P. S.—Take the 7.43 train at Trenton for home. It's a fast express, arriving in Westfield at 3.45.

The Farmer's Power.

Ye may sneer at the farmer, yet he's king of the earth. At whose royal command its abundance comes for food, for clothing, for shelter. To millions who wall throughout the broad land, and he nourisheth all by the turn of his hand. Behind all the toilers in furnace and mine, and a wonderful power and mighty combine, the tiny seed sown by the farmer's hand is the power that controls in this vast, teeming land.

Then sneer if you will, while your mills grind his grain. He rules to the very end through hamlet and plain. Sustaining your life by his labor and toil. The farmer stands first for the king of the soil.

—S. Helen Lewis, in Orange-Judd Farmer.

Lullaby.

A mother sang to her little child. The day went down the west. And the little one looked in her face and smiled. From its cozy cradle nest. Then drifted away to the land of sleep. Where loveliest dreams appear. And the angels, still as guardians, will As loving guides draw near.

O, sweet was the song the mother sung. Her tones were soft and low. The same that oft she heard when young. In the days of long ago. She hopes when the child is older grown. And its time has come to die. The angel's song from the City Fair. Will be its lullaby.

—J. B. M. Wright, in Boston Budget.

THE FOURTH IN WESTFIELD.

HOW THE GLORIOUS DAY WAS CELEBRATED.

The Good Old Town Agateam With Flags, Abang With Noise and Ahaze With Pyrotechnics—Games Galore—Many Fine Private Displays of Fireworks.

stood the Jersey plowman in those days of war and worry; when the farmers of these parts watched for the Redcoats, with finger on trigger and the wildflowers were splashed with blood, are now hundreds of beautiful homes, the foundations of which are built out of the very stone walls used more than a century ago for breastworks against the soldiers of King George.

It is fitting, therefore, that the old town should hump herself when the Fourth of July comes around—and that she did this year in great shape, as she always does.

There was something in particular going on all the while. Contests on the baseball grounds, the golf links, the tennis courts. Flags were flying to the breeze—and such a breeze! What a day to be remembered! On every avenue and street there were displays of fireworks at night and the day went on in a blaze of glory.

BASEBALL.

Two pretty games of ball were played on the grounds at Recreation Park on July 4th, with the Colored Giants of New York.

Westfield started off with a rush in the morning game, scoring five runs in the first inning, and that was all the scoring they did, as Nelson held them to four hits for the balance of the game. Hegeman had a bad inning in the fourth, hitting the first two batsmen and allowing four hits. The infield went to pieces and when the smoke had cleared away the colored gentlemen had four runs to their credit and "Rooster" Kelley and "Pop" DeVoe had found their voices. Hegeman was not accused to their style of coaching and he is to be excused for taking his flight upward under these trying conditions.

In the seventh the colored rooters became busy again, and scored two runs, making the score 6-5 in their favor.

Waller went in to save the day and struck out five of the six batsmen that faced him.

The ninth looked promising for a win, as Cotter led off with a hit to centre-field fence, and with a little faster work on the lines could have made third. However, he stopped at second, and Waller endeavored to bring him home, but Nelson used his head and Waller gashed the air three times and sat down. Waller advanced Cotter to third, but Barry went out on a weak tap to Butler and the game was over.

Score by innings follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Westfield.....	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	5	3	3	2
Giants.....	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	6	7	8	3

Two-base hits, Barry, Cotter. Three-base hit, McManus. First base on balls—Off Hegeman, 2; off Nelson, 1. Struck out by Hegeman, 3; Waller, 6; Nelson, 4. Hit by pitcher, Connolly, Nelson, DeVoe. Umpire, Kenzie.

The afternoon game soon after its start became a farce, Waller having the colored batters at his mercy, while Valentine, who started the game for the Giants, was easy picking for Westfield. After Nelson went in, the game was more even, but Westfield had too great a lead for the dusky boys to overcome, the final score being 10-3.

Mallen's home run in the eighth was the feature of the game.

Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Westfield.....	1	1	0	2	0	1	1	1	10	10	0	0
Giants.....	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	3	6	5

Two-base hits, Connolly, Kelley. Home run, Waller. Double play, Nelson, Butler, Smith. Umpire, Kenzie.

Cotter is something of a hitter as well as a lively basestop.

"Dan" Connolly is "Johnny on the spot" with his little bat when a hit is needed. "Hit her out, Dan," is the cry of the grand stand fan.

Hickman needs considerable coaching to make a valuable player. He is a very fast fielder, but evidently knows nothing of the fine points of batting. It is to be hoped that Capt. Mallen will give this player some much needed lessons at once.

Adler is an addition to the team, being a good fielder and batsman, and a fast man on the bases.

And now root all together for the third game with Trenton Y. M. C. A.

Mallen made the first home run since Recreation Park has been enclosed. The ball was lost in left field.

Keep your eye on the ball, boys. Four hard games just ahead.

On Saturday Roselle will tackle the Maurer A. C. of Brooklyn. The visitors are considered one of the best traveling teams leaving New York. This is the second game of a series. Roselle captured the first one by a score of 4 to 1.

The Plainfield "Press" gives notice that the Trenton Y. M. C. A. have refused to play any more games with Westfield, on account of Hickman, claiming "Nat" Strong, Manager of the Murray Hills, had a contract with "Hick." "Nat" probably let out a little "hot air" when at Plainfield on the Fourth, but did not finish the story. If they will have a little talk with Hickman they will possibly learn something of interest on this matter. Westfield plays at Trenton tomorrow with Hickman at bat.

GOLF.

The Fourth of July was a day of much activity at the Westfield Golf Club. Under the auspices of the Handicap Committee a 90 hole handicap competition at medal play was run off in the morning and afternoon for net and gross score cups presented by H. B. Knight and E. D. Floyd respectively. The net cup was won by E. B. Proud, fit with a score of 103-50-143 while the gross cup went to Mr. Whitlatch who made the excellent score of 103. Also the best two net scores in the morning round qualified in the "Governor's Cup" competition, the two to qualify being E. B. Proud, 99-23-03 and A. L. Russell, 98-30-98. In the evening under the direction of the House Committee, the members gathered to witness a display of fireworks on the ninth fair green. There was a large attendance and after the fireworks refreshments were served, when the assembly room was thrown open for dancing, to music furnished by Mrs. Mapes. Dancing was kept up until about midnight, when the day was brought to an end.

Westfield Boys Win Honors.

July 4th Harry Emblemton won first prize, a diamond pin, in a novice race, at Vailsburg track. At the same place, and on the same day, Charles Emblemton won third prize, a diamond locket, in a one-mile handicap race. He also won first prize, a beautiful silver set, on July 5th, in a one-mile handicap race at Trenton.

FADS OF FASHIONABLES.

Bright green silk hosiery is among the novelties. Embroidered net is set into some silk stockings. Cuffs are anything from straight bands to platings. Carnations are coming into prominence in millinery. Crush belts of gold thread are charming for the white frock.

A jeweled net for the hair is charming with a picture dress.

To be smartly dressed one cannot escape this rule of much lace trimming. A charming summer accessory is the scarf of painted mousseline de soie.

Ashes of rose, butter color and palest blues and pinks are seen in profusion. Applique flowers cut from colored taffeta on a gown of white voile or muslin.

Big green gooseberries and little white roses combine on some modish millinery.

A silver cross succeeds the jeweled heart so long worn at the end of a frail chain.

IN THE LITERARY FIELDS.

The grave of Thomas Dunn English, in the cemetery at Newark, N. J., has been left unmarked, unadorned and neglected. The Celtic club will make an effort to have a suitable shaft placed over the grave.

Capt. Robert E. Lee, the youngest son of Gen. Lee, is at work on a book entitled "Recollections and Letters of Gen. Lee," giving an intimate picture of the husband and father as well as of the distinguished southern commander.

The British Weekly, London, says: "Only a very few among the foremost of our novelists can have their stories published in serial form in America. Eight or ten years ago the English novelist could count on receiving more than half his income from America, and now he can count on practically no returns at all."

BITS ABOUT THE JAPS.

Three per cent. of the Japanese army officers are Christians. Two Japanese battleships are commanded by Christians.

It is considered that Japanese men are among the best needleworkers in the world, their only equals being the women of Russia.

One result of the Anglo-Japanese alliance is that the gardens of many Buddhist temples in Japan have displays of English flowers.

Aspector in a Japanese theater, on payment of a small extra fee, is permitted to stand up, and the person behind him cannot object, although the latter's view of the performance is obstructed.

Baron Suyematsu, in an address before the Japan society in London the other night, said that one of the easiest ways of becoming a Japanese subject was to marry a Japanese woman. Then the husband became a Japanese subject.

In Japan in the textile industries women are largely employed at a wage corresponding to seven pence a day. More expensive men get the princely sum of ten pence per day. Tailors, masons and woodworkers gain weekly incomes ranging from five to seven shillings. Printers are even worse off, averaging only four shillings a week.

FROM INDUSTRIAL SOURCES.

Last year the supplies of fish at Billingsgate market, London, amounted to 168,897 tons, as against 156,357 tons in 1902, and 148,306 tons in 1901.

The production of all the petroleum oil fields of Indiana is falling off, in spite of the large number of new wells. This is true of the Russian fields as well.

Of the four great lumber districts of the United States, the southern pine region stands first. In it are 43 per cent. of the sawmills and half the lumbermen.

A new use for paper has been recently discovered in France. It is found that the substance makes excellent sails for yachts, fishing boats and smaller craft generally.

Japan furnishes one-twelfth of the raw silk consumed in the world—about 9,000,000 pounds. The war is not likely to affect this production, as all the work is done by women and girls.

Statistics of the production of oil in California during the year 1903 show that 23,692,000 barrels, from 2,900 wells, reached the surface, which signified the displacement of 6,000,000 tons of coal.

A FOURTH OF JULY STORY OF THE CANADIAN WOODS

By WRIGHT A. PATTERSON

IT WAS a mysterious looking box that Yorker carried on that trip to Canada. That is it was mysterious to me, for I usually knew everything that went to make up our camping and fishing equipment. When I asked about it he gave me to understand in a vague way that it contained sketching materials—Yorker was the artist of the party—and I let it go at that, and thought nothing more of it until we reached Port Huron, and the Canadian customs official visited us.

"What's in that box?" he asked, after he had examined our suit cases and fishing tackle in a perfunctory way. "Nothing that is dutiable in Canada," said Yorker, but the answer simply aroused the official's suspicions, and, even though he was from Canada, he had to be shown.

It was just then that a fellow passenger on the train called me to ask for information regarding the fishing in one of the Muskoka lakes, and I left for a moment. As I returned I heard the customs officer say, as he walked away:

"Don't think you could sell those things in Canada, so I guess it's all right."

That was the last said about that box other than to condemn it as needless baggage at times when it had to be portaged from one lake to another pole from which Old Glory was flying. It was a goodly sight, and our applause brought Moore to the cabin door. When he saw the flag he announced that it should not fly without a Union Jack beside it "to keep it company and take the curse off," and got no breakfast until he had fished out a diminutive bit of canvas and hoisted it onto a flag pole.

After breakfast, in accordance with established custom, we congregated about the front of the cabin to discuss plans for the day. It was then that we discovered what the contents of Yorker's box were.

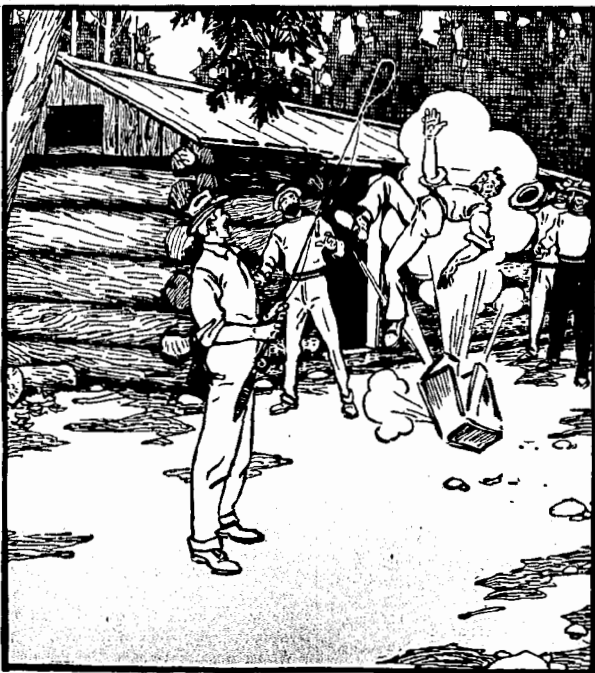

Moore was sitting on an empty cracker box that was turned sideways, leaving the open side back of him. He was elaborating with all the ardor of a born fisherman the gamey qualities of the bass to be caught in the lake just south of us, and advising an expedition in that direction, when—

Bang! Bang! Bang!!!
The explosion was terrific. The great forest stretching out for miles behind and on either side of the cabin and the granite bluffs along the shores of the lake in front resounded the report. Moore went three feet or more straight up into the air. He always insists that he was blown up, but it is my private opinion that he jumped.

"Bang!"
It was another from the back of the cabin, and Moore jumped again.

"Bang! Bang!!!"

Two more explosions, this time al-

MOORE WENT THREE FEET OR MORE INTO THE AIR.

In getting into our fishing grounds that lay a few miles west of the Muskoka chain of lakes. Once the box was stowed away in the cabin neither myself or any of the others of the party who had joined us at Toronto, coming from the east and south, thought more about it.

We had left Chicago that year the last of June for our annual pilgrimage to the fishing waters of Canada, and had planted our feet on the shores of Kanpekegon on the evening of July 1. Personally I had been rather pleased at the idea of escaping to the king's dominions for the Fourth of July, so that I might escape the noise of the city usual on that day, and I think the others of the party were somewhat of the same mind. But by the evening of the third we were all ready to admit that we might have missed something by not having taken our vacation a few days later and remaining in the States to hear the eagle scream.

"This," said Charley, as we were sitting in front of the cabin after a day of unusual good luck with the rod, "is as near heaven as a man can expect to get in this world—"

"I can finish that for you," said Smith. "But I would like to be in Buffalo to-morrow to hear the eagle scream, and shoot off a few cannon crackers in the front yard. I am just beginning to appreciate the Fourth of July, now that I am away from it."

"That is one of the luxuries of the States that I can get along very well without," said Moore, the guide.

"Shouldn't wonder a bit at that," returned Smith. "The screaming of the eagle isn't conducive to pleasant memories over here, is it?"

"Oh, you can't hurt me that way," returned Moore. "I ain't all Canuck, even though I do take off my hat to the Union Jack. I was born down in Vermont, but I am going to tell you fellows that this land is good enough for me any day, and I'm not slighting any to hear the eagle screech."

Smith, who is the most aggressively patriotic of the crowd, started in to read Moore a lecture for having deserted his country, and things might have gotten warm enough to explode had the others not have made an effort to put a stop to it, and hustle everybody off to bed.

Yorker was the only one up early the next morning, which was unusual for Yorker, and when the rest of us got out we found he had erected a flag most under the guide's feet, and he unceremoniously took to the cabin. From that safe retreat he poked his head out of the door to curse Yorker, and condemn in unequivocal terms such "unholy carrying on."

"Hurrah for the Fourth!" shouted Smith, who had been too much astonished to give vent to his feelings earlier. "Where did you get the crackers, anyway?"

"Out of the box you were swearing about at the portage the other day," replied Yorker.

"Bang!"
That one had been set ingeniously in the crack of the cabin door, and the explosion burst it open.

"Crack-crack-crack-crack-crack!" Smith had gotten hold of a bunch of small bones, and the continuous rattle brought Moore to the door to see what was happening. He stood watching the proceedings for a little while, and I could see that he was not so averse to it all as he would have us believe. After a little while he came out and took down his diminutive Union Jack. "It don't belong in any such din as this," he explained.

The box was not very large, and a portion of it was filled with fireworks for a night display, so that the supply of explosives was soon exhausted, and the crowd sat around the front of the cabin wishing for more. Then it was that Moore's turn came. He had found an old coffee can with a screw top, and putting in a goodly supply of powder had packed it tight with paper and applied a fuse. Lighting it he slipped up close behind Yorker and, before that individual had discovered the presence of the infernal machine, it exploded with a terrific bang that sent Yorker into the air with a bound.

In his pleasure at the success of his retaliation Moore forgot all about his early anger, and entered into the spirit of the celebration with an enthusiasm worthy of a son of the revolution. He donated his supply of loose powder, kept carefully against the day when his rifle ammunition should run short, and when that was exhausted, thanks to his assistance, he got out his rifle and amused himself by firing into the air until, tiring of that, he set to work to unload shells enough to secure sufficient powder to fix up another coffee can.

Before noon came Moore was the most hilarious one of the crowd, and the loudest in his lamentations at the

ALFRED E. PEARSON, Editor.

Friday, July 8, 1904.

With the Republicans well pleased with themselves and 'at ease in Zion'; with the Democrats all at Sixes and Sevens, attention may be profitably turned to a cloud on the political sky, no bigger than a man's hand only a few years ago. It is referred to as The Populist Party. They call themselves The People's Party. At their Convention just held in Springfield, Illinois, Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia, was unanimously nominated for President, with Thomas H. Tribbles, of Nebraska, for Vice-President.

The Committee on Resolutions reaffirm adherence to the basic truths of the Omaha platform of 1892, and of the subsequent platforms of 1896 and 1900. The platform then says:

GOVERNMENT MONEY.
"We demand that all money shall be issued by the Government in such quantities as shall maintain stability in prices, every dollar to be a full legal tender, none of which shall be a debt redeemable in other money."

FOR POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS.
"We demand that postal savings banks be established by the Government for the safe deposit of the savings of the people."

EIGHT-HOUR LAW DEMANDED.
"We believe in the right of labor to organize for benefit and protection of those who toil, and pledge the efforts of the People's Party to preserve this right inviolate."

"We favor the shorter work day and declare that if eight hours constitute a day's labor in Government service, that eight hours should constitute a day's labor in factories, workshops and mines."

NO GOVERNMENT BY INJUNCTION.
"We denounce government by injunction and imprisonment without the right of trial by jury."

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.
"To prevent unjust discrimination and monopoly the Government should own and control the railroads and those public utilities, which in their nature are monopolized."

TRUSTS TO BE CHECKED.
"As to those trusts and monopolies which are not public utilities or natural monopolies, we demand that those special privileges which they now enjoy, and which alone enable them to exist, should be immediately withdrawn. Corporations, being the creatures of government, should be subjected to such governmental regulations, and control as will adequately protect the public."

TRUST TAXES FOR MONOPOLIES.
"We demand the taxation of monopoly privileges, while they remain in private hands, to the extent of the value of the privileges granted."

Attention is called to a Union Water Company Notice which appears on page five, this issue.

What's this—the STANDARD twenty-one years old next week? My, how the time flies—and so much yet to be done!

We cannot undo the already Done. Even the lesson of the Slocum horror is lost if no demand is made by new laws for metallic construction of harbor passenger vessels.

The Lord be praised—the Australian system of voting is still in force! The people may yet get together at the polls and show that they care more for their own interests than for the triumph of their (?) Political party.

Educational Progress! There you have it—Educate the masses and have no fear of the consequences!

Any man who is afraid of the Masses is an aristocrat at heart; he is a Tory, a traitor to the American idea. To the Rear with him!

We have the honor to salute the Orange Journal upon its semi-centennial! We congratulate Editor Edgar Williams, however, more upon the present than the past, while he speaks for his enterprise continued prosperity and usefulness.

The bewildering magnitude of the Fair at St. Louis (pronounced San Louie when you have money), beats out anything of the kind ever attempted before.

When you go there consider its marvels and you'll be too busy to find fault.

In Russia the People have no printed voice.
It is different in America, thank God.

It is astonishing how many absolute cures for consumption there are that don't cure. Meanwhile God made a mighty good thing when he made fresh air and all out-doors.

The presence of Mr. Knox in the Senate will unquestionably add to the intellectual assets of the same. But, judging from his career as Attorney General, the Corporations, and not the people, would get the benefit of his talents.

The idea of corporate wealth to dictate the nominations of both parties was doubtless a good one from the Monopoly point of view.

But it is very apparent that the people do not intend to let the Gold Dust Twins do their work.

Mr. F. W. Ranyon, longtime Editor and Proprietor of the enterprising Plainfield Courier-News, steps down from the Editorial tripod for other business. Editor George H. Frost, President and Treasurer of the Engineering News Publishing Co., New York, has acquired his interest. The STANDARD's blessing on them both.

Revolutionary thinkers must, of course, be always suggesting something new. They might, however, have left us "America." But along comes 517 composers of music in competition for a substitute, and at the annual meeting of that patriotic Society of the Cincinnati in the State of Rhode Island, held on the Fourth, at Newport, a new "America" the work of Arthur Edward Johnstone, the successful competitor, a well-known musician of New York, was sung.

We've just made up our mind not to like the pecky thing, anyhow, which shows how little we are. But, of course, you all can go ahead and like the new "America" if you want to, and its none of our business.

IN THE WORLD OF ART.

Few art schools have sent out so many successful and well-equipped students as has the school of the Pennsylvania academy. At the close of the season's work the academy awarded $13,400 in scholarships and prizes.

The Chinese exercised the art of printing centuries before it was known in Europe, and this applies also to illustrations by means of engraved blocks. When the Japanese adopted it from them is not certain, but engravings are extant which date from the thirteenth century.

Felix Ziem, who, though a Frenchman by birth, has devoted himself to flamboyant pictures of Venice so long that most people think of him as an Italian, has just married at his home in Nice one of his pupils. Ziem was born in Beaulieu in 1821, but he is still vigorous and turns out his replicas of the Grand Canal and Adriatic with as much industry as he did 40 years ago. For nearly half a century he has made his home in Nice.

Occasionally Vereschagin, in his efforts after realism, made some strange mistakes. There is, for instance, a picture of his representing the execution of rebels during the Indian mutiny, which is very powerful. Unfortunately, however, the artist had not apparently known of the change in British military costume, and in consequence the British soldiers in the picture are represented as wearing the helmets which did not come into use in the army for more than a quarter of a century after the mutiny.

STANDARD SPINNINGS.

Johnny Guff says that he is not quarrelsome, but he is about to exhibit his punk on the Fourth.

Bangs were very much in fashion on the Fourth.

The problem solved at last—Why does a hen cross the street?
"To try the town's new sidewalks."

At Westfield, always generous, nearly blew off his thumb on the Fourth.

Bill Peneley says, "Never buy a thermometer in Summer; wait till January when they are much lower."

By the number of crackers in evidence one might think our national bird was a parrot.

"I wonder how Cousin Ananias celebrated the Fourth," remarked Uncle Bill, to Johnny Guff.

"He probably fell back on his usual recourse and shot off his mouth," replied Johnny.

WESTFIELD'S LOW WATER PRESSURE.

MAYOR PERKINS AND FIRE CHIEF DECKER MAKE TEST.

Business Section Shows But 40 Pounds and Dudley Avenue but 26 Pounds Pressure to Square Inch.

The town council met Tuesday evening. The entire board was present with the exception of Councilman Settlemyer.

Mayor Perkins stated that he and Fire Chief Decker had officially tested the water pressure in the town. One test was made in front of the fire department buildings on North avenue and showed a pressure to the square inch of but 40 pounds. This is in the lowest part of the town. In the highest, Dudley avenue, a test showed but 26 pounds pressure to the square inch—hardly enough to send water to the second story of the smallest building on that thoroughfare. Both tests show Westfield to be sorely in need of higher water pressure for fire protection.

Several bills were ordered paid, but one from an Elizabeth printer was objected to by Councilman Wittke, he claiming that the printing was ordered without the knowledge of the chairman of the printing committee. Mr. Wittke also claimed that the bill should be held up as it had not been presented for payment 24 hours before the meeting, in accordance with a recent resolution passed by the council regarding payment of bills.

Mayor Perkins suggested that in future all orders involving any expense should be signed by the chairman of the committee to whose department the work is to be charged.

Several sidewalk ordinances were passed on second and final reading and the work will be ordered completed at once.

The proposed Spring street sidewalk proposition caused considerable comment among the members of the council. The proposed sidewalk is in front of the Peckham property. Councilman Ledley was strongly in favor of laying the stone walk, but he was opposed by Councilman Richardson and others who did not consider a sidewalk necessary in that section. Mr. Richardson told the council there were no buildings or residences on that side of Spring street, and to lay a sidewalk in front of the mill property where heavy wagons were constantly driven over the walk would be an uncalled for and, therefore, an untimely hardship to the taxpayer. The matter was laid over until the next meeting.

A public hearing on sidewalks will be held Monday night, August 1st.

Walter J. Lee asked the council for permission to grade Washington street between the Boulevard and Summit avenue at his own expense. The matter was referred to the committee on roads.

The Board of Health sent in a communication advising the council of the necessity of a sewer on Summit avenue from Washington street to Grove street. Reference was also made to the necessity of sewers in other parts of the town.

Councilman Alpers spoke of the unsightly appearance of Clark's lake. The water is covered with scum and weeds. The matter was referred to the Board of Health.

Miss Curry at Her Summer Home.

Miss Curry is at her Netherwood Summer Home with 180 children and mothers. As Miss Curry marched up to the house at the head of her family the neighbors said "here comes Miss Curry and her babies." It was an inspiring sight. The home has been enlarged and beautified and prepared to receive the little folks. It would do one's heart good to see how delighted the present instalment of juvenile visitors were to get in to the country.

New Industrial Economy.

A locomotive engineer on an eastern railroad said one day to his two firemen: "Suppose you fellows work as if you and not the company were paying the coal bills." During six months merely by careful firing, the men caused a saving in coal over the average consumption of the engine, equal to almost four times the wages paid to the men for that period. The engine was the same; the men worked differently.—Philadelphia Press.

The Geisha's Toilet.

Women have always aspired to be beautiful and have painted their faces and "tired their heads" since time immemorial and in all countries. The geisha of Japan changes the color of her lips three times in one evening and no little Japanese lady ever misses an opportunity of whipping out the rouge pot and mirror which form indispensable parts of her toilet.—Washington Clerk.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless this inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; hence cases of deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

OBITUARY.

William Cook.

Word has reached Mr. P. A. Cook, of Scotch Plains, that his father, Mr. William Cook, founder of the Cook Poultry Farms, died suddenly, of heart failure, June 25th, at Skegness, England, while away on a holiday. Mr. Cook left Westfield, June 2d to go to the old country; thence to visit his several farms abroad, he having one in England, the Headquarters, one in Australia and two in South Africa. The general business will be carried on without interruption, Mr. P. A. Cook remaining in charge of the one recently established at Scotch Plains.

The late Mr. Cook was the founder of the world-known firm of William Cook & Sons, by far the largest poultry breeders in the world. He bore a high character as a business man, and was universally respected. During recent years most of his time had been spent in traveling in this country and abroad.

Children's Party on Dudley Avenue.

The very youthful set of the town think the "Hill" a delightful place of residence, for party after party takes place there in quick succession. Not many weeks ago Marion Webb entertained the seven year old children of the neighborhood; Natalie Fairbairn soon followed with a very delightful gathering at the beautiful Fairbairn residence on Kimball avenue when she ceased to say, "We are seven" and looked out on life from the advanced age of eight years. On a more recent Wednesday Mrs. Collins of Dudley avenue, entertained her little daughter's friends, it being the occasion of her eighth birthday. About fifty children, including a number from New York and Brooklyn were welcomed by the small hostess, who was ably assisted by her cousin Miss Margaret Collins, who attends our High School; her classmate Miss Ruth Alpers and Miss Marie Sjostrom, who was salutatorian of the class of 1904.

The list of guests from Manhattan included Mrs. Collins, mother of Mr. David Collins, who has recently come to dwell among us, his aunt Mrs. Brooks, and a number of friends from Brooklyn; for Mrs. Collins previous to her marriage lived in Brooklyn, and belongs to the large Brooklyn colony among us, that is responsible for the unwritten law, that no one can really become part of our Westfield community, unless he or she has at some time, no matter how short the period, dwelt in the "City of Homes and Churches."

The genial Mr. Delamater, who is a near neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. Collins was here, there and everywhere assisting Mrs. Collins in entertaining the little ones.

It was a lawn party and the children made a pretty sight as they formed a ring under the trees, and played the old games of our childhood, which will be ever new as each successive generation of children comes along. Supper was served on the veranda, at small tables, which were decorated with the national colors.

The little folks went home tired and happy, each carrying a pretty souvenir tied with red, white and blue ribbon and unconsciously impressed with patriotic sentiments inspired at Helen Collins's party.

CULLED FROM THE POETS.

Queens of the Gingham Aprons.
The little gingham aprons that they wore,
Those dainty queens of sunny days of yore—

One was a rent where flowers tumbled
Upon the bare feet paddling in the dew.

No bannered hostess glowed over you,
Fashioned by the cunning hand of skill

Can hide the sign of age, till ne'er forget,
No silken sash and satin ever will.

Displace the modest, sometimes tattered thing,
The little gingham aprons that they wore.

Ah! queens beyond the ransom of a king!
Ah! vanished gingham aprons of the yore!

Dear little gingham aprons of the days
Of sandy paths and primrose-scented ways!

There is a glory in each string and check
Heart gathers from the daisy and the weed.

They flung to scurry o'er the mossy stile,
They turned to sway upon the grapevine swing.

Ah! that there was no sophistry or guile
In even a puckered ruffle or a string!

I close my eyes—and see the merry train
Afoot come trooping down the sunny shore!

The bare feet paddle in the dew again,
And flowers drift through rents the rents

Of yore.
—Horace Seymour Keller, in N. Y. Sun.

Do Your Work Well.

"My boy," said Uncle Cyrus once, "when you've a task to do,

Go at it, and stay with it till the last detail is through.

Don't work in such a hurry that the job will be possessed

The evidence that it was done in wanton carelessness.

The men who're wanted at the front, the men who're at the top to-day are those who've borne the load.

Are men of worth and character on whom we can depend.

So bear in mind, my boy," said he, "don't shirk what comes to you,

But do both honestly and well what you are called to do."

"Remember, too, my boy," said he, "success has no short road.

The men who're at the top to-day are those who've borne the load.

There are no crosscuts to the heights, no hard jobs one can shirk,

But he who mounts the pinnacle gets there by honest work.

'Tis true you'll very often feel that you would put away

Your labors, when the task is hard, and when you're just a day

But if you'd give the honor prize don't shirk what comes to you,

But do with all your heart and mind whatever you're called to do."

—E. A. Brinwood, in Orange Judd Farmer.

The Robin's Song.

I stood upon the hillside, in the morning's early glow,
And loved to dwell the vale on scenes I'd loved in long ago.
And many tender memories came thronging back to me,
When suddenly a robin's song burst from the apple tree.

I listened as the notes uprose, pure as the crystal light,
And for a momentary space the present dropped from sight;
A child I stood, and heard again, with all the old time glee,
The robin sing his early song upon the apple tree.

A picture for an artist was the view about me there,
The morning fresh and glorious, all nature dewy, fair,
But never lived the painter who could paint the scene for me,
I'd miss the song the robin sang upon the apple tree.

Board of Health Meets.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Health was held in the town rooms Friday night last.

Complaint was made of the condition of a pond or pool of stagnant water near the Ungerer property on Woodland avenue. The matter is to be looked into by the board.

The board decided that a sewer was necessary on Summit avenue east of Park street, and the secretary was instructed to so notify the Town Council.

No other business of importance was transacted and the meeting adjourned.

The Dangerous Fourth of July Balloon.

Monday night a balloon was sent up from Summit avenue. It caught fire after it had attained a height of 500 feet and the oil can and saturated cotton dropped in the rear yard of E. R. Perkins property on Ross Place, just missing the roof of the barn. The oil and cotton burned fiercely for some ten minutes before being discovered by James Moffett, of Carleton Place, who put the fire out. Had the flaming oil receptacle landed on the roof of any of the many buildings in the neighborhood a serious fire, doubtless, would have been the result.

Special Cars for Dogs.

The managers of the Paris metropolitan underground railroad have been persuaded by lovers of dogs to consider the question of providing special cars on their trains in which dogs and their owners can travel together instead of the dogs being separated from their masters or mistresses, as at present is necessary.—London News.

Abolishment of Slavery.

The thirteenth amendment, forever abolishing slavery, having been ratified by three-fourths of the United States, was declared a part of the constitution in December, 1865. It was necessary, because the emancipation proclamation had only freed the slaves, and did not prevent a new establishment of slavery.

Grave-Digging Taught.

There is an establishment in Brussels for teaching the lugubrious art of grave-digging. It was founded by a cemetery company and was so successful that it received official approbation. All candidates for the post of sexton in Belgium must have been graduated at this unique academy.

How Disappointing.

May—It was too bad that Miss Trilla disappointed the audience at the amateur performance.
Elsie—But she didn't. She was able to appear after all.
Yes; but it was generally supposed that she would not be able to appear.—Stray Stories.

Cause and Effect.

"I never knew till now why this was such a windy country," said the bright little girl traveling through Illinois.
"And have you discovered why?" asked her father.
"Of course," see all the windmills on these farms were passing."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Not Vicious Enough.

He—Like all young men, I have my faults.
She—Yes, Mr. Goodleigh, but they are so insignificant that no self-respecting girl would feel justified in marrying you to reform you.—Town Topics.

Advice to Wheelman.

Never run over obstructions on the pavement merely to be thought smart. I once ran over a man, and a pin in his coat punctured my tire so that it cost me a quarter to have it put in shape again.—Detroit Free Press.

Big Pen Cannery.

It is estimated that the factory at Longmont, Col., cans more peas than any other in the world. The factory has been enlarged this year, so that its capacity is 16,000 cans an hour, which exceeds all records.

CURRENT CURIOS.

On March 4, 1906, 85,000 red men in the Indian territory will give up tribal rule and become American citizens.

Charles H. Booth, lately deceased at Englewood, N. J., was 101 years of age, and holder of the oldest life insurance policy of which there is record.

Parts of the wreck of the Sirius, the first steam vessel to cross the Atlantic, which was lost off Ballycotton, County Cork, in 1847, have just been recovered.

Only a saucer remains of the porcelain set presented in 1783 to Martha Washington. This is carefully preserved in the Smithsonian institution at Washington.

Thorium, which gives the light from a gas mantle its intensity, was a curiosity 20 years ago, but hundreds of persons are now making a living digging it in North Carolina, and the annual output is worth $500,000.

A Russian woman who returned to St. Petersburg from Port Arthur after the first bombardment comments on the curious behavior of the cats in that place. While the bombardment lasted they acted like tigers, yelling, spitting and fighting; but subsided as soon as the missiles and the noise ceased.

The "potato king" of America is Julius G. Groves, a negro, who has farms in the best section of Kansas and whose credit is good for $100,000 at the banks any day. Booker T. Washington tells the interesting story of the success of this man and his wife, for they began the triumphal march together without a dollar. Last year Groves produced 172,000 bushels of the finest potatoes—more than any other one man is known to raise on his own land.

Congressman Curtis, of Kansas, has a rival for his seat in Charlie Martell, a Pottawatomie Indian, who is making a novel canvass of the district, holding old-fashioned Indian war dances and powwows. Mr. Curtis' grandmother was a full-blooded Kaw squaw and the Pottawatomies think it time they were represented in congress. Martell physically is a fine specimen of the Indian. Although well educated he is partial to the open life of his ancestors and lives in a tepee.

Trebizond Products.

The principal products of the Trebizond province, Turkey, are tobacco, filberts, gum, linseed, eggs, walnut wood, hazelnuts and wool.

Down on Tramps.

There are no tramps in Germany. Vagrants are arrested and set to such work that they are glad to secure regular employment as soon as possible.

AN OLD FASHIONED CIRCUS.

Andrew Downie's Big One Ring Show in Westfield Next Week.

Andrew Downie's big One Ring Show will exhibit in Westfield, Tuesday, July 19. This is said to be the largest tented enterprise of its kind traveling. Over one hundred horses and the same number of men are required to move this big overland show.

There are 50 men and women performers, educated horses and ponies, the only singing and acting donkeys, trained dogs and goats, and a number of European novelties.

The street parade will start promptly at 10 o'clock. It will include two bands of music and costly callopes, the funny clown band, large electric organ and other new features. Also in line will be Jumbo, the largest horse in the world.

There will be two performances: in the afternoon at 2 o'clock and the evening at 8. Prices have been fixed at 25 cents for adults, and children under 12 years 15 cents.

The Daily Journal, published at Medina, this State, says that Downie's big show is the best of its kind on the road, and adds:

"Taken altogether, Downie's big show was all that had been promised, in fact, Mr. Downie's standby (every promise fulfilled) was truly kept by him, and that it is the best circus performance Medina people have ever seen at any place, was the conclusive opinion of the immense crowds after leaving the show grounds."

Atlantic City's Annual Horse Show.

For some years a leading event in the life of Atlantic City's Summer Season has been the Annual Horse Show. Each year has brought a greater number of entries, as well as a more desirable selection, until now every horseman of note plans to enter his horse at this Mid-Summer Carnival, and the park where the Show is held is in every way fitted for the exhibition, and this year's show, which is to be held July 19th to 23d, inclusive, will be greater and better than ever before.

FROM OTHER COUNTRIES.

Giving a flash of 150,000 candlepower, the most powerful portable light in England, beams from Roker pier, Sunderland.

In Japan there are no drug stores. The doctors dispense the medicine and if the patrons call on them, they charge for the medicines only.

Owing to the unusual snowfall last winter, much anxiety regarding avalanches was felt in Switzerland during April, but no serious accidents happened.

During the journey of United States Consul-General Skinner through Abyssinia, which occupied weeks, Emperor Menelik was kept informed of the progress of the American party by telephone.

Greece is overrun by well-educated men who do not know how to earn a living. The country swarms with doctors who have no patients and lawyers who have no briefs, while laborers to till the soil are at a premium.

In the prison at Cologne there is a man who was convicted of murder in 1895, but whose death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. He persistently demands a new trial, and begs to be executed if this is not granted.

Only 130 Russians reside in Japan, whereas there are 3,000 Japanese settlers in Manchuria and Eastern Siberia. The retail trade there is largely in the hands of the Japanese and Chinese merchants. The Japanese vessels plying between Japan and Vladivostok are far superior to the Russian.

There are few able-bodied paupers in Holland. A tract of public land containing 5,000 acres is divided into six model farms, to one of which the person applying for public relief is sent. Here he is taught agriculture and is subsequently permitted to rent a small farm for himself. Holland also has a forced labor colony to which vagrants are sent to do farm and other work, whether they like it or not.

Recently women's footraces at Treptow, near Berlin, caused a great deal of interest. Two of the competitors boldly donned jerseys and knickerbockers, but the remainder ran in skirts. Several appeared on the track in high-heeled boots. A considerable number dropped from exhaustion within 50 yards of the starting point. One sprained her ankle, another fell and broke her arm and a third fainted from excitement before the signal was given to go. Most of the competitors appeared to be absolutely untrained.

Expensive Perfume.

Attar of ylang-ylang, which rivals attar of roses as a perfume, and is worth from $40 to $50 more per pound, is the product of a tree which grows in the Philippines.

Cotton Growing in Spain.

The growing of cotton in Spain is being encouraged by the government, by exempting land from taxes and offering prizes for the most successful experiments.

Trebizond's Importance.

The city of Trebizond is one of the most important cities and ports in the Black sea. It is about 480 miles from Constantinople and 100 miles from Batoum. It is the port of entry for the interior, viz., Erzerum, Bitlis and Van, and for the caravan route to and from Persia.

KEITH'S THEATRE.

The public has long accepted Keith's Union Square Theatre as the leading vaudeville house of New York. Patrons are impressed with the courteous consideration always accorded them, and the delightful home atmosphere that seems to prevail. An afternoon or evening in hot July spent under the Keith roof brings a refreshing relaxation from the buzzing stuffy outside world. It has been primarily these conditions that have made Keith's so popular among women folks.

PROCTOR'S.

"The Rival Candidates," an original drama of New York political life, by N. Morris and C. T. Dasey, the latter one of the most successful writers of comedy melo-dramas in this country, the dramatic feature at Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre next week. The play presents opportunity for a number of fine scenic effects, for which special scenery has been painted in the Proctor studios.

"The Charity Girl," one of the best pieces in the repertoire of the late Ann Pixley, and, next to M'Lisa, the most popular play in which she has appeared has been selected for the stock company of 125th Street Theatre next week. The play, which was first produced at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, is a clever comedy drama possessing a story of absorbing interest.

Another important program is listed for Proctor's Newark Theatre. Robert Haines makes his debut in vaudeville in conjunction with his appearance at the Twenty-third Street Theatre. Other on the bill are Julia Kingsley and Nelson Lewis, the Sisters Delmore, Doris Epworth, Murphy and Andrews, Spaulding, a comedy juggler, and Thomas Whitbread.

TONY PASTOR'S.

At Pastor's Theatre next week the will appear the Orpheus Comedy Follies in fifteen minutes of mirthful riot. William McIntyre and Edith Rice, in the screaming comedy act, "Brannigan and the Leading Lady"; Miss Dean Ediss and Company, presenting "The Ty Rubies"; Joe Morris, "The Jew with the Pipes"; The Sally Family, in "An Interrupted Honeymoon," and others.

At Bostock's, Coney Island, is now being seen the famous show which for several months packed the Paris Hippodrome and broke all records for wild animal exhibits.

Press Notes for August Designer.

From the front-cover page when smiles the prettiest of Summer girls, the last article in the advertising page of The Designer for August is full of the breath of out-of-doors, as is befitting a number which is to be read during the most sultry month of the year. Those readers who have art aspirations will thoroughly enjoy the enticing description Lillian C. Paschal gives of "The Hampton Pines Art Colony," while others who run to rhyming will prefer "The Poetry of Rural Homes," by John De Morgan. "Scenes from Sunbonnet Land," by Harriette Wilbur, the drollest and prettiest of picture play for the wee tots, and older folks who are fond of amateur theatricals are given abundant opportunity in "A Little Scheme," by Cora S. Day. "Moi Fans," by an Ex-Soldier, is a timely article and the short stories are "Bonne-bell's Dinner," by Harriet Whitne Durbin, and "A Cloudland Captive" by Mrs. Frank Lee. Fancywork comprises "Teneriffe Lace," "Hardanger Embroidery," "Beadwork on Canvas" and "Separate Motifs in Tatting." The patterns include advance styles for Autumn, and a special article "For New Arrivals from Stork Town." Many other good things are ready to fly forth from the pages of the August Designer, but one must open its covers and look them for oneself, for space will not permit further details.

The English Governess.

The chief aim in the education of the rich American girl is to secure the pose and poise, and then tone of voice and pronunciation. The Cordella coo and the graceful calm of one born to wear the purple are what all society mothers wish their girls to display in their manner, and the coo and the calm are extremely difficult to acquire.

Bicycle Shoes Gone Out.

"What have you in the line of bicycle shoes?" was the question asked of several dealers. The reply invariably was that no bicycle shoes are being shown, and that oxfords will be the proper thing for women who wish to ride the wheel. For men a few bicycle shoes are shown. These lace neatly to the toe—Shoe Retailer.

At the Dentist's.

Patience—Good gracious! You've been an hour in that dentist's! I hope he hasn't been pulling your tooth all that time!

Patience—No, 45 minutes of the time the dentist was trying to convince me that it wouldn't hurt, and the other 15 minutes I was trying to convince him that I had better call to-morrow.—Yonkers Statesman.

Where She Drew the Line.

Reginald—I love you, Madeline. For you I would give up family, position, wealth—

Madeline—Hold, Reginald! Giving up family is all right—I vain would be spared a mother-in-law; give up your position if you can get a better one, but please hold on to your wealth. We may need it.—The Blis.

A Better Scheme.

The young clergyman was under the impression that there had been some criticism because he preached extemporaneously.

"Do you think I ought to write my sermons?" he asked.

"No," replied the sarcastic deacon. "I think you ought to buy them."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Marriage.

Marriage is a lottery.
Not by all the twinkling stars!
Marriage is a lottery.
Where are made the family thars!
—Puck.

ALMOST THE SAME.

"Say, Billy, wo's matricide?"
"Matricide? Lemme see—dat's when a feller commits suicide by matrimony."—Chicago American.

"I've something better than that," said he.
"And he went on eating his scrapple."—Chicago Tribune.

Very Likely.

Miss Passay—No, I will never marry until I find my ideal.

Miss Sharpe—I suppose it's a man who will say "yes" when you propose.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Human Nature.

"Ever notice it?" asked the fat passenger as he looked up from his paper.
"Did I ever notice what?" asked the strap-hanger.
"That an officeholder no sooner gets kicked out than he begins to howl for reform," continued the obese party.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Cutting.

Young Father—How many teeth does a baby cut?
Old Father—I think it's 16.
Young Father—Oh, that's absurd! From the way in which my baby has kept me awake for the last seven months he must have had at least 60.—Ally Sloper.

A Reasonable Request.

Old Lady—Beg pardon for interrupting, but do you speak any language besides English?
Teamster (with balky horse)—I do, mum.
Old Lady—Then won't you please do your swearing in it.—New York Weekly.

His Opportunity.

Scribbler—in declining my poems the editor said I had no literary ability and advised me to go in for something else.
Pennfield—Did he suggest anything?
Scribbler—Yes; told me to try my hand at a popular novel.—Judge.

Disparagement.

"Mrs. Bliggins says she never goes to the opera."
"No," answered Miss Cayene. "She hasn't enterprise enough to get any news of her own. She is merely an audience."—Washington Star.

Rather Hard on Him.

He—Do you believe, Miss Sweetlips, that we men descended from apes?
She—I think perhaps some of you did, but a great number don't seem to have moved at all.—Ally Sloper.

She—Impossible. He's traveling for his health.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

In No Danger.

Mr. Nicetello—Dr. Knowitt says that kissing conveys microbes.
Sweet Girl—I—I have some carbolic acid upstairs.—N. Y. Weekly.

Chilly Mule Tale.

A correspondent with the Thibet mission tells a mule story: "Mules, apparently, do not die from any cause, and this mission has again proved the extreme hardihood of these animals. When the mission first crossed the Jelepasa, a mule slipped in the dusk and fell into the lake at the bottom of the pass. It was thought to be drowned. Next morning a convoy found it with its nose just above the ice, the rest of its body literally frozen in. Pickaxes were brought and the animal was dug out. It is now working as usual."

To Clean White Ribbon.

There is only one right way to do up white ribbons which have become soiled. Lay the ribbon on a table and scrub it, using water and a brush with stiff bristles. When clean rinse it under the spigot, squeezing out the water between the fingers without creasing the material, and hang it over a line. When it is dry the ribbon will be free from wrinkles, fresh and new looking.—Washington Star.

Oats Growing on a Sheep.

Country parsons are often naturalists and close observers. Rev. W. H. Jenoure, rector of Barwick, Yeovil, describes a novel sight which may be seen in his parish. A farmer has been feeding his sheep on oats, and some of the grain fell on the back of one of the animals. It has taken root in the wool and sprouted, and the young shoots may be seen growing on its back.

Beggars in Spain.

There are 190,227 professional beggars in Spain; of whom 61,948 are women. In some of the cities beggars are licensed to carry on their trade. Seeking alms is recognized as a legitimate business, and the municipality demands a percentage upon the collections. Seville is the only city in the kingdom which forbids begging in the streets.

Freeing His Mind.

"What we need in this town," says the Hickory Ridge Missourian, "is a good sidewalk to the cemetery. The present facilities for getting there are wretched. Besides that, the cemetery is entitled to some recognition. It's the only part of the town where there have been any improvements made for the last four years."—Chicago Tribune.

French Fried Toast.

For many French fried toast is too rich and indigestible. A palatable and wholesome way of preparing it is to bake it instead and omit a great portion of the butter necessary in the frying process. Dip the slices in milk (after slightly toasting), then in beaten egg, and sprinkle with powdered sugar as soon as the egg begins to turn a light golden color. The toast must be watched carefully after the sugar has been added, as it is apt to scorch suddenly.—Chicago Daily News.

The Care of Dainty China.

In Holland the good old custom still obtains among ladies of washing the china and silver after breakfast and tea with their own fair hands. This they do in the presence of the family and any guests who may be there, and the fashion has lately been revived in some American households, partly because it gives a touch of homely simplicity and partly because a lady's gentle handling is needed if the delicate china and glass are to be preserved for any length of time.—Chicago Daily News.

Left Him a Fortune.

Gregoria Zelich, keeper of a restaurant in Oakland, Cal., taking pity upon the apparently urgent needs of an old Mexican, Magin Castro, gave him food and a place to sleep for a considerable time. Castro died the other day, and in his will bequeathed to his benefactor all he possessed, which proves to be a large interest in an estate in Mexico valued at several hundred thousand dollars.
