored by the Jazz Band. The Jazz Band also played with Count Basie and his Orchestra on April 18, and competed in the Ramapo Finals on May 3. As a result of their hard work and perseverance, the Jazz Band was very successful in all of its efforts.

VERONA VANGUARD

The Verona Vanguard performed with the Marching Band during the fall, and competed throughout the entire year in both the Metropolitan and High School circuits. The Vanguard practiced many hours during their four-month season, competed almost every week. The Vanguard was very successful this year, and consistently places in the top group at their competitions. Anne McKenna was this year's captain, Robin McNinch was co-captain, Doreen Shields was rifle sergeant, and Tracy Hayes was flag sergeant.

INTERNATIONAL WEEKEND

Staff

"Internationally in Tune" was the theme of this year's International Weekend. Under the guidance of Mrs. Fryer, more than 180 Verona students participated in the Weekend, in addition to the 45 foreign students who came from all parts of world to Verona High School. Among the activities which were held were a Welcoming party on Thursday, an International Buffet and a basketball game Friday, a panel discussion, band concert, and dance on Saturday, and a concluding brunch Sunday morning.

I've been searchin' so long

*As my life goes on I believe
Somehow something's changed
Something deep inside
A part of me.*

*There's a strange new light in my eyes
Things I've never known
Changing my life
Changing me.*

*I've been searchin' so long
To find an answer
Now I know my life has meaning.*

*Now I see myself as I am
Feeling very free
Life is everything it's meant to be
When my days have come to an end
I will understand what I left behind
Part of me.*

*I've been searchin' so long
To find an answer
Now I know my life has meaning.*
