Chapter 1

There is no future. There is no past.
Thank God
this moment's not
the last.
There's only
us. There's only this.
Forget regret or life is yours to miss.

No other course. No other way.
No day but today....

Middle School Memoirs

Ahh middle school. The day starts with people fighting to sit on the bench in the lobby, the pounding of drums from the Maroon band, and frantic girls running to Mrs. Nessler's room so they wouldn't be late for the personal improvement club. Who doesn't remember asking for a trip in Mr. Ottenstein's time machine, or playing a trivia game being the "Tacks" because we were sharp or the "Light Bulbs" because we were bright? In Mr. Candon's class, everything was mighty fine while we mostly learned about Beast's smokers' cough. In gym the excitement was divided between having 5 minutes to get dressed, and Ms. Robert's enthusiasm for athletic girls and gymnastics. Then in the midst of the excitement of being able to buy our own lunch in the cafeteria, we'd hear shouts of "Where's the salt?" from Mr. Berk. On a special birthday, we'd go to our lockers, only to find them decorated with candy and ribbons, followed by an original Christy Taylor serenade of "Happy Birthday". And who could ever forget the never ending "telling off" fights, or the actual physical brawls between Christy and Alexis or Matt and Heather? In Mrs. McKinney's class we learned the prepositions, and everything was fine as long as we were in our seats before the rain stick quieted. Of course the best days were when Mrs. Clayton would teach us "Word Wealth." The day's highlight was always the specials, a.k.a. electives. Whether it was "ges-soing" with Mr. Martino's turtle, or racing cars with Mr. Branin, they always seemed to make the day go faster. But no day would be complete without someone in guidance. One can almost hear the shouts of "Captain, Hoss, Chief, Son, Un-American", by the boys. And who could ever forget our famous field trips at HB? The music trips to Great Adventure where we had the freedom to walk around without chaperones, the eighth grade trip to Camp Canadensis when it rained all day, or the pool party at which everyone got sun-poisoning, and Jeff Wang got a trip to the emergency room. But HB was a very worldly place. We watched the Olympic torch pass by from the sidewalks of Bloomfield Avenue, and our very own Seyi Fayanju won the National Geography Bee. Then as the bell rang at 2:58, the race to the back of Terry's was on. On an exciting day though, Terry's was postponed for a fight at the pit, which everyone knew about by eighth period. Afterwards there was always time for a mudslide at the Deli, and once it got too loud, Jack would give us the boot, and we'd proceed to walk home no matter where we lived. On Friday nights, anybody who was anybody would be at the dances. The girls stayed in their lines or circles doing the "Electric Slide" "Cotton Eyed Joe", or the latest Eagles cheering dance, as the guys looked on complaining from the bleachers. Once the slow songs came on, only the brave guys came down to actually cross the famed gender barrier and dance co-ed! And as exciting as this was, it usually resulted in at least five girls crying in the bathroom. A slice of pizza from Anna Capri would complete the evening, and everyone would rush to be home by their 10 o'clock curfews. Amazingly we all somehow survived, and managed to come away with wonderful memories of the way things used to be. Have a great summer, and see you at the pool!

S C H O O L

Clockwise from above: A Kodak moment at our 8th grade pool day is relived in the lot of VHS. Julie Galorenzo and Jackie Wosilius take a break from partying to pose for a picture at graduation. Bob Yannetelli and Brendan Bush loosen their ties after the big eighth grade semi-formal. Gina Mediago and Rebecca Aguirre stop for a rest on their trip to Williamsburg Va. Nikki Laraja, Jennifer Bane and Krista Schmaus pose before the bell for homeroom rings. Chris Wohlrabe and Jean-nine Martino are all smiles after their graduation from OLL. Matt Agnoli is shocked when he sees how dressed up the girls are for the semi-formal. Jen Waitts, Lauren Potts, Rorey O'Connell and Jessica Goman play it cool while they practice for the Eagles Cheering Squad. Dennis Gaynor, Larry Velardi and Dave Bastedo relax after a long walk home. Sara Bennett and Meg McEnroe rally for Power to the People on Halloween.

Chapter 2

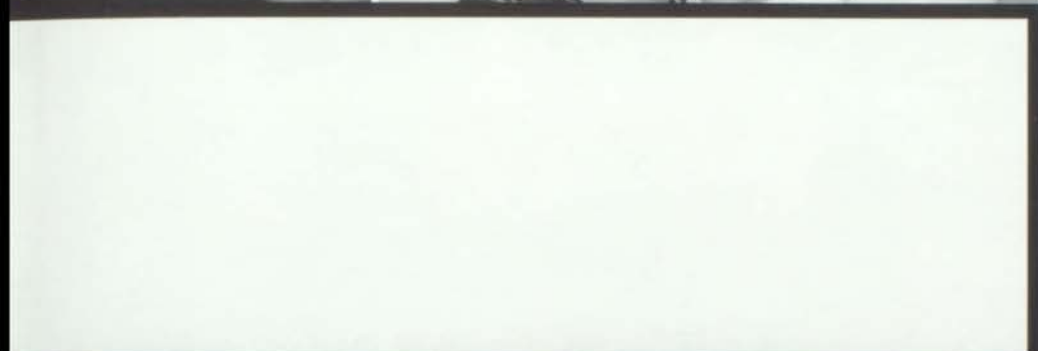

"By the time it came to the edge of the forest the stream had grown up, so that it was almost a river, and, being grown-up, it did not run and jump and sparkle along as it used to do when it was younger, but moved more slowly. For it knew now where it was going, and it said to itself, 'There is no hurry. We shall get there someday.'" - A.A. Milne

Verona Football carried its winning tradition from the 1999 season into the 2000 campaign as the Hillbillies compiled a solid 9-1 record. Pivotal victories came at the expense of contending powers Boonton, Pingry, and Mountain Lakes, which enabled the Hillbillies to capture their second consecutive Colonial Division crown and the first playoff seed. However, the only setback of the season occurred in the game against New Providence in a hard-fought 12-7 loss. The year ended on a positive note with a Hillbilly victory over the previously undefeated Cedar Grove in an emotional overtime game 30-28, a game that will undoubtedly be remembered as one of the best games in school history.

The start of the 2001 basketball season looked promising as the Hillbillies prepared to make a return trip to the North Jersey 2 Group 1 Playoffs. Returning senior stalwarts Kyle Fiory and Greg Davidson, along with two junior standouts, leading scorer Kevin Brandon and center Anthony Fasano, guaranteed Verona's success and another playoff berth. This was evident in the beginning of the season as the Hillbillies won their first Holiday Chamber of Commerce Tournament in 18 years over archrival Cedar Grove 61-56. Senior Larry Velardi drained three consecutive three-point shots to seal the victory. As the season stretched into January, Verona reeled off six straight victories over contenders Pingry and Bernards. Additionally, Verona thrashed Chatham 60-49 to momentarily gain a tie for the conference title. However, a loss to Science at home let the chance for a title get away. Fortunately, Verona was ensured a third playoff seed with a 12-4 record. But, the rest of the season proved to be tumultuous as the team went 3-4 to close the season. As the playoffs started, Verona returned to form and defeated Newark Central 71-64. Kevin Brandon scored 26 points and Tim Kistner provided a spark off the bench in an impressive win. However, in the second round in a game that could have gone either way, Verona fell to Kinnelon 46-41 and capped a 16-10 season.

WINTER TRACK

Words of wisdom from the first winter track team at Verona High School:

It's never too cold to run outside.

The first olive is the hardest to get out of the jar, but after that they all come easy.

We ARE intimidating.

There are enough of us for a big school bus... kind of.

No meet is too far away, even if it means going to New York.

Track meets are for competing, not scoping out guys. And finally...

Yes, we run for fun.

"How Lucky We Are To Have Known Such People Who Were So Hard To Say Good-Bye To."

Lisa: I don't even know where to begin. I know I won't miss Verona High School at all, but I will miss the memories that have crept out of this school, thanks to all who have made them memorable. You know who you are. Carla: Mehan, Best Friend, Sister, are there even words for a person who has been there for me through, literally everything in my life? I have known you since I was so little and you have remained with me, as my best friend all of those years. I feel bad we can't fit every memory in this page, but we have the best times whenever we're together and you better bet yourself that we are going to have more. I'll never forget you... ILU: Now for the fun stuff. First grade when I gave the gym teacher the finger and you followed suit and got in trouble for it. I'm sorry. Playing on the field and getting in trouble for doing other people's hair. Fourth-fifth grade when you made snorkeling sounds at Mrs. R and made me laugh so hard I cried. Running away from Nicole and telling her that her mom was waiting for her. In Mr. Candon's class when I thought he was crawling on the ground thanks to your Bush shirt. On our graduation when we were talking so much I didn't know that they called my name. Freshman year held a lot...the Amoeba, stalking the giant car which we all know and love. WO rescue squad. Shannon- "No, he likes me!" She's Attack of the 50 ft. Woman! Our first rammstein concert. Sophomore year: Omen! Foreshadowing. Carla's worried. Tons of concerts another Rammstein, Pantera, Family Values, Bush, Offspring, GGD, Sauce! Umdigaliga. Scarabs. S.A.P. Nordstrom's confusion, the other guy was black. Voicecracks...Tree! Massive Asia. "Rob!" "Shut up Chrissy! Slap! Seven years in Tibet. Shut up! No. Shut up! You are not allowed to talk to the Dahlia Lama etc...Carla, I can't talk, I'm reading Belle Fleur Ahoy! Going out to lunch with emilio, that poor kid whose mom left. Lady please! It smells like sausages? Sex and the City, Carrie's fart, stalking at Napoleonic's, yep yep yep. Pantera-woooooohaaa. Phil's hot and you know it. Carla, I know there are others but we all know them in our hearts and they will live on forever. You are truly my best friend... ILU: Anita: Laddy, I have known you for as long as Carla, and you remained a best friend for all those years. Thanks for everything you have, like driving me everywhere and warming me about things. ILU: the mad truck driver at 7-Eleven who cursed out the clerk. Ahoya. Dave's New Years Eve party...the first time Garrett really drank. Stalking. King George, sex and the City. SNL with Conan, the guys selling the steak knives- you do it the best! I've got anal warts and they're simply huge! Anal wart season in Big Red. Well, you know I love you and I can't thank you enough for being there for me, always, you're the best...we know all the rest in our hearts... ILU: Mrs. "R": You have been like a second mother to me since I was a wee child. You have given me new meaning to my life and make me laugh at life's hardships. I appreciate everything you have done for me throughout the years and I hope I haven't made you sick yet. Thanks for all the memories, and the talks. ILU: Trish: I don't know where to begin. Too many memories. "Hi can I please talk to Jake?" "No" "Nonsense Poopy Pants!" you fell on the floor. The crazy guy in the mall, waka waka waka! Meeting Nick Hexum- "Mrs. P you have to wake up Lisa!" walking in the city, the Chinese restaurant, "what is this crap?" H2O show. Snapcase...that was fun. Well, thanks for being awesome and never judging me ILU: Holly: "Hey God!" I've been better. Anal Warts. The Kid Rock show. My first review, thanks for being so enthused! New Years '00. Mostly, thanks for being yourself and never letting anything get to you. I totally admire you for that. You're a beautiful person, and I'll miss you... ILU: Emily: I've known you for only 4 years and it feels like forever. You became one of my best friends and I'm glad you were there for me throughout so much. I hope you had as much fun with us as we did with you. ILU: Fatima Layfaya. Summer in NYC, we were the last ones on the bus. Interns are awesome. HBO and Metal Edge. Paul refusing to pick up my phone when he knew it was you. Lion King People! "7 million people in this city and Emily manages to find me coming out of the subway!" Emily and I polished off the cake real well, yeah right. Lady Please! Always laughing coming back from BK...There are so many and more to come, thanks for the memories... ILU: Paul: I was trying to find a good quote for you from Type O but, I don't think they fit in too well, ya know? Anyway, the words cannot describe how nice you have been to me for the past year and a half. You have made my dream come true and I am truly thankful for that. Thanks for always watching out for me, all the time. You are like another Big brother to me. Halloween was quite memorable since it was the first time I went backstage and met Dope and later on you almost punched out that dude who you bumped into by accident, sorry. I had to squeeze that in there somewhere. Thanks for all the free tickets and backstage passes, especially Pantera and Corrosion of Conformity. I hope I have been helpful to Metal Edge because I feel like family and it's the only place where I feel that I fit in. Thank you for making me feel right at home. You are the best and I'll never forget you... ILU: Cathy: everytime I had a bad day at school or something and when I came to work I could always count on you to cheer me up! You are like a sister to me and you are one of the sweetest people I have ever met. Thanks for chatting with me about everything. I will always appreciate all the very helpful advice you have given me about some of the problems in my life. Thanks for letting me tag along with you at shows and stuff. Always remember the summer getting lost in the city and going out to lunch. How I always seem to mess up my words whenever I talked. "You know, friends, cathy? Ever had one?" I so did not mean it that way, but you laughed anyway. You are a beautiful person and never change. You're in my heart forever. ILU: Mom Dad Joe and Brutus: I don't even know where to begin. I love you with my whole heart and soul! Thanks for always believing in me for whatever I did and for all the support you have given me. I can't picture myself with another family, and I don't think that they could be as supportive as you. No matter what ridiculous phase I went through, you thought nothing of it, which is so cool. I know we've been through a lot together, but we pulled through and even had a few laughs in between. We can do anything just as long as we're together. I love you guys so much. If there is anybody else I am forgetting, I am sorry and you know I love you. Class of 2001: Let us meet as little as possible...I want to go down in history as the Metal Chick and that is how you shall remember me...Peace You’re an amazing and talented person. I’m so happy I got to share four great years with someone like you. Love whoa...Bling Bling.

Krista- I remember when you first came to HBW and you were in my art class. Right off the bat we became friends. We’ve had some awesome times that I’ll always remember. Never forget: Class day at the pool, Taco parties at Jen’s house, being Sporty Spice and me being Posh Spice for Jen’s birthday, Biology with Mr. Crimble, “Your handwriting is like a computer printout”, Christopher Robin, guy talks and problems, TGIFridays, From 2000, Nutcracker, your birthday sleepover and those crazy dares, when Brutus ate my shoe, and the list keeps going. You’ve always been there for me to talk to and you’ve always been on my side. You are so very talented and I know you’re going to be a huge success. Good luck with everything you do even though I know you don’t need it.

Mike Roscy- Thank you for always being there for me when I needed you. You really got me through some rough times when most people didn’t understand. I’ll never forget everything you’ve done for me. I got your back always! Ilu, ESP!

To my Crew: Lauren, Pete, Jamie, Carla, Cassie, Mike, Flemming, Lox, Pez, Kinsey, Noah, Greg, Harlan, Joey, Tino, Yaly, Tim, Kim, Nicole, Almee, Jackie, Alleen, Rooney, Jill, Twan, Brett, Tony, Sara, Lembo, Alex, Evan, and Ron. We have had some great times and I’ll never forget the memories we have made. Never forget: Sandy’s party when I first met all of you, Dunkin’, Versailles, Jamie’s parties, Triangles, From weekend 2000, Birthday’s, Caldwell soccer and volleyball, Applebee’s, 4th of July, Abyss, Vezza’s house, bowling, New Year’s Eve, sledding, all the crazy stuff we’ve done, and every weekend we’ve spent together. You guys have always made me feel welcome and apart of the group. For that I will always be thankful. Each of you mean so much to me because we have been through so much together. I’ll miss you all so much, especially Lauren, Pete, and Jamie. Even through the rough times, I can always count on you and I’m so happy that we’ve stayed so close. No one could ever replace you because you will always have a place in my heart.

The secret of life can be described in four words. Think,
Believe, Dream and Dare.

Think about the values you wish to live your life.
Believe in yourself based on the thinking you've done about your values to live by.

Dream about the things that can be based on the belief in yourself and thinking about your values to live by.
Dare to make your dreams reality based on the belief in yourself and the thinking about the values you're going to live your life by.

Congratulations to Jeremy and to the Class of 2001!

"Many older people seem to take an unmerited pride in the mere fact they are adults.

When youth comes crashing in on them with enthusiasm and ideals, they put on their most patronizing smiles and send them out with what they call their blessings. But you and I know that they have not given their blessings but a cold shower. They pat the young man or the young woman on the back and say:

"You're young. Enjoy your enthusiasm and your ideals while you can. For when you grow up and grow out into the world you'll see how foolish your ideas actually were."

And, the trouble is, young people do grow up and grow away from their ideals. And that is one reason why the world into which they go gets better so slowly."

Franklin Delano Roosevelt

Always remain true to yourself. We are so proud of the truly amazing person you have become. All of our love,

Angela,

We are so very proud of you, and as you go through life remember these words, and you will be successful.

"To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to leave this world a bit better whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded."

— Ralph Waldo Emerson-

Daughter,
Through all the years of life's experiences with your family, I hope that the strengths gathered from these is sufficient to face a turbulent and changing world. The previous role you were asked to play was demanding and the audience was rough, but now as you face Act Two I know you will finish with a standing ovation.

Love you much,
Mom, Monica, Caroline, Gregory

Nicole, Take strength child in knowing that you are loved, take pride in all that you say and do. All teachings, hopes and dreams passed into your hands are supported with unconditional love. Congrats! And best wishes in your future. Love, Teti, Uncle Marko, Jeremy, and Jennifer.

Nicole, In everything that you do put God first and he will direct you and crown your efforts with success.

Congratulations! With all our love!
We love you, Aunt Janet, Uncle Edo, Stephanie, Claudia, and Briana

Jame,

The house won't be as loud without you here, but I'll try to fit the position. Making fun of Mom and Dad won't be the same without you here, but I'll try to manage. These 16 years that I've spent with you have been the best and the memories will last forever. You've taught me a lot along the way and I'm thankful for that. Maybe when you come and visit your room will be switched...again. Now you'll have to find someone else to rate your clothes and clean up after you. When you come back I'm sure I'll have the song "We Didn't Start The Fire" down pat. I never thought I'd say this but I'm going to miss you. Stay out of trouble and remember to have fun.

Love Always-n-Forever,
Janine

P.S.- I'll save some Cokes for you when you get back!

Gina N. Pensiero

They enter the world naked, cold, uncertain of all save that they enter. All about them
the cold, familiar wind-

Now the grass, tomorrow
the stiff curl of wildcarrot leaf
One by one objects are defined-
It quickens: clarity, outline of leaf

But now the stark dignity of entrance- Still, the profound change
has come upon them: rooted, they grip down and begin to awaken

"Even if we never talk again after to-night, please know that I am forever changed bc of who u are, and what u meant to me." Mom, Pops, Bill, Ker, Mark, Lynn, Glen and fam. For the last 18 years you guys have been my world. Thank u for letting me be who I am. I love you with all that I am. "The wind is moving, but I am standing still. A life full of pages waiting to be filled, a heart that's hopeful, a head that's full of dreams. This becoming is harder than it seems."

Gina Ponzio, Heidi Basler & Elizabeth Harston

Heidi: To my friends, family, and teachers who have supported my endeavors relentlessly, thank you. I am who I am because you are who you are. It's been a crazy ride, but you all made it worth it. I never forget: "a beuno coco" Fryer, Veitch, and 5aabb. "Here we go Tuskies here we go!" Art lessons with Mrs. Hardison at the Moma, "that sheep knows," pbut, they sold Massachusetts to the Can-a-de-ins? hockey games freshman year, gutturing, girls nights out, "Hice lady can we have some crayons?" THE TICK! "I'm the liber of all things rarien, & Liz is the veggie of all things rarien!" Karl Anthony, Arbercombi had ifch, "don't be like that on my bed," Mike & Heidi: "We are so hot!" I hate Physics class, Liz est bete, Sean-Michael, and FuGina, He's 28 and I'm only 5, "Onih Mr. Clancy's chords," Free Side Effects, stupid chinchilla, TIGS, or how much I love you. Peace Out Cub Scouts!

I was looking for love in all the wrong places
I passed by open arms and smiling faces
And when frustration opened floodgates again
I found a friend.
It's more to me than just a fling
Friendship makes my spirit sing
I grow and live and love again
through embraces from a friend
And as the lyrics start to flow
You are my music don't you know
Uplifting song without an end
Echoes still you are a friend.

Elizabeth: To all my friends you have always made me smile and laugh to the point of tears. Thanks so much, you mean the world to me. "I work for peanuts!" Liziast and the ocologists, the molecule game, DIFFER... DIFFER... WELL GO AHEAD AND DIFFER!!!!!! Rescue Liz "Jinx tu me dois un coca" Fun rides in Walter, Talula, Zoe and Dante, "I love Pep," Frickers & Fracker...

"I'm losing her... she's running away... wait... no, that's it"
—daniel clowes

"childhood youthtime age & eternity would open like sweet trees in the nights of another spring and dumbfound us with love"
— alan Ginsberg

Gina: huli-e-o sir-e-o, I've not a blessed clue what to write except that if you say "gregor samsa" after a sentence it makes it all ok. In that case, gregor samsa. I feel as though high school was an endless ride down river street in peterson with no red white and blue at the end (speaking of red white and blue, take a cue from the 2 person english crew and salute not, fool) I refuse to use capital letters as I feel they are threatening (and because, if ginsberg doesn't need 'em, neither do i). there were days when this school was threatening, but I'm alive and somewhat sane, I suppose. I won't say I owe it all to so and so's such and such (because I don't aw shit! I did it by myself thankyouverymuch) but I will say that certain key people kept me sane (again-maybe?). certain people witnessed many wonderful things alongside me. certain people created and explored their lives with me. at times, I entered those lives and at times, they entered mine. some funny things happened (science class antics, literature remembrances, trips, volleyball seasons "oh yeah, sure, we won, can we have some free food now?" and funights to boot "uh nowhere's your house again?", events, family fun in history, some french mostly english in french, concerts, late night phone conversations, the boonies "hi I'm corky", shows blame ricky's parents, dunkin doughnuts stops, philosophy, amazing theme music to body parts and caps, ska ska ska, good times in new jersey-newark, plainfield, scotch plains, passaic, Philly, akl two capital letters slipped by, my i am threatened, orange, the bx "I'm a gypsy b" "tame-1" "ace lover" cruises, visits from chicks currently residing in fishy pan, melon/mullet/pumpkin alley, boycotting the pilgrim dinner, spontaneous jams sometimes resulting in laring seances always resulting in intense and photogenic jenga matches, our own forms of communication (president -inhalies- r), tigs tigs tigs, good times at ray's vahmmpizza, some quality fully improvised life) as well as some not so funny things (why it's quite odd that I'm not listing them here "????") that's really all I had to say. I should prolly end it here. but I just can't help it "ah bartleby ah humanity!" (do you figure I should have just left that part out?)

Friends pick us up when we fall down, and if they cannot pick us up, they lie down and listen for a while.

Elisa: "Truly great friends are hard to find, difficult to lose and impossible to forget." "I'll never forget you guys. Reina- you were my first friend when I was in the high school.
