Is Your Savings Account with the Plainfield Trust Company?

If it is not, here are some of the reasons why it should be:

Deposits made before the fourth of each month draw interest from the first of that month.

3 per cent. interest is paid and is compounded twice a year.

A Capital of $100,000 and a surplus of a like amount, together with a very strong board of Directors, make it the strongest kind of an institution.

MANAGER JOHNSTON HASTENS HIS OWN.

All Manager Is Being "Knocked" by Press and Public—A Few Hot Words Favor "Nat" Strong to Manager Team.

George Greater Johnston, Manager of Allis team of Plainfield, is having trouble of his own in managing a ball team that will at all times please the peculiar whims of the average Plainfield fan.

Just now the local press are pounding him, and have suggested that "Nat" Strong would make a more capable manager for the ball team. Manager Johnston has changed the line-up of the Allis team several times this season, hoping each time to get together a winning team. He has a good team, but they are playing in a little hard luck. As a base ball manager, many consider that Johnston has "Nat" Strong beat a mile. Strong has made a fizzle of the Murray Hills this year. He started off with a good team, but his players—the good ones—refused to stick, and Strong was finally compelled to use second-raters. Should Allis drop Johnston from the managerial head of their outfit, good baseball in Plainfield would be a thing of the past. Many Plainfield ball enthusiasts claim that there are too many "Its" in the club, and all want to have their say in running the team. If Johnston is manager, they say, let him be manager.

Cure for Influenza.

It is not generally known that equal parts of new milk and lime water constitute one of the best cures for influenza, surpassing whisky, which is so much used, and in cases, where there is fever the white of a raw egg will not only strengthen the patient, but will soothe the pain. Do not give the yolk as that would increase the fever.—Washington Star.

Old Maid Insurance.

"Old maid insurance" is carried out in Denmark. Women who think they may become old maids pay so much a year, and at 40 receive pensions for life. If they marry before 40 what they paid in premiums goes to swell the amount available for the benefit of their less unfortunate sisters.

Pineapple Pickle.

Slice the pineapple very thin and pour over it a syrup made of two pounds of granulated sugar to a pint of vinegar, with spices of cloves, cinnamon and allspice. The next morning drain off the syrup, boil up again and pour over the fruit. Repeat this twice again. Ripe muskmelon, ripe cucumber and watermelon are pickled in the same manner. The rind is cut in thick oblong pieces and the outer skin shaved off.—Washington Star.

Salad Mayonnaise.

A salad dressing warranted to keep better than mayonnaise comes from England. Stir together in a small saucepan a teaspoonful of sugar, a little salt and dry mustard, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar and three of cream. Stir well and add two beaten egg yolks. Place in a double boiler and stir until the mixture is like cream.—Boston Budget.

London's Cemeteries.

London's burial grounds within the county total 630 acres, or an area larger than the city of London, while without the county there are 1,374 acres, 1,008 acres of which contain no bodies at present. London's cemeteries cover three square miles, nearly two of which are unused at present for burial purposes.

Spiced Peaches.

Peel large peaches but do not pit them. To six pounds of fruit take three and a half of sugar, one quart of vinegar and one teaspoonful each of cinnamon and cloves tied in a bag. Boil slowly for an hour in a porcelain kettle and can while hot. Peas and apples may be spiced in the same way.—Washington Star.

MORRISTOWN TO HAVE TROLLEY OUTLET.

New Line Will Run to Newark, Opening Up Much Valuable Property.

Plans are under way for the construction of a trolley line from Newark to Morristown, which will be eventually continued to Easton, Pa. The company, known as the Lehigh Valley Traction Company, is largely composed of Pennsylvania capitalists.

The route will be surveyed thirty years ago for the New Jersey Central Railroad. From Morristown it will run through Afton, Hanover, Moorhouse Town and Livingston. From Livingston to Orange the line will follow the natural cut in the Second Mountain that the Central proposed using, but instead of tunneling the First Mountain, as was contemplated by the Central, the road will run up the western slope to St. Cloud. From here cars will either be brought down on the now abandoned cable road or else by a new line to a connection with three trolleys, the South Orange and Maplewood system, which runs to the West Orange station of the Erie Railroad; the Orange and Passaic Valley, extending from Orange Valley to Bloomfield, and the new Central avenue line of the Public Service Corporation.

The new road will open up some fine properties in Essex and Morris Counties, especially on the western slope of the Second Mountain.

Connections will probably be made with the proposed new trolley line from Cranford to Summit.

Children's Country Home Notes.

The new wing put on the house before the opening of the present season has greatly added to the comfort of the children and to the convenience of those who have the care of them. There is no crowding of elbows in the dining-room, and the dormitory above has proved very cool even during the hottest night. The west wind blows through from side to side and the views from these windows are beautiful.

Some of the crippled children who were there last year from Newark have returned. One little fellow, Frankie Boken, who has hip disease, says he has been in a hospital five years, a sad place for a life of eight years. Alex. Mitchell, with spine trouble, is wound up in a plaster cast. Lillian Mellyns, another sufferer from hip disease, has been with us three seasons. Little Jennie Smith has had an operation on her foot, but hops about very fast just the same.

One Saturday night, the matron heard a knock at the door, and found a big boy standing there, whom she did not recognize at first, but soon discovered it was Thomas McWilliams, who was at the home last summer, with a brace on for hip disease. He is now well, has discarded his brace, and has gone to work. He had a week's vacation, and so asked to be taken in; offering to pay two dollars a week board out of the four dollars a week he earns. The matron gave him a welcome, but did not take his money, as it is against the rules of the Home to receive money for board. His mother is a cripple and his father is dead.

The Managers are still waiting for the telephone service, which was promised for the first of June! Contributions of vegetables, fruit, cake, etc., etc., are very acceptable and much enjoyed. V. P.

Dog for the Farm.

If a farmer stands in need of a dog he should have a good one. The farm dog, to be a profitable adjunct of the farm, should have duties to perform, and should possess certain valuable qualities that will enable him to do his duties well. He should be a faithful watcher of persons and property, and at the same time of a kind disposition. He should be gentle to the live stock of the farm, and, above all, obedient to his master. A good farm dog is a very knowing animal.—Agricultural Journal.

"Counting" Grandma.

When some surprise was expressed that a small boy should prefer to go for a summer outing to the sleepy village where his mother lived as a little girl, instead of to the seashore with its "attractions," the little fellow replied: "I count my grandmother." In the plans of many families at this season of the year "counting the grandmother" plays an important part. Her welcome arms form for the child "the first line of reserves," to use a military phrase.—Youth's Companion.

THIS IS AN IDEAL SHOW.

Creating an Epoch in Amusement with an Overwhelming Exhibition.

The circus is coming! Welsh Brothers' Newest Great Railroad Show, the biggest thing in the shape of a popular-priced amusement aggregation that has struck this portion of the country for many a long day. The show will make its first 1904 appearance at Westfield, one day only, Thursday, Aug. 4.

There is, perhaps, not a boy or girl, and very few men or women in the whole city who does not know by this time that the show is to be in town. It is an event that is too important to be forgotten or overlooked by the public. The Welsh Bros. show is one of the attractive shows of this country. It is a good show; it is a clean show. It is a show that we can recommend to each and every one who wants to spend a few hours in real innocent enjoyment. We have no apologies to make to any one for loving a good show. We hope so long as we live, at least once a year (if no oftener), that it may be our privilege to go to a real good first-class show like the Welsh Brothers' intent to present here. Yes! We are glad the Welsh Brothers' show is coming, and that it is coming as soon as it is.

Changes in Primary Election Laws Will Affect Westfield.

The Secretary of State has sent pamphlet copies of the Election laws, with last winter's amendments, to the different county clerks for distribution among the election officers in the various election precincts.

One of the most important changes in the Election laws as the result of last winter's legislation relates to the conducting of primary elections. Under the law as it was first passed, election precincts were made the unit of representation in the various state, county and city conventions. Under the new law delegates, instead of being elected from election precincts will be chosen from wards, townships and boroughs. and in the case of filing nomination certificates for primary contests, the ten signatures formerly required from a single election district may be obtained from any section or sections of a ward, township or borough without regard to election precinct lines.

The basis of representation in the gubernatorial convention this fall will be one delegate from each ward, township and borough for every 200 votes cast for the party's candidate for Governor in 1902, with an additional delegate for each fraction of 200 votes in excess of 100.

Always Take Her Advice.

"How much better off a man would be if he would take his wife's advice." "Yes," answered young Mrs. Torkins; "I have told Charley time and again not to bet on horses that don't win, but he will do it."—Stray Stories.

MOONSHINERS IN MISSOURI.

Out of One Dollar's Worth of Material Distillers Turn Out Forty Gallons of Whisky.

It is not generally known, according to the Kansas City Journal, that considerable moonshine whisky is made in Southwest Missouri. Detective James Rosche of Carthage has arrested several proprietors of illicit stills recently. Mr. Rosche says that Missouri moonshiners make big profits as long as Uncle Sam lets them alone. He says they "take one gallon of cheap, black molasses, which costs about 30 cents two bushels of meal, at an average cost of 65 cents per bushel, and some water. This is made into a mash, allowed to ferment and the stuff then goes through the process of evaporation.

This amount of molasses and meal, with a sufficient amount of water added, makes 40 gallons of moonshine, which is sold for two dollars per gallon. The men who engage in the illicit distilling of whisky are usually of the more ignorant class. That is, they are uneducated, but what they lack in book learning they make up in shrewdness that cannot be learned in school. Most of the men engaged in their business are desperate fellows and do not hesitate to defend their liberty with the use of guns.

LADYLIKE PERSON WANTED.

Consequently Society Leader in Search of Position for Maid Is Rebuffed by Milliner.

One of the richest and most prominent society women, who is very quiet and unostentatious in her dress, and by only the appointment of her equipage betrays the fact that she is wealthy, says the New York Press, stopped her carriage outside the establishment of a fashionable milliner, entered and addressed the proprietress: "I see you have in your window a sign, 'Apprentice Wanted,'" she began. The milliner eyed her contemptuously from the crown of her modest bonnet to the tip of her common-sense shoe.

"You would not do at all," she said. "I want a ladylike person who can wait on customers."

"I wish to place one of my maids with some one from whom she could learn millinery while I am abroad," continued the visitor, quietly, "but I am afraid you would not do."

As the footman opened the carriage door for his mistress the horror-stricken milliner recognized too late the livery of one of the "first families" of New York.

RADIUM CLOCK IS DEvised.

Englishman Constructs Curious Time-piece Which It Is Expected Will Run 30,000 Years.

Harrison Martindale, an Englishman, has constructed a radium clock, which will keep time indefinitely.

The clock comprises a small tube, in which is placed a minute quantity of radium supported in an exhausted glass vessel by a quartz rod. To the lower end of the tube, which is colored violet by the action of the radium, an electroscope formed of two long leaves or stripes of silver is attached.

A charge of electricity in which there are no beta rays is transmitted through the activity of the radium into the leaves, and the latter thereby expand until they touch the sides of the vessel, connected to earth by wires, which instantly conduct the electric charge, and the leaves fall together.

This simple operation is repeated incessantly every two minutes until the radium is exhausted, which in this instance it is computed will occupy 30,000 years.

SPEAK ONLY FRENCH THERE

Natives of a Part of Louisiana Are Very Ignorant of the English Language.

Congressman Broussard of Louisiana is, as his name indicates, of French descent. He never spoke English until he went to Georgetown university. "It is curious," said Mr. Broussard, "how the French language has remained the dominant tongue in my part of the country.

"Brought there by Arcadians of Nova Scotia in the eighteenth century, it prevails to-day, and I believe always will. Curiously enough, you will find plenty of men in my district with such unmistakably English names as Jones and Hayes who can't read, speak or write a word of English.

"Still funnier is the talk of the black people. Their negro French would be unintelligible in Paris, and yet it is the softest, sweetest, most musical speech I ever heard from human lips. It knows no grammar, but it is the very essence of melody and melody."

The presence of moisture in tobacco, the London Lancet believes, is of some importance to public health, since the combustion of tobacco containing a large proportion of moisture is impeded, while as the generation of vapor is increased, so are the chances of the poisonous principle being carried into the mouth.

It is unique in design and satisfies the aesthetic sense of the most exacting. It must be seen and heard to be appreciated.

EMPLOYEES WALKING "ADS."

Many Firms Compel Men on Payroll
to Use Their Articles While Not at Work.

Many firms who deal in articles of apparel and adornment look on their employees—out of business hours—as mere walking advertisements for their specialties. Wearing his employer's latest novelty in fashionable attire,
the young counter-jumper has to move about among his friends and acquaintances, doing his best to create a demand for the article in question. Some of them like the system exceedingly,
while others cordially detest it, but any failure to wear these novelties in public adornment—which are served out in a selection of the staff as they appear—would probably be met with dis-misal.

Matters and others submit cheerfully to wearing the very latest shape in everything; but an employee in a famous firm of cycle dealers and agents told the writer that their staff had not only to ride the company's machines—supplied at cost price—but to use and endeavor to popularize every absurd invention that the firm took up. Thus, he said, his bicycle was equipped with a speed indicator, patent puncture
stopper, pneumatic back-wheel brake,
self-cleaning chain, and a folding handle bar, not to mention a lamp burning compressed gas, and an anti-vi-bratory spring saddle.

WINDOW-DRESSING AN ART.

Is a Vital Part of Advertising and Merchants Find It Indispensable in Their Business.

In one important department, unmolested by public criticism, the advertisers have even now established tastefulness as the underlying essential principle of their competition, says
Charles M. Robinson, in the Atlantic.
This is in window-dressing—a vital part of advertising. The beautiful, not the bizarre; the attractive rather than the startling; the pleasing and interesting are now sought in the window effects of every shop—from the great department store to the little candy kitchen; from the basement lights of the modest florist to the long platforms front of a shoe emporium. Salaries of several thousand dollars a year are paid in cities to the "artists" most skilled in window-dressing; and their regulations for plants or ribbons—totally irrelevant as these may be to the stock on sale, and designed merely to add to the beauty of the window picture—are honored ungrudgingly.
In effect, the merchant says, "Give me a beautiful window that people will stop and look at, and that will shall indicate generally the sort of goods I handle, and I do not care what it costs."

BULLDOGS POOR FIGHTERS.

Canines Very Popular But Are Not
as Formidable as Many Suppose.

It will surprise most uninformed people to learn that the bulldog is about the most popular dog of the present day, says a writer in Country Life. This is true at least with regard to the exhibiting section of the dog world. Undoubtedly the ordinary citizen, who has in his mind's eye one of those half-bred dogs
which may sometimes be seen hauling along as tough a looking specimen of the "sport" as is the dog, is not so far wrong in failing to understand how any person of gentlemanly instincts can fancy such dogs; but these are not buldogs, any more than a mule is a race horse. They are merely half-bred fighting terriers. Then the daily press is not free from misleading the public, for nearly every case of attack on the part of a dog is ascribed to a "savage buldog"; whereas bulldogs are not savage and are uncommonly poor fighters. Tenacity of grip, with all the strength of his powerful jaws, is about the end of the bulldog as a fighter.

COFFEE AND TEA FIGURES.

British Subjects Consume But Little of the Former—United States Surpassed by Brazil.

"The people of the United States drink more coffee than any other nation on earth," says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, "but not as much in proportion as the people of certain other countries. When the difference in population is taken into consideration, Brazil surpasses us as a country of coffee drinkers. Belgium and Holland also exceed us in this respect."

"The consumption of coffee per capita in Brazil is 14 pounds each year, in Bulgium and Holland it is 11 pounds, while in the United States each person in the population consumes an average of about eight pounds of coffee yearly. England is away behind in the procession, with a consumption of only one-half pound per capita annually, but the amount of tea consumed on an average in that country by each person is five times as great as in the United States."

Strikes in Russia.

When strikes occur, there is no delay in dealing with them. Troops are mobilized at once. The printers in Moscow, for example, struck last autumn, says the World's Work. The strikers marched in procession along a few streets, clamoring for shorter hours. They complained that they had been compelled to work overtime and that no compensation had been given for the extra labor. Gen. Trepor, chief of police, issued a notice that any man refusing to return to work would be excluded forever from Moscow. This stopped the movement. Such notices have stopped similar movements elsewhere.

Manchurian Bandits.

The Hunhuses bandits in Manchuria are not a distinct race of semi-savage people, as is commonly thought. They are only common, everyday Chinese or Manchus. So numerous are these banditti, and in some districts so perfect is their organization, that they have constructed fortified encampments.

Human Gnawers.

The number of fellow creatures,
young and old, who feel impelled to gnaw something is much larger than is generally supposed. The chronic nail-biter is well known, but there are others who, either through depraved taste or phychic disease, gnaw wood, fur, cloth, etc., to the great detriment of their health.

Tomato Sirup.

It is not generally known that a delightful beverage for the sick, wine-like in flavor and entirely without alcohol, can be prepared from tomatoes.

add a half pound sugar to each pint;
strain, bottle and keep in a cool place.
It keeps indefinitely.—Household.

English Characteristics.

The Englishman is less social than men of any other nationality; I mean he is less conscious of the ties which bind humanity together, his moral formation owes little to his relations with other men, he scarcely troubles himself about what they think, and if he ever considers the matter at all it makes no difference in his sentiments and actions.
In short, the Englishman is, to a large extent, a recluse; he is more aloof from the world in which he lives and the neighbors whom he elbows than the men of any other nationality.—From Boutmy's "The English People."

Dogs of War.

The "dogs of war" in these days assist in field hospital work. In Germany and Italy St. Bernard dogs have been trained for years so as to aid, after an engagement, bearer parties in their search for the wounded, especially at night. Russia, apparently, has no canine corps, and Maj. Richardson, of Carnoustie, England, who has made a specialty of training ambulance dogs, has received a communication from St. Petersburg asking him how many he can supply for service in the far east.

Poisonous Medicines.

Great care should be taken in administering remedies in the form of tinctures which have stood for a long time in small vials in the family medicine closet. When the bottles happen to be loosely corked the alcohol readily evaporates, leaving the drug in the form of a concentrated tincture, the pharmacopoetical dose of which might produce very serious if not fatal results.—Philadelphia Press.

A tariff that fills the rich man's pocket and empties the poor man's dinner-pail needs looking after.

Mr. Roosevelt's habit of holding himself above the law has offended many. This country is yet too big for a Dictator.

It is all very well to know that Judge Parker's character is all right; what the country wants now to know is something about his opinions.

If you will grant that Labor has rights then stand by Labor when it asks for Arbitration of its differences with Capital. Why should any just cause be afraid of Arbitration? Arbitration is the Biblical and the American way out.

Will Judge Parker's letter of acceptance show that he is in accordance with the St. Louis platform, and will he surround himself with advisers whose antecedents and associations are not at war with the platform's spirit?

It is not the business of any political party in this country to remain the representative of favored interests. In this connection it is instructive to note that Mr. Roosevelt's new Attorney General is as inert as was Mr. Knox.

That assassination in Russia is but the sequel to the atrocious horrors at Kishineff in which Von Plehve made himself abhorred of men. His later destruction of the liberties of Finland capped the climax. It is only another demonstration of Cause and Effect. The Czar's throne totters!

Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of chemistry division of the Agricultural Department and one of the world's best dietitians, wants us to tell our readers to eat and drink moderately during hot weather. He wants folks to avoid alcoholic drinks and to eat chiefly rice, potatoes, beans, peas and other vegetables—and be sure not to drink ice-cold drinks; except, perhaps, sipping.

The lordly insolence of the idle snobs of this country is becoming worse and worse, in progressive proportion as the rich grow richer and the poor grow poorer. In many ways the non-American tendencies of the would-be Aristocrats have become almost intolerable. For example, according to the New York Herald, to get the dogs of the fashionable ready for their summer outing requires some thought as well as considerable shopping. As if there were no neglected, parentless children the twentieth century dog is tootsie-wootsie, cuddled and kissed, and, in fact has often more attentions showered upon him than many a sweet child. The fashionable dog has his particular luggage to be checked and looked after the same as that of human folk. His toys and his wardrobe are most carefully packed when he leaves town for the summer. An especially loved ball or favorite toy is left out to cheer him on his way. Even greater attention is bestowed on his wardrobe in packing the going-away trunk. No longer is he allowed to rely only on the wardrobe of nature's providing to protect him from rain and cold. In rainy weather a modish little dog now trots about in a mackintosh and rubber boots. The mackintosh is usually of dark-blue cloth, very smart and tailor made.

Two bath towels he has, one large and rough, the other smaller and smooth and which is used for his eyes and face. An especial soap is provided for him, and should be a white doggie a little bluing is taken to keep his coat from looking yellow after shampooing. A bottle of alcohol also he has, and with this he is vigorously rubbed after his bath. The unique things among his toilet articles are, perhaps, his brace of bronchos. The bristles of these are of wood and beautifully carved in imitation of tortoise shells. Then there is his little medicine box to be placed in the trunk for the veterinarian who attends him in a tyrannical and sometimes masterly take take tablets as often as three times a day.

And some poor maid or valet, for the sake of a meagre pittance and a bare living, must needs dance attendance upon the rich snob's dog! If class hatred is being fomented who are to blame when dogs are preferred by the opulent to the parentless children of poverty—outcast children with souls and brains. Yet we give only one example of the growing insolence of the rich who already ask for reverence on account of their money.

Walsingham is now sitting up nights, striking his mandolin and practicing "How to Spell Chicken."

"Hello! Is this R. F. Hohenstein's hay and feed store? Yes! Well, I'm told all flesh is grass. Just send around a five-pound sirloin of Timothy hay suitable for grilling."

"Decision."—Would it not be prudent for the Als club to strengthen their line if they intend playing the Midgets of Dreamland?

Uncle Bill Peaseley, with his coat on his arm, and a large palm leaf fan in his hand, entered the STANDARD office and sank into an easy chair. After fanning himself some moments in silence he called Johnny Guff over to him and said:

"Johnny, I have been looking at you and you don't appear to be well—what's the matter with you?"

"Nothing at all, Uncle Bill," was Johnny's response, "only I have been obliged to fast more or less, since this meat strike's been on, and—"

"Nonsense, my boy, you're simply run down with hard work and too close application to your duties and need a change of air. Now I wish you would make out a list of places, any of which you would like to visit and I'll see if I cannot arrange to send you away for awhile."

Johnny retired to the press room, visibly affected by the kind offer, but soon returned and handed Uncle Bill a card upon which was written:

Livermore Falls, N. H.
Meat Camp, N. C.
Vealsburg, Ky.
Mutton Run, W. Va.
Beefrange, Tenn.
Hogback, Kan.
Lamb, Col.
Pork Bay, Minn.
Hamboune, Miss.
Coyote, Cal.
Woodcock, Pa.
Pigeon Run, Ohio.
Knife River, North Dakota, and any old fork.

As Uncle Bill perused it carefully tears were seen trickling down his cheek. Hastily wiping them away with his handkerchief he arose and in a voice husked with emotion, said: "Come, Johnny, come over with me to the house, we are going to have corned beef hash for lunch, and we can talk this matter over. Don't forget your trowel."

How in the world Johnny managed to compile this hungry list we are at a loss to know, but as they are veritable places and in the P. O. Directory, perhaps he consulted it.

The meet that we should eat more fish.

"Constant Reader" asks us to take the lump of coal illustration of J. E. Goodman & Son out of our columns this hot weather. Cool, isn't he?

Last evening Walsingham and Johnny Guff, having been detained at home for the want of an umbrella, determined to collaborate a poem, each writing alternate lines. Walsingham was accorded the privilege of choosing the theme and giving the title, with the following result:

ROYAL ARCADE.

At the regular meeting of Firebirds Council held last night in Arcadium Hall, two new members were initiated, increasing the roll to three hundred and eight. After the routine business had been transacted, refreshments were served by Brother J. J. Schmitt, Trustee and Caterer Emeritus.

During the summer, many members of other Councils come to Westfield for their vacations—or for longer periods—and generally they make themselves known to Firebirds men and attend the meetings. Firebirds Council meets on the 2d and 4th Thursdays of the month. The August meetings falling on the 11th and 25th. To all Arcadium men, a most cordial invitation is extended to be present at the meetings, and it is hoped that visitors will feel quite as much at home as in their own Councils.

July Handicap at Westfield Golf Club.

The regular monthly handicap was the chief event at the Westfield Golf Club last Saturday, eighteen cards being turned in. A pewter tankard was the prize offered by the club, the winner being J. A. Tomorrow the Westfield Golf Club team will play at East Orange against the Arsenal Golf Club. On the home links the players will strive to qualify in the Governor's competition.

Westfield Lodgemen Entertain.

On several occasions the I. O. O. F. have entertained friends from other councils, but it remained for their "doings" of Wednesday evening in their comfortable quarters, in Arcadium Hall, to cap the climax.

The main feature of the evening was the installation of officers by District Deputy, Dr. Cronther and staff, of Lawrence Lodge, No. 92, of Perth Amboy. The services were very impressive. The following were installed: W. W. French, N. G.; George C. Allen, V. G.; Thomas Orr, Secretary.

Friends were present from lodges in Plainfield, Rahway, Elizabeth and Perth Amboy, some three hundred in all, including many ladies.

The singing of the German chorus, sixteen voices, received much applause. The program also included songs and recitations by other talent. The closing "number" was much enjoyed, it being a Collation.

Journal for Beggars.

A special newspaper for mendicants, a beggars' journal, has been published daily in Paris for the past ten years. Naturally its circulation is somewhat restricted, but its cost is high enough, especially for a beggar to pay. Twenty-centimes is its price, and just now, when all the newspapers in France are inclining to lower their prices and some of the best sheets cost only five centimes, or one cent, it seems curious that the mendicants' journal should cost 20 centimes, or four cents.

Potato Griddle Cakes.

Left-over mashed potatoes can be made into dainty and wholesome griddle cakes. The potatoes are first of all to be "riced," then mixed with the beaten yolks of two eggs (for three pints of potato), the whites to be whipped thoroughly, as for meringue, and added next. Enough thrice sifted flour to make the batter firm and one pinch of sugar to insure prompt browning is all that is necessary. Served with jam or maple syrup they will be found very delicious. —Philadelphia Press.

Few Dollars.

Phillip Hale, a Boston musical critic and annotator of the Symphony programme books, was talking not long ago with a woman who is strenuously pursuing musical culture. "Mr. Hale," she asked him, "what is the difference between the first and second violin in an orchestra?" "About ten dollars a concert, madam," replied the critic. —Philadelphia Press.

Something New.

"What's this peculiar instrument?" inquired the visitor. "That," replied the manufacturer, "is a table knife. We've just filled a large order for a Chicago firm."

"But what's the idea in the raised rim all around the blade?"

"That's to keep peas and things from rolling off." —Philadelphia Press.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, etc. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

OLDEST CAR IN AMERICA.

Relic of Early Railroadng Stands as Pathetic Appeal to Pioneer Travelers.

The car that stands in the round-house at Plainville, Mass., is the oldest railroad coach in the United States and as such makes a pathetic appeal to all people who remember the earliest days of railroadng. It recalls the days when it was admired by all the countryside as it rolled over the rails between Boston and Providence at a pace which to-day would be regarded as almost funereal. To-day it stands neglected and forlorn, covered with the dust of many years and enmeshed by countless cobwebs—a rusty, useless old thing in a remote corner of the round-house.

To the younger generation it seems almost incredible that this primitive vehicle could possibly have been the predecessor of the magnificent Pullman of to-day. Its outlines suggest a stage coach rather than a railroad car, and the jolting of the crude structure was but little broken by the delicate looking springs beneath it.

The roof of this venerable conveyance was used to accommodate passengers on days when travel was "heavy" or the weather fine. Time has made many ravages on this old coach, and to keep it from further injury it has been necessary to nail boards across the sides and over the wheels that mar the quaint effect.

Golf.

Waitress Spoke Six Languages.

Few head waiters know as many languages as a woman named Scheldreiter, who died at Salzburg the other day, age 73. As a girl of 12 she had taken a position as maid with a wealthy family, and had in the course of years visited all parts of the world, gradually acquiring the faculty of speaking, besides her native German, six languages—English, French, Italian, Arabic, modern Greek and Turkish.

Jap Soldier a Model.

According to M. Piehou, the Japanese soldier has muscles like whipcord, is a sure shot, and an eye for landmarks and a memory for locality. He can do with three hours' sleep out of the 24, is cleanly, attends to sanitary instructions and is ardently patriotic. He costs the state about nine cents a day and thinks himself well off.

CIVILIZED FEAR DEATH MOST

Highest Types Cherish Life While Low Races Do Not Regard It as Precious.

It is a strange fact, remarks the Indianapolis News, that the fear and dread of death are greatest among the most highly civilized peoples. Yet, strange as it seems at first blush, it may be that this fear is both a product and an evidence of a high civilization. For life is a precious thing, and as such it should be cherished. When the hold on life is weak we are likely to see a decay of virtue—at least as we understand virtue. Usually the men who die by their own hand represent a very low type. And those races that regard suicide as a virtue do not stand high in the scale of civilization. With the weakening of the desire to live usually comes a loosening of all social ties. Our religion teaches that, while we should not dread death, we should nevertheless look on life as the gift of God, as something which we hold in trust, and which we should not, therefore, throw away. There is here a sort of conflict. Within limits it is a man's duty to cling to life. St. Paul went through this conflict. He writes: For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and be with Christ; which is far better; nevertheless to abide in the flesh is more needful for you.

LARGEST CARGO OF SPECIE.

12,592,648 Francs Shipped on Kaiser Wilhelm II.—Many Precautions Taken.

Probably the largest cargo of gold specie ever shipped across the Atlantic has been unloaded from the Kaiser Wilhelm II. at Cherbourg, declares the London Telegraph. The amount, constituting an installment of the Panama canal indemnity from the United States, was 12,592,648 francs. The money had been kept on board in an armored store room, before which an armed sailor was on guard night and day. The door was closed by three locks, the keys being in the possession of three ship's officers, respectively. On the store room being opened an inventory was taken of the treasure, which was contained in 155 small oaken casks, clamped with iron, each weighing about 180 pounds, and purposely finished and polished in such a way that the surface offered no grip to the hand, and that the only means of moving them was to roll them along. The precious freight was conveyed ashore in a government tug, and brought to Paris by special train, contained in two iron-protected vans, under the care of two police commissaries. Customs duty was levied on the gold at the rate of ten francs per 100 kilos, amounting to about £60.

MIDDLE NAME IS FLAUNTED.

Philadelphians Use Every Occasion to Have It Spelled Out in Full.

"Philadelphia seems to be a city of middle names," said the cosmopolitan, to a Philadelphia Record man. "If a man has a middle name, and most Philadelphians have at least one, he often insists upon having it spelled out in full. A mere initial won't do at all. Just glance over the society columns of the newspapers and you will see. For my part I don't see just where there is any more dignity in John Brown Smith than in John B. Smith, but the average Philadelphian seems to think there is. I have frequently been impressed by the published reports of weddings in which the names are invariably elongated as much as possible. Now, in New York, if a man happens to have a middle name, he doesn't flaunt it on every possible occasion. I have just been reading about the plans for the coming wedding of Miss Elsie Whelen and Robert Goelet of New York, and I was impressed by the fact that the published reports do not credit Mr. Goelet with even a middle initial, and the same applies to every one of his six ushers. And yet they are all prominent society men."

SOAP TREE IN ALGERIA.

Product of Plant to Be Utilized by Manufacturers—Is Superior to Commercial Brand.

Frank W. Mahin, the United States consul at Nottingham, England, sends a copy of the Leicester Hosiery Trade Journal, which contains an account of an enterprise in Algeria to manufacture a natural soap on a large scale from a tree known as sapindus utilis. This plant, which has long been known in Japan, China and India, bears a fruit about the size of a horse brown. The inner part is of a dark chestnut, smooth and round. The color varies from a yellowish green to color and has an oil kernel. The tree bears fruit in its sixth year and yields from 55 to 220 pounds of fruit, which can easily be harvested in the fall. By using water of alcohol the saponaceous ingredient of the fruit is extracted. The cost of production is said to be small and the soap, on account of possessing no alkaline qualities, is claimed to be superior to the ordinary soap of commerce.

Spider Monkey Barred.

Schomburg, when traveling in Guiana, tested the smaller kinds of monkeys, but could not bring himself to partake of the great spider monkey, "which approached so nearly to the human form." Roasted monkeys, particularly those which have a round head, display a hideous resemblance to a child; the Europeans, therefore, who are obliged to feed on them, prefer separating the head and hands, and serve only the rest of the animal at their tables.

JACOBS' THEATRE, ELIZABETH.

The Greater Black Path Trailhead will be the attraction at Jacobs' Theatre, Elizabeth, Saturday afternoon and evening, July 30th. This celebrated colored organization has been augmented, and its personnel includes forty of the most accomplished singers, dancers, comedians and stage artists in this country. Madame Sisteretha Jones, the world famous Black Path, is the star singer, and John Backer, the Alabama Blossom; Bobby Kemp, the greatest singing comedian; Harry Kronton, the world famous hoop roller; Christian and Reel, skatolists; Mattie Phillips, the unbleached sourette; Ida Force, the pickanilly singer and dancing marvel; James Crosby, the danceling comedian; Anthony Byrd, the black mammy and the great Dixie chorus. Popular prices will prevail.

TONY PASTOR'S.

For next week Pastor's program will include Roberts, Hayes and Roberts, in their Comedy Singing and Dancing Sketch; Charles Ernest, the Minstrel Comedian; Ascott, Eddie & Co., in their playlet "Things Will Happen;" Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buckley & Co., in their original "A Busy Manager;" Andrew McLeod, the Irish Minstrel; Miss Belle Hathaway, with her highly-trained troupe of baboons and monkeys; Miss Georgia O'Ramey, the talented young comedienne; Charles and Ada Kalmo, Character Change Dancers; Haywood and Haywood, in "Is Marriage a Failure?"—interspersed with Bright Comedy, Good Singing, Novelty Dancing, Piano Imitations and Trick Piano Playing; Clifford and Harvey, Songs and Dances; Rowley and Gay, the Comedienne and the Little French Sourette; Bert Wiggin, Cartoonist and Comedy Juggler; Carl Herbert, Magician and Mystifier; The American Vitagraph, with Entire Change of Pictures.

PROCTOR'S.

One of the best sketches recently brought forward in vaudeville is the "Millionaire and The Actress," offered by William Bonnell and company, which scored an emphatic success at the recent trial performance at the Fifth Avenue Sunday Concert. It forms the chief feature of the bill at the Twenty Third Street Theatre this week, heading a list of attractions of varied interest and uniform excellence.

Minnie Madden Fiske's earliest success, the domestic comedy, "Caprice," will be presented by the permanent stock company at Proctor's One Hundred and Twenty Fifth Street Theatre. This interesting and well constructed drama was originally enacted in New York City at the New Park (now the Herald Square Theatre).

"Yes Aaron," one of the best of the Irish romantic comedies, a play in which both W. J. Scanlan and Andrew Mack scored strongly, forms the dramatic offering at Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre for the coming week.

William Bonnell and company head a capital bill at Proctor's Newark Theatre next week. He appears with a sketch entitled "The Millionaire and The Actress," which he assumes in the part of a young man of wealth anxious to meet a stage divinity. The vaudeville acts this week are exceptionally high class.

Fixed Trade.

One of the most notable features of the trade of the United States with South America is its comparative fixity. During the last 30 years there has been an increase of only five per cent. in trade, and the sales of 1890 were about the same as those of 1902. Compared with the trade of 1873, America's 1902 trade with the world outside of South America has more than doubled. To the 40,000,000 people in South America the yearly sales amount to less than $40,000,000.

Woman Warned.

"And so this is dear little Tommy?" said the pretty young lady. "Come and sit on my lap, won't you, Tommy? There, now, let's be friends. And, oh, Tommy, what would you think if your Papa were to bring you a new mamma some day—a nice new mamma who looked just like me?" "I wouldn't care much," said Tommy, "but grandma says if he ever makes such a fool of himself as that she'll put poison in her coffee."—Life.

Fur Hint.

To renovate fur that looks flattened or matted after much wear—notably fox—lay it on a mat and beat it lightly for about ten or fifteen minutes with a cane in each hand. Furs improve wonderfully under this treatment, a depressed looking fox or stole emerging quite renovated in appearance.—Vogue.

Food Fishes.

According to the National Geographic Magazine, the total catch of food fishes in the United States and Alaska, as shown by the last canvass, was 1,733,314,324 pounds; valued at $45,631,165. The number of men employed was 214,066, and the capital invested was $72,261,646.

His Degree.

Dean Russell, of the Teachers' college, has had a new honorary degree thrust upon him by a cockney serving maid in his employ. She was showing his gown to a visitor the other day. Taking it down from the place where it hung, she turned it about to display all of its points and exclaimed, with the ring of intense pride in her tones: "That's the robe he wore when he took his Hell, Hell, Dee."—N. Y. Commercial.

To Keep Apples Fresh.

Take a sugar barrel, cover the bottom with sand, put in a layer of apples, then cover with sand, and so on until the barrel is full, leaving the last layer covered with sand. Keep barrels in cool cellar. Last year we kept russet apples as fresh and crisp as when first plucked until quite late in the spring, and I see no reason why any winter variety should not keep the same way.—Household.

The Pontiff's Seal.

The seal worn by the pope, and used by him on official documents to which his signature is attached, has on it the engraving of a fish, with the cipher of the wearer. Since the thirteenth century every pope has worn a ring of this character, and it is shattered with a hammer when the wearer dies, to prevent its use on a forged document.—Petit Journal.

Baked Sandwiches.

Dust thin slices of cold meat with salt and pepper, lay them between thin slices of bread, piling them as finished to five or six inches high. Run a skewer through and crisp them in a hot oven, basting with melted butter. Roll in the paraffin paper, unless to be served immediately.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat

Real Unkind.

"I've—aw—got a conundrum for you, Miss Biffkins," said young Saphead. "What is the—aw—difference between me and a—aw—donkey?" "I suppose," replied Miss Biffkins, "that my ignorance is unpardonable, but really I don't know."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

In a Canoe.

On a wager of $5,000 two men left Vancouver, B. C., on May 21, 1901, on a tour around the world in an Alaskan Indian canoe. They crossed over to Australia, and, when last seen, some weeks ago, were getting provisions at Durban, Natal.

"No, I'll ask her not to."—Philadelphia Press.

Notice.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:
RESOLVED, That it is to the interest of the Town of Westfield that a sidewalk of blue stone flagging four feet wide, be built and constructed on and along the Northernly side of South Avenue from the northwesterly side of Spring Street to the southeasterly side of Broad Street, etc.

RESOLVED, That it is to the interest of the Town of Westfield that a sidewalk of blue stone flagging four feet wide, be built and constructed on and along the side of the Central Railroad of New Jersey to the Northernly line of South Avenue, etc.

RESOLVED, That it is to the best interest of the Town of Westfield that a lateral sewer eight inches in diameter be built and constructed on and along Highland Avenue from a point where the present proposed sewer will end in a northerly direction, along Highland Avenue about eight hundred and fifty feet and that the house service connections be constructed up to the curb line and at the same ordinance, and that the proper assessment be made against the abutting property for this sewer, etc., etc.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That the above are the resolutions from resolutions adopted by the Council of the Town of Westfield, in the County of Union, at a meeting held July 18th, 1904, and that the Council will meet to consider the proposed improvements above mentioned in the Town Rooms, corner Broad and Elm Streets, Westfield, N. J., on Monday evening, August 1, 1904, at eight o'clock. Objections to said proposed improvements must be filed in writing with the Town Clerk at or before the time of said meeting.

Westfield, N. J., July 20, 1904.

LOYD THOMPSON, Town Clerk

Proposal.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Council of the Town of Westfield, N. J., at the Council Room at eight o'clock on the evening of August 1st, 1904, for the building of the following sewers:

1. An eight inch vitrified terra cotta pipe sewer, together with the necessary branches, manholes, flush tanks and house connections to curb, be constructed along the center line of New York Avenue from the present sewer in First street to the present sewer in Park Street.
2. An eight inch vitrified terra cotta pipe sewer, together with the necessary branches, manholes, flush tanks and house connections to curb, be constructed on and along the center line of Dudley Avenue from the present sewer in Lawrence Avenue, Easterly to the proposed sewer in Highland Avenue.

The bids for each of the above mentioned work must be accompanied by a certified check for $500 each drawn to the order of the Treasurer of the Town of Westfield, as an evidence of good faith, and a bond of $500 will be required to insure the faithful performance of the work.
Specifications may be examined and blank forms of proposals obtained at the office of the Town Clerk or of the Town Engineer, H. C. VanEmburgh, 140 North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Dated, July 18, 1904.

THE CURE IS LASTING.

Now the Latest Kidney and Bladder Medicine,
Cal-cura Solvent, Cured Mr. Eldridge.
Your Money Back if it Does Not Cure.

This is what Mr. H. W. Eldridge of Cherry Valley, N. Y., writes to the manufacturer of Cal-cura Solvent:
"Gentlemen:—I should like to tell you, in few words, of the good Cal-cura Solvent, or, Kennedy's latest medicine, has accomplished in my case, one of kidney trouble. I, for I took Cal-cura Solvent my urine was of a brick dust color, and there was always a sediment of a reddish tinge. I procured a bottle and gave it a thorough trial. I noticed that the sediment gradually disappeared and the urine became clear. I have not taken any of the Cal-cura Solvent for a long time, and no sediment has appeared."

"I have the greatest faith in your medicine, and if I ever have a recurrence of my trouble I will take Cal-cura Solvent."
If your druggist does not have Cal-cura Solvent, write to the Cal-cura Company, Roseland, N. Y., but ask your druggist first. $1.00 a bottle. Only one size.
Remember, your druggist will return your money if Cal-cura fails to cure, and the Cal-cura Company will pay the druggist. Remember, Cal-cura Solvent cures 98% of all cases of Kidney, Bladder and Liver disorders.

WESTFIELD WINS THIRD GAME FROM ALIS.

DENMAN'S FOURTH FAMOUS NINTH INNING FINISH.

Too Much for Plainfield, Even With Umpire Merritt Holding the Dial—
2,000 People Paid to Witness Exciting Contest and 500 Dead Heads Rubber Through Wire Fence.

You cannot discount the great ninth inning finish the Westfield bats are in the habit of serving up to the Alis ball to sera of Plainfield. The first game with Alis this year looked like an Alis win until the Westfield bunch made their phenomenal ninth inning finish and won out by 7-6. Last Saturday's game with Alis looked like Plainfield
until the sixth inning when Westfield tied the score 0-0, and no more scoring was done until Westfield had a shy in the ninth. It was then that the famous finish was repeated. Two large and juicy runs gave the game to Westfield, 8-6.

The game was witnessed by 2,000 people, who willingly paid to see the contest, and by about 500 dead-head sports who rubbered through the wire fenced enclosure. Among the dead heads were noticed several Plainfield business men who might be expected to support a good local ball team. They must have felt ashamed of themselves, standing two hours rubbering through a wire fence to save 25 cents.

The game was fairly clean throughout, but at times the Alis boys would indulge in a little "dirty" ball playing,
a practice they seem unable to forget, no matter how hard they try.

It remained for umpire Merritt to again show his yellow streak toward Westfield, although his decisions were a little improvement since the deal he gave Westfield with his Equitable Life team a couple of seasons ago. Saturday when Westfield had men on bases,
and things looked dangerous for Alis, Merritt called about every ball pitched by Davis a strike, and the visitors had to hit at everything and take a chance.
Merritt evidently feels that his job with Alis holds good just so long as he looks after their interests, and from his endeavors last Saturday his job is cinched.

Pitcher Davis went up in the air once or twice and the Westfield aggregation had him guessing. Red Waller, for Westfield, pitched a masterly game and pulled out of many a tight hole.

Tomorrow the Alis team plays at Recreation Park, it being the fourth game in the series, with Alis not having a win to its credit.

Here is the score and further details
of the game Saturday:

SCORE BY INNINGS:

Westfield..... 0 0 0 3 3 4 0 0 2-8
Alis..... 0 0 0 3 3 4 0 0 2-8

Summary of game:
Earned runs—Westfield 4, Alis 8. Two-base hits—Barry, Ross. Three-base hits—Detrich, Smith, Rotchford. Stolen bases—Rotchford, McManus, Hickman 2, Cusick, Cregan, Courtney, McGraw. Passed balls—Waller 1, Davis
1. Sacrifice hit—Mallen. Struck out—By Waller
8, by Davis 5. Left on bases—Westfield 8, Alis
7. Time of game 1 hour 5 minutes. Umpire—Merritt. Attendance—2,000.

Loose playing by Westfield in the 5th inning was the cause of Alis tallying 3 runs.

It took Westfield 5 innings to score;
then it looked like real business. With 3 men out they managed to get 2 runs in,
and in the 6th they found Davis and pounded out 4 more, tying the score.

Westfield was not shy of players on Saturday. On the bench and in uniform were Burke, Goldstein and Kenzie; ready to go in and work at a minute's notice.

Merritt gave the same identical decision that Kenzie gave here when Hickman attempted to make a double play in the fourth inning, but instead of quitting we sailed in and showed Plainfield what ball playing is.

TRENTON AGAIN SHUTS OUT WESTFIELD.

OUR BATTERS UNABLE TO CON-NECT WITH EGGERS' SHOTS.

Waller Also Pitches a Masterly Game,
Allowing But Three Hits—Errors
Responsible For Defeat.

The fourth game of the series with the crack Y. M. C. A. team of Trenton resulted in another shut out for Westfield,
at Trenton on Wednesday afternoon.

Egger was again the rabid artist for the "Shamrocks," and his curves were as puzzling to our heavy hitters as they were at the previous game, he striking out 15 men and allowing but 4 hits.

Although Waller's strike-out record was not so great, his pitching was even more effective than Egger's, but 3 hits being made off his delivery.

Errors at critical times were responsible for the score, which was made in the first two innings. After that not a man on either side was able to cross the plate
although Westfield, in the ninth inning,
had two men on bases and not one out.

The umpire's decisions were roundly
"hissed" by the Trenton people themselves, but our boys pluckily played the game to a finish despite the appeals of a large part of the crowd to forfeit the game.

The score by innings and summary
follows:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R H E
Trenton.....	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	4
Westfield.....	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	4

Summary of game:

Batteries—Egger and McCune; Waller and Cotter. Stolen bases—Leonard, Cotter and Egger. Passed balls—Cotter 1. Bases on balls
—Waller 1, Egger 1. Sacrifice hit—Rotchford.
Struck out—Egger 15, Waller 3. Double plays —Supple, Hickman and Rotchford. Time of game—1 hour 50 minutes. Umpire—Konkling.
Attendance 1,000.

Captain Mallou had his shoulder badly wrenched Wednesday while crossing the ferry to go to Trenton. He stepped on a banana peel, and was violently thrown against an iron pillar. It may be several weeks before he will be able to play again. Goldstein filled his place in centre.

Mike Leonard again donned a Westfield uniform on Wednesday at Trenton. He made himself solid by catching a difficult liner in right field.

It is said Manager Johnston will again cause a shake up in the Alis team, and new faces may be seen in the line up tomorrow. The four or five Murray Hillites have not made good.

Here is Davis' record Saturday: He allowed 15 hits and struck out 5.

Waller struck out 8 men and confined the Alis-Murray Hill aggregation to 10 hits.

It was Alis' intention to have Wolff,
of the New York Americans, pitch Saturday's game. Wolff failed to show up, however.

Merritt had a decision to give in the first inning on a play the exact duplicate of the play on which Alis left the field
and which led to so much hard feeling,
and gave the same decision that Kenzie did. "Did this look suspicious?" But there was no leaving of the field and no wild claims of robbery on the part of the Westfield management. But there is a wide difference between the Westfield roster and the Plainfield roster, as well as between the management of both teams.

More "Gold bricks" gone wrong and the Plainfield "Press" crying out for the release of Manager Johnston. We had supposed that Johnston's labor was one of love, but evidently not, from the Press articles. We would suggest to the Plainfield people the hiring of "Ned" Hanton, of the "Brooklyn," instead of "Nat" Strong. Hanton has become used to managing a losing team and the knocks of the fans, but Strong is as poor
a loser as Johnston.

McGraw might be induced to loan the Giants to Plainfield if approached in the right way. Try it, Mr. "Press" reporter.

How the mighty have fallen. You could hear the chins of the rabid fans dropping after Hickman's hit in the ninth. And then to think, with all the high priced talent on hand, "Red" Waller should strike out two of them in their last try out.

Now with Boone's "Up, up, up in the air" and all the other fanatical cries will Recreation Park resound on the morrow. Bother, ye Mt. Ararat Pirates, and go thymore better!

The story of the game and the score
winning, as given in the Plainfield papers, do not agree, they not allowing Westfield even one earned run, when by the story they earned two in the fifth and two in the ninth inning. Come,
now, official scorer of the Alis Club, give each side all the credit coming to it, and no favors to either.

AMBERGRIS' STRONG ODOR

Druggist of Seattle, Wash., Expounds Information with Regard to the Substance.

The druggist held in his hand a lump of gray substance like putty. It was smaller than a baseball and as light as cork. Through it, here and there, ran streaks of yellow and black.

"This is a lump of ambergris," the druggist said, according to the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. "It is worth about $500, I judge. Smell it."

The patron put his nose to the am-bergris. Then he said, surprised:
"Why, it has no smell."

The druggist, smiling, rubbed it with his sleeve, and immediately a powerful,
musky-like odor filled the air.

"Crude ambergris," he said, "never smells until you warm it or rub it."
"This chunk of ambergris here smells like musk. That is because it is crude.
The odor of prepared ambergris has not the least resemblance to musk."

He rubbed his hand over his sleeve.

"From handling this," he said, "my coat will smell till the autumn. My hands, no matter how I wash them, will smell for several days."

FEW PANAMAS THIS YEAR.

Representative of House Dealing in Headgear Says Craze Reached
Climax in 1902.

"There will be no Panama hats worth mentioning worn this season," said M.
B. Cross, representative of a house dealing in headgear, to a Washington Post reporter.

"The summer of 1902 marked the climax of what might be called the Panama craze. Last season there was an immense slump in this style of hat, and this year hardly a store in the country will have them in stock. The cause of their decline in public favor is easy to understand. As long as the real and costly article was only in evidence, the demand was keen, and the higher the price the bigger the demand. This led to the importation of cheap counterfeits, which so flooded the market that the Panama became common, or rather its imitation. Anyway, as soon as this occurred, men of style and fashion discarded the once-prized ornament of dress and reverted to the simpler and always better looking sort of straw. In another decade the Panama may once more become the rage."

Character Analysis.

"He is a great deal of an optimist,"
said one bright girl.

"Yes," answered the other, "and an egotist as well."

"Can he be both?"

"Certainly. He is cheerful because he firmly believes that the world cannot go wrong so long as he lives in it and looks out for it."—Washington Star.

PLANT GREPT TO SUNLIGHT

Vine Belonging to Castle Valley, Pa., Resident Creeps Out of Shadow of Window Shutter.

Though it has never been proved that plants have brains, declared the Baltimore Herald, it has been proved often that there is some power within them whereby they combat evil conditions and seek what is best for their good. A resident of Castle Valley, Pa., has a vine that showed itself last month to have, if not a brain, a substitute of equal value.

This vine, a young one, grew in a clay pot. A sickle stood in the middle of the pot and the vine curled up it. It was about two feet in height; in length, uncurled, it would have measured four feet.

Usually the vine was placed in a south window every morning, where it absorbed light all day. It happened, however, through an oversight, that one afternoon a shutter shaded half the window and the vine was set in the shutter's shadow. A foot away was the sunlight, warm, glittering, life-giving, but where the plant stood there was nothing but gloom.

During the four days the vine stood in shadow with the sunlight near it, it did something that proved it to have a faculty akin to intelligence. It uncurled itself from its supporting stick, and, like a living thing, it crawled over the window ledge to the sun.

ARTIFICIAL SEA BREEZES.

French Scientist Discovers Process
by Which One May Enjoy Salt
Zephyrs at Home.

A member of the French Academy of Science is said to be enjoying sea breezes in his Paris home by manufacturing a liquid which he diffuses through the air of his apartment. The recipe for the compound is given as follows: In ten volumes of oxygenated water containing a hundredth part of ether charged with ozone he dissolves a small quantity of sea salt. By means of a vaporizer this liquid is distributed in the air at the rate of 120 grammes per hour. It is said that by this means the apartment becomes saturated with the scent of the sea and that the slightest draught of air creates the illusion of a wind sweeping over a sandy beach direct from the wide waters of the Atlantic ocean.

One's faith is not strengthened, however, when the narrative proceeds to relate how this ingenious scientist, while inhaling this mixture, seats himself in his armchair, with his eyes closed, and "listens to the lapping of the waves while breathing their odor," for he holds to his ear a shell in which he can hear the murmur of the restless sea. Such an attitude and occupation seems more fitting for an old poet than for a professional man of science.

MEXICAN CHILDREN POLITE.

They Rival the Japanese with Regard to Manners—Elders Always Respected.

In Mexico a group of lads from 7 to 12 will meet, and each boy will decorously lift his hat, and salutations of extreme courtesy will be exchanged, and then come the boyish chatter, the run and the laughter, the same as anywhere. Boys here treat their elders with respect. An old man or woman is not the butt of the youth of Mexico; rather for the old people are reserved the shadiest seats under the trees in the park, says a writer in Rural Home. A Mexican boy or girl on entering a room walks around among the company, shaking hands with all, and on leaving the room does the same. Urbanity is taught in the public schools as arithmetic is at home. There is no one jostled on the street; the best seat in the horse car is promptly given up to ladies, who never fail gracefully to acknowledge the favor. I have never seen a Mexican gentleman fail to give his seat to a woman, whether she was richly or poorly dressed.

Korean Epicures.

The Korean is omnivorous. Birds of the air, beasts of the field, and fish from the sea—nothing comes amiss to his palate. Dog meat is in great request at certain seasons; pork and beef with the blood undrained from the carcass, fowls and game—birds cooked with the lights, giblets, head and claws intact—all are acceptable to him. Cooking is not always necessary; a species of small fish is preferred raw, dipped into some piquant sauce. Other dainties are dried seaweed, shrimps, vermicelli, pine seeds, lily bulbs, and all vegetables and cereals. The excesses make the Koreans martyrs of indigestion.

German War on Quacks.

The German police have begun a systematic campaign against quacks and quack medicines. They estimate that in ten years the population has increased 58 per cent., regular medical men, 76 per cent., and quacks, 1,567 per cent. There are more women quacks than men. Nearly 30 per cent of the men cited to appear at the police bureau have been in jail; of the women, 55 per cent. More than 100 samples of quack medicines were analyzed by the police, and over 80 per cent. were of absolutely no medicinal value.

Sunday Excursion to March Chunk.

There is no more popular resort for a Sunday than March Chunk, and to reach it entails a delightful rail journey, and at March Chunk there is a diversity of amusements, the chief of which is a ride over the Switchback. This journey occupies more than one hour, and leads over and around the mountains with widely changing scenes at every turn. The Switchback is a gravity road, and the speed attained is close to a mile per minute. Another feature is Flagstaff, the summit of which is reached by trolley, and from its pinnacle point there is a view extending over miles and miles of beautiful country. An interesting spot close at hand is Glen Oukalo, a short distance above March Chunk, and, as its name implies, is a beautiful glen, with falls, cataracts, mountain paths leading to cool and delightful places. On July 31st the New Jersey Central is to run a popular excursion to March Chunk from Westfield by special train leaving at 9.12 a. m. Returning train will leave March Chunk at 3.40 and the round trip will cost but 1.50 cents. Frequent train service will be in effect between March Chunk and Glen Oukalo, and trains on the Switchback run every few minutes.
