SALOON KEEPER BURTIS ARRESTED.

CHARGED WITH SELLING BEER TO ARCHIE STILES, A MINOR.

Plead Not Guilty and His Attorney A. J. David, Demands a Jury Trial—Trial Down for Wednesday Afternoon Next. Upon complaint of Officer George W. Young a warrant was issued Wednesday for the arrest of Saloon-keeper Charles E. Burtis, the charge being selling beer to Archie Stiles a lad said to be but 16 years of age. Officer Knapp served the warrant on Burtis and brought him to the police station. January 23rd is the date it is alleged that Burtis sold Stiles the beer.

Burtis plead not guilty to the charge and asked for a hearing yesterday afternoon. Recorder Toney granted the request. Yesterday Burtis was represented by counsel, Abe J. David of Elizabeth. Mr. David explained to the Recorder that he had just been called in to the case and had not had time to prepare a proper defense. He asked the court for an adjournment and also demanded a trial by jury. Recorder Toney adjourned the case until Wednesday afternoon next at 2 o'clock.

Burtis' application for a hotel license comes up for a public hearing Monday night February 15th.

A WESTFIELDER IN AT THE KILLING.

Frank H. Moffett Goes Fox Hunting in Florida and is First in at the Death.

Frank B. Moffett arrived home from Florida Saturday morning. The day before he left Melrose, Fla. he and a party of friends went on a fox hunt. The party left their hotel at six o'clock in the morning on horseback accompanied by a guide and five hounds. They rode four miles out in the country before the dogs scented their game. Then a lively chase began with the Westfielder well up in front. He rode a good pony and the party dashed for two miles across country finally bringing up to the hounds who had stopped at a great hole in the ground, an old turtle hole. That the fox was in there hiding there could be no doubt. A long pole jabbed in the hole soon brought Brer Fox bounding out among the dogs and away he sped followed by the hounds and the hunters. Another mile or so and the dogs treed the fox. In climbing the tree the animal fell and was quickly killed by the dogs. Mr. Moffett was the first rider to reach the killing and the fox was declared his property. The skin is being prepared and will soon adorn the floor of a Westfield home.

Says a Mrs. Burns is Not Looked After by the Town.

Overseer of the Poor, F. C. Decker, wishes the Standard to state that a Mrs. Burns who is asking alms from Westfield citizens and states that the town is assisting her with money is an impostor. Mr. Decker states that he is not assisting any person by the name of Burns. Mrs. Burns tells citizens that her husband is sick and that she has a large family to support and that the seventy five cents she receives each week from Overseer of the Poor Decker is not sufficient for the needs of her family.

The World Almanac and Encyclopedia.

The New York World is always doing big things. One of their recent big achievements is the publication of their 1904 Almanac and Encyclopedia which is now on the market. It is without doubt the best publication of the kind ever issued and a copy should be in every home and office.

New Business Block for Westfield.

John Darsh has decided to erect a three story brick building where the old Walker store, the Piker shoe store and the Public Library building now stand. Work will be started on the new building just as soon as the weather will permit.

Radium in Pitch-Blende.

Prof. Cook, of the Northwestern university, has shown that there is sufficient radium in pitch-blende to make it possible for a photograph to be taken by it directly. Prof. Cook states that the value of the experiment lies in the proof of a new way in which to discover radium in minerals.

Tablecloth Hems.

One-fourth of an inch is the correct width for the hem on a tablecloth unless the cloth is woven with a border on four sides, when the hem should then be turned to make the distance between the border and the edge the same as on the selvedge edges.

Divers Get Menstrual.

One of the greatest dangers a diver has to face is that of falling asleep on a hot day, owing to the contrast between the heat above and the coolness below water. A diver states that he once slept for half an hour at the bottom of a wreck where he was at work.

Graceful Polse.

An artist has declared that higher-class women wearing tight fitting foot-wear and hampering gowns, "never stand gracefully for two minutes." The most perfect polse he ever saw was that of a milkwoman "who wore men's boots."

Use a Good Salve.

Do not use flour and molasses on a burn. The removal of flour or paste of any kind from a burn is torture, and the result is always doubtful, as it generally takes the skin off with it. Any good salve is better.

One of Two Horrors.

You can never tell from the look of horror on a woman's face whether she has just received a telegram which has not opened or thought she saw a mouse in the closet.—N. Y. Press.

Expensive Fur.

The most expensive fur is that of the black fox of Kamtschatka, the skin of which, when dressed, becomes a very attractive blue. A single skin is worth as much as $1,000.

Misunderstood.

"Say, I wish you'd let me have—" "Can't do it, my boy. I'm—" "A few moments of your time." "Sure."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Compulsory.

The Alfeld (Prussia) Town council has framed a by-law making fire brigade service compulsory for all citizens between the ages of 20 and 50.

Fortune in a Stamp.

A little boy, rummaging among musty letters, came across a well-preserved envelope with two Mauritius stamps thereon. His father took it to a jobber, who paid him $8,000 for it, then turned around and sold it to a London stamp company for the almost incredible sum of $13,000, the highest price known. Strange to relate, at about the same time another Mauritius stamp was unearthed in an old collection in Glasgow, and $5,000 has already been offered for it.

Danish Dairies.

Cooperative dairying is directly responsible for an increase in the value of Danish butter exports from about $5,000,000 to over $20,000,000. The first Danish cooperative dairy dates from 1882. Now there are 1,047 cooperative dairies in Denmark, comprising some 140,000 members and receiving milk from 850,000 cows, or more than four-fifths of the total number of cows. The average price received for butter is 23.3 cents a pound.

Siam's Sacred Elephants.

Curious ceremonies are witnessed in Siam when one of the sacred white elephants dies. It is given a funeral grander than that accorded to prince of royal blood. Buddhist priests officiate, and thousands of devout Siamese men and women follow the deceased animal to the grave. Jewels and offerings representing some thousands of pounds are buried with the elephant.

Ex-ray Lightens Labor.

In an insurance office where it was formerly necessary for a force of clerks to copy names on reference cards to be filed in various places, one clerk now writes the name on a single card with metallic ink, lamps it in a holder with a number of blank cards, and flashes an X-ray through the pack.

The Same Name as a Writer.

Jenkins—They may sneer at my books, but they'll be read long after some of the popular books of the day are forgotten.

Becken—And I suppose you might say the same about the multiplication table.—Boston Transcript.

Composition of Atoms.

The theory is gaining ground steadily that electricity is indissolubly connected with the component parts of an atom of matter, on that atoms are composed of electricity, or are disturbances of other corresponding to minute electric charges.

Points in Anatomy.

Each ear has four bones; the body has about 500 muscles; The human skull contains 80 bones; The lower limbs contain 80 bones each; Every hair has two oil glands at its base; The sense of touch is dulled on the back.

A Pair of Shoes.

With the assistance of the latest machines, a piece of leather can be transformed into a pair of boots in 34 minutes in which time it passes through the hands of 63 people and through 15 machines.

The Ostrich.

An ostrich never goes to its nest in a direct line. It will take as many windings and detours as possible in order to conceal the spot from its enemies.

Two in a Kind.

There are two things that should be placed in the category of the infinitesimally small: the credulity of women and the egotism of men.—N. O. Times-Democrat.

Oranges in Orange.

Heaviest in Winter.
Some curious experiments have been made at one of the royal philanthropic institutions in Copenhagen. For some years back the 70 boys and girls in the place have been carefully weighed every day in groups of 15 and under. Thereby it is proved that the children gain weight mostly in autumn and in the early part of December. From that time till the end of April there is scarcely any increase in weight. More remarkable still, there is a diminution till the end of summer.

Four Bad Witnesses.
The late Sir Frederick Bramwell, of England, was famous both as a witness and arbitrator in engineering disputes. It is recalled that his brother, the late Lord Justice Bramwell, on giving advice to a young barrister, told him to be careful of four kinds of witnesses: "First, of a liar; second, of the liar who can only be adequately described by the aid of a powerful adjective; third, of the expert witness; and, finally, of my brother Fred."

Real Pearls.
If you happen to be the happy owner of real pearls, wear them constantly, for thus you will prevent the ravages of a wicked little microbe which often attacks pearls which are laid aside. This minute parasite eats through the outer covering of the pearl, thus entirely destroying its beauty. Some women wear their pearl necklaces always, even at night, in order to protect them from their unseen foes.

Empire Green.
Many women think that the empire green is one particular shade, while in fact it is varied. The reason that green was so generally accepted as the keynote to the Napoleonic color scheme was because of the universal use of mahogany. The green was simply the contrasting color which harmonized with the red brown of the wood.

Dog Tera.
In the old days the word "leash" was applied to three greyhounds, while two were "a brace." On the other hand, two spaniels or harriers were called "a couple." A number of hounds went under the term of "a mite of hounds," while it was correct to speak of "a kennel of raches, a little of whelps and a cowardly of curs."

A Marvel of Mechanics.
"Have you ever done anything about that anonymous letter you received?" "No," answered the patient man, "if the man had signed his name, I would have been obliged to quarrel with him, and I'm much obliged to him for sparing me that necessity."—Washington Star.

Chinese Almanacs.
The Chinese almanac claims the largest circulation of any publication in the world. Its chief mission is to indicate lucky days and places for all acts in Chinese life, and the sale reaches several million copies yearly.

Useful Apparatus.
Every fire station in Berlin has now been equipped with an oxygen apparatus to revive persons overcome by smoke or heat. Ordinary citizens may also have the loan of the apparatus in cases of urgent need.

Gambling at Golf.
Although we have not yet reached the "gambling-at-golf" stage of the discussion upon the desirability or not of playing golf for a stake, the question is being discussed with some fervor. There can be no doubt that the gambling habit has touched the royal and ancient game and that there are many players who have grown to look upon it as insipid without the incentive of "something on the match."—London Court Journal.

Bachelors and Baldness.
It has been found on investigation of 300 cases of loss of hair that baldness prevails most with unmarried men, which is contrary to the general belief. The worries of the bachelor may be fewer, but they are more trying to the scalp than are the multitudinous cares of the man of family. Most bald people are found to live indoor lives, and usually the loss of hair begins before the 30th year.

Geese and Ducks.
Do geese "quack"? "No," says the observant critic, "geese do not quack, but they quack." It is the ducks that quack, and the story of the goose going about from day to day with a "quack, quack, quack" is declared to be without good foundation. There is, indeed, quite a difference in the vocabulary of these feathered creatures. But it requires a sharp ear to discover the difference.

Corean Mourning.
Coreans wear full mourning for their fathers. The dress is of hemp cloth, with a hempen girdle. A face shield is used to show that the wearer is a stunner and must not speak to any one unless addressed. The costume is retained for three years; the shield for three months. This is worn for a father only; secondary mourning is worn for a mother and no mourning at all for a wife.

Protection of Life.
Hydrophobia is almost unknown in north Germany. The reason is obvious. All dogs are muzzled; if one runs mad the poison dies with him. For yellow fever and malarial diseases the mosquito bar is analogous to the muzzle for hydrophobia. Infection can be prevented from escaping. Against every germ there can be found a means of protection.

Never Satisfied.
"Gracious," sighed Mr. De Spessey, "I wish I could neither marry nor die." "For goodness' sake," exclaimed his wife, "what do you want with an appetite? It would only give you more dyspepsia."—Philadelphia Press.

You Get No Thanks.
"De trouble wil try'n to keep dressed up to kill," said Uncle Eben, "is dat you's spendin' a heap o' time an' money for de lan' scape, an' not gittin' no thanks for it 'um nobody."—Washington Star.

To Cement Glass and Iron.
Common alum melted in an iron spoon over the fire forms a good cement for joining glass and iron together. It is useful for holding the glass reservoir of a lamp to its metal base and for stopping cracks about the base. Its great merit for this purpose is that paraffin will not penetrate it.

Friday, February 5, 1904.

The new trolley schedule of running four or five cars under 30 seconds headway and then no more cars for over an hour is not meeting with public favor.

Down in Washington a bill has passed the House making it a misdemeanor to have horses with docked tails in the District of Columbia. It is the intention to have this cruel practice stopped. Such a bill should be passed in New Jersey.

The recent general shake up on the snow and ice ordinance has had its effect. Westfield's sidewalks are clean from snow and ice. The street crossings at Prospect and Broad and at Elm and Broad, are, however, in need of attention at the hands of the town authorities.

It is evident that the Elizabeth City Council are not to be bulldozed by the Public Service Corporation. The trolley service in Elizabeth is so demoralized that the City Council has taken steps to have the P. S. C. franchise revoked. Such a step will doubtless bring the trolley magnates to their senses and furnish the public with decent transportation facilities.

WHAT THE BROWNLOW BILL WILL DO FOR THE FARMER.

There is a bill introduced in Congress by the Hon. Walter P. Brownlow, of Tennessee, and the Hon. Jacob H. Gallinger, member of the Senate from New Hampshire, appropriating $24,000,000 on the part of the National Government as National aid in building wagon roads. This money is to be apportioned among the States according to their population, except that no State shall receive less than $250,000.

Each State receiving National aid from the Government must add a like amount to the sum received. This will, therefore, cause the spending of $48,000,000 for roads and will build from 6,000 to 7,000 miles of splendid road and will place in each State from 100 to 500 miles of fine hard road, which will not be affected by frost or spring rains and on which the farmer can haul the year round. It will be a great advantage to those living near it, but it will be a far greater advantage to the whole country because it will be a wonderful object lesson and will prove to every one that a good, hard road which can be used the year round, no matter what the rains are, is a good and desirable thing; it will make everyone who sees this road and who uses it want more roads just like it, and it will cause more roads just like it to be built.

While under the Brownlow Bill the building of 6,000 to 7,000 miles of splendid road is a great thing, yet it seems to many that the greatest advantage of this bill is the wonderful object lesson which 100 to 500 miles of fine road will produce when built in every State of the Union.

THREE STRAIGHT FOR WESTFIELD.

PARK CLUB BOWLERS NO MATCH FOR MT. ARARAT TEAM.

Westfield Keeps Well in the Lead for Championship Honors—Results is Struggling Hard to Gain on the Leaders.

Westfield's decisive wins from the Park Club of Plainfield at the bowling match Friday night is called luck by the inland city bowlers but up this way it is called a win on the merits of the team—just the plain buckle down and bowl for all your worth kind. That's the kind of bowling the Westfield boys do and the 25 rosters who journeyed to Plainfield with the team helped them to a considerable extent. The second game for Westfield wound up with 993, a very remarkable game, the highest team score ever rolled in this section of the State.

Hegeman's 231, Smith's 215 and Woodward's 210 were paralyzers for the Park boys. It took the starch all out of them and at no time could they make the game at all exciting so far in the lead did Westfield stay.

The Westfield club certainly has a winning team this year. Here are the individual scores of the Westfield—Park games:

WESTFIELD.
Forster	171	184	169
Hilsted	133	201	161
Woodward	125	210	194

WANT FIRE ESCAPES PUT ON PROSPECT STREET SCHOOL.

Board of Education Considers Budget for Escaping Year—About $20,000 Will be Needed.

The Board of Education met last Tuesday evening. President Martin Welles was absent, there being a case of scarlet fever in his home.

A communication was received from the Fire Committee asking the board to have fire escapes placed on the Prospect street school building. The matter was placed in the hands of a committee of the board to confer with the fire committee. It is stated that the Prospect street school building has more exits than any other public school in town and the need of fire escapes is questioned.

As next year Mountaineers is to be a school district by itself a committee was appointed to adjust school matters with the borough authorities.

The board considered the budget for the coming year and after cutting off all corners it is probable that $20,000 will be asked for.

Principal Savitz submitted his usual excellent report. There are 1006 scholars enrolled. The report showed the public schools of Westfield to be in a most healthy condition.

Westfield Golfers Have and Entertain.

Wednesday night's dance at the Westfield Golf Club, under the auspices of the Westfield Golf Club, was an unusually fine affair. As guests the Cranford Golf Club had been invited and all told there were nearly one hundred and fifty persons present. Westervelt's orchestra furnished most excellent music for the occasion. The club hall was prettily decorated with bunting, potted plants and golf sticks, and together with the dancers made an attractive and pleasing scene to look upon.

Royal Arcanum Brethren.

Thursday February 11th, Fireside Council Royal Arcanum, will install its good regent elect. The orator has prepared a fine entertainment with refreshments. All members of Fireside Council and members of the Royal Arcanum in town are invited to attend. Our goal is 301 before April first and an extra representative in the Grand Council. Please bear this meeting in mind and help the cause along.

A Soap Tree.

The tree, sapindus utilis, which is to be cultivated in Algeria as a source of natural soap, has a fruit about as large as a chestnut, with a dark-colored, oily kernel. A cutting from the tree reaches a height of six feet in two years, and attains maturity in six years, when it bears from 50 to 200 pounds of fruit. Water or alcohol is used to extract the soap, which is claimed to be very superior.

A Question of Helplessness.

"I suppose there is such a thing as helplessness."
"Yes," answered the physician.
"A man steals because he can't help it."
"That is the theory. But in the majority of cases he does so because he thinks the other fellow can't help it."

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH CONCERT.

The arrangements for the concert to be given Monday evening at the Westfield club hall under the auspices of the vestry of St. Paul's Church have been completed and everything points to a most pleasing and successful entertainment.

The artistic Souvenir Programmes with a picture of the church on the cover have been received from the Standard Press and will be well worth keeping when the concert has long passed.

The names of the artists appear on the first page and the first of these is Mrs. Frederick G. Smith who needs no introduction to Westfield audiences.

Mrs. Robert W. Harden who will take the contralto parts on the programme has been in public for some time and has been a student of Mr. H. Whitfield Martin and Mr. LeGrand Howland, both of New York City. Mrs. Harden, who will also play the accompaniments for the violin, has been organist and choir director in St. Paul's Church for more than two years.

The tenor in the quartette, Mr. H. H. McCluskey is a well known singer from New York who is at present singing in the Washington Avenue Baptist Church, of Brooklyn, where he is very popular.

Mr. Robert W. Harden, the baritone, is well known here, having sung for a number of years in Saint Paul's choir.

Miss Lucille Billingsley, the violinist, has been heard in Westfield before having played at the Christmas service in the Congregational church. Those who remember good work will not fail to be pleased with the selections for the programme Monday evening.

Mrs. Frank W. Smith, the accompanist, is well known here as a singer and her experience as a soloist is assurance that her accompaniments will be all that can be desired.

The first part of the programme consists of solo by each of the quartette and two numbers for the violin.

Part second is the well known "Daisy Chain" by Liza Lehmann who made herself famous by writing "The Persian Garden." In this later effort the composer has fittingly set to music twelve poems written for children by Robert Louis Stevenson and others, the words of which all appear on the programme.

No one who attends this concert can fail to have an evening of complete pleasure, and since the committee has gone to so much expense and pains to give the people of Westfield a good concert they should be rewarded by a large and enthusiastic audience.

ANOTHER ITALIAN ENRICHES THE TOWN.

Raphael Venzena Settles Here Without a License and Lands in the Clutches of Officer Young.

It costs real money to peddle beer in Westfield without first obtaining a license. On Saturday Raphael Venzena of Danwood drove into Westfield with a team hitched to a Blasing San Brewery wagon and started to peddle beer throughout the town. Officer Young had his eagle eye on the Italian and when he stopped his team in front of the building corner of North and Westfield avenues the officer was there, but not in sight of the Italian. Venzena started with a case of beer up the stairs leading to the flat over the shoe store when he was nabbed by the officers and taken to the lockup. Recorder Tonney fined Venzena $20 and costs. The fine was paid.

This Man Lay Freezing on the County Road.

A laborer employed by the Maple Hill Dairy was found Wednesday afternoon laying in the middle of the county road half frozen. He had been sent to get a load of feed for the dairy and had imbibed a little too many times along the way. He fell from his wagon and lay stunned in the roadway until picked up by a man who chanced by. He was taken to the dairy on South Broad street where Manager James thawed him out. He then acted like a raving maniac breaking up furniture, lamps and everything he could get his hands on. A neighbor was called in and held the man while Mr. James called up the Scotch Plains authorities who took the unfortunate creature in charge.

Mass Newark Reporter the Jim James?

Editor of the "Standard."

Dear Sir:—I read in yesterday's Newark Evening News, that I was down with the measles! I am perfectly well, but the poor reporter, by sending this bit of news to Newark, shows pronounced symptoms of the Jim James. Please report me as well and oblige.

Yours truly,
January 30th, 1904. K. BAUMANN.

At a Penny a Time.

One can now buy a pennyworth of sleep. The machine is a little over six feet in height. Drop a coin in the slot, and there falls down into a horizontal position a leather-covered couch provided with a comfortable rug. The tired traveler who misses his train and has to wait an hour or so, can by means of this machine take a comfortable nap. When he gets off the couch it rises automatically into place again, and can only be brought down by the insertion of a fresh coin.

BIRD LOVERS WILL FIGHT.

A PROTEST AGAINST THE LEGAL KILLING OF SONGBIRDS.

Prof. Frank M. Chapman Gives Three Reasons Why Bills Which Permit the Killing of Robins and Other Songbirds Should Not be Passed.

The Audubon Society of the State of New Jersey is making a great fight to kill the bills recently introduced into the New Jersey Senate and Assembly which permit the killing at certain times of robins, catbirds, meadowlarks, flickers and doves. Prof. Frank M. Chapman, the well-known writer and student of bird life gives three reasons why these bills should not become laws.

First—Because the birds mentioned, in devouring noxious insects and the seeds of weeds are of inestimable value to the State. Granted that robins and catbirds destroy fruit, does it follow that the birds do more harm than good? The bird is the property of the State, not of the individual. The laws of the State are designed to provide for the welfare of the many, not of the few. When it is shown that the robins and catbirds are more destructive than beneficial, then the State will be justified in destroying them. Until, however, the birds have been proved to be guilty we are not warranted in condemning them. In the meantime fruitgrowers can protect their crops by using firearms charged with powder alone quite as readily as by using shot and firing with intent to kill.

Second—There can be no more certain method of having the State overrun with pot-hunting Italians than to add robins, flickers and doves to the list of birds which may be legally killed in the fall. With few exceptions this list is now confined to game birds which are pursued by true sportsmen, whom game wardens can readily distinguish from the sneaking songbird killer. If, however, we legalize the killing of even a few songbirds, we not only practically remove protection from them all, but we invite in vision from a horde of ignorant foreigners to whom trespass signs will be unintelligible, and who will not only murder our birds by the thousands but incidentally steal more fruit than the birds could rob us of in a century. Let the farmer recall that melons, peaches, pears and apples, not to mention garden truck of many kinds, ripen at the very time when it is proposed to give fruit-loving foreign gunners a legal excuse to prowl armed about the country. As a New Jersey fruit-grower I speak here from an altogether too practical experience.

Third—Birds, especially songbirds, and more particularly those species of songbirds which because of their abundance and trustfulness enter into our daily lives, have a value not to be expressed in dollars and cents. The robin and the meadowlark, in New Jersey, are the musicians of Spring's advance-guard. In all the year is there a more cheery note than the robin's carol from the topmost bough of a leafless elm or maple some March evening when frogs are croaking in the lowlands? It is a voice which appeals to a constantly increasing multitude as nature study classes open our eyes and ears to the charms of the world about us. It is a message from bird to man in the universal language of music and its force cannot be ignored. If the English sparrow spoke the robin's tongue, he would have as many friends as he now has enemies. In preserving the Pillars of the State of New Jersey have given indubitable proof of their love for the beautiful in nature. No considerations of paving blocks and crushed stone, or their equivalents in the coin of the realm, were permitted to outweigh the claims of these rocky walls to exist solely because of their beauty and grandeur. Our birds have an even stronger claim to protection, for they are not only beautiful but, incalculably useful, and their care is demanded not only by self-interest but by that broader sentiment which has saved for us the noble ramparts of the Hudson.

Donaldson's Close Call on Death.

Joseph Donaldson, of Mountaineers, narrowly escaped freezing to death on Monday night. He had been drinking and had started to walk to Mountaineers. In front of the Dentman home on Mountain avenue Donaldson fell helpless to the ground where he laid for some time in the freezing cold and had he not been discovered by Mrs. C. H. Denman would probably have frozen to death. Mrs. Denman telephoned to police headquarters and officer Knapp hurried to the unfortunate man's assistance. He was removed to the residence of H. G. Mooney and his hands packed in snow. They were frozen to the wrists. Dr. Cooper was called and informed the officer that he had done all that could be done for the man. Donaldson was taken to the police station and kept all night thawing out near the red hot stove. In the morning he went on his way.

Former Westfield Residents Wed.

The wedding of Warren Clark and Miss Lizzie Pierson, former residents of Westfield, took place Wednesday evening at 55 Murray street, Newark, the newly furnished home of the bride and groom. Rev. Mr. Hanson, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Congregational Church, performed the ceremony. Many residents from Westfield were in attendance, also guests from Plainfield, Elizabeth and Newark.

The house decorations consisted of ferns and carnations. The bride was gown in white crepe de chine, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor, Miss Hattie Vossburg of Newark, was attired in blue silk muslin and carried pink carnations. Fred Rose of Newark, was best man.

Hand-Made Lace.

Notwithstanding the progress of machine-made lace there are in France today about 200,000 women who make it by hand. Many of them get only 30 cents for 12 or 14 hours' work.

Hearing in the Court.

The roaring heard when the opening of the ear is stopped is due to muscle contraction. Dr. W. E. Scott states that the stethoscope reveals no sound whatever in a muscle at rest and that the sound when contracted varies with the different muscles. He believes the muscle sound may give the first indication of tetanus, serving also as an aid to diagnosis in other diseases.

What He Did Know.

During a recent visit to Yale university W. B. Yeats, the Irish poet, was asked by one of the instructors if he knew the age of a certain venerable professor of Trinity college, Dublin. "No," responded the poet; "I don't know precisely that, but I have heard that the combined age of all the professors at the Dublin university is 1,500,000 years."

Pearls for Warmth.

This story has been told of the wife of an ex-member of congress, a lady having an inordinate love of display and who, very rich, delights in wearing as much jewelry as she possibly can. One evening she gave a grand dinner-party, at which she appeared decorated with a diamond tiara and many ropes of pearls round her neck. In the midst of the feast the lady suddenly declared that she felt chilly, and, desiring a servant to call her maid, she said out loud when the girl arrived: "Susette, I am so cold. Please fetch me another string of pearls."

He Hated Clocks.

Herbert Spencer hated clocks which strike, especially out-of-door clocks. When staying in lodgings in a Berkshire village he sent a request to the owner of the principal house there that the stable clock, which struck the hours, might be stopped. He was not a good companion to go out for a drive with, as, if he did not feel well, he would ascertain how fast his pulse was beating and if it were not satisfactory would instantly give the order to return home.

Ancient Fires.

The sacred fires of India have not all been extinguished. The most ancient, which still exists, was consecrated 12 centuries ago in commemoration of the voyage made by the Parsees when they emigrated from Persia to India. The fire is fed five times every two hours with sandalwood and other fragrant materials, combined with very dry fuel.

BEHIND THE FOOTLIGHTS.

KEITH'S THEATRE

For an afternoon's or evening's entertainment the bill at Keith's Union Square Theatre for the coming week is about all that could be desired by any individual who cares chiefly for amusement. For the second week "The Girl with the Auburn Hair" has been retained, and her act is without question one of the best and most unique on the vaudeville stage to day. Cushman, Holcomb & Curtis Trio will present a new sketch entitled "A Winter Session." Seldom is it that the Biograph is entitled to top line notice, but during the coming week there will be shown a series of pictures so interesting, as to warrant special notice. The balance of the bill will be taken care of by artists in their line, every one of whom is entitled to be called a star. The La Carmen Troupe, Le Roy & Clayton, Gardner & Vincent, Adamini & Taylor, Flood Bros., Herbert Lloyd, Bijou Russell, The Magnifys, Louise Henry, and the Sullagay Bros. in a novel aerobatic turn complete the bill which is an unusually strong one in all departments.

PROCTORS.

Varied and attractive is the offering at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre next week, where representatives of almost every branch of entertainment are employed in a programme combining length and merit. The chief attraction is found in O'Brien and Havel's latest sketch by Will M. Cressy, "Ticks and Clicks."

"Moths," a dramatization of one of Ouida's most popular novels, forms the dramatic feature at the Fifth Avenue Theatre next week. The play will be carefully presented by the permanent stock company, including Minnie Williams, Charles Lane, Hugh Ford, John Wesley, Albert Roberts, Lotta Lindholm, Rose Stuart, Loretto Healy, Alice Gale and Marguerite Kinkler.

Professor Harry Kellar, who is responsible for a number of the standard illusions, will appear next week at Proctor's Fifty-eighth Street Theatre, where he will present all of his newest work, including an illusion never before seen in this city. It was Mr. Kellar's intention to present this new offering when he made a brief appearance in Harlem early in the season, but the elaborate nature of the effect prevented him from completing his experiments in time, and it will be shown here for the first time at this theatre.

TONY PASTOR'S.

Next week Pastor's programme includes such artists as Warren & Blanchard, Ferguson & Beeson, Searle & Violet Allen, Rio Brothers, James & Sadie Leonard, Howley & Leslie, John F. Clark, Demonic and Belle, Marion & Pearl, Gregory & Lind, Antrim & Peters, Higgins & Phelps, The American Vitaphone, and as an extra attraction, Roberts, Hayes & Roberts.

AMERICAN THEATRE.

There is scarcely anyone in this broad land who has not by this time either heard of or read that "best New England story ever written." Quincy Adams Sawyer and observed the man driving down a country road to Mason's corner in a one-horse chaise. This announcement is to state that the "Quincy Adams Sawyer" of book fame has now become the "Quincy Adams Sawyer" of play fame as well. That at least explains who he is and what he is. It is self-evident that what he comes for is to entertain the theatre-goers who will doubtless pack the American Theatre to see the dramatization of a novel that has reached the phenomenal sale of 200,000 in its first year. As to the length of the play it is limited.

Special pains have been taken in this dramatization to preserve that simple, rural charm which has been so much admired by book lovers and it is promised that play-goers will find "Quincy Adams Sawyer" a rattling good home-spun play of life in a Massachusetts village—bright, fresh and breezy and filled with honest love. Regular matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday, bargain prices 25 and 50 cents. Special matinees will be given on Lincoln's and Washington's Birthdays.

NEW AMSTERDAM THEATRE.

Klaw & Erlanger's remarkable Drury Lane spectacle, "Mother Goose," begins its last three weeks at the New Amsterdam Theatre next Monday evening and will be followed on Monday, the 29th inst., by the greatest of all American actors, Mr. Richard Mansfield, in a new production of unusual dramatic value and importance.

The opportunities afforded by the twenty-four regular performances of the next three weeks, and the Lincoln and Washington Birthday extra matinees, the 19th and 23d inst., will represent the last times the theatre patrons of New York and vicinity will ever have to see "Mother Goose" at the New Amsterdam Theatre. Future contracts will prevent its presentation in New York again.

HOW TO REPAIR ROADS.

Highways Must Have Constant Attention If They Are to Be of Any Use or Value.

Charles Williams, a contractor in Connorsville, Ind., gives a few points on road repair in a paper before a farmers' institute which will be of interest: "Now, some points on how to keep roads in good condition, and how to repair them. A road must have constant attention, if it is to be of any use or value."

"Whenever a rut forms, it should be repaired at once. The road should be graded in the spring and gravelled in the fall. The road will then be hard and smooth, and the gravel will be packed down, but not worn out, before bad weather set in. It depends on what shape the crown of the road is in what the condition of the road will be for travel through the winter. If the crown is in good shape, it will shed the water to the side ditches, and if they are in good shape the road will remain dry and solid."

"Now it will tell a few ways to spoil a good road."

"The surest way is to use the road grader and pile all the mud, soil and weeds from the sides and ditches into the center of the road. This makes the road soft and muddy and it will be impossible for the next coat of gravel to unite with the old roadbed. The result is the road will be spongy. The best plan is to scrape it up into piles and haul it to some gully, of which all roads have a few, and dump it there."

"The road grader is a good road builder in the hands of a man that knows how to use it, but otherwise he will do a great deal of damage."

"Another way to spoil a road is to make the crown so steep that all the travel will take the center. The result is the road is worn out in the center, and no use has been made of the remainder of the road. The center is cut up by three gulleys, which hold water, and cause the road to be soft and muddy when it would otherwise be in good shape."

EDUCATING FARM BOYS.

Some Pertinent Reasons Why Practical Agriculture Should Be Taught in Rural Schools.

Among those who have given the matter attention, there are many who favor the introduction of agricultural instruction into the rural school as a means of educating the farm boy, to the farm rather than sending him directly to the institutions whose influence is in another direction.

In a recent address, after commenting upon the more or less popular idea of a "general education of more or less classic foundation," Hon. James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, goes on to say, in regard to the agricultural college and the farm boy:

"The farmer's boy who intends to be a farmer, and his father, who intends to have his son succeed him on the farm, do not care anything about that kind of education. My idea of education is that it should fit a young man for his future life."

"I would begin by teaching on agricultural lines in the primary grades; I would continue this kind of education through the secondary school. I would prepare the boys for the agricultural college, and they would go there as naturally as the boy goes to the pantry to get some bread and butter, with sugar on it. But just now our system of education draws the young people away from the agricultural college into something else."

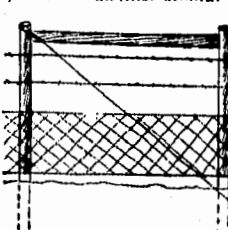

"That there is truth in this is evidenced by the number of boys and young men coming from the farm, and, after attending high schools and other institutions of higher learning, go into other pursuits than that of agriculture."

It has been held by those most interested in keeping the boys upon the farm that with the introduction of agriculture into the rural school there will be a tendency to educate the boy back to the farm. That a good argument favors this proposition there is no question.—Drovers' Journal.

or ten feet from it. Fit a brace stick between them at the top. A four by four studding would be about the right size. Then with a cable of three or four-strand No. 9 wire, or its equivalent of other sizes, fastened to top of second post and tie around a log three feet long, or a large stone buried two and one-half or three feet deep, five feet back of corner post. The cable entering ground by corner post, trenching in back to anchor log; all in and tamping earth solidly around anchor log, and you will have a post you can tie to.—Lewis B. Alter, in Epitomist.

NEW MILKING MACHINE.

Pennsylvania Inventor's Unique Device Prevents Contact of Milk with the Atmosphere.

With the recent report of a state health board official that an epidemic of fever in one of our largest cities could be traced directly to a case in the family of a milk dealer in that locality, the urgent necessity for sanitary inspection of the milk supply is again made apparent to even those individuals who are rather inclined to scoff at such advanced and scientific theories. No doubt, the time will come when all milk will have to be sterilized before being offered for sale, but even should that desirable condition of affairs be reached, it will still be obligatory upon the milkman to see that no opportunity is afforded for the contact of the lacteal fluid with contaminated atmosphere in the stable. Probably the best way in which this can be accomplished is by the aid of the pneumatic milking machine here illustrated. It is so arranged as to not only milk the cows automatically, but also incloses the milk in an air-tight receptacle as long as it is in the proximity of the animal. This is accomplished by a reservoir suspended overhead and connected with the teat cups by a short section of hose. By means of a vacuum created in the pipe, to which the reservoir is attached the milk is drawn from the teats and deposited in the receptacle, whence it can be removed to the creamery for further treatment before being placed on sale. —Louisville Courier-Journal.

CORN AND COB MEAL.

A Combination Which is Held in High Favor by Progressive Western Farmers.

Cobs are too valuable for the dairyman to throw away or burn. They may not possess much nutriment, but it has been demonstrated quite conclusively that they have a feeding value not much less than the corn that grows upon them, provided they are ground with the corn. A certain weight of corn and cob meal is equal in feeding value to a like weight of pure ground corn. This result doubtless arises from the more digestible form given to the corn meal by the presence of the ground cobs. One of the largest cattle feeding companies in Nebraska buys all the cobs it can get, which grinds with the shelled corn. It has been compelled to buy. It raises corn and buys what it can unshelled, but has still to resort to outside purchases. Our readers should remember this. It is one strong argument in favor of grinding the corn rather than feeding it in any other way, for only by grinding can the cobs be rendered available. The chemist cannot find the value in the cob that the cow can, but it is there. We have paid too little attention to the mechanical form in which our dairy feeds are given. The cow has a stomach differing very much from that of many other of our farm animals, and concentrated feeds are not handled in it to good advantage. —Farmers' Review.

Dairy Work as a Science.

Dairy schools are now in operation in many states, and short courses of instruction in butter and cheese making are given at some of the agricultural colleges. It was long ago demonstrated that inferior butter could not compare with oleomargarine, and that good butter of choice quality could not be made at a good price. The fact has also been demonstrated that there was much to learn in making good butter, and that cleanliness and the proper management of the milk were essential in producing the choice article. There has been a wonderful advance in methods of butter making, and oleomargarine is responsible for it. Consumers will not purchase the counterfeit article if they can get the genuine, and poor butter is as much a counterfeit as any other imitation. —Rural World.

How to Clean the Churns.

A churn cannot be made clean with a dirty cloth, and a cloth of this kind is one of the best known places for breeding disease germs, and these may be washed from the seams of the pans or corners of the churn. It takes only a few minutes to wash the cloth in cold water, and then they should be put in a strong pearline soda and allowed to boil for at least 20 minutes, then they should be rinsed and hung out in the air and sunshine, and if this is done every few days, the cloth may be always kept white and sweet smelling. —Midland Farmer.

It is not true that any kind of salt will do for dairy butter. Salt has a great deal to do with the quality and keeping properties of butter. Only the best should therefore be used. It may cost a trifle more to buy it, but the return will make up for that in a short time.

Reorganization has been effected by the baseball club of the Montclair Athletic Association, which made such an excellent record on the diamond last summer. P. Vanderhoof, Brighton's old star left fielder, has taken the management of the team and with the assistance of Andrew Teed will arrange for an excellent schedule of home and out of town games, with such teams as Westfield, Bernardsville, Aechlens, Butler, Washington, Suburbans and Watseesing teams.

The proposition for Sunday base ball in Plainfield has met with a cold chill. It is now very doubtful if the matter is again discussed.

It is understood that Sunday base ball will be allowed at "Buffalo," back of Rahway on the trolley line. A proposition is being considered to provide better accommodations for the patrons of the game.

The Westfield High School Base Ball team will open their season March 26th at Cranford playing the Cranford H. S. team.

The Westfield base ball season will open at Recreation Park Saturday April 30th. The management promises a strong opposing club and fans who attend the opening game will have an opportunity to see the local cracks play in strong company.

"Jack" Thielman, who did such good work for Westfield at Perth Amboy, and also at Rahway, leads the pitchers in the California league, and kept up his reputation for heavy hitting, having an average of .408 for 79 games. These former Westfield players are among the leaders from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Do not forget to sign the enrollment card sent you by Secretary Abrams and return same to office of the Base Ball Association in the Madison Building.

"Red" Walker, Westfield's crack twirler, is pitching good ball down in Porto Rico. A Plainfield man in receipt of a letter from a friend in the sunny island, which states that "Red" pitched an eleven inning game losing by a score of 6 to 4. The natives must know considerable about the National game.

It is now reported that Roselle is to make a bid for honors on the diamond the coming season. An effort is being made to secure enclosed grounds and several citizens it is said, have agreed to back a crackerjack team.

CELEBRITIES of TO-DAY

By Fannie M. Lothrop

THE AMERICAN WOMAN WHO FOUNDED A UNIVERSITY.

THE richest monument in the world is not that exquisite dream in snow-white marble, the Taj Mahal at Agra, India—a tomb built by Shah Jehan for himself and his wife at a cost of $25,000,000—but the great Leland Stanford, Jr., University of California, built by an American mother as a memorial to her son, and endowed by her during her life-time with thirty million dollars.

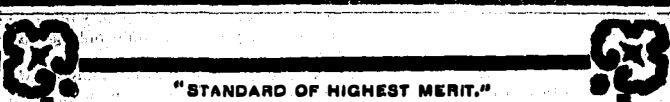

Mrs. Jane Lathrop Stanford was born in 1825 and about fifty years ago married Leland Stanford, a poor, young, struggling lawyer, of Port Washington on Lake Michigan. Those were frugal days for the young couple, and for years Mrs. Stanford did all her own housework and kept boarders, too, to lessen the financial strain. When the gold craze started the West, young Leland went to California, leaving his wife behind to wait for the good news. He was one of the successful ones, the golden tide carried him on the flood, he forsook law and won marvelous prosperity in business, and ten years later was Governor of California.

It was his great mind that saw the need of a great steel track over the Rockies to bind the West and the East together, and though he was told by the wise ones that it was impossible, he laughed at the impossibility, and on May 10th, 1869 two lines of track, one built eastward from the Pacific, the other westward from the Atlantic, met and were united by three spikes, one of gold from California, one of silver from Nevada, and one of gold and silver from Arizona. That momentous day in American history guaranteed the Stanford millions.

In 1884 their young son died at the age of sixteen, and the sorrowing parents determined to make a great University his memorial of hope and helpfulness to thousands. On her husband's death, in 1893, his millions were tied up in probate and the University's endowment of $3,000 acres was unproductive, and she offered to pledge her jewels for the support of the institution.

She gave to it her private mansions in Palo Alto and San Francisco, with all their treasures of paintings, furniture and other works of art; insured her life for one million dollars, making the University the beneficiary, gave it the $16,000,000 she received for her Pacific Railroad interests, and last June crowned her benefactions by turning over to a Board of Trustees the absolute control of this richest University in the world.

"STANDARD OF HIGHEST MERIT."

FISCHER PIANOS.

It is an indisputable fact that the high esteem given to any work of Art must be founded upon merit. When the Musical Artist and the Home Player are united in their high appreciation of the FISCHER PIANO, we take their verdict unqualifiedly. Both have for years maintained the supremacy of the FISCHER PIANO because of its Tone-quality, its Artistic Individuality and its Durability.

Ceylon's Centenarians.
Ceylon, according to its recent census returns, has no fewer than 145 inhabitants over 100 years old. Seventy-one of these are males and 74 females. Of these 46 men and 52 women claimed to be exactly 100, while the highest age returned was 120. One hundred is a good round age, and no doubt every indolent octogenarian who could not be bothered to remember the year of his birth put down 100 to save time.

Plant Without Roots.
There is a plant in Chili, and a similar one in Japan, called the "flower of the air." It is so called because it appears to have no root, and is never fixed to the earth. It twines round a dry tree or sterile rock. Each shoot produces two or three flowers like a lily—white, transparent and odoriferous. It is capable of being transported 600 or 700 miles, and vegetates as it travels suspended on a twig.

Danish Bacon.
Danish cooperative bacon factories now have about 65,000 members, and last year they killed 625,000 pigs and 10,000 head of cattle, amounting in money to $10,570,000. The price received for bacon in the English market averaged four cents a pound above the average price of bacon from other countries.

Automobiles Now.
The historic old bus, which for ages has done service carrying passengers and the mails between various towns in the section of Baden where the steam railroads do not touch, is giving way to large automobiles, which travel much more rapidly and are much more comfortable.

No Hurry.
The Coroner—But why didn't you attempt to rescue the deceased when you first saw him fall into the river?
Camera Man—Well, er—It took me rather longer than usual to unstrap my kodak, and by the time I'd got a couple of snapshots he sank for the last time.—Ally Sloper.

Canadian Railway.
Toward the building of its 18,714 miles of railway, the Canadian government has contributed at the average rate of $9,166 a mile of railway constructed; the provincial governments at the rate of $1,757, and the municipalities at the rate of $873 a mile.

Carriage Trade.
A leading vehicle trade journal of France says that the automobile, in spite of its rapid development, has not done the carriage builders' outside of Paris any harm and has only affected the builders of heavy carriages in that city.

A Fine Cigar in a Snuff Box.
Three thousand three hundred and fifty pounds sterling was the price paid at the Hecker sale by a well-known firm of London for a snuff box. It is made of gold and enamel and saw service in the Louis XV. period.

Syrian Custom.
In Syria people, instead of taking off their caps or turbans when entering a friend's house, remove their shoes, in order to protect the expensive rugs with which the floors are covered.

Circulation of Magazines.
In 1850 each individual in the United States received on the average, 18 copies of one or more periodicals; in 1860, 29; in 1870, 39; in 1880, 49; in 1890, 74; in 1900, 107 a year.

Spending.
"Is your wife spending the winter in California?"
"Yes, and everything I've saved in three years."—Chicago Tribune.

A Fine Cure of Conscience.
A farmer's wife at Driffield has given 17 shillings to the Church Missionary Society, "proceeds of eggs laid on Sundays."—London Daily Mail.

Young Men.
Most young men are too much infatuated with themselves to be seriously injured in an ordinary love affair.—Chicago Daily News.

Valuable Find.
In pulling down the old cathedral of Metz a strong box has been found containing coins and watches valued at $120,000.

Taken Early Walk.
President Loubet of France attributes his good health to taking long walks every morning between six and eight o'clock.

Curious Chinese Law.
In China, persons bearing the same surname are forbidden to marry, even if they are not related in any way.

Cows in Denmark.
Denmark, which produces an immense quantity of butter, has an average of one cow for every two inhabitants.

Lightning Proof.
A metal roof is said to be positive protection against the building it covers being struck by lightning.

African Aborigines.
The three distinct aboriginal people of South Africa are the Bushmen, Hottentots and Kaffirs.

In Rotterdam.
At Rotterdam poor people who cannot afford to pay a fee are married on Wednesday before noon.

First Public Library.
The first public library in modern Europe was founded in Florence in the fifteenth century.

Second Marriage.
In 12 marriages out of every 100 one of the parties has been married before.

"HIAWATHA."

"Hiawatha," the Indian play, which will be presented at the Westfield club house Saturday afternoon and evening Feb. 13, might well be called a music drama. As unlike a Wagner opera as possible, it yet abounds in beautiful music and is dependent on it. The Indian can do little without song as an expression not only of his emotions, convictions and hopes, but as an accompaniment to his actions. He has a song for everything and the Ojibway Indian has an abundance of songs that surprise the civilized ear by their graceful phrases perfect form and variety.

The Ojibway singers, too, are a surprise to all who hear them. Their voices, though utterly untrained, are sonorous and almost wholly free from the nasal quality that mars the singing of other tribes. One of the Ojibway actors in the Hiawatha play, Tatabah-bundung, might well have been in Longfellow's mind when he pictured Ojibwa boys "He the sweetest of all singers." He is a pure tenor voice, powerful and of an appealing quality that wins its way straight to the heart. He sings with a depth of feeling, too, that amazes all who have erroneously supposed that the Indians are creatures devoid of emotion.

This Indian is one of the number whom Mr. Frederick R. Burton will have with him in Westfield on Feb. 13, at the Westfield club house. Mr. Burton is an adopted Ojibway himself and a famous author and lecturer. The entertainment will be highly interesting. Further particulars next issue.

Habits of Nonagenarians.
In the study of the lives of 73 persons more than 90 years old living in the city of Dresden, Saxony, it has been discovered that all sleep in closed rooms at night and abhor bathing, and all sleep eight or nine hours daily. They vary in some of their habits, but these three—plenty of sleep, and avoidance of draughts at night and of bathing—are common to all. The conclusion of the government investigation points to these as essential elements of the secret of old age.

For Winter Use.
In Cashmere they have a novel method of putting fodder up for winter use. The country lies in a valley among the Himalayas. The chief industry of the people consists in raising fine wool, and in making this into fabrics which have carried the name of the country all over the world. As in winter snow lies some five or six yards deep, supplies of hay are hung among the branches of trees, where they are easily reached by the flocks of sheep.

Radio Industry.
The radio industry is rapidly developing in France and Germany, and even at nearly $2,000 per gramme, orders are at hand for several hundred grammes. In medicine its effects are most extraordinary. A small glass tube, containing a plate more than a thousandth of a gramme, takes the place of a powerful electric apparatus and in cancer treatment gives results surpassing those of Roentgen rays.

Twenty Shots in His Head.
At the present time there is a keeper on a Hertfordshire estate who has about 20 shots in his head. Nearly 30 years ago this man was accidentally shot by an underkeeper, and there were 22 holes in the hat he wore, which is preserved to this day. The injured man never had the shots extracted, was long between life and death and completely lost his hearing.

Displaced Confidence.
"All I need is a fair chance," said the gentle bogan. "I've got plenty of confidence in myself. If I could only get a start."

"You've got an unusual amount of confidence in yourself if you think you can persuade me to give you a start," said the hard-headed man.—Philadelphia Press.

Sveallan Bride.
The Sveallan bride, who is superstitious, fills her pockets with bread, which she dispenses to everyone she meets on her way to the church, every piece she dispenses of averting, as she believes, a misfortune.

A Flighty Scholar.
Teacher—Do you know anything about algebra?
Berile Young—Please, teacher, I do. It's a mile what is covered with stripes. I saw one at a circus.—Woman's Home Companion.

Islander as a Dancer.
A German critic, in describing the German emperor's actions in a ballroom, states that his majesty danced with an much impetuosity as he displays when leading a cavalry charge.
