Breaking THROUGH

From the stress of standardized tests (Chloe Piccola) to the pressure of getting transcripts (Gianna Pignatello) and getting that college essay done just right (Brett D'Alessandro) the seniors break through (Dave Oster) into the privileges of being on top - like enjoying out-to-lunch (Richard Lu and Tucker Mason) celebrating Halloween (Bridget Sullivan and Alicia Petrozzino) and letting senioritis set in after mid-year (Joel Paisner, Alex Eliasof and Tom Banks)

FINE TUNING THE VISION

MARCHING BAND, COLOR GUARD, CONCERT CHOIR. CONCERT BAND, JAZZ CHOIR & JAZZ BAND

It was another successful year for the Verona Band. From their performance of Edward Elgar's "Enigma Variations" during Marching Band to its performance in Virginia Beach, the Verona Band continued to turn heads, as always. The concert band was selected out of hundreds of bands as one of the few to perform at the prestigious Rutgers Gala concert. The band performed with the Bloomfield Youth Band as well as at the State Concert Band Festival and at its own spring concert. The jazz band performed at Cecil's, a professional jazz club, and of course, held its annual Jazz Night concert, which featured a performance of Michael Jackson's Thriller with a guest performance by a group of teacher-dancers. Several students performed at Chamber Night, a night devoted to solo performances from talented individual students and this, too, was amazing as always.

"I hope your dreams take you . . . to the corners of your smiles, to the highest of your hopes, to the windows of your opportunities, and the most special places your heart has ever known"

Megan, You have filled our lives with so much love and happiness! Your sparkle lights up our family. We are so very proud of the beautiful, sweet and smart person that you are! Your talents outnumber the stars! We love you and wish you a future filled with joy!

Love to you always,
Mom, Dad , Ryan and Dan

Late in the afternoon of a sunny April day.
 Into our anxious family you quickly made your way.
 "You have another daughter and she's a perfect 10!"
 Of course we know it now and we knew it even then

Off you went to make new friends at the Fells Kinderschool,
 Summer play as "Annie's" orphan and swimming at the pool.
 French horn, Chinese, field days, all new things to do.
 You soon became our shining "star" at Forest Avenue.

HB gave you window painting and Cinnamon for a pet,
 Jump Rope for Heart, the "semi," how lucky can you get!
 Soccer, T-ball, a little lacrosse, you had to try it all.
 Your favorite sport, even then, was always basketball.

Proms, Kentucky, concerts, a senior with a flare,
 Along the way you found yourself and then came Buddy Bear!
 Sweet sixteen, you're driving your very own white jeep,
 Four years of fun with friends and happy memories to keep.

It will be hard to let you go, we'll do it with a smile
 For our little girl is moving on and doing it with style!
 you always have been special, embrace that if you can.
 Every one will know it now, we knew it way back then.

Love always, MOM and DAD

"Your sister is your mirror,
 shining back at you with a world of possibilities.
 She is your witness, who sees you at your worst and best,
 and loves you anyway.
 She is your partner in crime, your midnight companion,
 someone who knows when you are smiling
 even in the dark."

We are so proud of you
 And love you so much!

Jayme & Nicole

Christina

May God bless and keep you always

May your wishes all come true

May you always do for others

And let others do for you

May you build a ladder to the stars

And climb every rung

May you stay forever young

May you have a strong foundation

When the winds of changes shift

May you always know the truth

And see the lights surrounding you

May you always be courageous

Stand upright and strong

May your heart always be joyful

And may your song always be sung

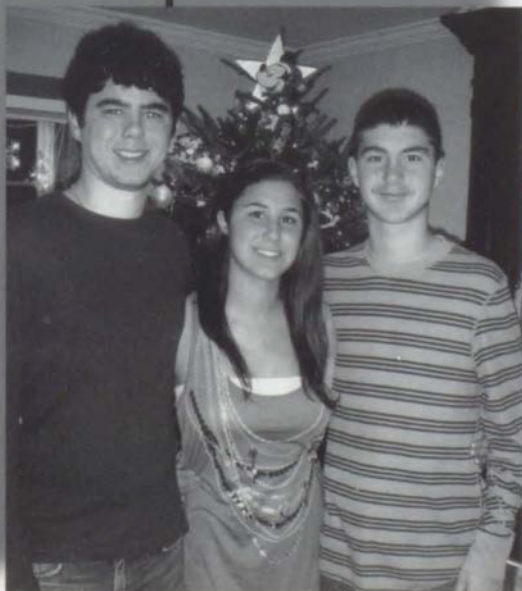

May you stay forever young

You are loved from here on earth

And from Heaven above

Love you big much

Mason Elects American in Washington

Washingtonians Celebrate

Verona, N.J. After impressing admissions officers at many colleges and universities throughout the Mid-Atlantic States with his math formula essay, Tucker Mason has announced that he will join his two older brothers in Washington, D.C. where he will be pursuing a degree in psychiatry at American University.

Parents, Brian and Lisa, soon to be empty-nesters expressed mixed emotions. Lisa states, "We are so proud of Tucker, and know that he is capable of great things. I only hope that he doesn't listen to Freud who blames everything on the mother." Brian warns, "Tucker, just remember, you can run but you cannot hide. We expect to see you at your brother's games." The two will be taking in boarders to help pay for tuition.

Celebration activities are already underway at American, where older brother Cody will be a senior. It is reported that Greek rush will start a week earlier this year, and the first open house at Pi Kappa Phi will be a "Brother where art thou?" theme. Cody states, "Tucker will be fine, he is a true legacy and will get an automatic bid. Oh, I will also make sure he makes it to classes." Meanwhile at Catholic University, older brother Hunter cautions, "Tucker just needs to relax, and not over-analyze things. Even Freud admitted sometimes a cigar is just a cigar. Don't worry I will make sure he gets the most out of the college experience." The brothers will share their combined knowledge of the nation's capital secrets with Tucker, and attempt regular family "excursions." Father Brian, says, "I do not know what we were thinking having them all so close together."

Kindergarten teacher Catherine Orsini reacted to the news by saying, "I always knew there was something special about that boy. He has that dry sense of humor, was always good with numbers, and so polite." Neighbors and those at Center Drugs all agreed, "It has been fun seeing see MASONIC VICTORY page 8

Ed-

We can't believe our "little" brother isn't so little anymore. You have grown into such an extraordinary young man. We are so proud of the truly wonderful person you have become right before our eyes! Day after day you continue to impress us with your desire, passion and fun loving approach to life. As you begin the next stage of your life, always remember to stay true to who you are. These next four years ahead won't always be.

These next four years ahead won't always be easy, but be sure to enjoy them and have fun along the way – and always know we will be there whenever you need us!

Congratulations on your high school graduation!

We are so proud of you!

"T" You are a beautiful young woman and have the ability to do wonderful things in your life that lies before you. You have grown up to be an independent person with your own positive views of life. You are caring, intelligent, clever, outgoing and a joy to have as our daughter, sister & granddaughter and we thank you for always making things interesting and for making us laugh.

We are all so proud of you, and we are confident that your decisions in life will bring success & great things to you. Never let anyone get in your way of getting what you want in life.

Nick,

At just 2 ½ years old you were already hitting golf balls at the driving range with your plastic little tykes club.

Spotted by a pro, he stopped to comment on your serious determination, intensity and form. He then offered to custom-make a tiny wooden driver just for you, if you'd promise to use it. You hit that ball consistently nearly 100 yards, and had crowds gathering in amazement!

Today you still wear that very same look of serious determination in all that you do. You can go anywhere, be anything and do anything you desire, Nick! It's all within you.

Follow your heart and always remember to laugh and love all along the way.

We love you and are so very, very proud.

Love, Mom and Luke.

Congratulations Seniors!

On the day you took those first tentative steps into kindergarten, you had the whole world before you. You were ready to learn, make friends, and have fun. High school seemed light years away.

Thirteen years later, you stand on the edge of adulthood. And, as you gather together one last time, you again have the whole world before you. Whether you are continuing on in academics or performing arts, joining the military, or going straight into the business world, we hope you enjoy and reap the benefits of every new lesson, new friendship, and each new experience.

We are very proud of you, and thrilled to have been part of your educational experience in Verona. We wish you much success, joy and laughter in the coming years.
