

Kohl To Discuss Highway Plans

Expected To Explain Status Of Route 287

By FRAN FRIEND

Dr. John Kohl, New Jersey Commissioner of Transportation, will meet with officials of Passaic, Morris and Essex Counties at a luncheon in Wayne on July 9 to discuss completion of plans for Routes 80, 287, and 46. While the completion of these three major highways is of great interest to the area, major improvements to other highways in the planning stage will also be included in the discussion.

Questions were raised this week on the final alignment of Route 287 following a story carried in this paper that the final alignment will follow the state approved route. Other sources disclosed that the route has not been decided but will be discussed at a public meeting to be held at an undisclosed time.

The luncheon will be given by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce and was planned following a joint meeting of the local Chamber and the Parsippany Chamber of Commerce two months ago. At that time, the two groups called a meeting to discuss mutual transportation problems. Of major concern to both, was the incomplete status of Route 80 and the route that I-287 will take through the area.

In calling for a meeting with Kohl, local officers of the Chamber noted the need of industry in the area for a mass transit system to provide adequate labor for firms already in the area as well as those firms planning to relocate here. In order to provide an adequate labor pool to man the firms, fast economical transportation is an "absolute must, immediately," they noted.

Jack Littleton, president of the Wayne Chamber, stated, "We need to get Route 287 off the drawing boards and start moving. By the time we get it completed, traffic will be bumper to bumper." He also noted the importance of completion

Registration Slated For Swim Class

The Wayne Department of Parks and Recreation has announced that registrations for free swimming lessons at Captain Kilroy Park and North Cove will be held on Monday and Tuesday at the respective areas. Because only a certain number of children can be admitted to each class, Charles Kelly, Director of the Department, has emphasized that the registration will be on a "first come, first serve" basis.

In the event of rain, the registration will be held on the first possible days.

Registration for children who have just completed kindergarten will be at 10 a.m.; for those who have just com-

Auto Inspection Hours Altered

Director Ronald M. Heymann of the Motor Vehicle Department has announced that summer hours for motor vehicle inspection will take effect beginning July 4 in Wayne. The hours will find the station closed on Saturday, but cars may be inspected Monday.

SISCO HONORED—Senator Edward Sisco was the guest of honor when more than 600 people attended a dinner for him at the Wayne Manor on Friday. From left are: Senator Ira Schoem, Sheriff Frank Davenport, Senator Sisco, Assemblyman Joseph Hirkala, and Wayne Mayor Newton Miller. The Senator was honored for his years of service to the residents of Wayne and to the people of the State of New Jersey. Those attending represented both the Republican and Democratic parties.

Wayne Urban Crisis Center Slated; Will Try To Solve Community Problems

A Wayne branch of the Passaic Urban Crisis Center will open at Willowbrook Shopping Center on July 2 with an African bazaar. The center will open in facilities made available by Rouse and Company at the shopping center. The Center was seen as the basis for a true partnership between urban and suburban centers.

The Wayne group was organized recently and includes Guy Vinopal, fund raising chairman; Jerry Fuchs, publicity; Rev. Dean Lanning, liaison with Wayne clergy; Brian Berkin, liaison with Wayne Jaycees; Judy Rosenblatt, organization; and Eric Mayer, coordinator.

The chapter has raised over $800 to date, and has a goal of $3,500. Contributions will be sought from interested residents of the community.

Library To Continue Plans Despite Miller's Reluctance

NEWTON MILLER

Robert Pearce, Director of Wayne's Library, said this weekend that plans to expand the library facilities on Nellis Drive will continue despite the announcement by Mayor Newton Miller that he will not sign a contract with the architect approved by the library's Board of Trustees. Pearce said that the contract, which was approved by the local council, was signed by Dr. Henry Haxo, chairman of the Board of Trustees, and all four members of the board. The signature of the mayor is not required under the law, he said.

"While we would like to have the mayor's approval, it is not necessary," he said. "All we need are the authorization of the council and the signature of the chairman of the board. The other trustees signed the contract as an act of support. The contract is a legal document," he continued, "and it conforms to the state standards. The township attorney said the trustees could sign it, and they did."

Pearce explained that the contract calls for plans only. The plans are needed before application can be made for federal grants. They must be approved by the state committee before the application for federal monies can be made. Pearce said the library board hopes to get approval of the plans by this fall in order to be eligible for federal funds when they are available sometime next spring.

Wayne News In Brief

Injured Pedestrian

Maria Fadlai, 10, of 164 Ford Street, Wayne, was injured and taken to Chilton Hospital when she was struck by a vehicle driven by Claudia Sue Olsen, 18, 308 West 9th Street, Storm Lake, Iowa. Maria was treated for injuries to her head and left elbow. She received a total of fifty stitches. Miss Olsen was issued a summons.

Offense Against The Town

Each municipal department in Wayne owns certain pieces of property useful in carrying out its duties and services. The Department of Parks and Recreation has, among other things, a boat or two. That total number was reduced by one recently when an unknown thief went empty handed to Toms Lake Park, and returned with a municipal row boat.

of plans for other major arteries in the tri-county area, saying that industry needs transportation to survive. It is imperative that Route 80 is completed on schedule. In its present condition, it has snarled traffic all the way to Parsippany-Troy Hills.

The need for mass transit for the northern New Jersey counties affects industrial companies, both large and small, and is contributing to another major problem in the metropolitan area—that of air pollution. The meeting with Kohl will, hopefully, clear the air on plans for the completion of vitally needed highway improvements in the northern area of the state. "We want to know what to expect, and when," Littleton said.

pleted first grade, registration will be at 10:30 a.m.; For those who have just completed second grade, registration will be at 11:30 a.m. For all others, registration will be at 12 noon. Swimming lessons at Captain Kilroy will be from Wednesday, July 1 to July 24.

Swimming lessons at North Cove will be from Wednesday, July to August 28. Special classes to be held this year include: Junior Lifesaving at Kilroy Park which will begin on July 1st from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Registration will be on June 29 to June 30. Competitive swim team practice will be held at North Cove beginning July 1 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Registration will be on June 29 and June 30.

Wayne

The Wayne chapter is the third to be opened in the Passaic County area. It follows similar centers opened in Clinton and Rutherford. They minister to the needs of from 700 to 800 underprivileged residents of the two communities. They offer classes in English, math, Spanish, home economics and music. In addition, they offer a displaced family relocation service, narcotics, counseling, small business assistance, a unique "You Bet We Care Program", Christmas baskets, recreation, programs, voter education and civic courses.

Reco Wallace, Director of the Center in Passaic, has also announced the formation of a diagnostic and medical office staffed by three volunteer physicians to offer medical attention close to the homes of members.

A neighborhood ball park and open air recreation center will be built on land donated by a neighborhood landlord in the Passaic area. Plans are now in the formative stage for training programs which will include office and bookkeeping machine operators. The program is made possible through the donation of more than $50,000 in used business machines.

A request has gone out to New York clothing manufacturers for donation of sewing machines to train operators. All work of the Urban Crisis Center is done by church groups and individuals. No federal, state or local assistance is given.

The Wayne chapter was formed last August in a meeting between residents from Wayne and Passaic who felt that cooperation between the urban and suburban communities was essential on a true partnership basis and that such cooperation would enrich the quality of life of both communities.

services to the library, which were made by Councilman Walter Hoffmann, are unknown to him, Pearce said. "The mayor has said nothing to me about withholding services, and I have no knowledge of such a statement," he said. "I hope the statement is unfounded. While many libraries do handle their own services, and we can do the same, the system we have at the present time saves money for the taxpayers and I feel it is better for the community for that reason."

Northeast Cambodia Falls To Enemy

By RICHARD PYLE

SCAIGON (AP)—More than 8,000 Cambodian civilians and troops have been brought to South Vietnam in a massive emergency evacuation that means Cambodia has virtually abandoned its three northeastern provinces to the North Vietnamese.

TOWNS ABANDONED

A military spokesman in Saigon confirmed today that the Cambodians were pulled out of two towns, Labansiek and Bo Kheo, in a military operation that began June 24.

"The operation is now complete," the spokesman said. The operation, originally announced as a drive to evacuate ethnic Vietnamese from the towns in Ratanakiri Province, was carried out by a 5,000-man ground force that pushed into Cambodia from Pleiku, South Vietnam. The refugees, including several hundred Cambodian troops, were brought out via Highway 19 to Pleiku and a nearby former U.S. base, Camp Enari.

South Vietnamese troops involved in the operation said the evacuated Cambodian soldiers had no weapons.

The pullout also was announced by a military spokesman in Phnom Penh, where officials had said earlier that both Labansiek and Bo Kheo were to be held "at all costs."

The Cambodian spokesman gave a slightly different version of the evacuation, saying only that Cambodian troops had been withdrawn from the two cities by air.

COMMUNIST TAKEOVER

The pullout meant the Cambodians apparently have abandoned the country's three northeastern provinces — Ratanakiri, Mondulakiri and Stung Treng—to the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

Bo Kheo and Labansiek are located in the area where the Ho Chi Minh trail runs south paralleling the South Vietnamese border. They are less than 30 miles west of Pleiku, South Vietnam.

The Cambodian spokesman, Maj. Am Rong, said last month following the fall of Lomphat City, south of Labansiek, that the two towns would be held. The Americans wanted the Cambodians to stay in hopes that their presence would help in the current U.S. campaign of "interdicting" the enemy's infiltration and supply trails.

DIVIDED COUNTRY

The meaning of the decision to withdraw the troops, numbering more than one battalion, from the two towns was not immediately clear. But diplomatic sources in Phnom Penh indicated earlier this month that Cambodia was prepared to concede about half of its territory to North Vietnamese control in order to save the central region including the capital.

In addition to the provinces of Ratanakiri, Mondulakiri and Stung Treng, the North Vietnamese now have control of five provincial capitals and are contesting two others, Kompong Thom in central Cambodia and Kompong Speu, 30 miles southwest of Phnom Penh.

RETURNS—Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird held a news conference at Andrews Air Force Base Saturday upon his return from a European trip. Laird said U.S. warplanes would continue bombing enemy supply lines inside Cambodia after June 30 and held open the possibility of providing air support for Cambodian ground forces. (AP Wirephoto).

In other parts of Cambodia, spokesmen said, North Vietnamese troops again attacked a big munitions depot at Long Vek, 30 miles north of Phnom Penh, and were driven back by South Vietnamese aerial gunships in a nighttime battle. South Vietnamese troops claimed 34 enemy soldiers killed in fighting around Kompong Cham, some 50 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, and Kompong Trach, on Cambodia's southern tip.

In South Vietnam, the U.S. Command reported, 23 American soldiers were wounded when helicopters making a combat assault ran into heavy North Vietnamese ground fire. Two UH1 helicopters were reported shot down.

One enemy soldier was reported killed.

Seven Americans were reported killed and 12 wounded in other battles as small but rough skirmishes continued in South Vietnam.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Command announced that upwards of 500 members of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division's 2nd Brigade had returned to Vietnam from Cambodia as part of President Nixon's U.S. withdrawal program, scheduled to be completed by Tuesday.

Most of the departing troops said they were glad to be getting back to South Vietnam. A news photographer, Henri Huet, reported that the men had complained they were "getting ambushed or running into mines every other day in Cambodia."

Israel, Syria Battle; Both Claim Victory

Israeli forces invaded Syria's Golan Heights Friday and fought Syrian troops in an all-day battle that the Damascus government called "the heaviest, longest and fiercest" since the 1967 Middle East war.

Syria said 45 of its soldiers were killed and 75 wounded. The military command in Tel Aviv said 10 Israeli troops were killed and 27 wounded.

Israel launched the attack because Syria was "on the verge" of staging a border war of attrition, an Israeli officer told a news conference. The officer said the raid was intended to persuade the Syrians "to think again, instead of gliding into such a war."

The Tel Aviv spokesman said

Israeli forces overran six Syrian outposts, destroyed fortifications in them, knocked at least 10 tanks out of action, downed four MIGs and took 37 prisoners. The Israelis lost one fighter jet, the spokesman said.

The Damascus spokesman called the outcome of the battle "a severe lesson to Israel" and said the Syrian forces destroyed 35 Israeli tanks, 32 half-tracks, three observation posts, two radar stations, 11 gun batteries, one rocket unit and seven jets.

"Our air and land forces are now giving the Israelis a taste of their crushing power," a military spokesman in Damascus said.

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — Protestants, Catholics and British troops battled in the streets of three Northern Ireland cities Friday night in riots touched off by the jailing of civil rights leader Bernadette Devlin.

The violence began after Miss Devlin, 23, the youngest member of the British House of Commons, lost her last appeal and began a six-month sentence on charges of helping incite the Catholic-Protestant riots in Northern Ireland last year.

More than 1,000 Protestants and Catholics were involved in Friday night's disturbances in Londonderry, Armagh, and Belfast, the capital of predominantly Protestant Northern Ireland.

The rioting in Londonderry lasted five hours. Fourteen persons were arrested and 22 soldiers were injured, three requiring hospitalization.

Eight soldiers were injured in Belfast, four seriously. Two men were injured in two hours of disturbances in Armagh, where Miss Devlin went to begin her sentence in the women's jail.

The trouble in Belfast began when a Protestant procession ran into a rival march of Catholics protesting Miss Devlin's arrest. British troops firing tear gas separated the Protestant and Catholic crowds.

Police in Londonderry also fired tear gas grenades.

In London, about 70 Irish men and women marched to the Home Office to protest Miss Devlin's jail sentence. Police made six arrests.

Miss Devlin, leader of the Catholic minority, in predominantly Protestant Londonderry, was scheduled to address 2,000 residents of the city's Bogside district before being taken to jail.

But 60 policemen intercepted her car and took her directly to Armagh.

When she reached the heavily guarded jail, demonstrators outside shouted, "God bless you Bernadette; you are a saint."

She rolled down a window of the car and replied: "Thank you for turning up, but please don't cause any trouble."

A British army spokesman said that although police had granted Miss Devlin permission to make the Bogside speech and then surrender, she was arrested out of fear she would deliver a dramatic talk that would trigger rioting.

New Anti-War Protest Planned For Washington

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The faction-torn radical left, claiming it is moving from dissent to resistance, is considering a three-pronged march on Washington in a new bid to force an end to the Indochina war.

The proposal to send streams of dissenters converging on the capital from three directions after extended marches is being considered at a New Left strategy action conference that opens today.

Reds Suggest Security Talks

BUDAPEST (AP) — The Communist Warsaw Pact governments, in a memorandum handed to Western governments by Hungarian diplomats, have proposed the early preparation of a European East-West security conference, with the United States and Canada also attending.

At such a conference, the document said, an organization could be set up to deal with questions of European security and cooperation, including the mutual reduction of troops stationed on foreign territory.

Marchers would start from three points — Lexington-Concord, Mass.; Kent, Ohio; and Jackson, Miss.; are being mentioned as possibilities — and would encamp in Washington for what David Dellinger described as "a prolonged period of pressure."

The device would seek to unite such disparate groups as welfare mothers, laid-off factory workers, high school and college students, antiwar moderates and the various feuding factions that comprise the New Left.

An attempt would also be made to link the march with a call for a nationwide student strike.

CHARLES W. KELLY

Charles Kelly, Sports Director Head Of Parks Rec. Department

BY JOSEPH BATTAGLIA

You can find him racing his boat at Pines Lake or you might run into him playing for a Men's Softball League. Possibly, he might be found coaching one of the Girl's softball teams to an 0-8 season record.

Of course, he can be reached at home.

Better yet, try the Municipal Building on Valley Road, in the office of Parks and Recreation. You will probably find him there — and find him busy.

This is where Mr. Charles W. Kelly, Director of Parks and Recreation, is constantly working to improve the recreational facilities for Wayne. He has been the Superintendent of this office ever since its beginning three years ago. Since that time, Mr. Kelly, with the aid of a capable staff, has transformed the recreational program of Wayne into one of the best in the state.

When he first came to Wayne, there was only a recreation commission which handled the duties of setting up activities in Wayne. He was made the Supervisor of Recreation and when the Department of Parks and Recreation was created, he became the first Director.

Mr. Kelly brought many new ideas and a lot of work with him as he began to develop activities for the Wayne residents. These activities have been expanded to include all age groups, starting from grade school children to the elderly. This program has become so extensive that few communities can compare with it. The record speaks for itself.

Under the guidance of Mr. Kelly and Sport Supervisor, Mr. Jim McNicholas, soccer, basketball, wrestling, football, weight lifting and physical fitness clinics have been instituted to make the Wayne youth and their parents aware of these sports.

A summer and winter basketball program has been set up under the guidance of the school basketball coaches. A women's volleyball league has also been started to include all women over the age of 21.

With the construction of six tennis courts a tennis program has grown to a membership of over 2,000. The members pay for identification badges to show upon admittance to the courts. There is always someone at the courts to insure fairness in time allotted for play and those requesting admission. Mr. Kelly states that the courts will be put under lights in the future. A grand opening will be held with top stars, such as Arthur Ashe, being asked to attend.

A swimming program with 5,550 members and two beaches is in full swing. North Cove beach has recently been under construction with racing lanes, swimming docks, and diving facilities installed. Free swimming lessons are available at both North Cove and Kilroy beaches.

The Golden Agers are also a part of the recreational program. 190 members of the elderly of Wayne get together twice a week for some social and recreational enjoyment. Unlimited membership is a plus for the Golden Agers program.

A program for the brain injured child is also available under the instruction of Jim Murray. This is a program for children with certain brain defects, but who have full mobility and are able to participate in sports.

Mr. Kelly does not claim full credit for all these accomplishments in such a short span of time. "Without the cooperation of my full and part time staff, and without the support of volunteer works, our program would be nil.

'Airport' Is Flying High As Box Office Hit

By DEAN CUMMINGS

Studios have always tried to make successful books into successful movies. When the practice first began, older stories, already in the public domain, were chosen first. Now, it is necessary for studios to purchase rights to best sellers, and hope to recover that initial expenditure with a big box office attraction. "Airport" is such a picture.

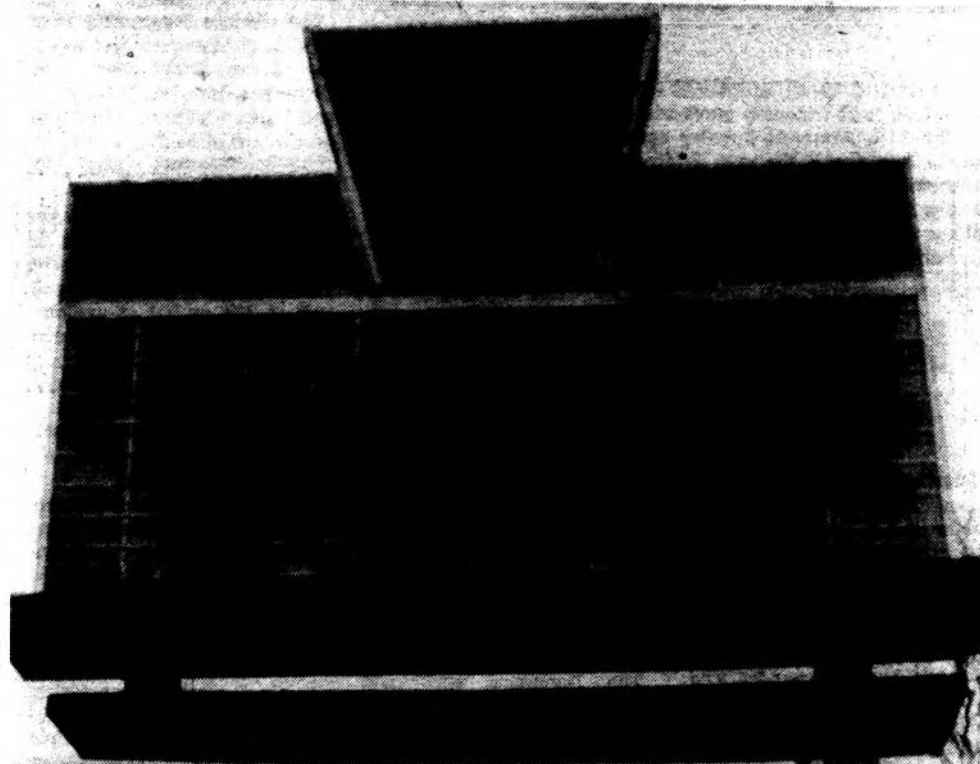

To assure the success of their endeavor, Universal has allowed writer-director George Seaton to chop Arthur Haley's novel into a screen event which offered stock characters and nearly stock situations.

Before the film has progressed very far, there are four separate and distinct stories going on at once. Then, these are blended into a final episode upon a Boeing 707.

Universal also assured success by casting well known personalities from television and screen into even the smallest principal parts. The cast includes Burt Lancaster, Dean Martin, Jean Seberg, Jacqueline Bisset, George Kennedy, Helen Hayes, Barry Nelson, Van Heflin, Barbara Rush, Maureen Stapleton and many other familiar faces. Every so often, Hollywood feels that it must release a motion picture which is more star studded than a summer evening. In most cases, this is done as a form of insurance for a large budget film.

The movie version of "Airport" is hardly ever boring, and often exciting. The limited comedy in the picture is sprinkled throughout and at least four characters have a good share in the laugh lines. The serious tone of the in-flight sequence seems marred by comedy, however. It is unusual for a film to get away with shifting tone from near-tragedy to comedy without losing its audience. "Airport" doesn't lose the audience in this regard, but it confuses them. As Dean Martin faces Van Heflin, and a home-made bomb, his line, the most important of the film, received laughter from the audience. That's one case where director Seaton was not successful. In most cases he is.

Each of the "stars" involved in the film gives a fine performance. Helen Hayes and George Kennedy are admirable, everyone else is very, very good. They are, however, trapped in a story more intent on revealing the behind-the-scenes happenings at an airport than one involved with its characters. That is a handicap which they usually surmount.

"AIRPORT"—The film adaptation of Arthur Haley's best selling novel, is now playing at local theaters in Wayne and throughout the area.

"Airport" is, regardless, an entertaining motion picture set against the bustling backdrop of a modern jetport. All of the stock problems are encountered: a stowaway, a captain-stewardess love affair, a strained marriage or two, and a passenger with a bomb. None of the situations are unheard of, but the techniques of handling them are new to most of us. The picture is therefore saved. Without the instructional value, the thin plot lines would collapse.

What will not collapse are the long lines to the box office. They are really worth waiting in, if the alternative is an evening with your television.

AFGHAN HOUNDS—Pair of well groomed animals, both males, belong to Jane Newman, 20 Swiss Terrace, Wayne. Their names are, Babur (black), and Timur-Lang. Babur's grandfather has the distinction of being the only Afghan hound ever to win the Madison Square Garden Dog Show. Timur has been in Garden shows twice this year.

Broadway Is My Beat

by Joey Sasso

Actor Dick Sabol is currently enjoying the kind of double exposure wished for by every performer — appearing on stage and screen at the same time. Nightly at the Shubert hits musical "Promises, Promises," and almost around the corner, he can see himself on the large screen of the De Mille Theatre in his first motion picture, "Cotton Comes to Harlem" in a role that has been singled out for praise by the film critics of Cue, Newsweek and Variety to name a few.

The six foot five, blond, blue-eyed actor was selected for his film debut by none other than the producer himself, Sam Goldwyn Jr., who spotted him in "Promises, Promises" and thought him perfect for the role of the white policeman, Jarema. In discussing the role, which called for a nude scene, Dick Sabol still reacts with the same embarrassment he felt in filming the sequence but he can't help being pleased at the mention of that scene in all the reviews as the most hilarious one in the picture.

Dick Sabol studied acting with Stella Adler and has appeared on Broadway with Paul Ford in "3 Bags Full," in the national companies of "The Hostage" by Brendan Behan and "Hello Dolly" with Carol Channing. He has been seen on television in the Jackie Gleason Show, The Garry Moore Show, "The Reporter" and "Route 66."

A native of Yonkers, New York, Dick Sabol later moved to Fair Lawn, New Jersey where he graduated from Fair Lawn High School. His interest in the performing arts led him to study dancing — 12 years of tap-dancing followed by modern dancing. His baritone voice was trained by Harry Garland and so it seems quite natural that this multi-faceted performer should make his mark on stage, screen and TV.

He is married to an actress-writer and he and his wife Karlene live in Upper Greenwood Lake, Hewitt, N.J. with their three year old son Richie.

Dick Sabol looks forward to his continued development as an actor and enjoys the challenge of each new project that arises. He feels strongly that his early years of training, his roles in summer stock and touring companies have thoroughly prepared him for whatever role he may assume in (Continued on Page 12)

"ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL" at the Shakespeare Festival, Stratford, Connecticut can provide the loveliest family excursion of the summer. Be not deterred by yet another Shakespeare production. This comedy is a delight from start to finish. Rich with pageantry and humor, it is a rare happening in theatre. Critics are renowned for dashing up the aisle at curtain to beat the crowd, but this reviewer as well as other colleagues stayed to applaud vigorously.

The colorful story of Helena who wins the hand of Bertram as a grant from the king, robbing her heart's desire of the ability to select his own bride is preposterous Elizabethan, an example of Shakespeare at his most playful. How Helena manages to maneuver her angry groom into the conjugal bed is piquantly delineated by the twangy-voiced Roberta Maxwell. (She provided the insouciant scene in last season's Henry V in which Henry's bride learns to speak "Engle-ish.")

"All's Well" is outfitted to the king's taste: Marsha Eck has garnished the stage with tapestried, lion footed chairs and an arbor heavy with cuttable grapes. Sumptuous aqua, maroon and lavender velvets mingle with soft silks of cameo creme pastels, the tasteful handiwork of Jane Greenwood.

Sensationalism A Real Threat

Editor:

Yes, you're right. Newspapers ARE at war with the courts. And you know something . . . they'll soon be at war with "the state" (how case "s" is your choice, not mine). And you know something else . . . newspapers are going to lose this war.

You "reporters" should go back to reporting rather than creating news. You should report all the news of interest, not just the sensational stuff. You should be news reporters and not salesmen of TV time, radio time, newspaper advertising and your own names.

When will people like you start reporting (I'm sure you are intelligent enough to realize it) that "the state" is YOU . . . and ME . . . and the people down the street . . . and ALL of us. This includes those political crime adherents, black panther members and . . . yes . . . "the courts" too.

I'm afraid for all of us that the trend toward sensational news "reporting" will hurt all of us. Particularly the news media. And, "the state" is getting pretty fed up.

In spite of constant bombarding by "reporters" of your ilk, most of us in "the state" . . . and I think this includes THE VAST (silent perhaps) MAJORITY between Minutemen and Weathermen still feel that the U. S. of A is certainly not perfect, its far better than any other country on this globe.

No single organization — and certainly no single individual — has the answers to the big problems that plague us all today, but we all can try. It seems to me, that you are not trying. You're blowing it!

The Courts aren't a threat to freedom of the press — people like YOU are.

Greatest Problem Is Violence

The great silent majority of the peoples of our world are hoping that we will devise means of living pleasantly and happily together — as inhabitants of the same planet — rather than machine-gunning each other. God gave us a beautiful world to live in; why not take advantage of it and enjoy it?

The United States of America spends 71% of its income on instruments of Violence (War and the Military) and the Communist blocks similar amounts. Comparatively little attention or expense is devoted to peaceful coexistence and getting along together pleasantly in a mutually-beneficial world society.

Powerful and expensive Departments of Peace, Good-Will and Coexistence are in order. Otherwise the human race is threatened with continued suffering by violence (War) and even extinction by its own hand.

Notes From A Friend

By Fran Friend

RUMBLING CONTINUE TO EMANATE FROM THE DEMOCRATIC ORGANIZATION . . . with charges of suppression of news, violation of the new bylaws, and defections from the party mentioned openly by disenchanted members of the executive board.

A meeting of the execs last week brought everything to the surface. Simmering dissatisfaction was openly voiced by those members who opposed the choice of the new party leader.

At least one former supporter of the New Democratic Coalition is said to have told the leadership that he and a group of his friends will leave the party because of a new and growing influence of the N.D.C.

Charges were also made that a former candidate for the council last year, and the high man on the ticket, was denied the opportunity to make a speech before the club at the last meeting. When a letter was released to the press setting forth reasons for dissatisfaction, he was taken to task by a councilman, who 'tis said criticized him for going to the press.

Airino such problems publicly will only serve to give the impression of a split in the party, he was told. To which the former candidate was said to have answered, "The war is on and I will continue to fight on."

Another sore spot was the failure to invite one of the Democratic councilmen to the meeting, even though the newly adopted bylaws require such an invitation. The councilman in question, it is said, had to call a member of the board to find out what happened at the meeting.

ALSO UNDER FIRE . . . is the clause in the bylaws which says no candidate will run on the party line. Opponents of the clause say it is unenforceable. It does not place any restriction on the county leader, who can run candidates on the party line if he so wishes. Enforcement of this provision is possible only with appropriate legislation, say the opponents.

Interference with the Board of Elections in choosing workers at the polls was also charged by some of the execs. This function belongs with the board members only and cannot be taken over by the county committee as has been suggested.

Other charges concerned possible deals with party leaders outside of Wayne. Support was given by the Wayne group in exchange for support of the senatorial candidate and support for the local bylaws, or so a fly on the wall reported to me this weekend.

Sentiment is growing in some quarters for an open break with the organization and the formation of a new organization in town.

THE WORK DONE BY THE MAYOR'S ADVISORY COUNCIL ON DRUG ABUSE was characterized by the mayor on Thursday as the "silent approach." The mayor said his committee has worked without fanfare but has set out guidelines in four areas.

Hank Coleman heads up the logistics phase of the program, and is responsible for obtaining pertinent information for use by the committee and distribution to the public. His sub-committee will make 1,000 copies of a pamphlet on drugs available to the public library. They were contributed by the local American Legion Post #171.

William Gerrity, a local attorney, who heads up the legal sub-committee, called for a commission to investigate the causes for narcotic and drug abuse. The commission would also have the power to subpoena witnesses and to call for mental and physical tests on drug users. He recommended formation of a youth guidance council appointed by the mayor with the advice and consent of the council. It would coordinate efforts of the police, schools, and governing agency of the township in investigating and correcting all the problems faced by youth, not confining its work to drug abuse.

Andrew Militello, heading up the education committee announced a seminar available for home meetings. It is intended to alert adults to the problems of drug abuse and to suggest preventive measures which can be taken. It also familiarizes the participants with the symptoms of drug abuse. Information is now available through the Wayne public library. Additional books will be soon added to the shelves. Formation of a youth corp was also announced. The emphasis will be on getting youth to help teenagers in trouble. Volunteers are needed to help in this work and interested teens can call Militello or Robert Stevens, who heads up the sub-committee.

John Seery, who is chairman of the rehabilitation sub-committee told the audience that calls for help have been received by the Wayne committee from as far away as Newark. Other calls have come from Haledon, Totowa Borough, Lincoln Park and Paterson. The problem is no respecter of boundary lines, economic status or social standing, he said. Seery told the residents that help is available from the committee by means of the telephone watch. For information, users, parents and interested residents can call 694-1234.

One for the road

By GORDON HAIGHT

(EDITOR'S NOTE: On Thursday afternoon at approximately 1:14 p.m., a young man walked into Cozy Corner Tavern in Wayne accompanied by a three year old lion. The 50 patrons in the bar varied in their reactions but beneath all of their thoughts was a basic emotion — fear.)

Many people fashion their lives after others they admire, either in real life or literature. Regardless of the occupation, there is always some person who stands above the rest of the crowd as an example to be followed by the rest.

Journalism is no exception. Most writers, in the depth of their hearts, believe that the New York Times is the best paper in the world and that A. M. Rosenthal, the managing editor, the man to be most emulated. The thoughts about the Times, however, come when one is peaceful and serene (as one would imagine the Times to be). But during their more hectic hours, journalists picture themselves as Ernest Hemingways — writing for newsmen in the beginning but eventually breaking away from the trade to write those famous novels which eventually netted that famous American the Nobel Prize.

Hemingway worked as a copy-boy for the Kansas City Star and then as a reporter for the Toronto Star, covering the fighting in Europe during the first World War. Later he was a correspondent during the Spanish Civil War. His thoughts and strong writing talents have been studied by aspiring young journalists over the years, who, depending upon their seriousness, learn to compete with the author both on a journalistic and personal level.

If that person is equipped with a satisfactory imagination, he almost inevitably sees himself writing better and coping with situations a more superb one than Hemingway.

Such competition rarely becomes anything more than an amusing game, the competitor realizing that he will never drive World War I ambulances across enemy lines at night, or be wounded on the Italian front, or fight marlins off the coast of Cuba, or battle revolutionaries in Spain.

However, the incident of the lion walking into the bar at Cozy Corner might have become serious should that animal have decided to relieve himself on the floor of that establishment. . . Hemingway, according to his own account in "A Moveable Feast" and also according to other witnesses who later wrote about the incident, was drinking amiably in a local cafe in Paris in the early 1920's when a man walked into the door with a lion. The patrons of the bar, who were previously quiet and relaxed, began to shout, disturbing the atmosphere of the bar. After a few moments of disorder, the lion walked over to the front of the bar and relieved himself on the floor. Hemingway, who had tried to ignore the lion's presence to that point, walked over to the animal, picked it up, carried it to the door, and threw it outside. The owner of the animal was next.

That story seems improbable except for the fact that at least three people wrote about the incident verifying Hemingway's actions. In theory at least, most journalists see themselves as Hemingway's equals. The lion incident, however, suddenly brought personal comparisons into reality.

Concentrating more upon the flavor and aroma of the beer, the beast standing at the entrance to the Cozy Tavern appeared to be an out-of-focus, very large, sandy-colored dog. However, upon closer inspection it was noted that this dog had an exceptionally long thin tail which twitched rather than wagged. Its paws were larger than a man's foot; the points of the shoulders rose and fell with the rhythm of its walk.

There was never a dog built like this.

In less than one minute after the animal walked into Cozy Tavern, through one door, six men walked out of the other. The rest remained motionless-perched precariously upon the high stools lining the bar. Although the lion seemed bored by the whole thing, the patrons were not relieved in the slightest. Their eyes kept shifting from the lion to the animal's handler, and their hearts sank when he ordered a second beer and seemed quite content to sit leisurely in the corner of the room next to his pet and pass the time.

The incident of Hemingway's picking up his lion quickly entered the mind of this journalist and, unfortunately, no amount of concentration could remove the thought. The muscular animal might have weighed anywhere between two and three hundred pounds. If the animal was rolled up in a neat furry ball, and IF he had no claws, and IF his teeth were missing, it MIGHT be possible to push him out of the door. Unfortunately for this writer, the beast had teeth and watched every person who made a move.

Without too much deliberation, Hemingway's standing in relation to other writers suddenly climbed several notches. Perhaps his prose was not as intellectual or perfected as A. M. Rosenthal, Faulkner, Joyce, or any other notable writers but no one who has ever seen a lion outside of a cage, would believe for a second that another than an immortal, would throw a lion out of a bar.

Take A Good Look At North Vietnam's Government

Possibly the doves would have had a great deal more impact on the Vietnam war if they had chosen to view Hanoi through the same sharp lens they turned on us and on various Saigon governments.

But, from the outset, too many leading doves have made themselves masters of the double standard. By one means or another, including the heavy emphasis of silence, they have conveyed the impression that the Reds in Hanoi are a benign lot, doing the people's will at home and lending a friendly hand to an oppressed people in South Vietnam.

One of the doves' favorite themes is that, as practiced by the late Ho Chi Minh and his successors, communism is nothing but Vietnamese nationalism and that our entry into the fray is a blind man's intervention tending only to impede a natural surge toward nationalism.

The nationalism of the Vietnamese is real enough. But I checked again on Hanoi's role in its post-World War II upsurge. The historians agree that in 1945-46, just before Ho sent his co-called Viet Minh forces into an eight-year war with the French in Indochina, he callously wiped out every nationalist rival he could find.

Despite all that, when he assumed full power from the French in 1954, his government still was something of a "coalition." It quickly ceased to be as he eliminated the non-Reds from posts of real power.

Half a dozen historians or more will testify to the reign of terror Hanoi visited upon the North Vietnamese. Even the late Bernard Fall, hardly your standard hawk, accepted evidence that Ho put down peasant and other revolts by killing at least 50,000 North Vietnamese and exiling or jailing perhaps twice that number. Yet some doves still try to argue that this calculated mass murder has been overplayed.

Ho Chi Minh's "land reform" was so viciously phony that his regime later had to concede publicly that roughly a third of the "landlords" dispossessed had been condemned wrongly. The truth was more than two-thirds of all North

The record of the North Vietnamese legislature is something to behold. Ho held an election in 1946, and then plunged headlong into another one in 1960. In the latter, a massive 458 candidates ran for 404 seats. Actual attendance at this stunningly "Democratic" assembly has dwindled steadily toward the 200 mark.

Many key doves like to say that North and South Vietnam are "really one country," so why should anybody be mixing in their affairs for any reason whatsoever?

The fact is, for most of 300 years Vietnam was divided in either halves or thirds. For a time, centuries ago, there were Chinese-style walls separating two Vietnamese regions on a line not far above the present border at the 17th Parallel.

For hundred of years, the Vietnamese of the Red River delta around Hanoi have been highly aggressive. They once swallowed up much of Laos and Camodia, and it is they who colonized South Vietnam by wiping out the ancient Champa (Indian-descendant) empire.

Those who settled in the south grew to be far different from their restless northern brothers, and the enmity between north and south is deep.

The big doves love to describe our fighting in Vietnam as "genocide." They are peculiarly mute when looking at the

On Thursday night, Wayne Mayor Newton Miller announced that he had asked New Jersey Governor William Cahill to consider giving the Paterson General Hospital sufficient funds to construct a narcotics rehabilitation center in Wayne. With the growing number of drug cases reported to police and the increased concern among parents and local administrators, the Inquiring Photographer decided to get the opinion of the public on this topic.

IRA LEVINE
Eberlant Drive

Yes, I would like to see that. It's a good idea and Wayne would be the most logical place to house such a facility. I think it's very important for the town and the county to have such a center. We have the problem . . . might as well have the cure too.

Would you like to see a narcotics rehabilitation center in Wayne?

JEFF HOFFER
113 Longport

Yes. It's a good idea to have such a center here. I wouldn't mind having the center in Wayne. It's very important to this area to learn about what can be done and what is being done for addicts and users. More people will be informed of the problem if the rehabilitation center was brought to Wayne.

FRANK ECKERT
59 Hardwick Lane

Yes, I think it's a good idea to have a rehabilitation center come into the area with the Paterson General Hospital. It seems most logical to me. It's a county hospital so the rehabilitation center should go along with it. If they come to cure the addict, that's what matters, not whether they will influence the town in any way. I think it's a good thing and the area needs such a center.

MRS. RUTH BERCE
212 Parish Drive

Yes. I think a rehabilitation center in Wayne for drug abuse will be a very good thing. I also think that such a center is needed. We don't have any in the area. A lot of parents and kids will be informed of what is going on if such a center came to Wayne and it would help an awful lot of people I'm sure.

ANGELO M. PEPPE
2 Water Street

I think we should have a drug rehabilitation center in Wayne. Someone has got to set a center up, so why not Wayne. It will make the people around a lot more conscious of what's going on. You can't hide the problem anymore for it is getting worst not better. The addict should be helped by a rehabilitation center, not treated like a criminal, for the user is sick.

Hickel In A Pickle: White House Ponders Problem

Scene: The offices of Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel. The room is bare of furniture, the window is boarded over and Mr. Hickel is perspiring profusely as he speaks to his secretary, Miss Pangloss.

Mr. Hickel: About the air conditioner, Miss Pangloss . . .

Miss Pangloss: They said maybe they could have it fixed by a week from next Tuesday, sir. Maybe.

Mr. Hickel: They promised to have the furniture back last week. Are you sure those two fellows who carted it out were upholsterers? The tall one looked just like Bob Haldeman with a black moustache. (Hopefully) Wasn't that the phone, Miss Pangloss?

Miss Pangloss: No, sir. Just your imagination again.

Mr. Hickel (defensively): Well, it could've been the phone. It rang only yesterday.

Miss Pangloss: That was last Wednesday, sir.

Mr. Hickel (annoyed): All right. To business. What's on my appointment schedule today?

Miss Pangloss (reading): 8:45 a.m., arrive at office; 6:15 p.m., leave for day.

Mr. Hickel: I think I'll leave a little early. With my limousine called back to the factory, it's a long ride home on the bus. (Without much hope.) I don't suppose there's any mail?

Miss Pangloss: Yes, sir. You received a reply to your letter to the President, asking him to lay to rest these false rumors that he wants you to resign.

Mr. Hickel (eagerly): I knew he'd stand behind me! Read the letter, Miss Pangloss.

Miss Pangloss: "Dear Fellow American: The President has asked me to inform you that he shares your concern over ending the war in Vietnam as quickly as . . ."

Mr. Hickel (frowning): Do you think they're trying to tell me something, Miss Pangloss?

Miss Pangloss: They often get their form letters mixed up at the White House, sir. And, after all, Presidential Press Secretary Ron Ziegler said publicly that they definitely wouldn't ask for your resignation.

Mr. Hickel: Yes, that it was reassuring. Still . . . (with sudden resolve), there's only one thing to do. I'll call up the President and have this out once and for all! Do you have a dime, Pangloss?

Miss Pangloss: Here you are, sir.

Mr. Hickel: Thank you. I certainly support the President's drive for economy, but I still say installing a pay phone in my office . . . Hello, White House? This is Secretary Hickel . . . No, Hickel. H-i-c-k-e-l . . . What do you mean, whose secretary am I. I'm Secretary of the Interior . . . No, Interior. In-ter . . . Look, put the President on this instant! Hello, Mr. President, I . . . Oh, hello, Bob . . . Yes, I suppose the President is rather busy what with Cambodia, recession, inflation and, ha, ha, all that, but . . . No, I'm no quitter, Bob, but I did want to complain about my air conditioner, furniture, limousine, telephone and . . . What? Of course, I'm loyal. Of course, the President can count on me. Of course . . . Hello? Hello?

Miss Pangloss: Did he hang up on you, sir?

Mr. Hickel (frowning): I'm sure we were just cut off. But he did say an odd thing.

Miss Pangloss: What was that, sir?

Mr. Hickel: Well, he said the President wanted to know if I was resigned to working under these appalling conditions: I said loyalty that I was. Miss Pangloss: What did he say?

Mr. Hickel: He said the President gratefully accepted my resignation.

Spotlighting: Thomas Harraka Chief Tax Assessor In Wayne

When Wayne's former tax assessor left the township to accept a position in a larger city, sentiment in official and unofficial circles backed his assistant, Tom Harraka, as his successor. Harraka, a big man who smiles easily, looks like a pro football player, speaks softly, and is the kind of man who inspires confidence in everyone he works with. When Mayor Newton Miller made the announcement of his choice for the job and named Harraka, the announcement was met with applause from the audience and congratulations from a councilman who said he was happy to see the mayor make a promotion from within the official family.

Harraka is a man who brings to his new position a rich and varied background in business. He was born in South Paterson the thirteenth child of his parents. Numerologists might find some significance in the coincidence that he also has thirteen letters in his name.

He studied sales and industrial marketing at Fairleigh

Dickenson University and worked as an advertising layout man for the Morning Call for four years. He then entered the army and served for his required time. After his discharge from the service he entered private business in Cedar Grove. He operated a delicatessen for several years, then sold it and opened a paperback book store in Denville. After building the business up, he sold it and worked as sales manager for an advertising firm, in the meantime taking real estate courses. His interest in real estate led him into the assessing field. He took courses in the field at Rutgers University and holds certification from the state.

Four years ago he came to Wayne as the assistant to Chief Tax Assessor Edward Markowich. "I owe a lot to Ed Markowich," he said. "His whole attitude was one of understanding. I really feel that I was very lucky to have his guidance in learning the field. He is one of the most highly respected assessors in the state and learning the job under his guidance has been invaluable."

The position of tax assessor is perhaps the least understood job in the township. "We keep a record of every sale involving real estate in the entire township," he explained. "In that way we can stay on top of the sales ratio policy. What this means is that prices paid for real estate whether residential, industrial or commercial must reflect the assessment we have placed on the property. An appraisal, after all, is an opinion of the assessor of the worth of a piece of real property. The value placed on the property must be backed up by substantial facts. It must take into consideration the zone involved, the type of land, the income that can be expected from it and the projected income over a period of years, so you see it is not a capricious thing."

The position requires a great deal of time to be spent with the public. "Nobody likes to pay taxes," he said with a smile, "but if we can show the taxpayer that he is paying only his share, he usually accepts it without complaint. With the revaluation just completed, we have already received appeals from the taxpayers. While it is possible that some mistakes have been made, most of the taxpayers will find, I think, that they have been assessed fairly. Where mistakes were made, we will make corrections, of course. I can only say to the individual taxpayer who thinks his property has been assessed too high, 'Look at the market value of your home. Look at the prices your neighbors are getting when they sell. You will find that these sale prices are in line with the value placed on your home by the assessor.'"

Harraka explained that any taxpayer has the right to appeal his assessment. Such appeals are filed with the county, not the township. Hearings will begin about August 3 in Judge Vincent Duffy's court room in the Passaic County Court House in Paterson. "I cannot emphasize too strongly to the homeowner that prices of land in Wayne have taken a sharp increase in the past few years. The demand for land continues to grow and as the town develops further, the value of real estate will go still higher. Homeowners must take all of these factors into consideration in judging the fairness of their assessment."

Harraka is married and he and his wife Dorothy have four children, Thomas, Barbara, Gregory and Marion. All four attend Our Lady of the Valley School. "I was recently made a trustee of the church," he said. "I'm very happy about it and very proud." The people who have met him at Town Hall are also very happy and very proud that he has won the recognition he sought when he stepped into the position of Chief Tax Assessor. Tom Harraka is a man who will bring compassion and understanding to his job. The taxpayers of Wayne can ask for no more.

It's a Woman's World

We Have Our Own Buttercup

BY JOAN LEIBOWITZ

Barbara Swift magnificent in her portrayal! For ages New York has awaited such operatic talent!

Most charming, most talented, bravo Barbara!

Gilbert and Sullivan would have been proud!

These lines might have easily been scribed to laud the performance of Wayne's Barbara Swift as she portrayed 'Buttercup' in Gilbert and Sullivan's H.M.S. Pinafore at the Jan Hus Theatre, in New York this week.

Summer is usually a time for reruns and Mrs. Swift's name may sound familiar because this resident of Wayne appeared as a feature in the "Woman's World" only six months ago. However, unlike the usual T.V. rerun, this story is almost an epilogue to the previous one.

Mrs. Swift was interviewed by this reporter as an aspiring opera singer who was attempting to leave her household chores after raising two children, and go back to the stage after a long absence.

The transition, at that time, had not been completed. Only the hopes were there and the long hours of practice over a period of ten years told Mrs. Swift that it was time.

The moving to Wayne to be close to New York, the love for music since childhood, and the hope to be an opera singer since viewing her first opera, were becoming a reality, and as of June, that reality was most evident as the curtain went up, the overture ended and Buttercup entered from stage left. Mrs. Swift made her appearance to a heartwarming round of applause.

When her story was first printed on the pages of the Wayne Today, the stage was calling, but the entrance wasn't there. This past week at the Jan Hus Theatre, the entrance was bright with stage lighting and Barbara Swift put her audience into a most delightful mood, with her blue eyes twinkling and her voice echoing throughout the theatre. The audience just sat back and enjoyed it all.

Backstage after the performance people gathered to congratulate the Wayneite for a job well done and the words were not only welcomed but rightfully deserved for Mrs. Swift has reached the New York Stage and there will be no stopping her now. She sings, dances and acts. Not much more can be asked. "This is what it's all about," she stated with a smile of sheer contentment, "I love it, I just love it."

Her love and perseverance for her work were seen throughout the entire performance. "I've only been on the boards two times," she told a fellow actor. "Really" was his reply. "It seems you've done it over and over again." Not content that this reporter thoroughly enjoyed the performance, Mrs. Swift took time out to point out the mechanics of the theatre. The props, the back of the stage, the sound effects, and the costumes . . . it was a night to remember.

There is no praise great enough for the job done by Mrs. Swift. She has the vivaciousness of a 20-year-old and gives forth the feeling of joy that comes with 20 more years. All this was conveyed to her audience as she stepped onto the stage.

Now a member of the Light Opera Company of Manhattan, Mrs. Swift will also be performing in the Mikado, which will be seen in the near future. Take the family or go with your club and be thoroughly enjoyed. Perhaps it's a sense of Hollywood, but to see one you know on the stage doing such a fine job is memorable and heartwarming.

For further information on dates and rates just pick up a phone and call the Jan Hus Theatre on E 74th Street. See what six months of perseverance can do.

BRAVO BARBARA, SEE YOU AT THE MET.

BUTTERCUP SWIFT—Mrs. Barbara Swift of Wayne, a member of the Light Opera of Manhattan made her debut last week at the Jan Hus Theatre in Gilbert and Sullivan's H.M.S. Pinafore. Mrs. Swift after raising her family is back on the track to a full career in Opera and light Opera. The Mikado is her next venture, and knowing Mrs. Swift it will be a beautiful performance.

IN THE POLITICAL ARENA

WITH JOSEPH MATZNER

THE LISTENING POST — Republicans dominated the Veritan's boat ride to Grossinger's last week. . . Nelson Gross, mindful of the tremendous margin Passaic County GOP pulled for Governor William Cahill was an early visitor and even stayed for the baseball game. Sheriff Frank Davenport, GOP county chairman, had an excellent delegation of GOP'ers including Senator Frank (Chee Chee) Sciro of Paterson, Mayor Louis Bay of Hawthorne, and Mayor Lawrence Kramer of Paterson.

Democrats were conspicuous by their absence and that surely indicates something wrong within party confines. Usually the Democrats do the early summer campaigning at the Veritan's shindig.

WHICH REMINDS US — As many Republicans as Democrats attended the testimonial to County Detective Chief Adam Reiser last week. . . And they included the bigwigs of the county GOP operation. . . That the young Turks in Passaic have given Harry Kampelman, the retired-revived city leader — an ultimatum — count us in on county meetings, or else. . . In Clifton, the Republicans are rejoicing over the appointment of Lou Trella, GOP county vice-chairman, to the Turnpike Commission. Quite a feather in the cap of Passaic County GOP leadership.

THE PATERSON TAX RATE — Muddle isn't of Mayor Kramer's choosing, and probably could have been much higher, if not for the Mayor's struggle with state and federal agencies for more money. What happens when the revaluation is completed — and the tax rate even climbs higher in 1971. This is possible, although the assessors insist that the 1970 levies were predicated upon what the 1971 true value figures will show. Unfortunate news was the failure of the agencies to come up with the additional millions needed by Paterson for completion of the roadway—Route 80?

COUNTY LEADERS — Causing eye-raising over San-Gap . . . Talk now is the move is on to get the public golf course activities as quickly as possible, even though the financial folks warn against further bond issues. Climate is not right. . . Director Victor Wangner, of the Freeholders up for re-election in November, urged graduates of the county vocational school to take the podium and stump for the benefits of such an institution. Mangner has in mind the opening ceremonies of the much criticized new county vocational high school . . . the cost sure did mount from the original figures. . . But the new school will house the handicapped and in all probability the classrooms for the county community college.

ABOUT THE AREA — A special Democratic taskforce will be working for John Niccolai, Freeholder, for the November election. . . Comes from the union affiliations. Labor wants Niccolai back for another term. . . Changes in administration operations at the Freeholder level said to be in the offing. . .

PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE — With full compliment, has a heavy schedule—but Prosecutor Joseph Gourley, has full cooperation of staff and the county detective force — which reminds us, folks about the state buzzing now that the county has a cop's cop (one Adam Reiser) back in full harness as Chief of County detectives.

STRICTLY BANTER — Wayne Council members keeping an eye on Route 23 renewal project. . . Understand there will be some excitement over a pending Zoning case . . . Mayor Newton Miller has police department alerted to the anticipated use of Route 23 North especially over the week-ends, by motorists. . . Wants traffic expedited. . . Nothing new about Board of Education sessions in Wayne — but there seems to be more cooperation between the members. . . Will there be a request for another school in Wayne? . . . West Milford's Mayor Gola all set for his Democratic try for Freeholder in November. . . Figures the campaign should get underway before Labor Day . . . Pompton Lakes' Mayor John Sterling still having trouble with township folks on flood conditions and he's done more than anyone to get some action. . .

AT THE STATE LEVEL — The county's three Senators expected to take a most active part in promoting the good and welfare of Nelson Gross, Republican party candidate for United States Senator . . . Big kickoff came at the testimonial dinner to State Senator Edward Sisco, Friday night. . . Incidentally, the testimonial was a tremendous success — complete sellout. . . Senator Ira Schoem announced there will be a door to door and personalized campaign by Assemblyman Fontonella of Paterson who is seeking to unseat Congressman Robert Roe. . . Schoem will handle the campaign for Fontonella.

FROM THE MAIL POUCH — Why don't you air the Children's Shelter more thoroughly. . . Understand conditions have not changed in five years — JF-Wayne. . . Not true, say we, conditions have changed and for the better, although much more is needed. . . Attention Freeholder Bess Doty. . . How about the fracas in Passaic, which was not reported—when one Democratic district leader threatened to belt two men fighting to be City Leader (GRD—Passaic). Why air the matter—merely grandstand play—no one would do any swinging—from the hips, we mean.

Understand the Clifton Republican party situation has a few veteran members raising eye-brows. . . Does it have to do with the Trella appointment plus the fact his brother Matt is on the Tax Board, and Mr. Lou is also on the water commission?

Frank — no big too-do about it. . . Seems that is the way patronage is meted out. . . And the turnpike appointment is a honor to the party in the county. . . But right now Clifton's Republican organization seems to be working very, very well.

Lorraine Yoder looks at the News

EVERYTHING IS BEAUTIFUL — and we don't mean the current pop favorite — but the Library Board, with the signing of the contract with the architect for expansion of the busiest place in town.

However — we haven't forgotten the brouhaha a few weeks back when the Mayor and Council went round and round. . . True to his word, Hizzoner didn't sign the paper, leaving that up to Library Prexy Henry Haxo.

The crystal ball sez this one is far from over, and that a few chapters remain to be written.

THE FOOT-DRAGGING IN TRENTON just may set back the expansion programs for Hills and Valley. . . Seems The Guv has clamped down on the Department of Ed and taken away their summer hours — so the boys are not really breaking their backs to move things along.

Approval of the Hills final drawings took six weeks, and bids will be accepted by the local BdofEd on July 21 — at least a month later than had been originally pegged. This means no interior work this summer.

MEANWHILE — down in the Valley — their final plans should be ready for Trenton's O.K. around July 20, but just when they'll be approved is anybody's guess!

There is some good news, tho' — understand there's been a lot of interest from contractors on the Hills bids, which should mean good competition — and hopefully, some good prices.

Don Giles and Matt Vander Staadt have been working closely with the school administration and architect to establish some good traffic patterns at Valley. Now — if Trenton will just get off the dime. . .

FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF LIT-

THE KNOWN FACTS comes word that the Hills Student Council last year not only provided for over $1,000 worth of Xerox at the school — but also footed the bill for the Ski team (which won all sorts of honors). The kids are certainly to be commended for taking such an active role in their school — our only question is why should the Student Council pick up the tab?

We also wonder just when the BdofEd is going to come up with the results of their "study" of the athletic program. . . This survey has been going on for almost a year — isn't it about time some recommendations are made?

LET'S JUST HOPE — that there's some equalization in the spending — that more funds will be provided for girls' sports. (For the record — we have no vested interests here, being the proud mama of one of each!)

According to our info — out of the $90,000 athletic budget — somewhere around $10,000 is lavished (?) upon the gals. . . Paging Betty Freidan!

THE CAGES REALLY RATTLED down on Nellis Drive the other day when a morning paper carried the story about football coach Walt Williams' contract not being renewed — not that it isn't so — it's just the manner in which the news was broken, we're told.

Anyhow — now that it's out — interviewing is going on — there are applicants both from within and outside the system — and a new appointment is imminent. . .

UNHAPPINESS IS: The newly-adopted ordinance enabling the council to "use discretion" in relaxing the previously-stipulated 1,200 feet between liquor establishments.

Fred Domier publicly deplored the amendment as "setting up for caprice and whimsy," while Council Prexy Tommy Rumana predicted it would be upset in a court fight — and indeed — there'll probably be just that, as Dick Marcus eloquently expressed the Tavern Owner's Association opposition at the last Council powwow.

It was said the only reason for the relaxation is to give a license to the new Howard Johnson's — and we do not believe the Council would be so foolish as to allow a Neon Row anywhere in town — but as we see it — any present licensee is hereby stripped of protection or safeguard by the law. . . Can't blame the Association if they contest the decision.

ALSO UNDER FIRE is the amendment of the disorderly persons ordinance which makes possession of marijuana or hashish a violation instead of a criminal offense. The proposal has the support of the Narcotics Bureau and the Mayor's Drug Abuse Commission — but at least one spectator (and a prominent, knowledgeable one, at that) at the hearing privately blasted the law, claiming it will enable some offenders to walk off scot-free, as did the old bookmaking ordinance.

Proponents of the amendment claim it will enable the arresting officer and judge to prosecute under either the state law or local ordinance, thereby protecting the innocent from a criminal record. However, opponents argue the judge has discretionary power under the state statute, anyhow.

The whole thing sounds like the controversy touched off by the reticent one, Veep Agnew, earlier this week — only our guys beat him to it by a week. Incredible!

raska TV shows of maestro Dick Wickman and his orchestra, will be featured singer with that dance band commencing Tuesday, June 23, when it commences a six week run onstage at Roseland Dance City, alternating with the Latin band of Ramon Argueso. Wickman's orchestra will also broadcast via radio from the ballroom.

BARITON HAROLD WILLARD OPENS MONDAY AT BILL'S. GAY 90's

Baritone Harold Willard, who in the 1930's had his own radio show as well as being featured in Olsen and Johnson stage musicals, commences an engagement singing at Bill's Gay 90's, 57 E. 54th St., Monday night, June 22, with accompanist, singing-pianist Bernard Harvey. They'll be heard in the continuous show from 9 P.M. to 4 A.M. on two floors of the restaurant-nightclub.

BARBARA IONE MILLER RETURNS

Recently back from a tour of the continent, soprano Barbara Ione Miller rejoins "Opera a la Carte," Joe D'Amico's nightly song-and-music opera and musical comedy presentation at Bianchi & Margherita's opera nightspot, 186 W. 4th St., Tuesday, June 23. Performances are from 6:45 P.M. on.

DENNY HALL TO RECORD

Country and Western singer Denny Hall, who composed an entire library of songs during his prison years, will record an LP album of them here next month. Hall now works with a 5 man group.

TO AIR ON WLIR

A series of special celebrity interviews taped at The Delegate, 211 E. 43d St., will be aired on subsequent Saturday nights over station WLIR-FM. The personalities are interviewed by Richard Roffman.

MUSICAL COMEDY AND HIT MOVIE TAPES

Scores from hit musical comedies and great movie soundtracks are being played as background tempos for all dining sessions at Nat Simon's Penguin, 21 W. Ninth St., which has increased its dining facilities and is offering an enlarged choice of dishes from cocktail hour on, Sunday from 3 P.M.

PATRONS ACCOMPANYING BRUNO ON STEAK SHOPPING TOUR

A group of patrons who requested to go along have been accompanying restaurateur John Brun, Jr., the Pen & Pencil Steakhouse owner, on his weekly shopping trips selecting and purchasing sirloins at downtown packing houses. John was trained in that art by his late dad who was hailed as America's top authority on steak in Fred Birmingham's "Complete Cookbook for Men" which Harper's published.

real genocide the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong have visited upon thousands of South Vietnamese. They have wiped out a whole class (chiefs, teachers, etc.) of able, irreplaceable South Vietnamese leaders — real or potential. The Hanoi-VC flags are drenched in the blood of innocents, and young Americans who wave them are cruelly color-blind.

Full recital of Hanoi's sins would make a brutal book. Why go on? The doves proclaim noble motives, yet their double vision has always clouded them. Dwelling heavily on our errors, they have disfigured themselves beyond all credibility as witnesses. Their "humanity" is fiction.

BEHIND THE NEWS

ROTC Retreats Under Attack By Students

By RICHARD E. MEYER

WASHINGTON (AP) — "ROTC," says an officer at the Pentagon, "caught hell."

Like a lightning rod, it drew the storm of protests and demonstrations on the nation's colleges and universities during the troubled weeks of spring 1970.

It attracted the vengeance of students fed up with the war, at odds with the President and confronted by a marching symbol of the military establishment on their campuses.

Classrooms were stormed, offices were sacked and buildings were firebombed. Uniforms were destroyed, equipment was stolen and trucks were overturned. Parades were canceled. Cadets were booed. A commander took three shotgun blasts into the front of his house.

The Pentagon called it the most violent spring in ROTC history.

Less noticeably, nine prestige schools were dropping ROTC. Other schools weren't meeting their quotas of officer production and their ROTC units were being phased out. Fewer and fewer schools were compelling students to take ROTC classes. Enrollment was falling. Some schools were stripping ROTC of academic credit. Others were denying military instructors faculty rank. And several were asking the Pentagon to pay the full cost of ROTC activities on campus.

The Reserve Officers Training Corps offers two-year and four year programs of military training in college, with an officer's commission upon graduation. The Department of Defense contracts with scores of college and universities to conduct the program on their campuses, and uses ROTC to recruit students and teach them military history, management and leadership, as well as the practical pursuits of drill, tactics and the care and use of weap-

VISIBLE AND VULNERABLE—Demonstrators show their sign of protest as ROTC cadets parade at Ohio State University in a recent ceremony. ROTC stands as a visible and vulnerable symbol of the military establishment on many of the nation's campuses drawing the attention of dissidents like a lightning rod.

SOURCE OF LEADERSHIP

In the office of the deputy assistant secretary of defense for education, officials show concern—what one calls "caution"—about the violence against ROTC installations, and about the deeper problems besieging ROTC. But there is no panic. More than 500 ROTC units are turning out officers at 353 colleges and universities across the country. And for every college dropping military training, five have applied for ROTC program. Over-all, officer production has increased each year since 1966. And the services say the quality of ROTC graduates is improving every year.

The caution is born of a feeling there may be more trouble ahead. Dr. George Benson, deputy assistant secretary for education and director of ROTC programs, told the Association of the United States Army last fall he thinks the peak of ROTC opposition is still to come. The question is whether it will drive enrollment down far enough to hurt production.

"I don't think at this point there's any grave concern," says Maj. Charles Hyland, assistant director for ROTC programs. But we're being cautious. We're watching it very closely, particularly in the Ivy league schools and the officials don't see any major exodus from ROTC. They are responding to provide incentives to make the program more attractive."

In addition, Hyland says, just in case the pinch arrives, the services are studying alternative methods for officer procurement: more enlisted men processed through officer candidate schools, adoption by the Army and Air Force of the Navy and Marine system of summertime officer training, and more men commissioned directly from the ranks.

Most of the exodus from ROTC has been in Eastern schools, particularly in the Ivy League. Harvard and Dartmouth are dropping Army ROTC at the end of this academic year, Air Force ROTC in 1971 and Navy ROTC in 1973. Princeton, Yale and Tufts will drop Navy ROTC in 1973. Brown will abolish its Air Force program in 1971 and its Navy program in 1972. Columbia ends its Navy program next year. Boston University discontinued Air Force ROTC last July and drops its Army program this year. Colgate commissioned its last Air Force officers this term.

In addition, Tufts, Grinnell College in Iowa and Kenyon College in Ohio are dropping Air Force ROTC because they can't meet the Pentagon's minimum production quota of 15 officers.

A survey by the Association of American Universities shows ROTC enrollment has dropped 40 per cent nationally in the past four years. Freshman enrollment, says the AAU, has fallen nearly 50 per cent.

The sharpest decline came this academic year, when Pentagon figures show enrollment in Army and Air Force ROTC fell 27 per cent. The Army's enrollment dropped by 41,000 students to a total of 109,000; Air Force enrollment fell by 13,900 to 37,300.

The biggest losses in 1969-70 came among freshmen and sophomores, due to an ever-increasing number of schools switching from compulsory to voluntary programs.

Whether students must attend military classes is up to individual colleges. Schools with 39 Army ROTC units and 10 Air Force ROTC units decided last year that attendance should be voluntary.

MILITARY SYMBOL

The Pentagon agrees. Roger T. Kelley, assistant secretary of defense for manpower and reserve affairs, replied with a terse "yes" when he was asked a year ago whether he sees any Vietnam war backlash in campus strikes and protests against ROTC.

Hyland says, "The decline in enrollment also reflects a wait-and-see attitude on the part of some students, engendered by increasing prospects that they may not be drafted. They looked ahead to the time when they would graduate and felt that draft quotas would be reduced."

Finally, enrollment hasn't been helped by the prospect of an all-volunteer Army. Eliminating the draft, says the President's Commission on an All-Volunteer Armed Force, will result in a loss of draft-motivated ROTC volunteers."

In addition, says the AAU, "In view of the general financial crisis facing higher education today, the cost is likely to receive increasing attention. The University of Michigan estimates that unreimbursed expenses of ROTC on its campus will come to about $89,000 in the current fiscal year. At the University of Washington, these costs in fiscal year 1969 were nearly $62,000."

Some universities question whether what they're buying is worth the cost. While 22 of the schools surveyed by the AAU indicated that ROTC instruction meets their general standards, "at five private institutions, New York University, Brown University, the University of Pennsylvania, Vanderbilt and Yale, the quality of instruction in ROTC programs has been judged to be inferior. One of these, Brown, attributed the inferior quality directly to the low calibre of military instructors."

Some of this criticism is based on philosophical difference between educators and the Pentagon which the AAU says would remain even if ROTC units removed rifles, uniforms and military drills and conducted more of its practical training in summer camps instead of during the school year.

VIOLENT SPRING—National Guardsmen surround the wreckage of the ROTC class building at Kent State University last month following the deaths of four persons on the hill in left background in a confrontation with guardsmen the previous day. The burning of the ROTC building a few nights before was among the incidents which brought troops to the campus. ROTC facilities at schools across the nation have been the victim of acts of violence in what the Pentagon calls the most violent spring in ROTC history.

HERE ARE 9 REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY A HOOVER SPIN-DRYING WASHER

	ROLLS ON LARGE CASTERS Large easy rolling casters let the HOOVER move about with complete ease. Store it in one place... use it in another.
	FAMILY-SIZE LOADS 2 Double Sheets plus pillow cases, or 26 diapers, or 12 men's shirts. Washes even the most delicate things.
	TURBO-ACTION AGITATION The unique HOOVER energy disk, located on the back of the washer tub, actually sweeps water through the clothes. This remarkable wash action gets clothes really clean.
	SAVES $$ ON WATER Uses only 1/2 the amount of water that most automatics use. Saves up to 100 gallons every 3 loads.
	SAVES $$ ON DETERGENT The washing action is so efficient, it needs less detergent than the agitator or tumbling-type washer. It has a SUDS-SAVER, too!
	WASHES FAST The HOOVER washes a full load of laundry in four minutes or less, in a gleaming stainless steel tub.
	DRIES IN SECONDS The clothes are spun at the amazing speed of 2,000 RPM, this enables the washer to extract soap or detergents that can't be rinsed out. Laundry comes out really damp-dry.
	NO PLUMBING NECESSARY Needs no plumbing, needs no installation. Just roll the HOOVER to any sink, slip on the hose and start washing. Pump empties washer automatically.
	EASY TO SERVICE No gears or complicated control panels. Truly a do-it-yourself washer. Belt replacement is a breeze... less need for costly service.

Leadership By Miller

Mayor Newton Miller's request in a letter to Governor Cahill, for state funds to establish a regional narcotic addict rehabilitation center in Wayne, is one of the most dramatic and far-reaching announcements to come before this community in many years. We commend the mayor for his stand and support him in his fight to establish this center in Wayne so that citizens in this county, hooked on drugs, can find a facility capable of dealing with their problems.

The mayor wants the facility to work with the new General Hospital in Wayne and has already spoken to representatives there who are receptive to the program. Hospital facilities are necessary if the center is to succeed and it can be pointed out that many hospitals have been reluctant and unwilling to deal with the problem of addicts up to now.

We must also commend the Mayor's Advisory Council on Drug Abuse, under the leadership of Joseph Cironi, which worked with the mayor in planning the center. Initially we were sceptical about the intentions and the ability of the council to deal with drug abuse problems. This recommendation, coming from the mayor, places our full confidence and respect for the council's concern and ability to get to the core of the problem.

Bergen County is the only county in New Jersey which has hospital facilities for drug addicts. Yesterday (Continued on Page 72)

The Trenton Scene

CONTROVERSY

By Jerry Fuchs

Bob Pearce at the Library all set to take a few weeks off. Bob can feel good about the contract just signed calling for a new wing on the library.

Mickey Diamond and Charles Kabbash are vying for M.C. of the year's honors. That is distinct from J.C. of the year—it stands for Master of Ceremonies. Kabbash served as M.C. at the awards luncheon honoring Congressman Roe, Walter DeYoung, and Mary Wall. Diamond served as M.C. at the Sisco dinner.

Eric Mayer is spearheading a drive for the urban crisis league in the Willowbrook Shopping Center. Mayer's group collected almost $1,000 in one week to provide funds for the league to buy merchandise for their new store in the auditorium of the Center. Proceeds from merchandise sold will go to help many worthwhile causes in Passaic.

Judge James Murner wants to know if Richard Lalicata is "sick" because he was fined in the morning for shoplifting and then arrested the same afternoon on the same charge. Shoplifting has become a multi-million dollar business in the United States and many of those involved in the crime are in fact "sick." Shoplifting has become a sickness for many unfortunate people and a major headache for retailers who need help.

The race for the council is really on already. The Democrats are planning to drop Somerdyk in the 5th ward and go with either Dave Wax or Chris Hill. In the 4th, Councilman James Mingo will have difficulty with Frank Geusic and any number of coalition people. In the 2nd ward, Councilman Hoffmann plans to move up next year to the Senate or the Assembly, in the 3rd it's Jasinski without trouble, in the 6th look for Brian Berkin, or Vince Cafaro, in the 1st Vince Gough or Charles McGurr.

On the GOP side in the 1st, it's Fred Domier, in the 2nd ward look for Howard Honigfeld or Richard Lancaster, in the 3rd ward Bert Griffin and Ed Neumann, in the 4th Ray Tumminello, Ray Guidetti, and Mickey Diamond, in the 5th Charles Kabbash and in the 6th, Len Talerico, Neil Monda and Bud Dacey. Ed Feddema has a federal job which would rule him out from running for re-election unless he switched employment by then.

On the county level, most observers look to Congressman Roe to give the Demo Freeholders a big boost on their way to an election upset. Nelson Gross could beat Harrison Williams for the Senate without having an impact on the county election. Which means in the end that John Niccolai has the best chance of surviving a Democratic sweep. That Vic Wanger is in his trouble and that Bess Doty can only win if it's a close race for Gola and D'Arco to win the election in the county.

Recreation Center for Wayne Freeholders is a good ten years off, the way things now stand. We think that's ridiculous and that facilities should be set for recreation. The newspaper had not mentioned summer dances for years, but they would have been cancelled this year. First summer dance was a big success. Lots of kids, no trouble and no so called "Woodstock." That's how it can be with a little effort. Now for some progress on one park in this community fully developed with picnic sites, recreation and even an animal farm. The time has come to attend to the needs of a community with 50,000 population, which has no recreation and no parks fully developed.

There will be a code of ethics (Continued on Page 50)

The public will hear more concerning tax revision at the state level now that the administration has released the names of five important chairmen to the program. These are competent and knowledgeable individuals, giving considerable strength and purpose to the revision committee.

New Jersey has dodged the responsibility of a proper taxing program for many years. Both political parties can assume the responsibility for what is presently termed the "patch-quilt of taxation," plaguing both the resident and the businessman in the State.

Now the administration takes the reins in a firm hand and says there must be a formula a proper respect for state needs, and a balancing of the sources from which money can be extracted to meet the necessities as outlined by the budget director. This approach is sound Governor William Cahill must maintain a firm control over the committee otherwise it will become mired in the usual confusion that preempts any revision operation.

Legislators are looking with keen interest at the committee as signments, and the first meeting which will be held July 17. Each member of both houses, naturally, is concerned with the constituency back home, and, therefore, will be using every possible means of contact to see that home rule is protected in the taxing programming.

No one member of county level politics will interfere, despite the fact that the tax committee will find it necessary to review some of the favored legislation that has permitted an Atlantic City to collect a luxury tax, while in other areas of the state, real estate property owners have been badgered to meet rising demands of local and state expenditures.

Recently, a survey of tax exempt property for the state revealed a staggering figure of more than 29 percent. While a percentage of this is local, county and state owned, there is a great deal of tax exempt property that is revenue producing, which should be carefully scrutinized.

Actually, the duties of the members of the taxing revision group, will center about a formula of taxation that, while providing proper revenue, will be equitable. This is the term being used 'equitable for all in the state'. While a dubious term, equity has for its foundation: the right of the individual to pay as much, but no more than his or her neighbor. This applies to residential, commercial, and industrial properties.

Out of the investigation of the taxing committee could come a recommendation feared by all who live politically in New Jersey. We are referring to a personal income tax. No matter the validity of the recommendation, the party in power will need face the ire of the public if such a recommendation is supported.

Governor Cahill has forewarned that an income tax is possible, because of the financial burden of the heavy taxpayers, including business, and industry. There is the fear, among administration representatives that further stress on business and industry would force good taxpayers to leave the state and settle elsewhere.

While only five task force committee members have been selected to date, a staff of 37 will conduct this in-depth projection of tax policy programming. We have hesitated to use the term 'policy', because the force will do more than present a policy. Actually it will do the programming. It must provide the formula that will make the state self sustaining and at the same time allow the equitable distribution of the tax paying burden.

The demands of urban communities for more and more state funds (Continued on Page 50)

Strange interlude! Yes, our lives are merely strange dark interludes in the electrical display of God the Father!—Eugene O'Neill, American playwright.

Some people gripe about the difficulty of getting plane reservations, but we have plenty of 'em.

LEGAL NOTICE

Ringwood Middle School Graduates First Class

RINGWOOD- Tuesday night, June 16, 1970, 169 boys and girls of Ringwood became the first graduates of the new Martin J. Ryerson Middle School.

The opening address by one of the students, Sue Johnson, compared the materials and outer structure of a school building, such as the brick, mortar, steel, and wood to the inner workings of that same school, namely, the administration, teachers, parents, and students. Sue further noted that it is essentially the students who are the "heart and blood of any system of learning."

The importance of the student was further highlighted by the Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Robert A. Sena, who brought out the fact that life's problems of today can and must be solved by youth's answers of tomorrow. He added the fact that this can only happen if the students of today know who they are, what they are, and where they are going.

The graduating class then received their diplomas with special recognition being given in the areas of physical, mental, moral and spiritual development.

The sports award was given to Nancy Vollaro and Binaldo

Montenegro, while the award for patriotism to flag and country were given to Karen Trauboldt and Bradley Harrison. Sherelynn Gibb received the award for best all around student. Karen Cornillessen and Mark Roberts received the citizenship award, while academic honors for scholarship were awarded to Sue Johnson and Michael Cortese.

Miss Linda Joy Kramme
Weds Mark Curaso

Vows were taken yesterday by Linda Joy Kramme, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kramme, 103 Alps Road, Wayne and Mark Steven Curasco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curasco, 33 Marlton Drive, Wayne. The wedding ceremony was held at the United Methodist Church with the Reverend Dean Lanning performing the ceremony. A reception was held at the Wayne Manor.

MRS. MARK CURASCO

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of satapeau with scoop neck, bishop sleeves and chapel train. The gown was trimmed with Venice lace flowers. She wore a camelot headpiece of Venice lace accented with seed pearls. The bride carried with her down the aisle a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Attired in a multi-colored print voile gown with lavender accessories was the maid of honor Miss Pam Majestic. Similarly gowned were bridesmaids Miss Lisa Holmgren, Miss Nancy Stewart, Miss Patricia Sweeney, cousin of the groom; and Miss Geri Feo, cousin of the groom.

Best man for the memorable day was Robert Curasco, brother of the groom and ushers were Marvin Kramme and Allen Kramme; brothers of the bride, Perry Curasco; brother of the groom, Frank Iacovino and Louis Russo.

The new Mrs. Curasco is a graduate of Wayne Valley High School and attended Paterson State College. She is presently employed as an accounting clerk at Joseph Markovits Inc., Totowa. Her husband is a graduate of Wayne Hills and Essex County College. He will attend Fairleigh Dickinson University in the Fall and is presently employed as a Jr. Accountant at Mooney Brothers Corp., Little Falls.

After a wedding trip to the Poconos, the newlyweds will reside in Haledon.

Joyce Lynn Butterworth Marries William Burns

Joyce Lynn Butterworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Butterworth, of 34 Smith Avenue, Haskell became the bride of William Thomas Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burns, 76 Burnside Place, Haskell on Friday during a Candlelight and double ring ceremony performed by the Reverend Robert Bender at the Wanaque Reformed Church, Wanaque.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white embroidered organza featuring a blue ribbon, jeweled neckline, empire waist and an A-line skirt. Her train was full-length supported by a Juliet cap with a long white embroidered mantilla. She carried a cascade of glemelias, stephanotis and orchids.

Attired in a sheer gown of organza with circles of Venice lace trim jeweled neckline, empire waists and long balloon sleeves, was maid of honor. Miss Patricia Butterworth, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids attired similarly were Miss Cynthia Burns, sister of the groom and Miss Robin Buckley.

Best man for the occasion was Robert Gruenewald and serving as ushers were Kenneth Butterworth, brother of the bride and George Fredrichs.

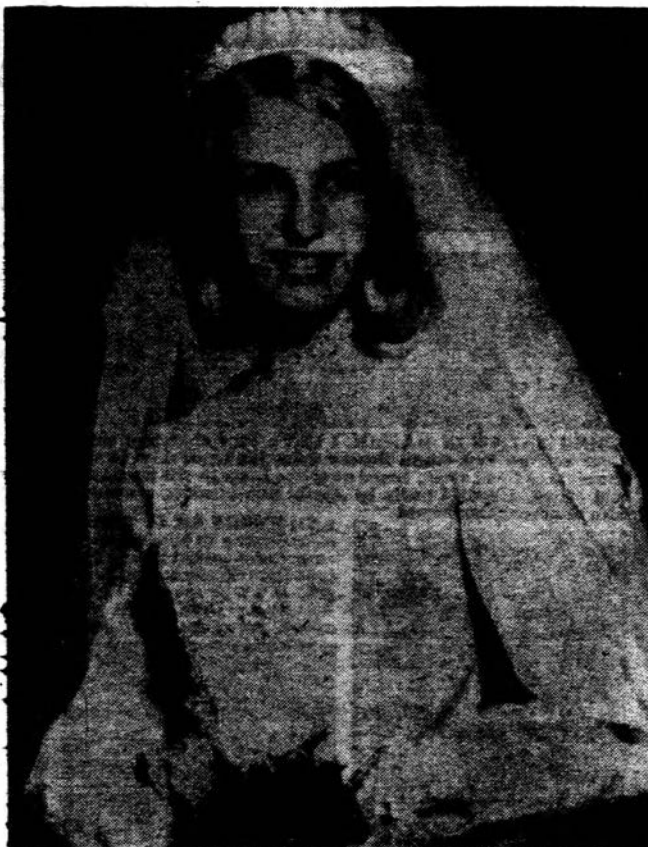

Mrs. Burns is a 1968 graduate of Lakeland Regional H.S. and is now employed at State Farm Insurance. Her husband is also a graduate of Lakeland Regional and served three years in the army. He is now attending Philco Ford Technical Institute and is employed as a mechanic at Rice and Holman, in Camden.

After a week wedding trip to Canada the newlyweds will reside in Camden.

MRS. STEPHEN McBRIDE

Wilfert, McBride Vows Exchanged

Miss Elaine C. Wolfert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Wilfert of 9 Kent Place, Pompton Plains became the bride of Stephen Lane McBride, son of Mrs. Thomas McBride of Belmont, Mass., yesterday in a double-ring ceremony.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wolsin and the Rev. Atwood at Our Lady of Consolation, Wayne. A reception followed at Alberts Chateau.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza trimmed with appliques. The gown featured a full-length veil with matching appliques. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of flowers.

Attired in an apricot gown was the maid of honor Gail Farel, similarly attired were bridesmaids Karen Daniels, Barbara Carnright, Doris Hi-cky, Mrs. Herbert Wilfert and Mrs. Peter Barber.

Best man for the occasion was Thomas McBride and ushers were Herbert A. Wilbert, James Wood and Charles Rosenberger.

The new Mrs. McBride is a graduate of Walnut Hill School, Natick, Massachusetts and Sargent College, Boston University. Her husband is a graduate of Herbron Academy, and Boston University where he received his masters degree.

After a wedding trip to Martha's Vineyard, the couple will reside in Belmont, Massachusetts.

MY SCRAPBOOK: SUMMER '70

GOING NATIVE IN HAWAII, I took a long stretch of sunshine in my Celanese Fortrel polyester poplin knit outfit. Beachy keen, it's impervious to sand, sea and surf, so I had only nice thoughts to think about. Lazed away the hours in the maxi-midriff-exposing long sleeved sweater and matching funnel pants by Alexa, day-dreaming about sun-bronzed men and toying with the idea of never going home!

IN GREECE, TAKING THE ADVICE OF my own private oracle, I made it to Delphi in a Celanese Arnel skirt and striped Arnel undershirt, both by Century of Boston, without a wrinkle, with a minimum of washing.

AND HERE I AM IN TAHITI —pretending to be a castaway on my own special island. This is as formally dressed as I ever got—in a long shape of Celara Acetate by Lynn Stuart that covers, yet clings to my lines.

GETTING DOWN TO THE KNITTY GRITTY OF Brazil, I landed at the airport, then headed straight for Ipanema. Wrapped both scenes up without changing in my little body knit of Celanese Fortrel by LaContessa. What a carefree way to travel!

Miss Carlson Named To College Dean's List

Dale Carlson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Carlson, 227 North Rd., Smoke Rise, Kinnelon, was named to the Dean's List of Connecticut College in New London for both semesters of her freshman year. Dale is a 1969 graduate of the Wilson School in Mountain Lakes where she was valedictorian of her class, editor of the school newspaper, and a member of the National Honor Society. She is presently considering a major in psychology at Connecticut College.

MISS CARLSON

Plastic Glasses Cause Problems

DEAR POLLY I have some problems with plastic glasses. They are the counterpart of certain more expensive glass tumblers on the market. There was a label on each and a little of the adhesive material from the labels remains on the glasses. I cannot get rid of this with dish detergent, kitchen cleanser, turpentine or even those scratchy pads. The more I rub the more the stuff spreads on the tumblers. It sticks where I have tried to clean them. Help, please.—MRS. W. H. K.

DEAR POLLY—I want to tell Mrs. G. B. that my father removed plasticized fabric wall covering by first removing the metal stripping at the top, then gently prying down at least one inch with a good wide putty knife. Next, make a warm soapy solution and literally soak this into the opening. It takes many applications but eventually the fabric will "peel" off. Keep prodding with the putty knife. Remove any excess glue and wallpaper backing with this same soap-and-water method.—MRS. B. K.

DEAR POLLY—After working in the garden, I remove the dirt and stains from my hands by scrubbing with moist coffee grounds.

Save discarded powder puffs, wash them in soapy water and use for giving that extra shine to furniture and silver.—PAUL ETTE

DEAR POLLY—I used to be bothered with static electricity between my slip and other underthings. Rinses did not solve my problem. I have just discovered that using spray powder on both sides of a slip cuts down the static electricity between any two nylon surfaces.

MRS. C. J. E.

DEAR POLLY — Do not throw away those leftover small pieces of sponge rubber carpet padding. They make wonderful cushions for packing and mailing without adding greatly to the weight of the package.—MRS. R. G. r

DEAR POLLY—A few days ago I wanted to use a silver serving spoon that was badly tarnished but was out of silver polish. I used dry baking soda and polished briskly with a cloth. The tarnish was soon gone and it looked beautiful.

MRS. L. B. S.

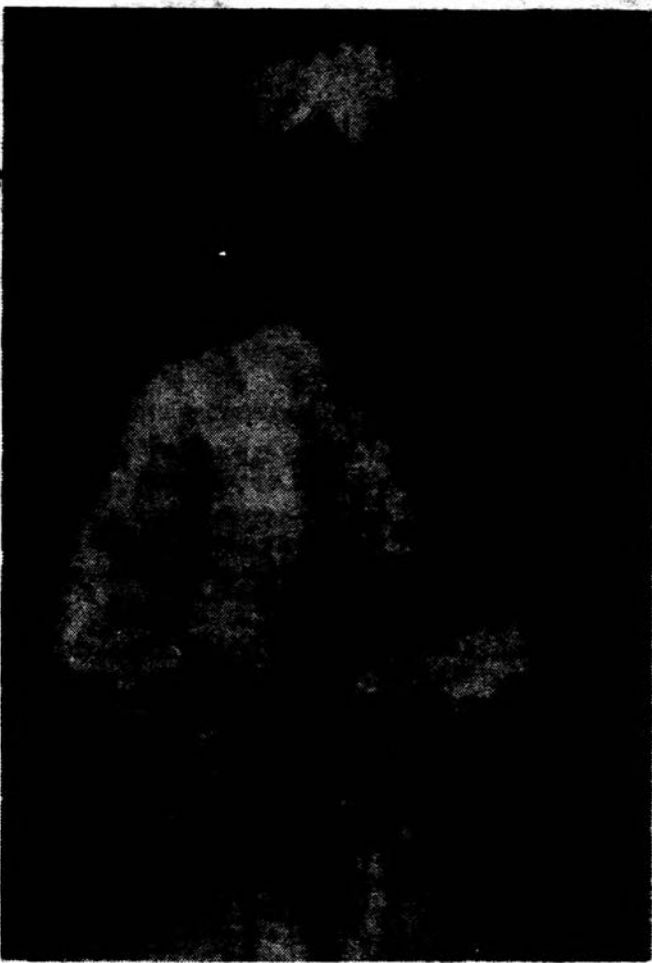

DEAR GIRLS—I found it quicker when the soda was applied with a damp piece of paper towel, rubbed, rinsed and dried.—POLLY

Sherry McAlister Becomes Bride Of Charles Rezzo

Sherry McAlister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McAlister of 191 Crosby Avenue, Paterson, became the bride of Charles Rizzo, Jr. of Bronx, New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rizzi, Sr. of Atlanta, Georgia. The wedding took place on June 12 at St. Mary's R.C. Church, Bronx, New York. Performing the ceremony was Father Patrick Gartland.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a short silk shantung dress with long full sleeves, trimmed with Venetian lace. Her veil fell softly to her shoulders.

Maid of Honor, Miss Louise Venelentini of Clifton was attired in a pink shantung short dress featuring long sleeves.

Best man for the occasion was the groom's father, Charles Rizzo.

The bride is a graduate of John F. Kennedy High School, Paterson and is employed as a clerk typist at Huffmann-Koos in Totowa. Her husband is a graduate of William Howard Taft High School and has served 4 years in the Marine Corp. He is presently employed with Con Edison in the City of New York.

After a wedding trip to Florida the newlyweds will reside in the Paterson area.

The International Numismatic Agency is issuing a new series of three medals honoring our national capital and three of her most famous landmarks—the Washington Monument, the Jefferson Memorial and the Lincoln Memorial.

The medals are slightly larger than a silver dollar, and each bears a full view of a monument on the obverse and a rendering of the most famous statue of the president on the reverse. Each is struck in an unlimited edition in bronze but restricted to a mintage of 2,500 pieces in pure silver. All silver copies are hallmarked and serially numbered and accompanied by a certificate of registration.

Each medal, bronze or silver, is enclosed in an individual octagonal lucite holder and the series of three is housed in a triple cavity blue leatherette display chest lined with silk and velvet. The bronze set sells for $12.95 and the silver set for $46.95. An order for either should be accompanied by $1.50 to cover postage and insurance. Unconditional return privileges for complete refund is guaranteed by the agency for a 14-day period.

The series is a product of the Franklin Mint at Yeadon, Pa., but interest readers should address their orders or inquiries to the International Numismatic Agency, 96 Prince St., New York, N.Y. 10012. Additional information regarding historical background, minting specifications, availability of photographs for historic societies and libraries will be supplied by the issuing agency.

VALUE OF SILVER COINS

DEAR MR. REED — During the national transition period from silver coinage to our present clad-type coinage we followed your advice and saved every piece dated prior to 1965. We realized a fair profit for our silver certificates and when that program came to a close we concentrated on the silver dimes, quarters and half-dollars. Since dealers seem to vary in their buying price for silver can you tell us how to determine the exact worth of our hoard? — Ron Beckman, Philadelphia, Pa.

To figure the value of U.S. silver coins it is necessary to find the daily market value of pure silver and dividing it by .999, the fineness of commercial silver. This will give you the price for 1,000 fine. Multiply by the grain content of silver in a particular coin and you will arrive at the market value for that coin.

If you have a copy of my book, "Cowles Complete Encyclopedia of U.S. Coins," the weight under each coin includes an alloy which should be eliminated before using the above formula. If you have a copy of The World Almanac for 1970, the formula and specific silver grain weight may be found on page 96. It was included in this edition for the express purpose of answering such questions.

To our many relatives and friends who point out to us that

Yum Cha

really mean "Afternoon Tea" not "Smorgasbord" we know, we know! but in absence of other Chinese word for "Smorgasbord" we resort to "Yum Cha." We humbly crave indulgence for such a solecism, but please do not tell our patrons; they are very happy with our lavish spreads.

RESERVATIONS DEFINITELY ARE ADVISED!

Controversy

for Wayne, with councilman Mingo and Jaycee chairman Howard Honigfeld working diligently on the project. The code will call for disclosure rather than severe penalties, which is as it should be. It will also set guidelines so that councilmen who want to do the right thing when a conflict develops, will have a code to follow. Isn't it strange that three years ago the Jaycees anticipated this problem, presented a milder ordinance and had it knocked down by a partisan 5 to 4 vote?

The Preakness Swim Club and the Paterson YM-YWHA have severed contract negotiations for the third or fourth time. We would like to see the town buy the facility to develop a pool in that area of town on a self-sustaining basis. There is no question in our minds that such a facility could very easily make enough money for the town to establish a Recreation Center within a couple of years. How about it councilmen, anyone interested?

There are rumors that a Wayne councilman might resign before the end of his term, having nothing to do with any present problem before the town fathers. The councilman in question, has had it and does not enjoy batting around the issues with the public and his colleagues any more. He's looking for a hard earned rest away from the political labors and we don't really blame him.

Trenton Scene

will not diminish, but rather increase in years to come. This will make the suburban municipalities a target for the special force aiming at equity within the taxing structure.

Legislators from suburban communities have been able to keep the 'wolf from the door' taxing levies for many years, through the 'patch-quilt of tax measures' that have now become so obsolete as to make necessary the Governor's tax policing making committee.

Had the suburban communities matched the strides of community growth with municipal responsibility for state expenditures, then perhaps there would not have been a need for the policy committee. However, legislators from rural counties and those areas which are predominantly suburban, joined forces everytime, there was mention of a need to reevaluate the policy in force at the time. Rather than submit to a equity which they realized was missing, these legislators presented occasional emergency tax measures, convinced that was the manner in which to take care of a 'direct need' at the time.

All this, Governor Cahill expects will be eliminated, with the establishment of the policy-making committee. The revision is important. Those who head the task force have a responsibility to the taxpayer. State Senator Harry L. Sears of Morris County calls the committee heads selected, "a cross-section of what is best in the State." They include former Governor Alfred E. Driscoll on fiscal needs and forecasts task force; Leonard C. Johnson, president of the New Jersey Manufacturer's Association, property tax; Assemblyman Richard W. DeKorte, revenue resources and tax inequities; Robert N. Wilentz, former assemblyman, service levels, costs and allocations, John J. Magovern Jr., president of Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co., public credit. Mrs. Verdel Rountree, state director of the United Negro College Fund Inc., was named vice-chairman of the tax committee.

OMNIBUS the "EVERYTHING" CAMP

FOR FUN LOVING
BOYS and GIRLS
FROM 6 Thru 15

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, NEW YORK

Located in the Catskills a few miles from Grossingers and the Catskills.

Omnibus . . . the camp with EVERY-THING . . . is a unique summer facility for both boys and girls between the ages of 6 and 15. Unique because all senior counsellors are qualified school teachers . . . many are husband-wife teacher teams. Unique because Omnibus is able to offer expert instruction in all arts and crafts as well as academic and sports . . . and all the "fun" camp atmosphere.

A beautifully balanced daily routine keeps youngsters interested and eagerly participating in all activities.
Music? They learn it and love it. The same's true of Dancing, Modern Math — and Swimming, Riding, Tennis, Hiking . . . It's all fun when it's in the happy camp routine at OMNIBUS.

GRACEFUL RANCH

Exterior of long, ground-clinging, graceful cedar shakes ranch generates a strong sense of welcome, a fitting prelude to the home's lovely interior. An abundance of tall trees form a handsome background and provide privacy for 32' rear facing deck. Artistically landscaped grounds with mature shrubs, a long rustic stockade fence, faced with forsythia bushes stretching along one side.

Within, wide picture window in living room. Dining room faces private view. Both are richly carpeted as is the well appointed family kitchen.
Three bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths. Full basement. Attached garage. Asphalt driveway.

Enjoy all seasons club and lake activities. Excellent schools. Convenient to stores, shopping and transportation.

NEAT AND PRETTY

Attractively landscaped grounds surround lovely, immaculate cedar shakes and brick split level dwelling. Sited in fine home area. Enter spacious foyer which effectively controls traffic and provides access directly to family room. Up three wide steps to luxuriously carpeted living room with its multi-paned bow picture window and to the formal dining room, similarly carpeted. Well appointed kitchen on balcony overlooking family room sparkles with warm toned custom

NEW AND HANDSOME

Those who admire Colonial architecture know that authenticity is the key to successful design. The charm of this new and handsome brick and frame two-story Colonial is due largely to its authentic and luxurious detailing: distinctive neatness; regularity of form; formality combined with solid comfort. Sited on artistically landscaped property in fine homes area.

Large entrance foyer, which organizes traffic effectively, has Italian cut slate floor. All rooms spacious. Living room, 23' x 13'. Custom Oak cabinets in science kitchen; avocado built-in stove, wall oven and dishwasher; wall-to-wall carpeting in kitchen extends through dinettes, laundry and pantry area. Sliding glass doors from dinette provide access to deck, which almost completely spans rear of property.
Formal dining room. Floor-to-ceiling wall of brick with attractive fireplace, panelling and pegged oak floors in family room. Four bedrooms, one full and two half baths. Two-car attached garage. Full basement. Modestly priced at Break the convention of making payments on a big car! Lower the cost of being young! Get into a 850 Family Sedan and start saving... on gas...on upkeep...on oil changes. And save on "extras", too. The Fiat has 30 items of standard equipment others charge extra for, including radial ply tires.

Leadership By Miller

day's news from the head of the State Police that narcotic arrests had risen by 348% this year, has pushed this crisis even further, with no hope of falling off. The question we raise is simply: how can the public fight the problems of drug abuse without having the necessary tools to prevent its use and spread?

Mayor Miller's recommendation is a plea for the necessary tools of concern and help in the fight to save human lives and human dignity. This move by the mayor in placing his position behind a regional rehabilitation narcotic addict center has marked him as the first municipal chief executive in the county to look for imaginative, concrete answers. He is the first mayor to really acknowledge that the problem is a social one and that its disease has permeated the very depth of our youth society.

Today's inquiring photographer asked the question of Wayne residents to find out if they approved of a regional center in their community. Without any reservations every person interviewed said yes. There is no public apathy with regard to drug problems; there is public concern. This concern requires leadership and direction. Mayor Miller is providing this leadership and direction. Now it is up to the state and federal authorities to provide the proper funding so that the center can be established and staffed.

In the list of priorities set forth by the federal government which includes a billion dollars or more for flood control in the Vietnam Delta, and $200 million yearly for 12,000 Thai troops who are paid to, but who will not fight in Vietnam, we can think of no more worthy cause than the funding of this rehabilitation facility to save American lives within our own country. — J.F.

Hill, who hails from Verona, has no immediate plans for any "radical changes" at Pequannock. He plans to merge the "old with the new" to establish another powerhouse at Pequannock.

As of yet, Smith and Hill haven't talked shop, except for brief generalities. But the two are expected to meet during the summer to work out personnel changes, giving Hill a paper-and-pencil look at his new ball club.

Hill is optimistic about the coming season. Although the Skyline Conference and its brand of play will be strangers to him, Hill is confident that by the time the last reel is unwound during the fall workouts, his club will be ready to take the field.

Hill is 35 years old, is married and has six children.

Braves' Rico Carty - Possibly Baseball's Next 400 Hitter

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Dull is the one question that Rico Carty receives from sportswriter after sportswriter in town after town following hit after hit. "Everywhere I go," said Rico Carty, feeling quite contrary, "they always ask: 'Can you hit .400?'"

To dull Rico Carty, the Atlanta Braves' hot hitter and the National League's leading batter, into a long yawn was not the purpose of this reporter. So Carty was asked if he would like to interview himself. Just to keep himself awake. The native of the Dominican Republic agreed readily.

"Hello, Rico, I'm Rico. How are you? I'd say first."

"Fine."

"How you been doing?"

"Fine, thank you."

"Rico, you been having a great season — no, I mean a good start. What do you, uh, why? How come?"

"Good health and I'm very grateful to almighty God who took me out of the tuberculosis I had in 1968 and missed the whole season and bring me back to good health today."

"What else?"

"A hitter has to be like a sports-writer. He cannot be bashful. In any job, be bold. When I pick up the bat in my hand, I'm bold with it. I walk into every pitcher and I'm not scared of any of them, no matter if his name is Seaver, Gibson, Marichal, Maloney, Diener, Marichal — I said him, didn't I? I'm going into that home plate and I mean trouble."

"Who is the best hitter in baseball, Rico?"

"Rico Carty. No, I'm lying. Hank Aaron is. Ask anybody. Well, maybe the time will tell, I can be a base hit-ter, but not a long-ball hitter like he is."

"Do you feel pressure when you been hitting so good?"

"I don't build up pressure in me. But the sportswriters do by always asking if you can hit .400. It bugs you, and sometimes I think some of them do it willfully."

"How good will you hit this season?"

"With luck and God's help, I will maybe hit .300. That I will do — even if I have to bunt. The onliest time I not hit .300 was when I hurt my shoulder and it came out of place. But the most I ever hit in one season was .366 at Yakima in Class B ball."

Carty hesitated now; he was running out of gas. He received a prompting. What do you like most about yourself?

"That I like people," he continued in his self-interview. "That I'm nice to people. I talk to the fans. I wave at the kids. I always sign autographs. Some people call me a hot dog because of it. But Baby Ruth was the same way. Some have that natural way of doing that."

"With more prompting, after a thoughtful silence.) What don't you like about yourself?"

"Sometimes I'm lazy at the plate. Instead of cutting loose, I just swing easy at anything. I did that three or four times this season. But I keep tellin' myself, 'Rico, don't do it. Don't do it.'"

"The pauses were getting longer between questions. His smooth, chiseled black face now began to wrinkle a bit in mediation. Finally, he spoke again."

"Rico, do you think you can hit .400?" he asked himself.

Wanaque Jolts Colts In 15-2 J D Loop Win

In an American Division game of the Junior Development League, Wanaque slammed the Junior State Colts, 15-2. The game was held at Pennington Park, Paterson.

Steve Platt socked three triples and a double and Ron Hauser hit a home run and a triple to pass an 11 hit attack against the Colts.

Wanaque hurler, Mike Rodnor, sparked for his team as he flipped a thr e hitter.

The win is Wanaque's fourth straight of an unb aten season while the setback is the Junior State Colts' first after two successive wins.

PLANNING AHEAD—(Left to right) Frank Pellechia, of Lincoln Park, and Jim Piscane and Jim Spinella, both of Hawthorne, make plans for the first New Jersey Junior Football Camp to be held July 6-Aug. 14 at Paul VI High School in Clifton. Piscane, a former 'MVP' as a linebacker with the Wayne Generals, was named over the weekend as the new assistant football coach at Pope Pius High, in Passaic. Two weeks earlier, Spinella was appointed head football coach and assistant athletic director at Pope Pius. Pellechia is an assistant track and football coach at Passaic Valley Regional High, Little Falls.

Pequannock High Designates Fred Hill Top Football Coach

Pequannock High School has named Fred Hill as the new head football coach, filling the position left by Lon Smith upon his retirement.

Smith, who remains as athletic director at Pequannock, has confirmed the appointment of Hill as head varsity football coach and an assistant varsity baseball mentor. Hill will also assume the duties of a driver education instructor this fall at the Morris County School.

Hill is transferring from Clifford Scott High School, in East Orange. He has been the head football coach at Clifford Scott for the past four years, posting an 18-17-1 mark during his reign. His best year was in 1966, when his club precordred an 8-1 record and a Garden State Conference crown. He was named Essex County "Coach of the Year" for his efforts. In all, Hill has been with Clifford Scott for 12 years, serving as an assistant grid coach from 1959 through 1963.

Hill was the head baseball coach at Clifford Scott for the past five years, compiling

Shar-van Takes First League Win

BLOOMINGDALE — A 1-though Tom Donnelly had a grand slam homer his Excelsior Lumber squad dropped a 12-11 decision to Shar-Van in the Tri-Boro Softball League Wednesday night. It was Shar-Van's first victory in five starts with Rich Osterhaudt earning the hill win.

Butch Tracey and Hank Van Orden smacked three-run homers for the victors, who pulled out the victory with a three-run burst in the last inning.

Shar-Van 411 030 3-12
Excelsior L'mb'r 540 002 0-11

a very impressive won-loss record. He served as an assistant coach prior to his latest position.

Hill was a three sport star at Clifford Scott High School and Upsala College. At Clifford Scott, he was named to the All-State All-Group squad as a half-back, in 1952, while getting numerous small college All-America bids at Upsala.

Following graduation from Upsala, Hill signed with the then Washington Senators, playing shortstop two years on the Senators' farm club.

His first coaching position was in 1958 when he was given an assistant football post at Wayne Senior High School.

Jersey Jays Need Girls To Cheer

While collegiate football stars from all over the United States are trying to make the first team of the Jersey Jays, an opportunity is being offered local young women to contribute to the team's 1970 season success by acting as cheerleaders for the Jays seven home games.

According to Mrs. Geri Johnston, director of cheerleaders, the girls must be 18 years old.

Ice Hockey Rink Possible?

Growing Sport Needs Facility In PC Area

Boys from the 8th through 12th grades who are interested in ice hockey must get up in the dead of night between 1 a.m. and 3 a.m. in order that they may be able to participate in the ice hockey programs.

Many of these teenagers leave their homes and walk to a friend's house in order to get a ride to the ice hockey rink where a game or practice is scheduled. These rinks are located in Branchbrook Park, Newark, and South Mountain Reservation.

Wayne Grid Stars To Play For Upsala

EAST ORANGE — Some of New Jersey's outstanding high school athletes will be attending Upsala College this fall to pursue their academic studies and to participate in the college's competitive athletic program.

Athletic Director Donald Walker said the new students, some from out-of-state, will come to Upsala with excellent credentials and should contribute toward improving the Vikings' record during the 1970-1971 season.

Upsala coach John Hooper, who now is on a summer tour of Alaska with his family, will have some new huskies (football version) awaiting him when he returns in time for practice in September.

Among them will be 225-pound Mike Healy, a tackle who made All-Suburban and All-League at Midland Park High School; 200-pound tackle and end Kenneth Anderson of Toms River who made all-county and all-shore teams while playing tackle and end at Toms River High School which had one of the best high school teams in New Jersey; 195-pound John Meehan of Clifton, an all-conference and all-suburban center and linebacker at De Paul High School in Wayne; Richard L. Miller, Jr. of Wayne, a 185-pound guard at De Paul High Ice hockey in Northern New Jersey is so popular, these rinks are over worked and used on a 24 hour basis. Teens outside of the locale in which the rink is situated must rent time between the hours of midnight and 7 a.m.

Last week, 14 men met in Mr. Rocca R. Di Pietro's office in Anthony Wayne Junior High School and reviewed the possibilities of getting an ice rink in Wayne or Passaic County that would permit the local youngsters to pursue their interests in ice hockey within the normal recreational hours.

There are several possibilities to provide facilities in Passaic County or Wayne and this committee intends to pursue them. Most promising is to modify current construction plans for the installation of tennis courts at the Passaic County Golf Course. This arrangement will provide an outdoor ice skating arena during the winter and a tennis court during the summer. The artificial ice pad will provide facilities for figure skating, general skating and speed skating. The girls can take full advantage of these free skating periods.

It is interesting to note that Montclair has this combination ice rink—tennis court arrangement and has found it very successful. As a matter of fact, it is so much in demand that rentals of the hockey facilities has made the project self-supporting.

The committee feels that a

McCoy, Sofas Combine To 0-Hit Wayne Tile In PAL Contest

In P.A.L. American League action Tuesday night, Steve Maloy and Steve Sofis of Granatell's combined to pitch a no-hit, no-run game against Wayne Tile, in a 6-0 decision.

Maloy pitched 3 and one-third innings and Sofis completed the last 2 and one-third frames for the victory.

Tile only had one scoring opportunity in the game, but that was nullified by a fine throw to the plate by Granatell's second baseman Urma to nip a Tile baserunner attempting to score.

Tile hurler, Spinosa, threw a fine game, allowing only one hit until the fifth inning. Granatell then got four hits in a row to break open the game and score five runs.

Granatell's Maloy and Ziemba batted doubles for the only extra-base hits of the game.

Pines Lake Clinches 1st In 23-7 Win

Pines Lake clinched the pennant in the National Division of the International Little League on Wednesday by disposing of Fire Co. No. 4, 23-7.

On the same day, the second place team, New Jersey Bank was shut out 5-0 by Cedar Grove Transmission, to assure Pines Lake of the title.

The little champions jumped to an early 12 to 4 lead in the first inning as both opposing pitchers had trouble finding the plate. Pines Lake increased their lead in the third and fourth inning to earn an easy victory.

Steve Felano was the winning pitcher. However, John Byczkowski had to relieve him in the fourth inning and strike out three of the four batters he faced to end the game. The big hitters of the game were Mark Admirand for Pines Lake and (Continued On Page 73)

FIREMAN'S FAIR

POMPTON FALLS FIRE CO. NO. 3

Firemen Win Trophies In Field Day Contest

In order to keep sharp at firefighting, firemen hold practice fires or what they did recently, enter a firemen's contest.

The Pompton Falls Fire Company took home two awards after participating in the North Jersey Volunteer Fireman's Field Day Competition. This was the first time their company had been involved in any contest.

The contest is open to over sixty fire companies throughout the entire North Jersey area. Pompton Falls took two trophies in the two events they entered.

The Volunteer Company placed first in the water-to-fire contest. This contest involves starting the fire truck with the firemen aboard, going fifty feet, stopping, and laying out 150 feet of hose. The firemen next aim at a target fifty feet away and hit it. This whole 250 foot procedure is clocked.

The Pompton Falls Company took a third place in the coat-boot drill.

This contest has the firemen changing from their street clothes to fire-fighting outfit, consisting of hat, coats, and boots. They then lay the same length of hose as in the water-to-fire drill and once again a target is aimed for. All this is done on foot and without a truck.

The Company did not enter the three other events. These were a coupling contest-attaching a hose to a hydrant, and two water-to-fire contests.

The two water-fire-contests involved drawing water from a hydrant and from a lake. Once again, hitting a target is important.

West Paterson and Lincoln Park Fire Departments were two area volunteer units that came up with awards in the contests.

Auxiliary Aids Men On Scene

Running about in the minds cliche that goes "behind every man there is a woman." Old and tired as it may be it still rings true and clear especially when talking about the Women's Auxiliary of Pompton Falls Volunteer Company #3.

When it comes to helping, this is the group that is always there. At its helm is Mrs. Bette Deppa who does everything possible in the life of a fireman's wife. There is nothing to being a mother, holding down a job during the day then going to the firehouse at night, then as if this isn't enough, calling folks to make sure everything is set for the upcoming fair. When asked how she felt at 11 o'clock in the evening she laughingly said, "Tired I think."

The Women's Auxiliary, comprised of some 32 wives of volunteer firemen are indeed standing behind their men. As Mrs. Deppa said anything the fire department runs on a money basis the women are right there pitching in to raise funds.

Last year during the disastrous flood that hit this area the Women's Auxiliary manned the station with food, clothing and good cheer for 36 hours without relief.

In any major disaster the ladies of aid are right there with comfort, food and all necessities to make such fires and floods seem a little less disastrous.

As for the upcoming Fireman's Fair to be held at the Preakness Shopping Center the week of June 29 - July 4th, the women are totally involved running here and there making sure everything is tip-top. Mrs. Deppa not only serves as president of this group but also is a member of the fair committee.

The Women's Auxiliary will have their work cut out for them at the fair says Mrs. Deppa. Their job will be to sell tickets, man the wheels and do any errand that needs to be done.

CLASSIC SCENE—Great concentration is obviously on the faces of these firemen while fighting a blaze. Considerable effort is needed to accurately direct the stream of very high pressure water used by the fire company. Working with water in the dead of winter also makes the job more difficult.

Pompton Falls Co. Fair Story

Prizes, Surprises Await All At Outing

Seventeen years ago the first Pompton Falls Volunteer Fair became a reality. It all began with a few games, wheels of chance and some refreshments, held inside the fire house.

Three years passed and the firemen decided to take their fair outdoors in an open area not known as the Preakness Shopping Center. At that time there was just one store surrounded by mud and weeds. As the shopping center grew, so did the fair. Each year the Fireman's Fair became more and more popular with the people of the area and a bigger task for the firemen themselves.

This years the fair will be bigger and better, and with a few new highlights.

There will be at least 50 rides and attractions provided by Amusements of America, which also provides the amusements for many of the carnivals in the area. The games areas will be handled by Liberty Amusements, also a business merchandise supplier.

On Wednesday, July 1, Miss Preakness Shopping Center will be crowned from a group of six finalists. The event was promoted by the Shopping Center and is presenting it as part of the fair. The Firemen were not involved in the presentation of this contest.

The winner of the Beauty Pageant will be judged on personality, poise, and appearance in this order. The finalists were chosen last week. The girls will be judged on appearance in an evening gown and bathing suit.

Five judges will be on hand to choose the Beauty Queen. They are, Joan Liebowitz, social editor at Matzner Publications, Marcia Michelli woman's editor of Trends, Jim Hunt, WKER, DJ, Betty McCauley, social editor of the Paterson News, and George McElrey, of Stern's Dept. Store.

The winner will receive an all-expense paid trip to Aruba in the Caribbean. The runners-up will be awarded gift certificates.

Another new attraction for the fair will be an exhibit by New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. Three displays and a film will be included in the exhibit.

The displays will show the method for pressure testing a cable, splicing and attaching cables, and the installation of telephones and the inside of repair vans. An 18 mm film showing the job of the telephone operator will be shown continuously every night.

The pressure testing display will show how Bell telephone determines if something is wrong with a cable. Mr. Kenneth Chisholm, Public Relations Director for Bell Telephone on this display, states that this method of testing indicates if there are holes in the cable, sometimes caused by squirrels or other animals biting into cables. All the cables are pressurized and any pressure leaving a cable will be recorded by the pressure tester.

The display involving splicing will show how a multiple conductor is attached and how cable is laid under the ocean.

The film will present a short, contemporary look at the job of the telephone operator and how the operators handle themselves.

The people manning the exhibit will be from different areas of management, marketing, and employment from the Bell Telephone Company. Any questions brought to them will be answered. Also, the people manning the exhibit will be from the Wayne area and each night there will be a change of personnel.

There will be a number of charitable organization at the fair to help out with the food and refreshments. The Firemen rent out a helping hand to the charities in order to help them and also, because the members of the fair committee feel that the firemen cannot manage the entire event themselves.

Some of the organizations that will participate are Our Lady Of Consolation, which will run a food concession, Community Co. #1, The Prospect Park Fire Company, which will hold a clam bar, and the U.S. Wheel Chair Sports Fund, which will put on an exhibit.

A number of commercial and industrial exhibits will also be found on the grounds. Bell Telephone will set up a display about its company and show a film. Carpy Kitchens will display the latest in kitchen design, and Paul Meyerhoff will be there with his collection of gems and minerals.

Local Charities Aid Pompton Falls Co.

Whoever said there is no such thing as an old fashioned fair where people come and pitch in to run the concessions and kids can eat hot-dogs and hamburgers and get sticky from cotton candy and get sick from one too many times on the roller coaster are wrong.

They are wrong for a number of reasons but the paramount one is that on the week of June 29 through

Fairs Proceeds Provides Funds For Equipment Facilities

With the exception of $7,200 contributed to the fire company each year by the Township of Wayne, all funds needed to operate and purchase equipment for the Pompton Falls Fire Company Number Three come from the annual fund drive and the firemen's fair.

The Pompton Falls Fire Company, one of five in the township, is charged with the protection of the entire northern section of the community, encompassing parts of the Fifth Ward and all of the Sixth, better than one third of Wayne.

With a compliment of thirty-seven men, the company normally answers close to 300 alarms a year. However, the fire company this year has answered 170 calls so far. Consequently, this years' final total will be way over past records.

The company maintains three pieces of apparatus, two pumpers and a truck equipped with high-pressure fog pump and generator. Also, the company possesses a motorboat.

Maintaining the equipment, buying gasoline and oil, and actual purchase of the apparatus all come from the funds raised by the drive and fair. Also, monies needed to maintain the firehouse comes from these funds.

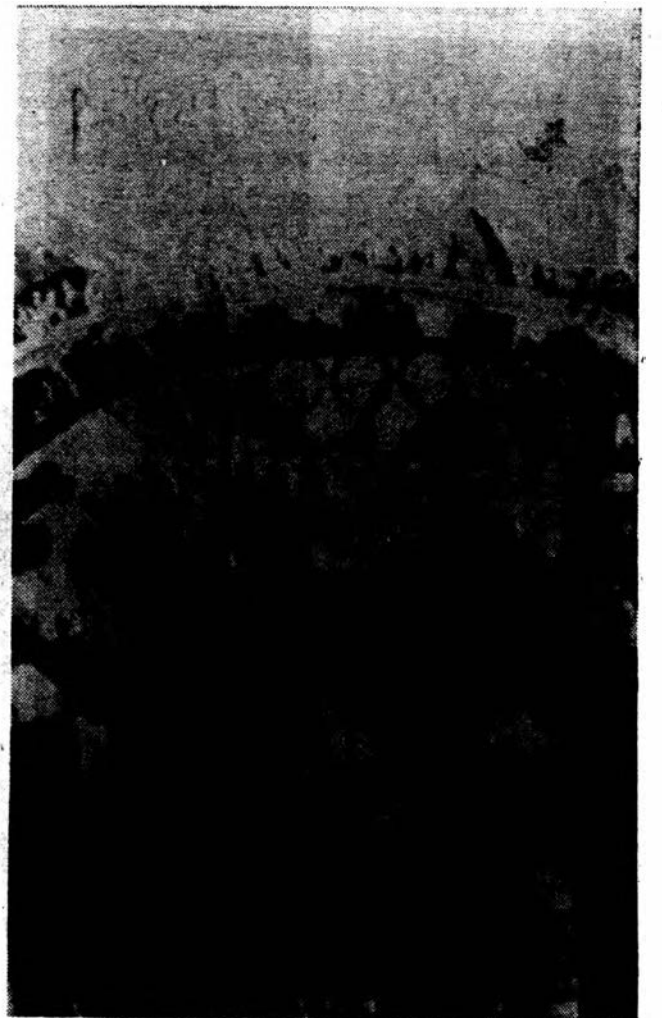

In 1968, the volunteer fire company, after saving for over half a decade, was able to purchase an American LaFrance 1,000-gallon pumper and a Ford equipped with a John Bean high-pressure unit. Monies saved this year will go toward replacing the 1963 American LaFrance 1,000-gallon auxiliary pumper and ladder truck when it becomes ten years old.

Normal operating expenses, not including the purchase of new apparatus, run in the neighborhood of $20,000 just for the one company, and there are five companies. Insurance coverage alone accounts for a major percentage of that total. The value of all the equipment in each fire company is estimated at around $100,000.

The firemen need your interest help and support and in getting it they hope that they can really give you a great time for your money, as well as dedicated protection. Come out to the Fireman's Fair.

A HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE POM

On November 15th, 1923, three men met and organized the Pompton Falls Volunteer Fire Department Number Three.

Soon after the meeting Moritz Klein, Mitchell Dawes Sr. and Harry Rhinesmith went out and managed to get twenty-five charter members, to form the nucleus of the department. They had their first meeting at Rhinesmith's store located on the Hamburg Turnpike near Terhune Drive. An agreement was reached that the fire department would cover all of what is now the Sixth Ward and part of the Fifth Ward also, a total land area encompassing over a third of the township's land area.

The first apparatus that the company had was housed in space provided by the old Sheffield Farms Company, at the corner of Black Oak Ridge Road and the Pompton Plains Crossroads. The old building is still standing on that spot.

FARMERS AID FIREMEN

Stories tell of how the farm hands from Sheffield would stop their work to go help the firemen when the alarm was sounded.

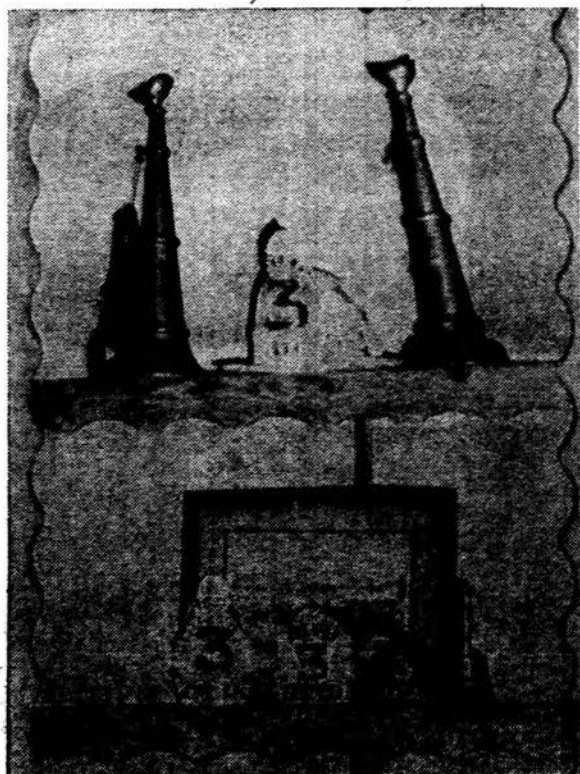

If they were in the fields on their tractors they would simply unhitch whatever pieces of farm equipment they were pulling and charge across the fields on the large-wheeled vehicles. It must have made for an exciting sight.

Old locomotive wheel rings were hung throughout the fire district and were used to summon the men. These rings were used for many years, until the township installed electric sirens. Today, the sirens are supplemented by home alarms called "Plectrons". These electronic devices alert the location and the nature of the alarm, affording them better preparedness in responding.

In the forty-five years the company has been in existence, it has compiled an enviable record in the protection of life and property in the upper portion of the township. The Pompton Falls Fire Company serves an area of nine square miles.

SIZE OF DISTRICT

The first district is bordered on the north

MEMORABLIA—On the wall of the fire house are displayed many reminders of the men and equipment of the past. On the top are two megaphones. The hat and badges represent certain retired officers.

ORIGINAL FIRE HOUSE—This modest looking building was, before 1946, the home of the Pompton Falls Volunteer Fire Company No. 3. One can see where the fire trucks would enter and exit.

by the Oakland town line, the Pompton River and Pompton Lakes; on the west by the river and the Pequannock town line; on the south by Ratzer Road and on the east by Berdan Avenue and Miller's Nursery.

Shortly after the company was organized a ladies auxiliary was formed and today it plays a very important role within the company and community. During the floods last year the auxiliary performed admirably helping to feed both victims and workmen.

In 1959 a Junior Fire Department was formed for boys between the ages of fifteen and twenty-one. Established as a means of training future firemen, the Juniors function as helpers to the firemen in all respects other than fighting fires.

Fire Company Number Three, like all others in the township, has always attempted to meet the needs of the growing community by having at their disposal sufficient and up-to-date equipment for fighting fires or coping with whatever other emergencies might suddenly arise.

EQUIPMENT YESTERDAY

The first piece of apparatus purchased by the company was in the year 1924, when a 500 gallon Mack pumper was put into service. A second truck was added in 1932. In that same year a hose wagon body was given to the company by the City of Paterson and was installed on a Reo chassis. In 1941 it was replaced by a Chevrolet.

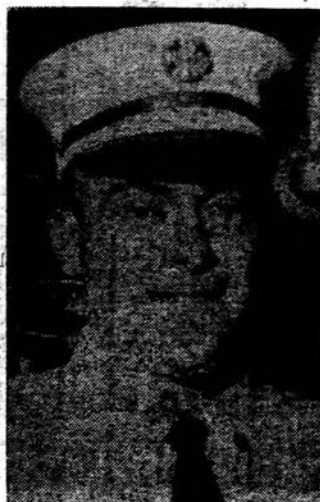

In 1947 the company purchased a Ward La France 750 gallon pumper. With the purchase of another Ward La France in 1951, the faithful 1924 Mack pumper was retired, and incidentally, still stands ready in Museum Village, in Monroe, New York, as part of their permanent exhibit.

In 1957, the company purchased two trucks, a Mack pumper and a four-wheel-drive International John Bean auxiliary truck. With that purchase, the old Ward La France was retired.

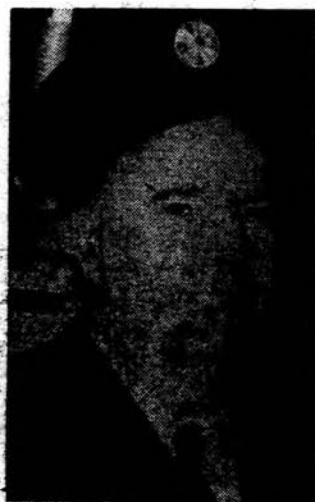

EQUIPMENT TODAY

The equipment today consists of a 1963 American La France 1000-gallon pumper and ladder truck, a 1968 American La France 1000-gallon diesel pumper and a 1968 Ford truck equipped with a John Bean high pressure fog pump and generator. The fog pump device, but putting out a fine mist, virtually drives the air out of a building, helping to smother the fire. It helps to prevent extensive water damage to interiors because much less water has to be used than with a conventional hose. Also the pressure is considerably less, further reducing the possibility of damage. The 1963 American La France was the first piece of equipment Fire Company Number Three had purchased from that firm.

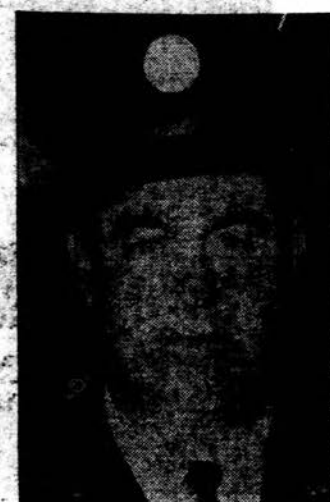

All this equipment is a tribute to the efforts of the members of the company to provide the very best in fire fighting equipment for the people of Wayne, whose com-contributions and annual support finance the company. To a great extent, costs not paid for by contributions must be taken care of by the men and women of the fire department itself, in hours given to the fire company as well as money.

FIREHOUSE

The men of the company are most proud perhaps of their firehouse on Jackson Avenue. It was built in 1964 from land purchased in 1931. In addition to housing the apparatus, the firehouse provides its members with meeting areas and an area for work and recreation.

Much work that would normally be contracted out is actually done by the firemen themselves in their own time. For example, the firehouse was built on weekends by the men over a period of a year. Since 1946, additions have been made to the firehouse in roughly seven year cycles. The latest changes were made in 1963 when a new front and side bays were added.

CHIEFS OUTLINED

A succession of capable, energetic and devoted fire chiefs have supervised the steady growth of the Pompton Falls Fire Company Number Three. The most experienced veteran still connected with the fire department who has served in that responsible post is Williams Lewis, who was fire chief in 1956, 1957 and 1958. During his tenure two new engines were added, the Mack pumper and the high pressure Bean pumper, both in 1957. Lewis joined the fire company back in 1935, under unusual circumstances. He was given membership in appreciation of the work he did in organizing an old-fashioned minstrel show in that year. Mr. Lewis also sang lead in the production. Once in the fire department he liked it so much he decided to stay in for a while, thirty-nine years to be exact. During that time Lewis has served in virtually every position in the department, and is currently the treasurer.

In addition to that duty, Lewis is also president of the Wayne Township Firemen's Relief Association, the Wayne Township Exempt Firemen's Association, executive committeeman of the New Jersey State Fireman's Association, and president of the Bergen-Passaic Exempt League. He is also past executive committeeman of the Passaic County State Exempt Firemen's Association. Lewis also drew up the plans for the building of the firehouse.

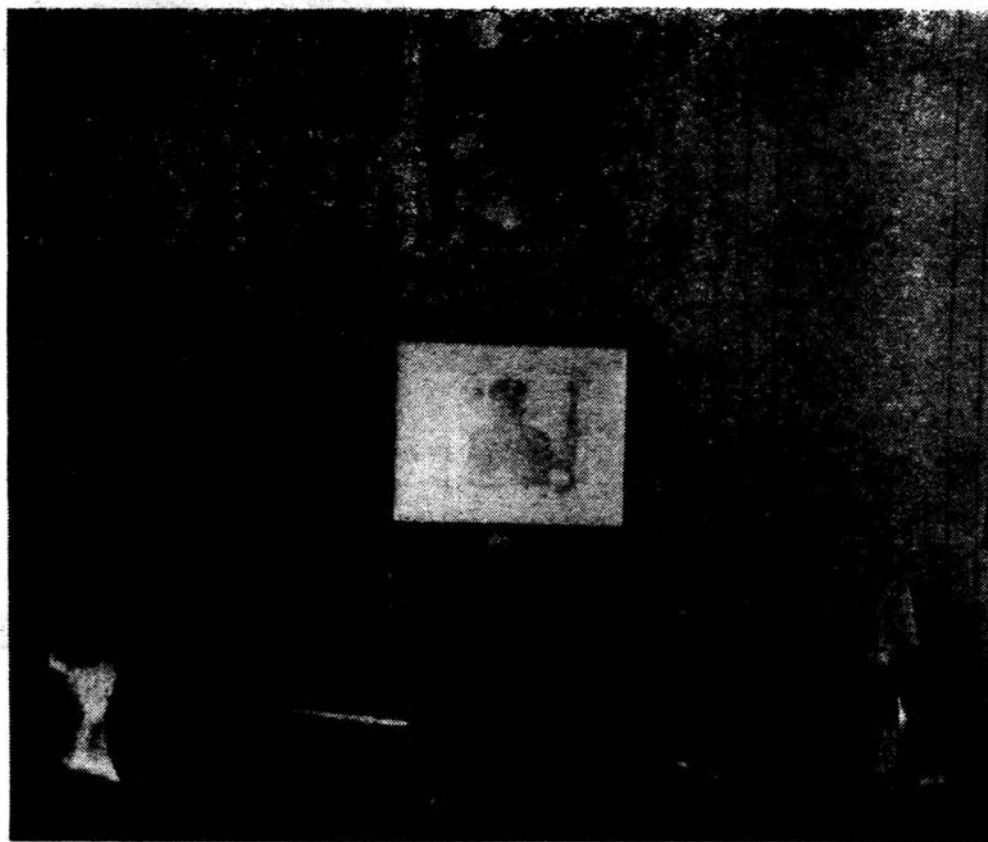

Ex-Chief Joseph Laird headed the fire company in 1959, 1960, 1963, 1967 and 1968.

He has held many positions, becoming Captain in 1951, as well as having served as deputy chief, lieutenant, drive chairman, administrative president and trustee. During his tenure the American La France pumper was acquired in 1963 and in 1968 the diesel pumper and the high pressure Ford-Bean were added.

Harold Kautz, chief in 1961, 1962, 1965 and 1966 joined the fire company in 1945, and after several years in the service returned to the company in 1948. In joining he carried on the tradition set by his father, Clarence Kautz, who was a member from 1927 until 1945, when he passed the job on to his son Harold. Kutz worked his way through the line ranks, becoming captain in 1959 and deputy chief a year later. He was also fire commissioner for Wayne Township last year and the year before.

Ex-Chief Gross served in his position in 1964, having joined up in 1950. In his year, extensive remodeling was done to the firehouse, with the new front put on and the side bays added. The new 1,000 gallon pumper was ordered then, and delivered the next year. In 1962, Mr. Gross served as fire prevention officer.

Edward Trommelen, the current chief, has been with the fire company since 1960, coming here after serving for six years with the Prospect Park Volunteer Fire Company CHARTER MEMBER—The picture above the crossed axes is that of Edward Colfax, a charter member and treasurer of the fire company. He was a member from the year 1923 until 1961. Placed around the walls of the firehouse are many pieces of memorabilia.

Number One. He was made lieutenant in 1963, captain in 1965 and deputy chief in 1968. So far this year the fire company has purchased new breathing apparatus and a washer for cleaning hoses.

If fire chiefs of Company Number Three continue to be in the future as of high caliber as they have been we can be assured of a first-rate fire company to come.

OFFICERS

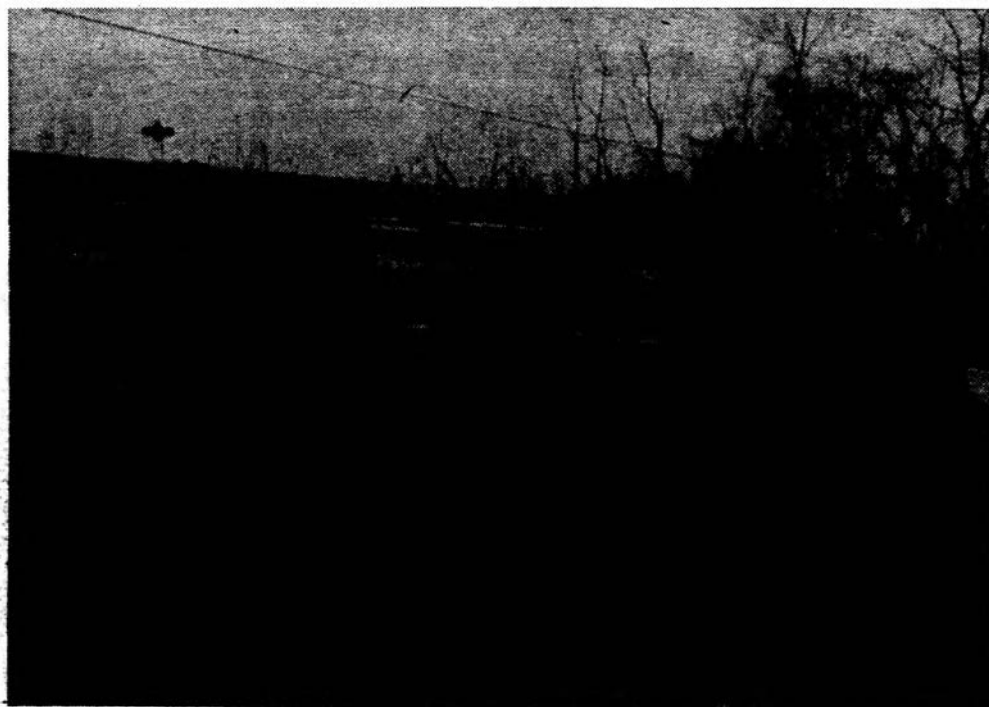

Training is an important part of the life of any volunteer fireman, training in fire fighting and, just as important, fire prevention. In 1945 the Pompton Falls Fire Company created a Fire Prevention Bureau, through the efforts of the late Chief J. Spenser Smith. Today the Fire Prevention Bureau conducts inspections regularly as part of the Wayne Township Fire Prevention Bureau.

This year the line officers of the Pompton Falls Fire Company include: Chief Edward Trommelen; Deputy Chief Fred Kroegman; Captains Frank Croce and Walter Clapp, and Lieutenants Lou Matarazza and John Krochapsky.

The administrative officers of the fire company are: Walter Clapp, president; Al Christman, vice-president; Larry Koncelman, secretary; William Lewis, treasurer, and trustees, Henry Varetani, William Klein and Charles Karross.

Harold Kautz, William Klein, and William Lewis have been with the fire company for twenty-five years now.

Much time and effort has been spent by the members of the company to make this the largest and finest fair ever put on in this area. Indeed, only the annual state fair in Trenton can claim to be bigger. We hope to see all of you there.

At Fair Booths

the 4th of July when the Pompton Falls Volunteer Fire Co. No. 3 will have just that — an old fashioned fair. This will be the 18th annual Fireman's Fair and it will be held in the Preakness Shopping Center.

This fair is not only fun for the kids but it also helps local charities build their funds up to help the entire community. Everyone but everyone in town is looking forward to the festival with its 4 kitchens, 18 booths, 25 rides and wheels of chance.

Especially looking forward to the Fair are a number of charities that will help run the week long festival of fun. Those groups that will be active at the Fair are so far the Woman's Auxiliary of the Fire Department which is headed by a most competent woman, Mrs. Bette Deppa; The United States Wheel Chair Sports Fund; Our Lady of Consolation Church; the Prospect Park Fire Department.

All involved are looking forward to the Fair with anxious anticipation. Speaking to Major Hulteen of the Salvation Army, he was very upset that this year unlike the past few, he will not be able to have a booth at the Fair.

In speaking about the event he said it was a wonderful experience for the Salvation Army and he felt very badly about not being able to man the Booth this year. But he did say that he wishes much success to those there.

Father Wolsin of Our Lady of Consolation Church, Hamburg Turnpike, Wayne was very enthusiastic about the Fair when saying that his parish participates every year by taking over one of the four food booths.

What Makes A Fireman Dedicated To His Job?

What is a volunteer fireman? A volunteer fireman is a man who sleeps with a plectron, finely tuned, next to his ear. The plectron is his link to his fire headquarters and serves to alert him to the location and severity of a fire. In the case of firemen from Fire Company #3, the headquarters building is on Jackson Avenue.

A volunteer fireman keeps his boots with his fireproof jumper already stuffed into them at the foot of his bed so that he can jump into them, pull the suit up over his clothes and run out of the door in a matter of seconds.

He is a man who is never sure when he sits down to a meal if he will finish it or be called out to fight a fire. He eats many of his meals cold.

He is a man who may be in the middle of a family party or a Sunday barbeque when the siren goes off. When this happens, the party is over for him until the fire is out.

If he is a man who works days, he will be on call at night. If he works nights, he can be expected to be called on during the day.

He is a man who will leave his home and family to attend training sessions of his fire company periodically. The training sessions are designed to keep him razor sharp for his duties.

He is a man who will spend many of his leisure hours at the firehouse checking the equipment and making sure that it is ready for any emergency at any hour of the day or night.

He will spend hours, cleaning the fire engine, checking hose, fire extinguishers, and all of the other equipment that is kept on the fire truck.

He will go to the assistance of any other fire company in Wayne on a big fire. He will stand by for other volunteer fire companies outside of Wayne when they are faced with an emergency.

He will rush to the firehouse when the alarm sounds, prepared for any eventuality. He will ride the engine to a fire, his work without having any orders issued to him. His training is such that he knows exactly what job he is to perform and what job the other men are to perform. No one will be in to perform any job the other men are to perform. No one will be in anyone else's way because he doesn't know what is expected of him.

He will climb ladders, enter burning building, and save lives. He will carry out the young, the old and the infirm from the scene of any disaster.

He may find himself entering a burning home, a place of business, a nursing home or any other building in this community.

He will work with police, first aid volunteers, civil defense workers and other volunteers, under emergency conditions. He will be found at the scene of fire, flood, or other disaster.

He may risk his life or his health for another human being or somebody's pet cat who is stuck in a tree. He may go for days without a call for help and then suddenly find himself in the middle of a nursing home fire as he did earlier this year.

Holidays and weekends mean nothing to him. His life is governed by the plectron and fire horn. His private plans will literally go up in smoke when the alarm sounds.

He can be seen running fairs, in order to raise money for new equipment. He will explain patiently and courteously to a new resident that he is asking for donations to the fire company because all fire companies in Wayne are volunteers.

We have no paid fire department. Because of this, each fire company must raise its own funds. The township gives a small stipend to each company each year. It is not enough to buy modern, up to date equipment. The residents of Wayne must support their volunteers with their contributions.

A volunteer fireman is many things—he is a homeowner, a father, his family's breadwinner, a friend to those in trouble, a civic minded man, and a good citizen. He is an asset to the community; he is a selfless human being.

Strength, Courage Found In Moment With God

A Fireman's Prayer

Dear Lord, we call upon you for strength and guidance. Look kindly upon us in our needs.

Teach us to look always to you for assistance, as our fellow citizens look to us.

Make us studious and give us pride and joy in our work.

When the alarm sounds, calling us to our duty, give us speed and efficiency.

As our siren wails, ride with us through the streets, shielding us from danger.

On the firegrounds, may our officers and men always work as a cautious, courageous and victorious team.

Walk with us through the terror of flame and explosion.

May our hearts be always ready, if we should be summoned before our Eternal Chief in the midst of our labors.

Through our ministrations to our suffering fellow men, we dedicate our lives humbly to your praise and glory.

In joy or sorrow, we ask that you may be pleased with our service, that when the Last Alarm shall have sounded for us, we may receive eternal assignment with you. Amen.

The Pet Coverlet

BRIGHTEN baby's crib with this pretty coverlet of nine embroidered blocks set together with gay gingham strips! Pattern No. 2062 has hot-iron transfer; 9 motifs; color chart; directions.

DEAR POLLY—Grocery bags can be held upright in the car by slipping a long loop of heavy elastic over the back of the front seat.—CINDY

DEAR POLLY—When my fingertip terry towels start to wear thin I put two together and, using the zig-zag stitch, sew all around the edges.—ANN

DEAR POLLY—Use your ice cream dipper to form uniform servings of salad for those lettuce cups. This is helpful particularly when serving a large crowd at a church or club dinner.—MRS. E. D.

DEAR POLLY—Did you ever hear of a round washcloth? They're great. They fit the hand, and there are no corners to drip. They're easy to make in any size and color. Bind the circle of terry cloth with a bias strip of fabric or tape. I am 80, and if you like this idea it will be my first time to win anything. Am including a sample in my letter. (Polly's note—Thank you. I find this unusual washcloth very pretty and practical, too.)—MRS. J. M.

DEAR POLLY—My son had quite a few textbooks that he wanted to keep. I picked up three apple crates at a market, bought six yards of a pretty adhesive-backed paper, covered each crate separately, and stacked them to make a bookcase. Should we ever move, the books are already packed.—MRS. L. A. L.

DEAR POLLY—When you read a Polly's Pointer that satisfies a need—cut it right out and tape it where it will be a reminder at the right time.—MRS. E. J. N.

DEAR POLLY—My sister and I put a number on the door of each of the rooms we are supposed to clean, place duplicate slips in a jar, and draw for the rooms we will each clean.—P. L. S.

DEAR POLLY—When cutting out a large number of quilt pieces, it's a great help to put about 10 blocks on long florists' pin (with a head), the add a piece of paper that sticks out at one side, then another 10 blocks, and so on, until the pin is full. The blocks are easy to count just by counting the papers.—M. M. R.

DEAR POLLY—When practicing a number of musical selections, one tends to grow stale or careless because of the monotonous repetition. Reversing the order in which the pieces are practiced now and then helps to give all your efforts equal polish.—SALLY

DEAR POLLY—To make an ice pack for small children when they fall and get a bump, wet a washcloth, put it in the freezer and freeze and then put it in a plastic bag and apply to the bump.—EDNA
