Tough Fight, But Council OK's State Plan For KO Of Killer Bend

WAYNE — An up-dating of the master plan by eight years will rid this township of the dangers of "Killer Bend," located in southbound Route 23.

According to John Leidy, township engineer, construction will begin in the early part of 1967, after drawings and plans are completed.

The plans, however, almost ran amuck when Councilmen Harold Somerdyk, Walter Hoffmann, and Richard Marcus said the administration was proceeding too quickly and should consider the six alternative routes.

Mayor Edward Sisco said he was in full support of the project, and urged the council to attend the hearing on May 3 at the municipal building. At that time, engineers from the State Highway Department will be there to present their plans.

Sisco also reprimanded the Democratic councilmen for complaining the highway department takes forever to complete their projects. "Now that we are able to proceed with this plan, you want to forestall construction," he said.

Councilman Walter Jasinski, democrat, was the only one to side with the Republicans. He said that he placed the safety of motorists first, and was, at that moment, not considering politics.

Killer Bend earned its name by the deaths of at least five motorists who were unable to negotiate the dangerous curve. Councilman Richard Marcus complained of the complications that would set in from a clover-leaf, which is the highway department's solution to Killer Bend. Sisco answered that there were many other problems besides the dangerous curve.

Councilman Walter Hoffmann said the council should not go on record approving the plan until it had attended the hearing. He also favored the alternative routes, which would not affect residents of the area as seriously as the clover-leaf.

Hoffmann made the motion to study the alternate plans before approving the proposed clover-leaf. Councilman Ray Tumminello argued that they were biting their nose to spite their face. "We have criticized the state and county for not providing roads and improvements on time. Now that we have a chance to complete this project, you want to hold things up," he said.

Hoffmann's motion was defeated because only two others came to his support — Marcus and Somerdyk.

The vote on the mayor's resolution calling for Council support for the proposed construction of a clover-leaf was adopted six to one and there were two abstentions.

Voting in favor were Tumminello, Pine, Feddema, and Councilmen Carter Gardner, Fred Domier and Walter Jasinski. Marcus voted no. Abstentions came from Hoffmann and Somerdyk.

Mayor, Others Jubilant Over 3-Point Tax Dive

KINNELON — A tax rate drop of three points elated borough officials this week when the Morris County Board of Taxation announced the new rate at $7.10, down three cents.

Officials had hoped to hold the line at last year's rate and were pleased that final adjustments saw the rate go down, the only area town to show a reduction. The business tax rate is $8.75. The borough assesses at 50 per cent of value.

Council President William Heimburg, finance chairman, had high praise for Tax Collector Lois Charles, who assumed the post last year, for effecting a five percent increase in tax collections to bring in 95.6 per cent in 1965.

He also praised Tax Assessor Edward Nevius for his constant work on putting ratables into the borough's records. An up-to-date tax map has helped Nevius increase ratables. The map is up-dated monthly.

Of the $85,000 of uncollected taxes at the end of last year, about half, $42,000 has been turned into the borough coffers in the first quarter. This will add to the borough's surplus next year.

Mayor Walter C. Nash was extremely pleased with the news that Kinnelon taxpayers will be getting a three point tax rate cut, noting that all other surrounding towns have increases.

Nash lauded his council colleagues for their efficiency in running their separate departments and thanked all the officials for their co-operation in achieving the stable rate.

Water Ban Lifted

WAYNE — As a result of Governor Richard J. Hughes lifting the state water ban, Mayor Edward Sisco also repealed the ban effecting the township at Wednesday night's council meeting.

The only restriction will pertain to the watering of lawns. Sprinkling may be done between the hours of 9 p.m. and 4 a.m. Even numbered houses may water on even days, and odd numbered houses water on odd days.

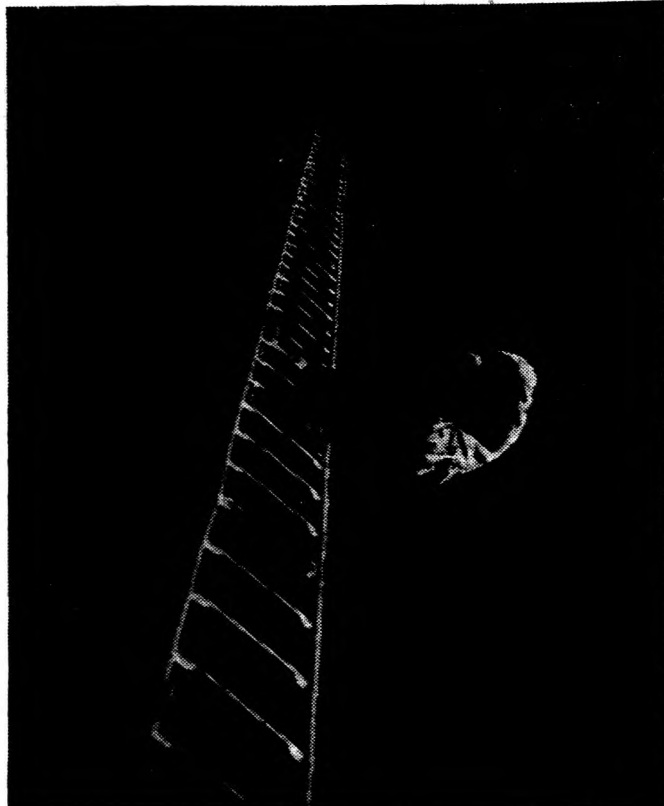

Sisco said residents may now use water to fill their pools and wash their cars.

Poem Wins Him 3rd Place In Contest

WAYNE — Clifford Allen Flanders, a Catawba College freshman, recently won third place in Catawba's Student Government Association Creative Writing Contest.

This contest was held in the Crystal Lounges of Catawba College's Community Center. The contest was open to all students and faculty members. Flanders entitled his poem "IV."

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Auten Flanders of 81 Beechwood Drive, Wayne.

PEAK PERFORMANCE — A Ringwood TV technician scales a CATV antenna similar to that which will soon bring 12 channels of TV programs to subscribers to the Ringwood CATV system. The Ringwood antenna, which will rise 150 feet above a peak of the Ramapo Mountains and be 1230 feet above sea level, will pick TV signals from the air and relay them over cable to subscribers' homes. CATV eliminates the familiar rooftop antenna. Subscribers merely plug in their TV sets to a simple wall outlet.

Garden Apt. Ordinance Introduction April 20

WAYNE — After almost nine months, the garden apartment ordinance is about to be born. Councilman Leonard Pine announced at Wednesday night's council meeting that one final draft will be made. The ordinance is slated for presentation at the next council meeting on April 20.

A metamorphosis of three stages has brought it to what it is now. At a meeting held last week, Pine, and Councilmen Harold Somerdyk, Walter Jasinski, and Ray Tumminello met with Murray L. Cole, attorney for the garden apartment owners. The purpose of the meeting was to get an objective point of view, Pine said.

The meeting with Cole produced several amendments to the ordinance, primarily involving the technicality of wording, and a fine dividing line of who does what. Of major importance, said Cole, is the responsibility of the tenants who live in the apartments.

"Cooperation," he said, "is the key note to keeping the apartments clean and orderly. The superintendents will handle the maintenance, but residents must do their part to keep it clean," Cole said.

Ideas for a maintenance ordinance began last September when residents came to council meetings complaining of "deplorable" conditions. As a result, Mayor Harry J. Butler proposed an ordinance, as did Councilman Richard Marcus, and the GOP candidates running for council.

The next move the council made was to authorize Township Attorney Peter Van Norde to take all three drafts and combine them into one. The final ordinance was given to Pine and his Committee. After Cole's suggestions are incorporated into the ordinance, and the final draft drawn up, it will be presented to the council at the next meeting.

Pequannock Council Set To Pick $12,500 Manager

PEQUANNOCK — Having narrowed the field from 25 to two, the Township Council is expected to reach a decision tomorrow or Tuesday on who will be the township's third manager.

John Heintz resigned April 1 to take a similar post at Rehobeth Beach, Delaware and his family will move there after school closes in June.

Mayor Harold Lawrence disclosed that the Council had personally interviewed 15 of the 25 applicants and narrowed the choice to two men.

Both final applicants will be present Monday night for second interviews before the Council reaches a decision.

Lawrence said the announcement may be made Monday night or at Tuesday's regular Council session.

The mayor said both men under consideration are "extremely capable, competent and experienced and I would be comfortable with either."

The post pays $12,500 a year.

QUESTION: Who selects where you will spend your vacation and why?

WHERE ASKED: Sterns, Preakness

Mrs. Andrew Garbic, 61 Morris Avenue, Lincoln Park, housewife: "It is really an equal decision picking our vacation spot when we are lucky enough to get one. But right now, we are looking at a trailer and hope to go to Maryland."

Curtis Fry, 1183 Valley Road, Wayne, service manager: "My wife, daughter and I discuss our vacation plans. But in end, the women-folk win out as to where we go. We usually go south."

Leroy Marsh, 1431 Alps Road, Wayne, layout man: "When our children were young my wife and I made the decisions as to where we'd vacation. Now we have to consult our children and we do come up with a compromise."

Mrs. Stanley Schreiber, 29 Kenwood Road, Wayne, housewife:

"My husband makes the decision as to where we spend our vacation. However, we usually agree. I can't stand the cold weather, so we usually go south."

Mrs. Daniel Welkendorfer, 43 Clifford Drive, Wayne, house wife: "We don't have an annual vacation, but when we do manage to get away, we visit my husband's folks in Missouri. It's usually a mutual decision."

Urge Public Support For Elimination Of 'Killer Bend'

By JOHN L. NICOLASI
Managing Editor

THE NEW JERSEY Highway Department is noted for the slow, methodical manner with which it works. And, more often than not, that stigma provokes the ire of anxious and impatient municipal officials, newsmen and the public at large.

Being that as it may "would you believe" that in Wayne Township this week, three councilmen expressed the opinion that the Highway Department was moving too fast to cure the ills of "Killer Bend?"

For years now, everyone and his uncle it seems has been prodding the State Highway Department for action in eliminating the treacherous bend from Route 23. The list of victims claimed by this infamous zig-zag stands at over a dozen in recent history.

Not until the fall of 1964, following a month-long crusade by this newspaper and the hard-work of several Wayne officials, did the word come that "Killer Bend" would go.

At Wednesday night's council meeting, Mayor Edward Sisco went on record supporting the Highway Department's plan to eliminate "Killer Bend" through a series of clover-leaves and modern intersections. He asked the Township Council to follow his example and adopt a resolution supporting the project. "Would you believe" that one councilman voted against the resolution and two others abstained. What's more, one of those abstaining was Councilman Walter Hoffmann, one of two council representatives who worked so hard to get state action.

Although Hoffman's doubt doesn't seem to lie with the elimination of the bend, but with the details of the state's program for the clover-leaves and/or alternate plans, his failure to support the resolution drew the admonishment of several of his colleagues as well as that of the mayor. Councilman Harold Somerdyk also notched an abstaining vote, while Councilman Richard Marcus cast the lone "no" vote.

It is hard to reconcile how anyone can cast aspersions on a program it seemed everyone favored. The only other Democrat on the council, Walter Jasinski, cast his "yes" vote with fervor. It's no secret how he feels about the dangers of "Killer Bend" and for that matter all of Route 23 . . . he's been working hard to have them eliminated despite the fact he may be working along lines paralleling those of the Republican administration.

"Killer Bend," or for that matter any project or program vital to the health and welfare of the people should be taken from the realm of politics and placed in a category by itself . . . a category labelled "The Best Interests of the Public."

On Tuesday, May 3 at 10:30 a.m. the State will conduct a hearing on its "Killer Bend" proposal at the Town Hall. The mayor will be there and urged the members of the council also to attend. "I'll be there to support this proposal with everything I've got . . . it's that important," said Mayor Sisco.

"Everyone using Route 23, or having friends or relatives using it should be there, and speak out if they feel the proposal will eliminate the hazard caused by the bend. The more support this proposal gets, the sooner we can expect action to correct the situation," the mayor added.

If the elimination of "Killer Bend" is postponed any longer, the odds of losing more lives and limbs grows higher.

Jasinski Asks Water Tests

Switch Of Reservoir By Newark Cause Of Muddy Water In Wayne

WAYNE — Muddy water coming from faucets in Councilman Walter Jasinski's third ward prompted him to request the council to ask Newark officials for a notice on changes of reservoirs and pressure.

This move was prompted by "thinly diluted mud," Jasinski said, and continued for as long as a week. Investigation by Finley Neuburgh, director of Public Works, showed the muddy water came from a switch in reservoirs by Newark. Wayne purchases approximately 90 per cent of its water from Newark.

The motion, in the form of a letter, will be sent to Newark Mayor Hugh Addonizio and Business Administrator Frederick J. Biunno. It requests advance notice of any change in pressure, reverse flow, or use of a different reservoir.

Jasinski contended that this instance, as well as others, shows no regard is given to the individual consumer, who is forced to suffer without recourse "because he has no choice as to where the water is obtained," the councilman said.

He also asked, that dirty water be drained off prior to delivery to Wayne. "This way, residents would receive clean drinking water."

"I am seriously concerned about the health aspects of the situation," Jasinski said. To solve the problem he requested the Health Department to continually make tests of the water and announce the results to the people of the community.

"This should be done," recommended Jasinski, "until the problem is resolved by the installation of a secondary filtration system by Newark."

Feminine Touch Comes To Police Dept. Soon

POMPTON LAKES — A new look is on tap for the police department. Yesterday the department obtained and put into service a new blue police car, and within two weeks, a woman will be on duty at the radio desk in police headquarters for the first time.

The appointment of Dorothy Moran as the first named police dispatcher was announced by Police Chairman William Schneider at the Borough Council meeting Wednesday. She is scheduled to begin her post on April 17.

There are still openings for the position and applications may be obtained at the police desk. Police Chief William Charles said all the applicants to date have been women.

An ordinance providing for the dispatcher post was approved without comment at the council meeting. Eventually it is hoped to have four dispatchers.

The police radio service located in Pompton Lakes Police Headquarters provides, on a contract basis, 24-hour contact with police in Wanaque, Ringwood, Bloomingdale and Riverdale allowing these towns to give around the clock coverage.

Marcus In Debut As Straight Man

WAYNE — Councilman Richard Marcus may get a township owned facility named after him yet . . . even before the day he dies. The Democratic councilman at Wednesday's town meeting voiced opposition in the naming of a small park after the Boonstra family, whose property the park bounds.

"Why not name it Marcus Park. After all, I've contributed more to this township than Mr. Boonstra," said Marcus.

With that, Council President Fred Domier, a Republican, commented that parks will not be named after councilmen until after they've died.

Later in the meeting, and after the park naming incident had become old hat, the question of an abandoned train station came up.

Domier, not one to let an opportunity for humor go by, said: "Why don't we name the train station after Councilman Marcus and then burn it down."

In the Political Arena

By JOSEPH MATZNER

TALK AROUND the courthouse is that Superior Court Judge, Morris Pashman will heed the requests of Prosecutor John Theves and appoint two assistant prosecutors and two additional investigators. Comes at the right time . . . The assistant prosecutors will include one young attorney from the Wayne area, and also one from Clifton.

Freeholder Joseph Lazzara must be blinking and not because of a bright sun . . . He's amazed at the short memory of Mayor Frank Graves of Paterson. Didn't the mayor, as a Director of the Board of Freeholders, always talk about the need for surplus . . . And for that matter the surplus will be eaten up by the additions to the prosecutor's staff, the new judges to be appointed and the additional court rooms.

LIKE WE OFTEN SAID — Politicos have a strange way of returning favors. One such is Michael DeVita, who is making necessary a primary election for the Democratic mayoralty nomination in Paterson . . . And for the record — won't there be many, many Republicans casting a primary vote — for Joh Wegner?

PATERSON MIXUP — Little is being said about Downtown Paterson renewal which required the attention of so many public spirited men week after week for seven years. Just about where it was, the initial meeting . . .

That paid advertisement in the newspapers regarding the rooming house ordinance is just about five years too late. Conditions in Paterson require the sternest regulations and while we can commiserate with the landlords — on the over-zealousness of housing, health and electrical inspectors, at this late date, just think of the unfortunates who have been paying luxury rents for the most dismal hovels . . .

IT WILL TAKE — More than persuasion on the part of Passaic Commissioners to put through the $4.7-million dollar redevelopment program . . . And what didn't help was the ridiculous statement of several members of the Planning Board that at least the trimmed down version was better than nothing. For this you spend $1-million dollars of Passaic's money? If the plan is approved, look for several Commissioners to really take a beating in the coming election. From astute politicians, comes the information that approval of the $4.7-million dollar program could bring about a change in government . . .

HOW TO EQUATE — The 45 candidates seeking seven council seats in Clifton is puzzling to most folks who really are interested in sound government. If William Holster, the city man-

See For Yourself

We've been outspoken as of late about the fact that once the old buildings and open shafts are gone, there will be nothing left to remind us of the rich history of the Ringwood Mines.

And, although we still support with vigor a suitable designation of the mine area as a park or memorial of some kind, it might be well to note at this point that Ringwood does have a very fine State Park . . . two as a matter of fact.

Now, with the advent of warm weather, many people will be seeking places to spend leisure time. There's no place better than the Ringwood Manor State Park or Thunder Mountain. --

As far as historical lore is concerned, Ringwood Manor is well endowed. A tour of the mansion and surrounding facilities will prove most educational and valuable. And, if you're interested in picnicking, the trails around Ringwood Manor are among the best that can be found. Picture yourself and your family enjoying a picnic lunch only a few feet from a babbling brook in the midst of a beautiful forest.

At Shepherd Lake, the state has provided not only one of the best fishing areas, but also a fine playground for young and old alike. Swimming couldn't be better than at the spacious Shepherd Lake beach. The lodge has been re-worked and offers a complete menu for breakfast, lunch and dinner, as well as for snacks. At night, there's even dancing and entertainment.

Alongside the lake, there are many picturesque picnic areas, not to mention the play ground for youngsters. Atop the mountain is located one of the finest public skeet and trap shooting ranges in the nation.

Now that the weather's changing and we're seeking places to go to relax, put Ringwood Manor and Shepherd Lake high on the list.

A Day For Hoping

There are but a few days each year when giving thanks is more appropriate . . . today, Easter Sunday, is one of those days.

The meaning of Easter is universal, no matter the religious connotations. It is a day when all men recall what the resurrection of the one called Christ meant to the development of the world as we know it.

On this solemn day, in giving thanks and recalling the past, let us not forget to pray for those men who are today giving their lives so that we might remain free. May we also hope in those prayers that these same men complete their task so well that the threat of war may one day be erased forever.

Can We Avoid The Big War?

THE NEWS OF the past few months is trying insistently to tell us something. Events have had a common theme — of sudden reversals of political fortune in the new countries: seven African governments overthrown in three months, including that of the premier new country, Ghana; Sukarno divested of all but the name of power in Indonesia; demonstrations of South Vietnamese against us who fight to preserve their right to demonstrate.

If my decoders are working, the message is: Avoid over-close relations with the new countries as though they were plague-tainted. A great nation should not tie its prestige to them except in most unavoidable extremity. For whatever positive qualities they possess, they are also wholly unstable and unreliable. They rarely have the same purposes in foreign affairs that we have, and it takes but little adversity to produce fission and then collision with those closest to them.

The Chinese have suffered most grievously from not getting the message. The collapse of governments they had groomed as safe clients, in Algeria, in Ghana, in Indonesia, not to mention the blast from Castro who does not have many friends to alienate — these incidents have made close relations with China not coveted anywhere.

We have not really suffered yet. The cost of Viet Nam has reduced no man's standard of living in our rich country. Any casualties are too much, but ours there are but a fraction of our annual death toll from autos and lung cancer. However, the demonstrations in Viet Nam are a warning of a dusty future, unless we get the message.

OUR PROBLEM A-1 in foreign affairs for the past generation has been how to avoid a big war with Russia in this nuclear age without sacrificing anything of value. After many setbacks and mistakes we have succeeded. The Cuban missile crisis was a kind of climax. Since then we have drifted even farther from that war.

We now have a new Problem A-1. It will be with us for at least another generation, so we had better give it some hard realistic thought. It is, how to mitigate the explosive tendencies that exist in almost all the 60 or 70 new, semi-literate, impoverished, ill-led "emergent" countries, and tide them over this period of immaturity without letting them upset world order.

Almost certainly the main element in a solution is to equip the U.N. to meet their problems. We would participate as a loyal member of the UN, but do nothing more.

THERE IS A STRONGER tradition of international action than we have realized. Johns Hopkins has just produced a thick study recounting 68 acts of "international peace observation" by the League of Nations and the OAS and the UN. So there is a considerable experience to draw on.

UN umpiring of riots and civil wars and charges of foreign intervention in the new countries is not a starry-eyed hope. Russia, the chief obstacle to action, has been co-operating more, though admitting it less. She interposed no veto in the case of the Congo or Cyprus, and even took the lead in the Kashmir crisis. She is clearly a middle-aged revolutionary, no longer hopeful the neighborhood delinquents will work for her, and increasingly in favor of letting the police keep them under control. In 1964 Russia even proposed creating a permanent peace-keeping cadre in the UN.

In these new circumstances, a master-persuader like the President, with a superb negotiator like Ambassador Goldberg, could probably get a good deal more action out of the UN than either has tried to get so far.

Viet Nam still counts as an exception, as one of the dire extremities where things have gone so far we had to act unilaterally. But one cannot suppress the thought that even in this case we could get more from the UN than we are getting. A powerful President could go to the UN and talk to it like a Dutch Uncle: This is your organization, new nations, even as Dag Hammarskjöld said; you find a solution in Viet Nam that does not sacrifice its freedom of choice and we will hand it over to you to police. A resolute approach like this might win at least some moral support for proving we are ready to leave. At most it might produce a settlement.

As it is we are letting the UN languish like an unused muscle through the kind of crisis it was designed for.

Sowing Wild Oats

By Jerry Fuchs

THE DECISION OF MAYOR SISCO of Wayne to continue a partial water ban this week took courage. With the ban lifted by Governor Hughes and Conservation Commissioner Roe, leaving it to municipalities to make the ultimate decision, few mayors anywhere would risk antagonizing their citizens by placing restrictions. However, though the state government believes that the water problem has disappeared, Sisco says that he is not in complete agreement with this position.

AND SISCO IS QUITE CORRECT. No one can determine now what our water needs will be over the next few months. Last year this state went into the summer with no restrictions at all on water use for the first few months and wound up the summer with a complete water ban and almost a shut-down of industry. At the time it seemed inconceivable to me that we would go into the summer with no restrictions and face the possibility of a severe shortage around the corner. Now we are about to make that same mistake once again.

SISCO'S PARTIAL BAN is one that should be imposed by the entire state over every community until we know whether we can avoid a water crisis or not. It calls for residents with even-number houses to hose on even number days from 9 p.m. till 4 a.m. and the same with odd numbers. A few months ago, Commissioner Roe spoke to a group in Wayne about the improvement in water supply, but did not paint a rosy picture about the complete alleviation of problems. If New Jersey ends up with another complete ban during most of the summer months, with all kinds of conservation programs, it will be because we were not smart enough and conservative enough once again to anticipate a problem.

KILLER BEND WILL BE removed soon, says the Highway Department, and the news is welcomed by this newspaper. It has generally been agreed by all that the publicity and crusading articles carried by Matzner Publications was largely responsible for the decision, keeping constant pressure on our leaders and citizens who kept on the state officials. But judging by the way the Highway Department is proceeding with work on Route 46 and 23, it would be wise to watch these officials every step of the way. On Route 46, all this week, with one lane closed to traffic, no one thought about allowing automobiles to travel on the shoulder of the road by Two-Guys and Dover Furniture. There were no policemen in evidence to direct traffic and no consideration given to alleviate problems caused by traffic. The same is true on Route 23, near the 46 circle. The terrible conditions in this area will keep shoppers and business people from coming to the Wayne area. If the state highway authority will not provide policemen to maintain the flow of traffic, then Wayne Township must.

THE PASSAIC COUNTY DEMOCRATIC PARTY has offered $1,000 to the Republican Party if it can find a county sign with a "no tax" pledge on it voiced by the Demo candidates of 1965. The offer was made by executive secretary, Fred Ardis on Wednesday night. I have news for Mr. Ardis. Whether the GOP can and does prove that the statement was made, I remember the billboards and the advertising and the publicity and the speeches. All of the campaign fodder contained by county Democrats pedged the candidates against any new tax. No $1,000 offer can change what I and thousands of Passaic County citizens saw during the 1965 campaign and during the elections that came before. Mr. Ardis should fess up to the fact that the Democrats have changed their original stand, instead of trying to re-write history. It is not done so easily in this country.

THE PASSAIC COUNTY PARK COMMISSION is considering two West Milford tracts for a second county golf course. Nonsense, let's have facilities which will benefit all our citizens. What we need in Passaic County is a park with picnic facilities, animals for our children, boating for our teenagers, tennis for our sports minded, swings for the kiddies and green acres for everyone. Thunder mountain does not really meet these requirements at all.

DINNER HELD BY JOSEPH HIRKALA boosters in Passaic brought out close to 2,000 people one year before the commissioner election. It was a tremendous response to a young man who has served his community for most of his life. Most observers in the political know, predict that Hirkala will be running hard for the mayoralty without even aiming his sights at the number one spot. How can he miss with all his popularity. During the last election, he was the only candidate to recommend a study for a change in government. This year, everyone including the Taxpayers Association has jumped on the bandwagon.

Sixth Annual

Over 1,000 Children And Parents Participate In Easter Egg Hunt

WAYNE — Occasional rain drops and cold winds did not cool the enthusiasm of over 1,000 children and their parents who participated in the sixth annual Easter egg hunt held at the Anthony Wayne Jr. High Field last Saturday, April 2.

The 120 dozen eggs planted on the field had been boiled by the ladies of the high school cafeteria and dyed by the home economics department.

IN "SWAN LAKE" — Miss Louise Woolf, 16, of Ramapo Avenue, Pompton Lakes, has successfully auditioned for the Fair Lawn Ballet Company's forthcoming production of Act II of Swan Lake, in which she will dance the role of one of the four swans. The program will be presented May 15, at Fair Lawn High School as part of the first Fair Lawn Festival of the Arts. Miss Woolf, who has studied ballet since the age of eight, was originally with Veron Bowles of the Ballet Workshop, Newfoundland, New Jersey and she is presently studying under Lisan Kay noted dancer and choreographer at the Ballet Arts, Carnegie Hall, New York City. She also studied in London, England last summer with Erroll Addison of the Royal Ballet Company and is hoping to make a career of the ballet, whether it be dancing, teaching or both.

Assisting in the hunt were James McNicholas, commission chairman, who also acted as announcer; Nelson Graham, recreation director; Audrey Shauger, recreation commission secretary; her husband Harold and children Nancy and John; Guy Sabia, commission member and his son Robert; Emily Grossi, chairman of the hunt, and her children Janice, Peggy, Eileen and Nancy and friends, Kathy Henderson and Jack La Forge; and Mr. Bunny, himself, known on the commission as George W. Stewart. Members of the Shade Tree department roped off the field into two areas for the hunt.

Numbers were drawn and 78 prizes including stuffed animals and chocolate bunnies, chicks and eggs, were distributed to those having the winning numbers on their eggs.

In addition to those prizes, 48 stuffed bunnies were also awarded. These were contributed by Mrs. George Boland who had received them as one of the prizes she won on the T.V. show "Concentration".

The Commission wishes to thank everyone for their cooperation in making the hunt the success it was. Unfortunately, during the hunt, one of the microphones was broken and winning numbers for both fields had to be announced from one microphone, prolonging the affair.

One shoe and several parents became lost during the affair, but were eventually found by their owner and children who had been caught up in the excitement and anticipation of having the winning egg. There were no parents left unclaimed after the hunt was over.

The following children were winners in the designated areas:

Praise Youngsters For Aiding Expansion Fund

POMPTON PLAINS — The expansion fund of Chilton Memorial Hospital was enriched this week by $26.47, thanks to the showmanship of a group of Wayne youngsters residing in Lucas Lane.

The contribution represents receipts of a carnival put on last Fall. Games of skill were featured and the pennies, nickles and dimes were earmarked for some worthy cause. When the youngsters learned of the necessity for expansion at Chilton, the decision was made "to buy a few bricks."

In accepting the gift, Ruth Taylor, administrator, thanked the youngsters for "their thoughtfulness." She added: "It is a spirit of this kind that will make ultimate success of our expansion program possible."

Show directors were Suzanne Arndt, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Arndt, 30 Lucas Lane, and Sandra Van Wyk, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Van Wyk, 34 Lucas Lane.

Both directors gave special credit to two ten-year-olds, Allen, brother of Suzanne, and Dennis Christian.

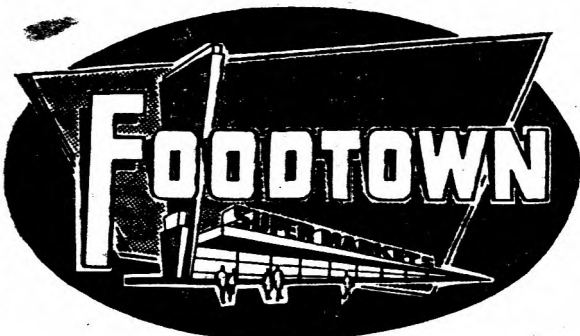

Other neighborhood youngsters helping were Donna York, Maureen Shmaydey, Chris Patterson, Jack Sullivan and Kathy Nuss.

Lilies At Rockefeller Center Herald Seasonal Floral Displays

The traditional planting of Easter lilies on Good Friday, and the unfurling of the 117 United Nations flags around the Lower Plaza, have opened the 1966 schedule of floral displays in the Channel Gardens at Rockefeller Center. The lilies are the first of ten seasonal displays which will conclude a two-part chrysanthemum show in September and October.

The 1966 plantings, seen by millions of New Yorkers and visitors to the city each year, will include a formal rose garden, always popular tulips, hydrangeas and azaleas, and new varieties of peonies and asters. During the summer months lush foliage will transform the area, which runs from Fifth Avenue to the Lower Plaza, into a tropical garden. Details on each display follow:

DISPLAY 1 — EASTER LILY SHOW

The traditional white lily is the star of the Easter show with more than 750 tall white lily plants, each bearing six to eight blossoms, filling the six garden beds. One hundred pink hydrangea bushes interspersed among the lilies add color contrast, and four large Kentia plants in the center tree boxes complete the holiday setting.

DISPLAY 2 — TULIPS AND SWISS PANSIES

The thousand tall Darwin tulips, in colors of red, white and yellow, with an underplanting of 2,000 large, varicolored Swiss pansies will create a sea of color in the gardens. Twelve large azalea bushes and twelve white birch clumps will add graceful height to the planting. Early flowering trees in the center tree boxes will complete this popular show.

DISPLAY 3 — CALCEOLARIA AND GENISTA

Calceolaria, a favorite Mother's Day plant and a newcomer to the Center's flower shows, will be featured in the third display. Six hundred multi-colored calceolaria will be bordered by 200 bright, yellow genista, and 24 lilac bushes will add fragrance to the gardens. Flowering trees will remain in the center tree boxes.

DISPLAY 4 — ROSE SHOW

The Channel Gardens will be transformed into a formal rose garden with 400 rose bushes on view. Included in the five varieties of tea roses will be Red Spice, Yellow Spice, Pink Spar-ton, Sonora and Orange Jingles. Thirty-six shell pink rose trees will add their beauty, and Japanese red maples in the tree boxes will complete the show.

DISPLAY 5 — PEONIES AND SEEDLING DAHLIAS

One hundred tall double flowering peonies - white, pink and red, with an underplanting of 1,800 multicolored seedling dahlias, will form a pathway of color in the gardens in the fifth display. Japanese red maples will remain in the center tree boxes.

DISPLAY 6 — CALADIUMS AND BROMELIADS

Fancy leaved caladiums, used many times in the summer tropical show but seldom featured, will be combined with bromeliads in the sixth display. A massed planting of 700 red and white caladiums will be planted to serve as a background for 14 bromeliad stump arrangements, set up on white marble chip bases, spotted around the garden beds.

DISPLAY 7 — TROPICAL SHOW

The ever popular summer tropical show will transform the Channel Gardens into a cool tropical oasis. Many varieties of lush foliage, plants and bright hued flowers will blanket the area, details of which will be announced later.

DISPLAY 8 — ASTERS with FUCHSIA AND LANTANA STANDARDS

Pink, blue and white asters, ranging in height from six inches to two feet, will be the prime eye-catchers of the eighth display. Eight varieties will be included in the 3,000 asters on view. For added color and height, 28 tall fuchsia and lantana standards will be planted among the asters.

Theunis Dey Students Interview Music And Dance Professionals

WAYNE — To further the close correlation between music and art in the Trans-Level Program, the fifth and sixth grades of Theunis Dey recently attended "The Marriage of Music and Dance," presented by the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra at Symphony Hall, Newark.

After the performance, Kenneth Schermerhorn, conductor, and Miss Renata Ober and Harold Conlon, dancers, were interviewed by the Theunis Dey students. The results of this interview will be found in the forthcoming issue of the school magazine, "Levels."

Following lunch at Brookdale Park in Montclair, the groups attended a gallery talk given by Mrs. A. Dillon at the Montclair Art Museum. The exhibit portrayed all of the award-winning pictures in New Jersey for the past 30 years. Mrs. Dillon illustrated her talk with examples drawn from the exhibit.

The teachers in charge of the trip were Mrs. Irwin Segal, Mrs. Herbert Califano, Stephen Iczkowski, Jack Kushner, and Mrs. Robert Beacham.

Parents attending were Mrs. Irwin Taub; Mrs. John Yeager; Mrs. Thomas Mieman; Mrs. Frank Bailey; Mrs. Walter Shenton; Mrs. Theodore Siedman; Mrs. Edward Millis; Mrs. Ronald Lagasse; Mrs. George Jupin; Mrs. Pasquale Macaluso; William Heatley; Mrs. Louis Strauss and Mrs. Jack Pfeiffer.

Elect Thieberg To Board of Trustees

WAYNE — Joseph Thieberg of Thieberg, Surosky & Co., accountants at 580 Valley Road, Wayne, has been elected to the New Jersey Symphony Board of Trustees.

Thieberg, who is president of the New Jersey State Board of Certified Public Accountants examiners, was named to the Symphony Board with five other new trustees.

S. Whitney Landon, retired vice president and secretary of American Telephone & Telegraph, was elected Symphony chairman. It was also announced that Governor Richard J. Hughes had accepted a post as honorary chairman of the Board and of the Symphony's Fourth Annual Ball, its chief fund-raising event, scheduled for April 29 at Symphony Hall.

A graduate of New York University and its Law School, Thieberg is married to the former Lillian Roemer and they have two children, Stephen R. and Jane.

Educable Class Goes To Market, Learns About Food Preparation

WAYNE — The children in Mrs. Van Dyken's Primary Educable Class in the James Fallon School have been studying food and its relationship to good health. They have been learning to recognize and classify foods and to know what a good breakfast, lunch and dinner means.

A lunch was planned and a shopping list made. Then a trip to the Valley Ridge Shopping Center was taken. There they became familiar with a large supermarket. The children met the manager and talked to some of the workers. They watched the packaging of meat. The different sections, such as the dairy, the bakery, the fruit and vegetable, the meat and delicatessen section were noted.

Each child was given money to pay for one item and received change from the cashier.

The preparation of the food involved shaping hamburgers by pressing the meat in a frame, and frying them in an electric fry-pan. It meant boiling water for the frankfurters and timing the heating process. Washing the fruit and setting the table were other activities.

As they all sat down to eat hamburgers, frankfurters, potato chips, fresh fruit and milk, all felt the trip was one they would like to repeat.

Better Than Ever

For more than 60 years, a savings account at Pompton Federal has been a safe and profitable venture. We anticipate it's going to be better than ever. A projection of earnings indicates that effective July 1, 1966, we shall be able to pay the new high dividend rate of 4 1/4 per cent per annum on all accounts of $50 or more.

We're happy about this. We know you'll be too. Running a savings and loan association is a very special business. It requires the talents of many people. Unlike our friends the butcher, baker and candlestick-maker, we can't run specials on our services. We can and we do, use our investors' funds to help others who require capital for a wide variety of reasons. That's why we're here — to help our community grow as Pompton Federal has grown — soundly, prudently, wisely.

And here's another plus for you. Savings accounts opened by the 15th of the month draw interest from the first. Makes sense to earn more. Dollars, too. Look at the calendar. You can still make it. Visit either office.

The Area's Week In Review

BLOOMINGDALE

Mayor Daniel Morse this week said he was awaiting word from state authorities on his charge of improper action by Borough Attorney Carmen Ferrante in countermanding a Borough Council order on sale of land due to a technicality.

The need for upper grade school facilities for Bloomingdale school children is facing the Board of Education which has been at work trying to "sell" their plan for a new elementary school.

Local residents were reported happy this week over Governor Hughes' lifting of the water conservation ban until May 31. Bloomingdale is in water critical Passaic County, but gets its water from Butler in Morris County.

BUTLER

Plans for a $150,000 addition and improvements to the Municipal Building and Clerk's office were approved Monday night by the Mayor and Council. Ordinances for the changes will be introduced for hearing later in the month.

The clerk's office will be enlarged in back and a second floor added over the entire building. The municipal building and firehouse will get new aluminum siding and a new council room entrance.

Furnishings are also included.

Happiest news for the taxpayers is that the financing is being done out of surplus from the light, water and general account and will not cause any tax increase or any bonding.

A tax bill mix-up caused a split vote of the governing body Monday when Mayor Clayton Brown wanted to refund $200 in taxes paid by Zita Harmon, sister of the late Fire Chief John Harmon, on property taxes but owned by Joseph Tintle.

The council decided that a similar case years ago had set a legal precedent and no refund could legally be paid. Miss Harmon was advised to try to collect the taxes from Tintle.

KINNELON

A three point tax rate reduction was the happy news borough officials and taxpayers received this week as Kinnelon became the only area town to show a reduction.

The borough fathers had hoped to hold the line at last year's rate despite increases in county and school requirements, but Thursday's welcome news of the three cent drop to $7.10 drew plaudits from Mayor Walter Nash and Council President William Heimburg for the co-operation of officials and taxpayers to achieve the stability of the tax rate.

Arrest of Norman Breslow, chief critic of the Baptist Seminary location at Smoke Rise, on charges he embezzled $129,770 from a Smoke Rise widow created a stir in town last week.

Breslow, Democratic leader in the predominantly Republican town, was freed in bail after spending four hours in the Morris County Jail last Wednesday. He has declined comment on charges he used the money entrusted to him by Mrs. Elizabeth Odgers. The case is awaiting Grand Jury action.

to April 14 after last week's preliminary hearing by the Planning Board. Chief source of complaints is the rezoning of a business area near the Hansen House to residential.

A split vote marked the Borough Council session when an ordinance relaxing the sprinkler requirements for offices in the industrial park passed three to two.

The Garden Club opened an "anti-litter" campaign for April.

Bids for the new firehouse on Yawpo Avenue were ordered received by the Borough Council on May 2.

A goal of $2,000 was set for the local cancer fund drive this month.

PEQUANNOCK

The planning Board indicated this week that it will oppose Wayne Councilman Edward Feddema's plan to re-align Route 287 from Wayne to Pequannock.

The Planners and the Township Council held a joint conference on the subject Thursday night.

Abe Janz will be asked by the Planning Board to reconsider his resignation from the board after a verbal tiff with Mayor Harold Lawrence over the Plains Plaza Shopping Center approval.

The mayor voted with the rest of the Planning Board to ask Janz to reconsider.

Mayor Lawrence indicated that the Township Council would name a new town manager Tuesday night.

POMPTON LAKES

Councilman James Herron issued a quarterly fiscal report of borough finances this week which was sharply critical of the former administrations' bonding and borrowing procedures.

The report, emphasizing the basic differences between Republican and Democratic financial policies, is expected to bring a retort from former Mayor Isadore Gelman and be a campaign issue.

The new member of the Borough Council named this week is Roy Thomas, who makes the governing body all-Republican for the first time since 1949.

Thomas was named by Mayor Jack Sterling to succeed the last remaining Democrat, Erwin Wuester, who resigned last month.

Five volunteers were added to the Citizens Advisory Committee as the group set about work on determining school expansion needs and the best way to meet them with a successful referendum.

The police were given a new blue police car this week-end and approval to hire a woman, Dorothy Moran, as the first woman police dispatcher for radio headquarters.

The Pompton Federal Savings and Loan Association announced an anticipated interest rate increase to 4 1/4 per cent July 1.

RIVERDALE

A meeting of the Board of Education was cancelled Tuesday when a quorum failed to appear.

Doris Brown, the former borough treasurer who quit when Republicans failed to give her a raise last year, resigned her school position to take a bookkeeping job with the Kinnelon Board of Education.

The Woman's Club heard an address of "Safety in the Car" by Kinnelon High School Driver Education Teacher William Smith.

WANAQUE

Mayor Harry T. Wolfe was joined this week by a political opponent, Democratic Leader Pat "Jud" Colicchio in fighting the Postal Department's plan to reduce the Haskell Post Office to a sub-station.

Since the retirement of Postmaster Anthony De Staffen last fall, the PO officials have been figuring how to consolidate the two second-class post offices at Midvale and Haskell and create one first class post office with Haskell as a sub-station.

Wolfe and the Borough Council went on record a month ago opposing the change and have written to federal officials after meeting with postal representatives.

Colicchio is starting a petition to be sent to the Postal Department.

WAYNE

The township council has up-dated the Master Plan by eight years in giving support to the State Highway Department's plans for a clover-leaf on Killer Bend. According to John Leidy, township engineer, construction will begin in the early part of 1967, after drawings and plans are completed.

The plans, however, almost ran amuck when Councilmen Harold Somerdyk, Walter Hoffmann, and Richard Marcus said the administration was proceeding too quickly and should consider the six alternatives.

Mayor Edward Sisco said he was in full support of the project, and urged the council to attend the hearing on May 3 at the municipal building. Sisco also reprimanded the Democratic councilmen for complaining the highway department takes forever to complete their projects. "Now that we are able to proceed with this plan, you want to forestall construction," he said.

Muddy water coming from faucets in Councilman Walter Jasinski's Third Ward prompted him to request the council to ask Newark officials for a notice on changes of reservoirs and pressure.

This move was prompted by "thinly diluted mud," Jasinski said, and that it continued for as long as a week. Investigation by Finley Neuburgh, director of Public Works, showed the muddy water came from a switch in reservoirs by Newark.

The motion, in the form of a letter, would be sent to Newark Mayor Hugh Addonizio and Business Administrator Frederick J. Biunno. It requests advance notice of any change in pressure as well.

After almost nine months, the garden apartment ordinance is about to be born. Councilman Leonard Pine announced at Wednesday night's council meeting that one final draft will be made. The ordinance is slated for presentation at the next council meeting on April 20.

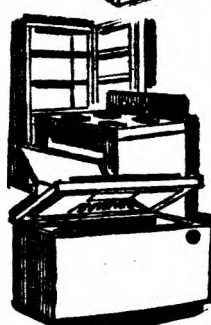

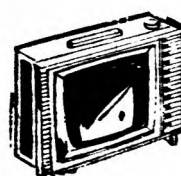

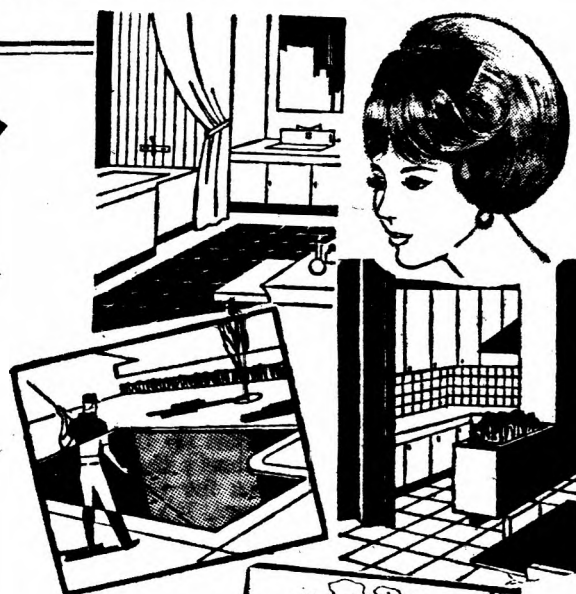

A metamorphosis of three stages has brought it to what it is now. At a meeting held last week, Pine, and Councilmen Harold Somerdyk, Walter Jasinski, and Ray Tumminello met with Murray L. Cole, attorney for the garden apartment owners. The purpose of the meeting was to get an objective point of view, Pine said.

If You Asked Me ...

By
T. P. Catri

DRIVING NEAR PATERSON State Teacher's College will bring you eye to eye with a tower with a weird looking metal structure that goes up about 150 feet toward space. I had a question from K. J. of Butler asking about the strange looking tower being built to the south of the college.

Do you really want to know what it is? Alright, it's a Repeater Station. What's a Repeater Station? Call it a bump-up station for long distance telephone calls. The tower is being erected by AT&T and New Jersey Bell Telephone.

Long distance calls are relayed by the seven "horn" reflectors on top while local calls are picked up on the two dish shaped units. I must admit I found out something about making long distance telephone calls while inquiring about the tower. Long distance calls go out on radio waves. How many thought they went out, from one end to the other, through a wire?

Telephone signals, like television signals, travel in a straight line. If there weren't any bump-up stations to pick up the signal, the signal would shoot right off the earth. Each station picks up the signals and bends them back down as it shoots the signal to the next station. Repeater Stations for telephone signals are spaced about 30 miles apart. It's all too complicated for me . . . the wonder of it all. If Alexander Graham Bell were around today I'll bet he couldn't figure it out either.

SAW INSIDE DAISY CLOVER the other night and saw nothing. That's the first movie to bore me in many a flick. Almost walked out on a couple slow spots, but didn't. After seeing the whole movie I wished I would have. No four-leaf clover, that one.

I did walk out on the ABC Jack Jones variety show on television last Tuesday night. I went as far as my typewriter to start this column . . . and when I give up the tube to do work, the program has got to be real bad.

MRS. R. T. WANAQUE asks: "On the entrance road to American Cyanamid Administrative Headquarters in Wayne, off Berdan Avenue, there is a sign near the north parking area that reads TRAILS . . . TO INDIAN TREE. What is the "Indian Tree" being referred to?

A: Since I can call on American Cyanamid it wasn't difficult to find out about the Indian Tree which is referred to on that sign. If you follow the trail on the left, as you walk into the woods you will find yourself on a mountain-descending journey down to where the tree is located. Don't wear heels (that's for the women) and make sure you're in pretty steady shape (that's for the men).

The tree is very different than any tree I've seen, and I doubt if anything like it exists anywhere else. Some time ago there was a small write-up on the tree in one of American Cyanamid's internal publications called POSTINGS, and it read: "BY THE BANKS OF MINNETONKA . . . Just west of the North parking lot on Cyanamid's property stands a massive, odd-shaped tree. It is the oldest and best known tree of its kind in Northern New Jersey. Called the "Old Indian Tree", it was bowed into an "L" shape when still a sapling by the Leni Lenape Indians to serve as a landmark to guide them back from their forays. Age is beginning to take its toll now, and because of its historical significance, Cyanamid, with the help of several conservation groups, is taking steps to preserve it."

The tree could be called two trees. There are two trunks, about five feet apart, that go straight up. Each trunk is about 30 inches in diameter and they are perfectly parallel to each other. At about 75 feet up each trunk the branches start, and we have two trees with one main root. The height of the tree is about 150 feet. The tree might have started out to be an "L", but it's now a "U". At the crown of the tree (just above the ground) there is a massive horizontal growth, a few inches off the ground, that makes up the bottom of the "U" shape of the tree. It runs over for about five feet and turns upward making the other trunk of the one tree.

If you take the time to look for the tree, you won't miss it. I doubt if the Indians missed it either.

JUST ANOTHER GRIPE: Going down rocky hills in shoes having leather soles and heels.

WHO SAID: "I shall pass through this world but once. Any good, therefore, that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any human being, let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

A: I don't know.

Honeywell Will Inform And Assist Wayne Concerning Drugs, Addicts

WAYNE — Identification of narcotics and drug addicts, and how to handle an addict was taught to Detective Sergeant

Ray Honeywell. After a two week sojourn in Washington, D. C., Honeywell graduated with top honors from a program designed to inform police officers of the increasing traffic in drugs.

Identification of drugs, Honeywell explained, is mostly a chemical process. Heroin, which looks like powdered sugar or flour, is dropped into a chemical solution, and if it's the real thing, it'll turn a certain color. The detective said that often in the drug trade, many substances are simulated for the real McCoy, and then sold as the good stuff.

Narcotics are made from opium, which has four or five other derivatives. There are also synthetic products used for medical purposes, such as demerol. Synthetic opiates also have other variations.

The most expensive narcotic, Honeywell said, was cocaine. The origin of this plant is South America. He explained that only laborers use it. "They chew it in its raw state. They just pick the leaves off the plants," Honeywell said. Called the coca leaf, there is no relationship to the cocoa plant which makes chocolate.

Marijuana is the most common plant, and has other uses besides as a narcotic. It is used also in the manufacture of hemp or rope. The leaves of this plant are ground up and smoked as cigarettes.

"A person who is a junky, or an addict, is not difficult to recognize," Honeywell said. He said the first thing to watch for is drowsiness. "You could be carrying on a normal conversation, and all of a sudden, the person would drop his head and begin dozing."

He continued that the most obvious symptoms are withdrawals. Honeywell explained that withdrawal usually develops when the addict needs a fix and isn't able to get it.

"Before we can begin to communicate with junkies, we must be able to speak their slang," the detective said. "They won't talk to anyone who can't speak it." The slang used is completely different than normal conversation.

Addicts are most conspicuous during the warm months, Honeywell continued. They are the only ones wearing long sleeve shirts, mainly to cover their arms, which show sores and scabs from using a hypodermic needle.

"People who are on drugs," Honeywell said, "find it completely degrading. They go completely downhill, until they can go no further. They cannot work, lose all normal body impulses and just live for the next fix."

The school of narcotics, which is handled by the Bureau of Federal Narcotics, is a very enlightening program, the detective said. "We know how to deal with addicts and what to do when we have them. The only problem," he continued, "is that once a person is a junky, it is difficult to bring him back to a normal life."

As a recipient of a certificate of achievement from the school, Honeywell will inform the community about drugs and addicts and will serve Wayne by handling drug addiction problems.

The Bureau of Narcotics endorses public information programs, Honeywell said. It is hoped that such a program will be set up in Wayne.

Hines' Biblical Drama Presented

Jerome Hines' sacred music drama entitled, "I Am The Way," a portrayal of the life and times of Christ, will be presented tomorrow, 8 p.m. at Montclair State College Memorial Auditorium, Upper Montclair.

Hines, the internationally known Metropolitan Opera basso of South Orange, will sing the role of Christ, and his wife, Lucia Evangelista Hines, concert artist and formerly of the New York City Center Opera, will portray Mary, the mother of Christ.

This 2½ hour sacred music drama, returning to Montclair after 2 years because of public demand, is being sponsored by 5 local civic and religious organizations:

The Montclair Fine Arts Festival Organization, Mrs. William J. Hanley, president and founder, a former ballerina with the Metropolitan Opera Ballet and coordinator for the 5 sponsoring groups; the West Essex Chapter of American Association of Retired Persons, Mr. Fred Keller, president; the Montclair Conveners, an inter-faith religious committee, The Right Reverend Monsignor Thomas Cunningham, Immaculate Conception, Montclair; Ministers Association of Montclair and Vicinity, Reverend Garret Roroda, Montclair Heights Reformed Church, president; and, Montclair State College Development Fund - Committee, Dr. Thomas H. Richardson, president.

These 5 groups will work in cooperation with Christian Arts, Inc., a non-profit organization founded by Mr. Hines for the purpose of putting the arts back into religion and religion back into the arts.

Mrs. Hanley stated, "These organizations are honored to endorse this first Passion Opera ever written, in which such a great artist has sung a role in his original work. If all persons took time to understand the cultures and philosophies of the international language of faiths and fine arts, we would move more closely to world peace and good will."

Whenever the opera is presented there is no admission fee. "I Am The Way" never has, nor will it ever be used as a means of financial profit. However, financial aid is solicited through free-will offerings and donations in order to defray production costs which invariably assume astronomical proportions.

About his opera, Hines has stated, "People come to see and hear 'I Am The Way' for several reasons: First, it gives some an opportunity to testify to their faith; second, others may come because they are interested in folk-lore and the theatre; third, others from mere curiosity to view a major work of art; or fourth, because the profound experience of a pious music drama, movingly alive and timely, speaks to an uneasy conscience astir particularly in 'good times', often from deep within the human soul."

Supporting Hines is a cast of well-known artists from the Montclair area, including Janice Matisse, mezzo soprano, as Mary Magdalene; Josephine Carpenter, soprano, as Martha; Richard Parks, Tenor, as John; John Leslie, tenor, as Judas; and Rev. Raymond McAfee, baritone, as Peter.

The Classic Library

By JACK CEASAR

By JACK CEASAR

Richard Strauss' symphonic poem, "Also Sprach Zarathustra," written in 1896, may not be the most popular work ever written, but it may well be the most powerful. Strauss (1864-1949), often called the last of the great romantics, was greatly criticized for the composition of "Also Sprach." The expressing of Nietzsche's philosophy, or anyone's philosophy for that matter, is regarded as an "impossible thing" in music. Whether or not it is, is of little or no consequence, for the work speaks for itself. From its impressive opening to its powerfully dynamic conclusion, the importance of this work fills the heart of the listener. One need not know the story behind the music.

Strauss was greatly influenced by the music of the great Richard Wagner, and this is exceptionally noticeable in "Also Sprach." But Strauss surpassed Wagner in his elaborate scoring. This work calls for a giant of an orchestra. As a matter of fact, this work is so tremendously full in sound that it requires very special handling, both in performance and recording. The Eugene Ormandy/Columbia version fills the bill perfectly. It offers an excellent reading on the part of Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra, and an equally remarkable piece of engineering on the part of Columbia. This is definitely my No. 1 choice.

The Fritz Reiner/RCA version is similar but lacks the thunderous opening. Even at that, it makes for an excellent 2nd choice.

Three other very good versions are Von Karajan/London, the Karl Bohm/Decca, and last but certainly not least, the brilliant young conductor Lorin Maazel/Angel.

Of the five versions you will not find one poor recording, so choose one — it is a work well worth having.

For the financing of said improvement or purpose and to meet the part of said $300,000 appropriation not provided for by application hereunder of said down payment, negotiable bonds of the Township, each to be known as "Municipal Garage Bond" are hereby authorized to be issued in the principal amount of $285,000, pursuant to the Local Bond Law of New Jersey. SECTION 3. The Improvement hereby authorized and the purpose for financing of which said obligations are to be issued, is the construction of a new building owned by the Township and known as Lot 2, Block 178, as shown on the Wayne Township Assessment Map, Adjacent to the Mountain View Sewer Plant, of a new building of Class A construction as defined in said Bond Law, for use as a Municipal Garage, including the acquisition and installation of the original furnishings and equipment therefor, and all work and materials necessary therefor and incidental thereto, and all as shown on and in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor on file in the office of the business administrator and hereby approved.

(b) The period of usefulness of said purpose within the limitations of said Local Bond Law and according to the reasonable life thereof computed from the date of the said bonds authorized by this bond ordinance is forty (40) years.

(c) The supplemental debt statement required by said Law has been duly made and filed in the office of the Township Clerk and a complete executed original thereof has been filed in the office of the Director of the Division of Local Government in the Department of the Treasury of the State of New Jersey, and such statement shows that the gross debt of the Township as defined in said Law is increased by this bond ordinance by $285,000 and that the bond obligations authorized by this bond ordinance will be within all debt limitations prescribed by said Law.

(d) An aggregate amount not exceeding $21,500 for items of expense mentioned in and permitted under Section 40A:2-20 of said Law has been included in the foregoing estimate of the cost of said improvement or purpose.

SECTION 5. The full faith and credit of the Township are hereby pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on the said obligations authorized by this on the Trenton Scene...

THERE WILL be a sales tax, make no bones about it and right on schedule—May 1. And credit Governor Richard Hughes with just about the slickest maneuver in many a political tug-of-war.

Said the Governor to the GOP spokesman Senator William Ozzard—"I don't think you could get five Republican votes for the sales tax program". Answered, Senator Ozzard, "I sure can". "OK prove it," said Governor Hughes. "I will," said Senator Ozzard. And there you have it.

At this writing Governor Hughes has more than enough Democratic votes to push through a sales tax. But why should the administration be the "bad one." Don't forget there's an election in November. It sure will be interesting to see how the Republicans get around that one.

In defense of the GOP and Senator Ozzard, it was inevitable that the sales tax move in and take over in the wake of the disaster which was the personal income tax. Governor Hughes merely took advantage of a twist in public thinking to turn defeat into victory.

REPUBLICANS MUST feel like the hungry lad that invaded the "chicken house" on a very, very bright evening; exposed to the farmer's shotgun.

No matter the result, the GOP will have a divided house come election day. Former Senator Charles Sandman will see to that. He's already whipping up the populace about the ridiculous position in which Senator Ozzard has placed the party. It just won't get resounding GOP support anywhere in the 21 counties.

Governor Hughes outsmarted

bond ordinance. Said obligations shall be direct unlimited obligations of the Township and the Township shall be obligated to levy ad valorem taxes upon all taxable property within the Township for the payment of said obligations and interest without limitation of rate or amount.

SECTION 6. This bond ordinance shall take effect twenty (20) days after the first publication thereof after final passage, as provided by said Local Bond Law.

Senator Ozzard and has a sales tax for the State of New Jersey. He has also won for the Democrats a decided edge in the coming election campaign. At least that is the thinking of observers at this time.

What will the sales tax mean for New Jersey. It will take the edge off the proposals by members of the Assembly for added tax levies on alcoholic and wine beverages; gasoline and tobacco. Actually the proposals were trial balloons set up by the administration to prod the Republicans into action on the sales tax.

The utilities, big business and industry are satisfied with a sales tax and for that reason the Republicans will find some solace in the brash action of Senator Ozzard that he could produce at least five GOP votes for the sales levy.

SENATOR OZZARD and the planners for his party refuse to accept the opinion of the observers. They claim it will work just the opposite. That the public will understand the maneuvering and support the Republicans. Well, it will be necessary to await that final tally on election day.

In the meantime, there is tremendous activity by the administration and the two houses, despite a brief recess. It's the midnight oil for the draftsmen of legislation, and the budget and financial experts. Starting tomorrow, there will be a series of meetings between tax assessors and the head of the State Treasury, and it should result in some very pleasant news for communities in Passaic County which are cringing under increased taxation. The purpose of the meeting tomorrow with the assessors is to work out the formula under which Passaic County municipalities will receive several million dollars in state aid. It could lower the tax rate considerably in such cities as Paterson and Passaic. For Paterson it could mean approximately 40 points in the tax rate.

The administration, with the aid of some Republicans, will also be changing the character of Chapter 51, which exits this year. Under the sales tax, the Chapter 51 will be revamped until its original concept will be completely forgotten.

THE SALES TAX will provide the state with current money and for that reason, a good portion will be returned to the municipalities. Whether the money the municipalities will receive will be sufficient to meet the demands for salary increases in the field of education and municipal labor, remains to be seen. But it will provide an easement for what could have been a most trying period for the majority of communities in the state.

"THE MIGHTY MIDGET"

THE WANT AD
Will Do the Job for You

I SELL ADVERTISING

I'm the advertising man.

I am the link between the people who want to sell and the people who want to buy. It is my job to bring people together—to bring people who want jobs to people who want help—to bring people who have lost a treasured possession to people who may have found it—to bring the person who seeks shelter to him who has shelter to offer—to bring buyer and seller together, as a carburetor mixes air and gasoline to produce a mixture latent with power.

I am an agent of progress. Who has built a better mousetrap? I am the signpost that directs the world to his door. Are there newer and better products, newer and better ways of doing things? Through me the world learns of them. In that way I serve progress.

I seek to be alert and aggressive. Opportunity is the goods in which I deal; I am trained to see it and to discover it. From the full-page display ad with its compelling message, to the tiniest liner with its whispered suggestion. I am ready to serve, and untold millions have found me useful.

They seldom credit me with being an educator. But I am. I teach new and better ways of doing things.

I am a gadfly constantly buzzing to prevent people from getting set in their ways.

HAROLD SOMERDYK'S suggestion that a study committee look into a change of Wayne's ordinances in an effort to attract new industry has been too long in coming. The township is lagging behind and should try to stimulate new industry with creative programs. This is also one reason to keep enough property aside for industrial and research parks and not go into residential zoning in the "New Wayne Area."

THOMAS CUPO, candidate to the Clifton council, is a dark horse running like an express train. In the last week, Cupo has picked up considerable strength with a whirl-wind campaign. This young man is the candidate to watch in this heated election.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERSHIP in Wayne did not do itself a service by ignoring recommendations of key men in town for a number of county and state appointments. This is not the way to build a strong, successful organization. One man rule does not succeed in politics and that is why the Democrats in Wayne were devastated in the last election. Those named recently were Arthur Zinkin to the Urban Renewal program in Paterson, Harry Butler to Camp Hope, Charles DeWalsh to the County Parks Commission, Daniel Weismann as a press aid and Ronald Breslow as legal aid to Commissioner Roe.

Mayor And Jud Concur On Post Office Issue

WANAQUE — Mayor Harry T. Wolfe, Republican leader, and Pat "Jud" Colicchio, Democratic leader and school board president, at logger heads over most issues, joined this week in fighting on the same side — against the Post Office Department's plan to close the Haskell Post Office and make it a branch of Midvale.

The mayor for the past month has been opposing the plan to make a sub-station out of the Haskell facility since the retirement of Tony De Staffen as postmaster last Fall.

The Borough Council has backed Wolfe's warning to the Post Office Department that the disbanding of the Haskell facility as an office and relegating it to sub-station status will be "fought with every weapon at the borough's command."

Whether Wolfe meant gaining the support of the Democratic leader was a "weapon" is unknown.

Finance Chairman Herron Blasts Past Municipal Fiscal Policies

POMPTON LAKES — Councilman James Herron, finance chairman, has issued a quarterly report which reviews municipal fiscal policies and is highly critical of past expenditure and borrowing procedures.

The text of the Herron report, which may figure in a sharp controversy at the next council session or in the campaign this fall, follows:

1—Since 1963 almost all the available cash surplus was used in the budgets for 1963 through 1965. Also, 1965 cash surplus was over-appropriated by more than $4,300. This policy left the borough with almost no working capital for the past few years and is not a recommended policy in municipal finance.

2—The rate of anticipated tax collections was also utilized almost up to the limit allowed by statute and in one instance was over-anticipated, in view of the previous years collection.

A policy of this nature tends to reduce the accumulation of a working capital for payment of claims and for support of future budgets and provides no reserve for contingencies.

3—The municipal budgets and audit reports indicated numerous emergency appropriations and over-expenditures since 1961. These items had to be raised by taxation in the succeeding year's budget. The water utility and sewer utility also contained items of over-expenditures which were required to be included in the next year's budget.

In addition, the borough had emergency appropriations of $8,500 for a tax map and $23,000 for a revaluation program, both of which were incurred without prior budget provision.

Thus, it can be seen that over $100,000 in deficiency appropriation and over-expenditures were incurred over the 1961 to 1965 period. This Deficit spending is not sound fiscal policy and every effort will be made to eliminate such practices.

4—A projection was also made of the 1965 budget appropriation reserves against which all 1965 bills paid in 1966 must be charged. A voucher for workmen's compensation insurance due November 1, 1965 in the amount of $6,808.20 was not included in the above as there was no appropriation balance remaining for payment of the bill, which should have been paid in 1965.

5—An item of $44,797.50 was received in 1963 from the Federal Government for planning fees in connection with the stage #1 sewer project. This item was treated on the books, as "Federal Receipt in Suspense." A letter dated October 28, 1964 from the Federal Government indicated that the amount of $44,797.50 was a grant to the borough and did not have to be repaid to the Federal Authorities. This money could have been used to reduce the outstanding sewer notes with a corresponding saving in interest costs. This money was not used to pay the note until February, 1966. It is estimated that the interest cost was about $1,300 for this delayed payment period.

A REVIEW WAS ALSO MADE OF OUR BORROWING PROCEDURES

The borough had temporary notes outstanding on December 31, 1965 of $20,000 which cannot be renewed after June, 1967. This means that the borough must pay these notes prior to June, 1967, or permanently bond the costs with the attendant high bonding and interest costs. It appears that it would have been much cheaper to have budgeted for these items before the expenditures were incurred.

Everyone is aware of the fact that the borough has been in default of the payment of some $123,000 in sewer notes since May 1965. This could do immeasurable harm to the borough credit rating and could possibly have been avoided.

Back in 1963, the borough borrowed over $2,200,000 for sewer construction when only a small portion of these funds were needed at that time. Had the borrowing been made on an "as needed" basis the statutory two year period would not have expired and the default would not have occurred.

In addition, it was found that appropriations for federal reimbursements had not been properly filed causing delays in receipt of Federal grant funds and the consequent incurring of additional interest charges.

This concludes my report for the first quarter of 1966.

Controversial Cases

Fireworks Expected At Board Of Adjustment Meeting On Thursday

RIVERDALE — Hearings on several cases are being scheduled before the Board of Adjustment Thursday night following opposition to them last year.

Also, the attorney in the controversial cases last year was John Greco who was named January 1 as borough attorney. He has had to publicly withdraw this year.

At the next session of the board, 8 p.m. Thursday, April 14, the owners of Neils Restaurant will seek a variance to erect a six-foot-high fence along its southern boundary line adjacent to the residential zone. In addition, the applicants seek exception to the 50 ft. buffer zone requirements and are applying for permission to pave and permit parking to the boundary line.

Last year residents on both sides of the property vigorously objected to the bright lights, noise and lack of fencing around the entire parking area. It was also indicated that a new addition to the restaurant did not comply with the zoning code. The application was withdrawn by Greco on behalf of the restaurant owners late last year.

Last month the board had applications from Anthony Drago to erect garden apartments on Mathews Avenue, and another from Shotmeyer Brothers of Hawthorne to erect a gas station on Route 23 at Evans Rd.

Both applications met with strong protests last year. Greco withdrew the Drago garden apartment request before a decision was rendered. The Shotmeyer application was denied by the board.

The firm subsequently was successful in Morris County Superior Court in upsetting the local zoning code which was the basis of the denial. Greco represented the firm in its suit against the borough.

US Should Aid Olympic Teams: Roukema

By JOE GOOTTER

A former ice-skating star, whose unflagging interest in the sport has spanned 30 years, Johnny Roukema emphatically urges government support and rapport to attain Olympian heights for this country.

"There is no reason why the United States could not excel in ice-skating as it does in so many other sports," the Prospect Park resident declared with the addition of an "IF." The big IF is based on cooperation extended from Washington, D.C.

"Our government takes a standoff attitude on subsidizing its athletes, and our Olympic squads are able to compete because we go begging for money through contributions every four years. Yet, while everybody here wants American teams to excel, conditions make it virtually impossible to compete on even terms with the squads from other countries.

"Those teams are financed by their governments, and the athletes are given practice time and funds to enable them full preparation. The big European countries, for instance, give their outstanding athletes time off from their jobs and continue to pay their salaries as well as covering their expenses. In that way, they can get enough practice to reach the Olympic Games at top form.

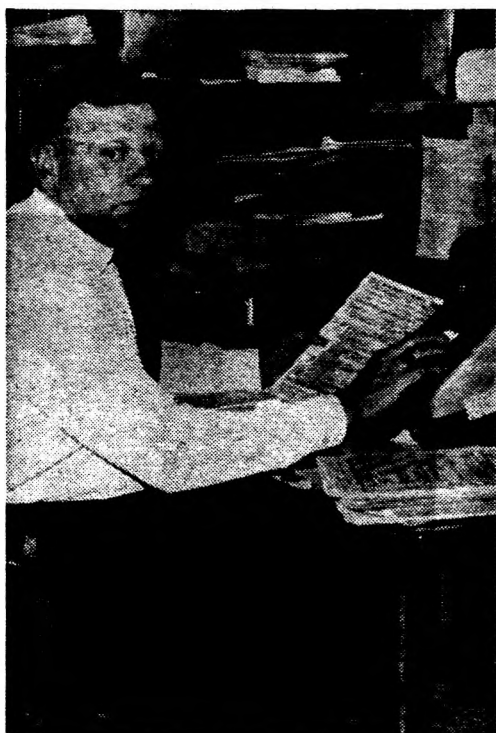

"On the other hand, our Olympic competitors have to get ready on their own time and in most cases, have to make personal sacrifices in time and money to prepare for qualifying trials and the Games. Many of our athletes even have to lose their pay for the time they are away from the jobs. So, we keep simon-pure amateur standards while in effect, athletes from other countries, are professionals. Yet, officially we want to win and realize the prestige which is acquired by good showings internationally..

Race Against Time

"It would be a much improved picture if the government would encourage and support our athletes in material ways instead of putting them on their own. Certainly, proper development in such sports as ice-skating would remove the unfairness of the present system. We should give our young prospects a chance to develop and to train under the same conditions which are provided for skaters from other countries."

Roukema goes on to finger another reason for American disadvantages in international skating competition. "Here, we stress racing against each other in the sort of spectator-appeal action which is preferred in this country. But in Europe, skaters race against time — which is a better test of speed and endurance — to emphasize the way victories are scored in the Olympics. How does it make sense to develop skaters one way and then have them race a different way when the Games come along?"

The blonde-haired speedster, born in Holland, came to this country when he was two and one-half years old. His father, a baker, settled in Prospect Park with his big family. As a youngster,

JOHNNY ROUKEMA . . . Before and After

Johnny used to skate on a neighborhood pond which was a summertime swamp given ice-covered dignity during the winter months. He was a winner in his very first race, a novice event at the Iceland rink in New York, above Madison Square Garden, when he was 16 years old.

Representing the Paterson Skating Club, he went on to capture the intermediate championship in the Silver Skates meet at the Garden in 1936. Two years later, he took the feature senior men's title in that annual event. He out in '39 when he fell over a block gone astray on the track, but he won the Champion of Champions race (for all previous men's senior Silver Skates winners) in 1940 and '41. In addition, he collected other triumphs including the Passaic County championship and the Middle Atlantic outdoor title honors.

A Carnival Sweep

Roukema was awarded a skating scholarship by Colby College at Waterville, Maine, in 1941. That year, competing in the Dartmouth Winter Carnival he performed a unique feat. The only skater from his college, he competed against a field which included 18 skaters from Dartmouth University and raced in all events, including elimination heats. Johnny won the 220, 440, half-mile, mile and two-mile races to capture the team trophy all by himself.

It was quite a day for Johnny, who brought back to Colby, besides the team prize, five king-sized trophies. The performance was right out of Ripley, believe it or not!

There was ample impetus for ice-skating success in North Jersey, especially the Paterson area, at the time. Besides Roukema, the section abounded in outstanding bladesmen such as Gil and Henry Swordsma, Herman Van Putten, Dick Werner, Frank Briggs, Bill Donnelly, Joe Dodds, and Ray Blum — all names which dominated the Silver Skates meets at Madison Square Garden for so many years.

Johnny, following sponsorship by the Paterson club, represented the Norwegian American squad, Gay Blades, and the Grossinger team. In 1942, he was drafted into Army service and remained in uniform for four years until discharged as Captain Roukema. During his first year with the armed forces, he was invited to compete in the Champions' race during the Silver Skates meet and with only a week of practice, finished second in that feature.

Unquestionably, he would have won sectional and national honors but bypassed virtually all those meets because they were held on Sundays when he never raced. Deeply religious, John attends Second Christian Reformed Church in Prospect Park.

Closely-Knit Family

The Roukemas are firmly entrenched in that borough which attracted so many residents of Dutch descent years ago. Johnny still lives on the same street (North 17th) where the family settled originally. His father died in 1943, but his mother, 85 now, occupies a house a half-block from Johnny's residence along with his brother, Andrew.

Another brother, Jacob lives downstairs in the same house and another brother, Bert lives next door with his wife and family. Peter is only a block away. The youngest, Richard, lives the furthest distance away — Ridgewood, where he is a doctor specializing in psychiatry.

Richard was a skater, too, and following the war years, he and Johnny (who both were students at Rutgers University at the time, represented the college in the Dartmouth Carnival skating meet.

Johnny, who heads an accounting firm, is married and has two children: Charles, 16, and Beth, 13. They like skating but not in competition. The entire family goes skiing at Lake Placid during the Christmas holidays every year. Dad, now 47 years of age, hasn't given up skating though. He still was a Monday-night regular at the Willowbrook rink in Wayne. He also manages to indulge in other athletic activity (volleyball, swimming, and bike-riding). Principal objective: keeping his weight under control. He has added some 10 pounds since finishing his active competitive career.

As for the skating situation locally, Johnny is sorry to see the decline of the sport in this area. "The enthusiasm doesn't seem to be there now," he shrugs. "Most of the youngsters don't care to work hard at training. They like skating, but not the work that goes with it. I remember how hard we went at it, riding a bike all summer long to keep legs in condition, then racing four times a week through the winter months. It took a lot of effort to be physically right for racing and most of the youngsters don't want to provide that sort of sacrifice."

A symbol of the times.

5—An item of $44,797.50 was received in 1963 from the Federal Government for planning fees in connection with the stage #1 sewer project. This item was treated on the books, as "Federal Receipt in Suspense." A letter dated October 28, 1964 from the Federal Government indicated that the amount of $44,797.50 was a grant to the borough and did not have to be repaid to the Federal Authorities. This money could have been used to reduce the outstanding sewer notes with a corresponding saving in interest costs. This money was not used to pay the note until February, 1966. It is estimated that the interest cost was about $1,300 for this delayed payment period.

A REVIEW WAS ALSO MADE OF OUR BORROWING PROCEDURES

The borough had temporary notes outstanding on December 31, 1965 of $20,000 which cannot be renewed after June, 1967. This means that the borough must pay these notes prior to June, 1967, or permanently bond the costs with the attendant high bonding and interest costs. It appears that it would have been much cheaper to have budgeted for these items before the expenditures were incurred.

Everyone is aware of the fact that the borough has been in default of the payment of some $123,000 in sewer notes since May 1965. This could do immeasurable harm to the borough credit rating and could possibly have been avoided.

Back in 1963, the borough borrowed over $2,200,000 for sewer construction when only a small portion of these funds were needed at that time. Had the borrowing been made on an "as needed" basis the statutory two year period would not have expired and the default would not have occurred.

In addition, it was found that appropriations for federal reimbursements had not been properly filed causing delays in receipt of Federal grant funds and the consequent incurring of additional interest charges.

This concludes my report for the first quarter of 1966.

Controversial Cases

Fireworks Expected At Board Of Adjustment Meeting On Thursday

RIVERDALE — Hearings on several cases are being rescheduled before the Board of Adjustment Thursday night following opposition to them last year.

Also, the attorney in the controversial cases last year was John Greco who was named January 1 as borough attorney. He has had to publicly withdraw this year.

At the next session of the board, 8 p.m. Thursday, April 14, the owners of Neils Restaurant will seek a variance to erect a six-foot-high fence along its southern boundary line adjacent to the residential zone. In addition, the applicants seek exception to the 50 ft. buffer zone requirements and are applying for permission to pave and permit parking to the boundary line.

Last year residents on both sides of the property vigorously objected to the bright lights, noise and lack of fencing around the entire parking area. It was also indicated that a new addition to the restaurant did not comply with the zoning code. The application was withdrawn by Greco on behalf of the restaurant owners late last year.

Last month the board had applications from Anthony Drago to erect garden apartments on Mathews Avenue, and another from Shotmeyer Brothers of Hawthorne to erect a gas station on Route 23 at Evans Rd.

Both applications met with strong protests last year. Greco withdrew the Drago garden apartment request before a decision was rendered. The Shotmeyer application was denied by the board.

The firm subsequently was successful in Morris County Superior Court in upsetting the local zoning code which was the basis of the denial. Greco represented the firm in its suit against the borough.

US Should Aid Olympic Teams: Roukema

By JOE GOOTTER

A former ice-skating star, whose unflagging interest in the sport has spanned 30 years, Johnny Roukema emphatically urges government support and rapport to attain Olympian heights for this country.

"There is no reason why the United States could not excel in ice-skating as it does in so many other sports," the Prospect Park resident declared with the addition of an "IF." The big IF is based on cooperation extended from Washington, D.C.

"Our government takes a standoff attitude on subsidizing its athletes, and our Olympic squads are able to compete because we go begging for money through contributions every four years. Yet, while everybody here wants American teams to excel, conditions make it virtually impossible to compete on even terms with the squads from other countries.

"Those teams are financed by their governments, and the athletes are given practice time and funds to enable them full preparation. The big European countries, for instance, give their outstanding athletes time off from their jobs and continue to pay their salaries as well as covering their expenses. In that way, they can get enough practice to reach the Olympic Games at top form.

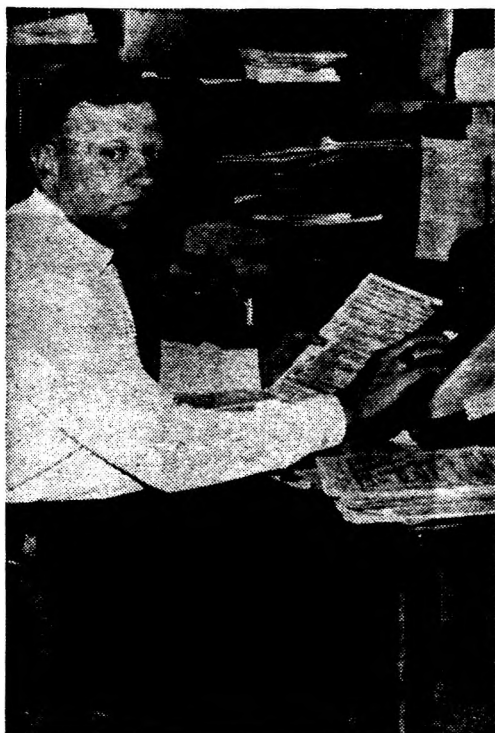

"On the other hand, our Olympic competitors have to get ready on their own time and in most cases, have to make personal sacrifices in time and money to prepare for qualifying trials and the Games. Many of our athletes even have to lose their pay for the time they are away from the jobs. So, we keep simon-pure amateur standards while in effect, athletes from other countries, are professionals. Yet, officially we want to win and realize the prestige which is acquired by good showings internationally.

Race Against Time

"It would be a much improved picture if the government would encourage and support our athletes in material ways instead of putting them on their own. Certainly, proper development in such sports as ice-skating would remove the unfairness of the present system. We should give our young prospects a chance to develop and to train under the same conditions which are provided for skaters from other countries."

Roukema goes on to finger another reason for American disadvantages in international skating competition. "Here, we stress racing against each other in the sort of spectator-appeal action which is preferred in this country. But in Europe, skaters race against time — which is a better test of speed and endurance — to emphasize the way victories are scored in the Olympics. How does it make sense to develop skaters one way and then have them race a different way when the Games come along?"

The blonde-haired speedster, born in Holland, came to this country when he was two and one-half years old. His father, a baker, settled in Prospect Park with his big family. As a youngster,

JOHNNY ROUKEMA . . . Before and After

Johnny used to skate on a neighborhood pond which was a summertime swamp given ice-covered dignity during the winter months. He was a winner in his very first race, a novice event at the Iceland rink in New York, above Madison Square Garden, when he was 16 years old.

Representing the Paterson Skating Club, he went on to capture the intermediate championship in the Silver Skates meet at the Garden in 1936. Two years later, he took the feature senior men's title in that annual event. He out in '39 when he fell over a block gone astray on the track, but he won the Champion of Champions race (for all previous men's senior Silver Skates winners) in 1940 and '41. In addition, he collected other triumphs including the Passaic County championship and the Middle Atlantic outdoor title honors.

A Carnival Sweep

Roukema was awarded a skating scholarship by Colby College at Waterville, Maine, in 1941. That year, competing in the Dartmouth Winter Carnival he performed a unique feat. The only skater from his college, he competed against a field which included 18 skaters from Dartmouth University and raced in all events, including elimination heats. Johnny won the 220, 440, half-mile, mile and two-mile races to capture the team trophy all by himself.

It was quite a day for Johnny, who brought back to Colby, besides the team prize, five king-sized trophies. The performance was right out of Ripley, believe it or not!

There was ample impetus for ice-skating success in North Jersey, especially the Paterson area, at the time. Besides Roukema, the section abounded in outstanding bladesmen such as Gil and Henry Swordsma, Herman Van Putten, Dick Werner, Frank Briggs, Bill Donnelly, Joe Dodds, and Ray Blum — all names which dominated the Silver Skates meets at Madison Square Garden for so many years.

Johnny, following sponsorship by the Paterson club, represented the Norwegian American squad, Gay Blades, and the Grossinger team. In 1942, he was drafted into Army service and remained in uniform for four years until discharged as Captain Roukema. During his first year with the armed forces, he was invited to compete in the Champions' race during the Silver Skates meet and with only a week of practice, finished second in that feature.

Unquestionably, he would have won sectional and national honors but bypassed virtually all those meets because they were held on Sundays when he never raced. Deeply religious, John attends Second Christian Reformed Church in Prospect Park.

Closely-Knit Family

The Roukemas are firmly entrenched in that borough which attracted so many residents of Dutch descent years ago. Johnny still lives on the same street (North 17th) where the family settled originally. His father died in 1943, but his mother, 85 now, occupies a house a half-block from Johnny's residence along with his brother, Andrew.

Another brother, Jacob lives downstairs in the same house and another brother, Bert lives next door with his wife and family. Peter is only a block away. The youngest, Richard, lives the furthest distance away — Ridgewood, where he is a doctor specializing in psychiatry.

Richard was a skater, too, and following the war years, he and Johnny (who both were students at Rutgers University at the time, represented the college in the Dartmouth Carnival skating meet.

Johnny, who heads an accounting firm, is married and has two children: Charles, 16, and Beth, 13. They like skating but not in competition. The entire family goes skiing at Lake Placid during the Christmas holidays every year. Dad, now 47 years of age, hasn't given up skating though. He still was a Monday-night regular at the Willowbrook rink in Wayne. He also manages to indulge in other athletic activity (volleyball, swimming, and bike-riding). Principal objective: keeping his weight under control. He has added some 10 pounds since finishing his active competitive career.

As for the skating situation locally, Johnny is sorry to see the decline of the sport in this area. "The enthusiasm doesn't seem to be there now," he shrugs. "Most of the youngsters don't care to work hard at training. They like skating, but not the work that goes with it. I remember how hard we went at it, riding a bike all summer long to keep legs in condition, then racing four times a week through the winter months. It took a lot of effort to be physically right for racing and most of the youngsters don't want to provide that sort of sacrifice."

A symbol of the times.

DANNY WILLIAMS JR. JOINS DAD AS KNOLL GOLF CO-PRO

BOONTON — That father and son team of Danny Williams Sr. and Danny Williams Jr. will be back hard at work in the area again, once the golfing season gets into full swing.

Danny Jr. is returning to The Knoll, here, to work with his father as co-professional. Actually, Danny Sr. will still remain top pro at The Knoll while Williams Jr. will head the Knoll East Country Club.

Danny Jr. is no stranger to The Knoll. He was as assistant to his father from 1946 to 1952 before he left to take the head job at Rockaway River. Danny Jr. returned to The Knoll in 1955, assuming the position of co-pro. He stayed at The Knoll until 1961 when he was awarded the head position of professional at Glen Fall Country Club. Now he's back at The Knoll for his third visit.

Williams Jr. has competed in several top metropolitan tournaments on a number of occasions. Among the tournaments he has competed in are: the New Jersey State Pro-Am Championships; the New Jersey State Pro-Lady Championships; the New Jersey State Pro-Pro Championships; the North Eastern New York PGA Championships; and the North Eastern New York Pro-Junior Championships.

Danny Williams Jr. has four children, including 15-year-old Danny Williams III. And it looks like Williams III is going to end up in the same profession. He's currently shooting in the low 80's.

reload the sacks.

Then Bob Kirk cracked a single up the middle for the final two runs in the frame, Charlie Williams flyed deep to left to end the chapter.

Palazzo opened the fifth frame for the Bombers, reaching base on an infield error. He promptly stole second base and scored on Merchak's chop-single up-the-middle.

Randolph finally threatened to score in the final go-round. Gregory Wilhelm led off with a single to center. After Tredway struck out Gordon Raupp, Booth reached base on an infield miscue, to put men on first and second with just one away. But Tredway bore down and fanned Al Herklotz and Jack Leather to end the contest.

Booth, who lasted four frames, struck out three and walked three while giving up three hits. John Turner finished up for Randolph, giving up the one more run on one hit.

Passaic-Clifton 'Y' Team Snaps Mark

PRINCETON — Rob Sanders of Pompton Lakes, Allen Clancy, of Wayne, Gary Duschl, of Cedar Grove and Mike Jackson, of Passaic, representing the Passaic-Clifton YMCA Medley Relay Team broke the National YMCA record last week in the Central Atlantic Meet at Princeton University Pool, here. The boys had a time of 1:01.3 while the old national mark was 1:01.9.

Heading the list of contenders will be Jud Larson, of Speedway, Ind., the current point-leader and winner of the March 27 Reading opener.

Larson, who finished third at Eldora Speedway in his most recent outing, also picked up a 1965 Reading victory and finished fourth in the final point standings.

LUCKY DEBONAIR'S BACK

Trout Will Be Restocked In NJ Waters Next Week

TRENTON — Re-stocking of trout in New Jersey waters will commence next week, according to the Division of Fish and Game in the Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

More than 220,000 adult trout were released prior to yesterday's opening day in waters open to public fishing throughout the state. The break in the stocking schedule during the first week of fishing will permit personnel of the Charles O. Hayford State Hatchery to pick up additional trout from national fish hatcheries and to re-sort the fish on hand for in-season stocking.

All waters on the stocking list will be restocked at least twice before Memorial Day. Total liberations are expected to exceed half a million adult trout.

Major and medium-sized streams and lakes will be closed to fishing on the day of stocking. This policy is aimed at providing an equal opportunity for all anglers to fish freshly stocked waters at 5 a.m. on the following day.

SPORTS...

By JOE GOOTTER

Say this for the much-publicized holdout seige of the Messrs. Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale, the Los Angeles Dodgers' pitching aces: they produced some mighty funny gags around the circuit. Actually, two circuits — baseball and entertainment.

On the diamond stage, the humor was based on various players deciding they would emulate the mound aces and do their holdout stunts in duplicate from here on in, with impossible combinations providing the laughs. Players such as Phil Linz, Lou Johnson (the Lou-come-lately of the Dodgers whose initials are LBJ) and the like would indicate their intentions of teaming up with super-stars in future demands. On the Yankees' roster, they all wanted to go buddy-buddy with Mickey Mantle in any contract negotiations. The laughter was compounded when Sandy and Don indicated they would turn television actors.

Somebody pointed out that since Koufax and Drysdale had been given such handsome salary bonanzas estimated around $240,000, they could sit out the season and hire Whitey Ford to pitch for them! And so on.

But I liked best the gag Jackie Gleason offered as he declared that he's been in secret conferences with Red Skelton and they plan to hold out on their television network, CBS next season and ask 10 million dollars for both of them.

"If we don't get it," Jackie punchlined, "We'll sit out the television season and play baseball."

Right On His Pins

Todd Vander May, 18-year-old Little Falls lad who has been one of the area's more successful young bowlers, won the Greater Paterson Junior Chamber of Commerce bowling championship the third year in a row recently. He won the right to qualify for the state eliminations at Edison as a result, and although unable to attain top form in that event, did himself proud.

Todd, whose father, George is the popular Little Falls Laundry executive and sports enthusiast—sponsor, also played varsity football at Passaic Valley High School. He will attend Bradley University, Ill., starting in September.

Big "O" Makes Trouble

Oscar Robertson, better known as "Big O" really engineered a big hassle recently. He telephoned his "old" Olympic teammate, Cassius Clay and told the heavyweight boxing champion: "I got somebody who can whip you."

"Not me," said modest Cassius. "Nobody can whip me."

"This guy can," Oscar insisted.

It developed that Oscar's candidate for heavyweight champion Clay was his unsuspecting teammate, Wayne Embry. Declared the unhappy Embry: "If Clay ever sees me, he won't say hello. He'll rap me right on the jaw."

Gloom in Beantown

There can't be any worse job in major league baseball than being manager of the Boston Red Sox — not even including the dubious driver's seats at Houston and at Shea Stadium, home of the New York Mets. So, that leaves Billy Herman with plenty of reason to reach for the aspirin as he bosses the Beantown club in the American League.

He's been reported as headache-happy in the exhibition season even to the point of ordering extra workouts. But there's little reason to hope that conditions can improve. The Red Sox go from worse to worse. And it reach worstest.

It's all ironic — to the extreme — because the club's gentlemanly owner, Bob Yawkey has poured so much money into the operation without showing any benefits. There's a good reason. The team had a woe-full front office, poor managers, and the conditions show no signs of improving. Even Joe Cronin who was a great player, was a horrible manager. What did he get as a reward for his poor record?

Just the job of being American League president, that's all. It just proves that sometimes nothing succeeds like failure.

Pequannock Rec Rewards Bowlers, Rookie Wrestlers

POMPTON PLAINS — Pequannock Township winter recreation activities ended last week with the presentation of trophies and ribbons at Pequannock High School, here.

The bowling program for girls from the third through the eighth grade was conducted at the T-Bowl, in Wayne, every Saturday afternoon during January, February and March. The girls were divided into three leagues: third - fourth grades; fifth - sixth grades; and seventh - eighth grades. The T-Bowl donated two trophies for each league — one for high series and one for high game.

The recipients this year were:

Wendy Foote, third-fourth grade high series; Karen Garrett, third-fourth grade high game; Tara Zidonik, fifth-sixth grade high series; Barbara Parr, fifth-sixth grade high game; Shelly Beatty, seventh-eighth grade high series; and Evelyn Baugh, seventh-eighth grade high game.

Bowling pins, also donated by the T-Bowl, were given to the following girls for perfect attendance: Debbie Crist, Maureen Cunningham, Karen Garrett, Suzanne Marcus, Patty Penhale, Jill Sarli, Wendy Foote, Linda Heykoop, Jane Jacoby, Debbie Little, Susan Owens, Barbara Parr, Diane Sharpell, Chris Uhre, Donna Arnold, Evelyn Baugh, Shelly Beatty, Jane Sackamnn, Laura Sanson, Carol Kennedy.

Mrs. Elizabeth Eley, Recreation Director, was assisted by Donna Shay and Martha Zachariasen, students at Paterson State College.

The Wrestling Program for boys from the fifth through eighth grades were held for the first time this year. It was conducted by Pequannock High School wrestling Coach Hank Karsen. Eliminations were held the past two weeks and first, second and third place ribbons were presented to the boys in the following weight groups:

(60-70 pounds) Won by Dave Kennedy; second, Bill Jacoby.

(70-75 pounds) Won by Steve Fiedler, second, Paul Havemann; third, Bob Lambione.

(75-80 pounds) Won by Gerry Hillier; second, Jim Curry; third, Ken Leonard.

(80-90 pounds) Won by Gary Staenton; second, Rick Kastner; third, Fred Finoccharo.

(90-100 pounds) Won by Gary Southard; second, Steve VanOrdt; third, Kevin Drury.

(100-110 pounds) Won by Dan Marleno; second, Ted House; third, John Murtha.

Gunderman Named Lakeland Grid Coach

By KNUTE ROBERTS

WEST MILFORD — "I feel bad about leaving here," said Bob Gunderman, "but we had been planning on moving to Sussex County. Then along came the new job and I liked the terms."

This is the way West Milford High's pioneering football coach put it, after the Lakeland Regional High School Board of Education, of Wanaque, announced it had signed Gunderman as head football coach for the 1967 school year.

Gunderman mused, "I wouldn't mind taking a few of these (West Milford) boys with me."

The giant-sized man, who once played end for the Pittsburgh Steelers (1957), feels that he's going to leave the Highlanders with some good talent and a good feeling. Although West Milford sported only a 2-6-1 mark in '65, Gunderman's coaching of green talent was amazing and the club almost pulled the upset of the year against Pequannock.

Gunderman has been the first and only varsity grid mentor West Milford has known. He took over five seasons ago and led the frosh group to a 7-0 record. The following campaign they debuted in varsity ranks (0-9), came up with a 2-6 mark in 1963 and then struck it rich (7-2) in 1964. Prior to taking over at the then new West Milford school, Gunderman had a 5-4-1 mark at Dickinson High, Jersey City.

Calling numbers like a quarterback, big Bob said: "I'm 23-27-1 and expect to reach the .500 (coaching) record this season."

This means Gunderman intends to win at least four games in 1966. It will be good news to Lakeland since the Wanaque gridders went through 18 consecutive contests over a three-year span without a victory until upsetting Kinnelon, 21-18, in the final outing of '65.

Gunderman will succeed Dave Pooley, who handled the Lancers last fall. Prior to Pooley Dave Viviano was head coach for three seasons and Bob Smith, now Lakeland's athletic director, was top mentor from 1958 to 1961.

In addition to coaching football and serving as an assistant in track, Gunderman will teach biology and general science at Lakeland.

Pooley apparently will leave the Lakeland system and the West Milford job is up for grabs. It could be that Pooley may apply at West Milford where Charlie Zilinski, Gunderman's former top assistant and line coach, has the inside track on the vacancy.

PVC Tilts Top Slate Tomorrow

The area high school baseball schedule, idle for the three-day Easter break except for Boonton and Randolph, hippety-hops into full swing tomorrow and Tuesday.

Six games are on tap tomorrow, including three Passaic Valley Conference contests, and nine more contests are scheduled Tuesday.

JFK Meets Garfield

Kennedy appears to have the toughest assignment in the PVC. The Knights are scheduled to visit Garfield, which will probably send its ace hurler, Jay Ryan, to the mound. The Paterson school will counter with Jake VanLoon.

Kennedy was three-hit by East Paterson in its opener last week, and appears to have offensive problems.

East Paterson, meanwhile, will visit Passaic and Eastside will trek over to Clifton. The Undertakers, a powerhouse in PVC basketball, were one-hit in their debut last week.

Wayne Plays

In other action tomorrow, all of the non-league variety. Eastern Christian will encounter always-strong Don Bosco Tech at Totowa Oval. Wayne plays host to Hanover Park in an "early" 1 p.m. contest, and St. Bonaventure's, fresh off an opening day rout of Passaic County Tech, visits Holy Trinity in Westfield.

Skyline Play Heavy

Skyline Conference plays dominates the scene Tuesday. In Skyline tilts, Butler visits Sparta, Kinnelon ventures to West Milford, and Pequannock encounters Lakeland in a key contest.

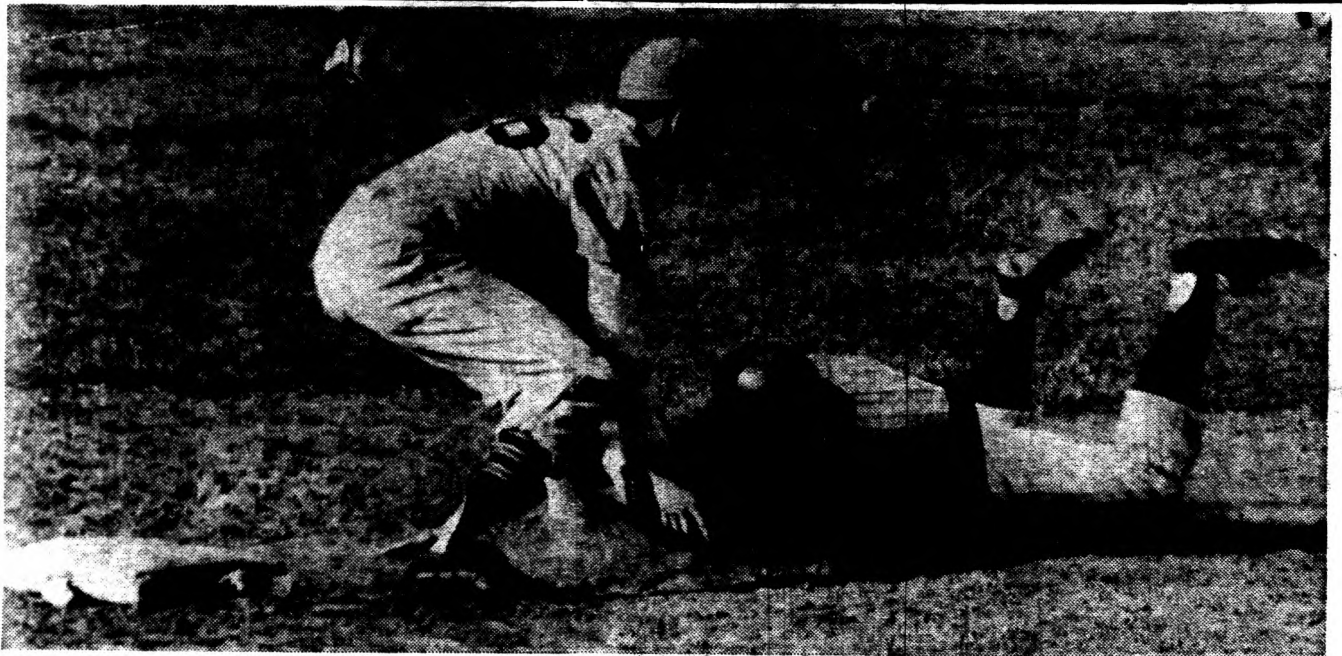

Over in the Jersey Hills Conference, Boonton, a 5-0 winner over Randolph Friday, entertains Livingston.

Both of the area's schools in the Northern Bergen Interscholastic League are in action. Indian Hills hosts Waldwick in a non-loop test while Ramapo plays at Pascack Hills in a NBIL fray.

Play 25 Games

Don Bosco Tech begins its chase after the Paterson Catholic Conference pennant when it meets St. Joseph's at Eastside Park, Paterson. The Rams, coached by Bill Kehoe, play the biggest schedule of any area team this season — 25 games.

Jefferson, in its first varsity season, ventures to Morris Catholic in Devils, for the other contest set Tuesday.

Arentowicz has just singled, but was caught trying to take a big lead. Arentowicz' single was only one of three hits Tredway allowed as he blanked Randolph, 5-0. BOONTON — Although most schools postponed their baseball schedules in observance of Good Friday until tomorrow and Tuesday, Boonton and Randolph clashed in a non-loop contest here Friday.

When the dust had settled the Bombers' Lee Tredway had chalked up a three-hit, 5-0, victory over the visitors, who were opening their '66 diamond campaign. The win was Boonton's second in as many outings.

The Bombers return to the Jersey Hills Conference wars Tuesday, when they visit Livingston.

Tredway was near perfect. Besides allowing just three safeties, he struck out 13 and did not issue a base on balls.

Tredway, a lefty, watched his mates tally four big runs in the third frame to just about ice the verdict. The Bombers collected their other tally in the fifth inning.

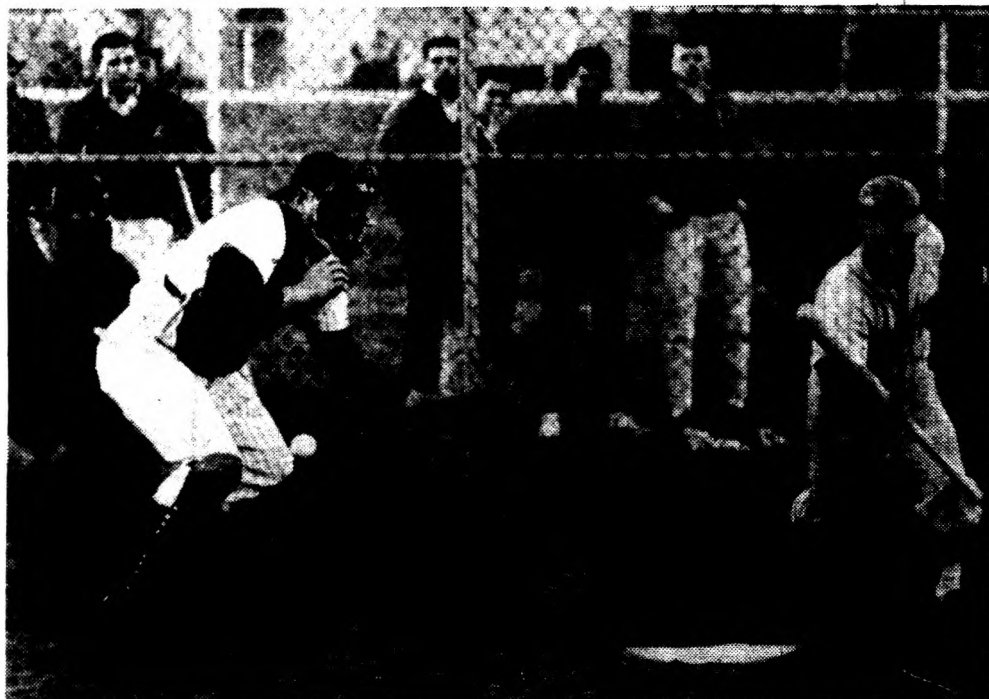

Pete Booth, who suffered the hill loss, gave up a single safety in that fourth run third. But two walks, two hit batters, and a throwing error were costly for the visiting Randolph squad.

Tredway Walks

Tredway, of all people, opened the inning drawing a walk. Bob Knechtel also drew a base on balls, and Tredway came dashing home from second when pitcher Booth threw away Bill Dick's sacrifice bunt.

Boonton's Charlie Helmstetter fanned, but Booth hit Tom Palazzo with a pitch to jam the bases. Dan Merchak followed with a long sacrifice fly to left for run No. 2, before Booth hit Ed Malavara to 'FOULED AWAY' — Bomber shortstop Bob Knechtel (right) fouls off a bunt attempt with a man on first against Randolph Friday afternoon. Randolph catcher Gordon Raupp and umpire George Swayer (far left) watch the ball fly by. Boonton won its second straight game, 5-0.
